

Behavioral Health Consultant
Tennessee Army National Guard
Office of the State Surgeon
Behavioral Health Team
Smyrna, TN

The primary purpose of this contract position with Hoskins & Company is to provide preventive, remedial, and support services aimed at improving and sustaining the psychological health of Tennessee Army National Guard military members and their families. As a member of the Office of the State Surgeon's Behavioral Health Team the contractor will exercise technical oversight, plan, coordinate, monitor and provide access to a full range of professional services for the eligible populations served. Duties focus on outreach, education, and prevention, needs-based and psychosocial assessment, diagnosis, short-term problem resolution, and provision of or referral to evidenced-based interventions. Responsibilities include providing the following: primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention programs, specialty training for TNNG health care professionals and other personnel on issues related to the psychological health of Guard soldiers and their families, and multi-level community organization, collaboration, and enhancement.

MAJOR DUTIES:

- 1) Contractor will support and coordinate mental fitness and wellness for operational readiness and work with the Office of the State Surgeon to develop and maintain systems for identifying and resolving Soldiers' behavioral health concerns.
- 2) Coordinate referrals for Soldiers and/or family members to the behavioral health components of the psychological, family, social, spiritual, and emotional support programs available to Service Members and their families using Military Treatment Facilities, VA health care facilities, TriCare network providers, community mental health centers and agencies, and other private providers.
- 3) Perform initial and follow-up screening evaluation, utilizing information from clinical interviews, non-psychometric tests, and collateral sources, as appropriate.
- 4) Contribute to and maintain a database of providers for referrals, composed of licensed and credentialed civilian behavioral health professionals who demonstrate knowledge of military culture, assessment, and treatment of the type of behavioral health needs common to National Guard Soldiers.
- 5) Coordinate and implement prevention and community outreach and education programs. Implements community organization strategies with key organizations to increase awareness of psychological health and build and enhance a general culture that promotes psychological health and wellness.

- 6) Develop, teach, and provide oversight for classes that promote education and skill-building to enhance psychological and physical health. Provides timely, effective, and accurate training to mental health providers and other medical personnel on psychological health matters, resources, and interventions.
- 7) Responsible for marketing and marketing evaluation activities. Serves as a primary consultant and advisor on methods to successfully market the National Guard's health. Facilitates awareness of and accessibility to available services for National Guard members and their families. Establishes networking, advocacy, and collaboration processes through which to effectively market the National Guard to the community.
- 8) Provides professional assessment, advice, education, and training to other military and non-military health care professionals, medical personnel, military commanders/senior leaders, and community agencies concerning primary and secondary prevention programs.
- 9) Performs other duties as assigned.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

This position requires a Master's degree in Social Work, Counseling, Psychology, or a related field of study. LCSW or LPC preferred but not required. Experience with and strong interest in working with military or veteran populations.
