

Bruce Greenberg, Jr.

SENIOR
BROKERAGE
ASSOCIATE

Bruce focuses on development, investment sales, 1031 exchanges and office, medical, and industrial leasing. Prior to joining Trinity Partners, he practiced law for seven years. His legal background, attention to detail and forward-thinking make him a uniquely effective advisor to his clients. He brings a sense of humor to the workplace and strikes the right balance between hard work and fun.

Outside of work, Bruce serves on Columbia's Design & Development Review Commission, the Hammond School Alumni Council, and as an Ambassador for the South Carolina Ports Authority. As a Port Ambassador, he works with the senior management team to help increase public awareness and understanding of SCSPA's strategic plan and initiatives. In his free time, he volunteers with Camp Cole and is an avid reader.

Bruce grew up in Columbia and attended Hammond School. He earned an undergraduate degree in Business Administration from Southern Methodist University and a J.D. from Charleston School of Law.
