

Denise E. Backhouse*Littler Mendelson P.C., New York, NY, USA*

Denise is a Shareholder and eDiscovery Counsel at Littler Mendelson, P.C. Her practice focuses on litigating the eDiscovery aspects of class and collective actions, as well as leveraging her significant international experience to help employers with cross-border discovery challenges. Denise advises on and conducts all phases of discovery, providing clients with cost-saving, leading-edge technology solutions in this rapidly developing area. She has engaged in eDiscovery motion practice in multiple jurisdictions and has worked on discovery responses to the EEOC, SEC, FINRA, DOJ, FTC, and state attorneys general. Denise serves on the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6), and is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) and Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11). She co-chaired the 2014 Annual Sedona Conference International Programme on Cross-Border Discovery and Data Protection Laws in London, England, is an Editor-in-Chief of The International Investigations Principles, and contributed to the Primer on Social Media and Commentary on Protection of Privileged ESI. She is also a member of the International Association of Privacy Professionals and a Certified Information Privacy Professional/Europe (CIPP/E). She is a Founding Director of the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law Data Law Initiative and lectures on International eDiscovery and Information Governance Law. Denise received her J.D. from Columbia University Law School, and a M.A. in late medieval history and a B.A. with first-class honors, both from the University of Melbourne, Australia.

Stacey Ellen Blaustein*IBM, Armonk, NY, USA*

Stacey is a Senior Attorney in the Corporate Litigation Department of IBM Corporation, where she manages all aspects of E-Discovery, including E-Discovery in international and domestic cases, setting policies and processes, and ensuring compliance with best practices. She is integrally involved in Cross-Border Discovery and Data Privacy issues, such as GDPR implementation for Corporate Litigation and the effect of GDPR on Records Management. Stacey handles third party (non-IP) subpoena practice and aspects of regulatory requests. Before joining IBM, she practiced for more than eighteen years as a securities litigation attorney. She is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6), a member of the Electronic Discovery Institute Faculty, and served on the Planning Board for the ABA TechShow. Stacey is a graduate of Barnard College of Columbia University, and the Emory University School of Law.

Chris Boehning*Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, New York, NY, USA*

Chris is a partner in the Litigation Department at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP. His practice covers international arbitrations, complex commercial and civil litigation matters, insurance counseling and litigation, criminal, civil and other regulatory inquiries, and internal investigations. Chris has more than 20 years of regulatory and civil litigation experience representing leading financial institutions and a variety of other global companies in high-stakes matters. He has also represented companies, and their executives, in investigations and related litigation before a wide range of state and federal regulators and enforcement bodies. Chris is regarded as an expert on e-discovery issues and has spoken at numerous conferences and seminars on such issues. Chris has served as an adjunct professor at the University of Michigan Law School where he lectured on litigation strategy and e-discovery. He is a regular contributor to The New York Law Journal's Technology column on the topic, and is an ongoing participant in The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) and The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6).

Dr. Oliver M. Brupbacher*Novartis International AG, Basel, Switzerland*

Oliver is Senior Corporate Counsel – Global Litigation at Novartis International AG. He manages group material litigations, arbitrations and investigations and heads the Discovery Center of Excellence in Basel. Oliver also handles insurance and disclosure work for legal proceedings of all divisions across the globe. Prior to Novartis, he was Attorney-at-Law at Bär & Karrer Ltd., Zurich, Switzerland. Oliver is a Swiss qualified lawyer and is admitted to the Zurich bar. He holds a Doctorate of law from the University of Zurich and a Master of Laws from the University of Cambridge, England. Oliver's experience includes in particular complex cross-border dispute resolution and transactions, data privacy, secrecy and transfer restrictions as well as information governance at the intersection of litigation, data and digital.

Andrea L. D'Ambra*Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP, New York, NY, USA*

Andrea is a Partner in the New York office of Norton Rose Fulbright, where she heads the EDiscovery and Information Governance Group for the United States. Her practice focuses on e-discovery, information management, data privacy, and cross-border discovery. Andrea counsels clients on preservation and data management issues, and has drafted information governance and records management policies for a number of multi-national companies. In addition to counseling, she has assisted clients in navigating foreign data privacy laws while complying with U.S. discovery obligations. Andrea served for over seven years as an officer in the United States Navy. Her diverse Naval experience includes serving as an action officer for high-profile investigations within the Bureau of Naval Personnel and managing the administrative and legal issues of the Navy's computer network defense command. Andrea also is an adjunct professor of law at Temple Law School and William and Mary School of Law where she teaches classes on Electronic Discovery. She received her B.S. in Political Science from the United States Naval Academy and her J.D. from William and Mary School of Law.

