Foreword by Conference Master

Dear youths,

On behalf of the Conference committee, welcome to CYC 2020! It is a very special conference, as for the first time ever, due to the Singapore government regulations in place and for the safety of everyone, we will be holding the conference online. I am sure that all of us miss having physical fellowship with like-minded Christian brethren and we long for the day when we are able to meet in His house again. Hence I encourage all of you to take this time and enjoy the listening to the Word of God so faithfully preached as we have a God not bound by any physical or technological constraints. We truly thank God for giving us the means and the opportunity to be able to receive His Word, especially during this difficult time, which would not have been possible had this virus occurred many years earlier.

It is truly a blessing to be able to study the Word of God providing fruitful lessons and reminders and with the countless resources available to us today like FEBC, GBI and many others we are able to have access to so conveniently. But if this virus has taught us one thing, it is to not take anything for granted. It is not by chance that any of this has happened, and as we are able to have more time given to us at home, may we use it wisely for our spiritual benefit. Let us therefore “study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim 2:15).

As youths, we are confronted with many problems in the world today, with the many movements and trends on social media it is so easy for us to be influenced by the ideas of the world which may seem very convincing, philosophies based on freedom, rights and enjoyment do not appear to be wrong at all. Why then do we take such a hard stance against these views? Are we misguided in thinking this way? What is the basis for our beliefs? As such, our camp theme this year is: “What say I?” This is in response to the many questions youths face or that even we ourselves may have. We pray that we can get a better understanding of the biblical doctrines we stand for and also how it impacts our behaviour and attitude in our daily lives. Through this conference, we hope to be able to explore several of these pertinent issues in order for us to know the truth. And not only to know, we must also tell it to others in the right manner to win others to Christ and His instructions as we are to be the salt and light of this earth.

It is the desire and prayer of the committee that you all have a fruitful time of learning the Word of God during this week and we once again thank Him for His providence and grace by allowing us to gather together online. And that at the end of this conference we will be able to say that we are “ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pet 3:15).

In Christ,

E Shem
