A LANDMARK REIMAGINED

The National is an iconic, living part of Chicago history in a world-renowned city known for its landmarks and striking architecture.

Designed by D.H Burnham & Company in 1907, the 20-story steel and concrete structure exemplifies Classical Revival Architecture from one of the most significant firms in Chicago. A complete renovation in 2017 delivered modern amenities to compliment this historic setting. The National sits in the very heart of Chicago's Loop – a thriving urban hub where business, commerce, and mass transit intertwine with legendary Chicago landmarks.