Dr. Claudia Anna Goetz Staehelin*Kellerhals Carrard, Basel, Switzerland*

Claudia is a partner at Kellerhals Carrard and has extensive experience in litigation and arbitration, as well as investigations across various industries; she advises her clients in compliance, internal investigations, cross-border proceedings, international mutual legal assistance and data privacy, and supports her clients in dispute resolution crisis management. Claudia also acts as an arbitrator, particular in pharma/life sciences. Claudia combines litigation expertise with extensive business experience. Before joining the firm, Claudia was Head Litigation at Novartis, where she led large multi-jurisdictional disputes and investigations and advised senior management on Company litigation risks as well as on financial and reputational impact. Before joining Novartis, Claudia was Partner at the Zürich law firm of Nater Dallafior. Prior to this, Claudia worked as a senior associate in the litigation and arbitration team of the law firm of VISCHER. Claudia is a Swiss qualified lawyer, was admitted to the Basel bar in 2001 and received her doctorate of law from the University of Basel. A Certified International Privacy Professional, she has an LLM degree from New York University as a Vanderbilt Scholar, specialised in US litigation. Claudia regularly lectures on investigation and international dispute resolution topics.

Taylor Hoffman*Swiss Re, Armonk, NY, USA*

Taylor is the global head of eDiscovery at Swiss Re, a leading wholesale provider of reinsurance, insurance, and other insurance-based forms of risk transfer. In this role, he oversees all aspects of eDiscovery and related cross-border data transfers, including developing policies and procedures, and managing case work. Prior positions include Corporate Counsel (Litigation and eDiscovery) at DISH Network, where he implemented an overhaul of DISH's eDiscovery Process, and as a Litigation Associate at Covington & Burling LLP. Taylor clerked for the Honorable Emilio M. Garza of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and received his JD from the University of Chicago. Taylor currently serves as Chair of the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6).

Jared T. Nelson*Pathway Compliance, Shanghai, China*

Jared is the CEO of Pathway Compliance, a leading managed service provider and legal technology company based in Shanghai. With more than a decade of professional experience in Mainland China, Jared was fortunate to be a part of the country's compliance community from its beginning. Working previously as a Partner for a large international law firm, he built a unique practice that focused on leveraging technology and data science to modernize the delivery of legal services and create more efficient and effective solutions. During that time, he saw the field of compliance maturing quickly in China but still struggling with core fundamentals and basic practices. At Pathway, he now leads a team focusing on solving these problems through large-scale standardized services and innovative software.

Kathleen Paisley*AMBOS, Brussels, Belgium*

Kathleen is an American lawyer who has been practicing in Belgium and England for more than 25 years. She combines a degree from the Yale Law School with an MBA in Finance and has passed the Certified Public Accountancy exam. Kathleen specializes in representing clients in international dispute resolution matters, including arbitration, mediation and litigation; commercial and contract matters related to IP/IT/internet/e-commerce/data protection; contentious and non-contentious matters before the EU institutions, including competition, trade, and other regulatory matters related to IP/internet/e-commerce/data protection; and EU and Belgian regulatory compliance matters related to data protection, e-commerce, health care, pharmaceuticals, IP, ICT, foreign corrupt practices and money laundering. Kathleen's sector specific experience focuses primarily on four key economic sectors: ICT, internet, e-commerce, and multi-media; health care, biotech and pharmaceuticals; energy; and construction and issues related thereto.

Gita Radhakrishna*Multimedia University, Melaka, Malaysia*

Gita, hailing from Malaysia, graduated with an LLB (Hons. Lon.) in 1981 and completed her Bar at the Middle Temple in 1982. Thereafter she was called to the Malaysian Bar in 1983, where she practiced as an Advocate and Solicitor for several years. She joined Multimedia University (MMU) in 2005. Whilst at MMU, she completed her MPhil by researching "A Legal Perspective on Internet Banking in Malaysia", and her PhD on "A Comparative Study on the Admissibility and Discovery of Electronic Evidence in Malaysian Civil Courts". She currently serves as a Senior Lecturer and Deputy Dean for Research and Innovation at the Faculty of Law, Multimedia University (Melaka campus). Her areas of research interest include electronic banking, commercial law, technology law, electronic evidence, privacy and cyber law.

David D. Rohde*Epiq, New York, NY, USA*

David is the senior director of consulting services for Epiq, bringing more than 19 years of experience as a courtroom litigator, legal technology project manager, and privacy & information governance expert to his role. He has implemented new technologies in support of complex litigation, designed and implemented case and matter management systems, developed and implemented information governance and defensible disposition initiatives, advised on email archiving solutions, and implemented systems and processes supporting all aspects of litigation/discovery preparedness.