

Julian Ackert

iDiscovery Solutions, Washington, D.C., USA

Julian, a Managing Director at iDiscovery Solutions (iDS) in Washington, DC, has over 15 years of consulting and project management experience in the technology and litigation industries. He has extensive experience with forensic data collection, computer forensic analysis, creating and implementing preservation and collection strategies, managing electronic data processing and review endeavors, analyzing complex transactional data systems, and working with large multi-national corporations to establish and develop methodologies and best practices for litigation preparedness. Julian has written expert reports and provided testimony on the forensic preservation, acquisition, and analysis of electronic information. Additionally, Julian has worked on several international projects involving complex data privacy, collection, and review challenges. He is also a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11). Prior to joining iDS, Julian was a Principal and New York regional lead at LECG and a Manager at FTI Consulting. Julian began his career designing, developing, and implementing Knowledge Management / Content Management applications, government middleware solutions, and E-business applications for Federal Government services at Accenture.

Mark T. Bailey

Office of the Colorado Attorney General, Denver, CO, USA

Mark joined the Consumer Protection Section of the Colorado Attorney General's Office in 2010. Mark enforces the Colorado Consumer Protection Act, investigating and bringing cases involving false advertising, identity theft, and other deceptive trade practices. Since 2014, Mark has been the front-line leader of the Attorney General's enforcement of Colorado's privacy and data security laws. Prior to that, Mark was an associate at Reilly Pozner LLP for four years, and clerked for Justice Nancy E. Rice of the Colorado Supreme Court. Mark graduated with High Distinction from the University of Iowa College of Law in 2005.

Jason R. Baron

Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, Washington, D.C., USA

Jason is Of Counsel to the Information Governance and eDiscovery Group at Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP, in Washington, D.C. Previously, he served as trial attorney and senior counsel at the Justice Department (1988-2000), followed by becoming NARA's first Director of Litigation (2000-2013). While at the Justice Department, Jason acted as counsel of record in landmark cases involving the preservation of White House email. Jason co-founded the TREC Legal Track and the DESI (Discovery of ESI) international series of workshops. Jason has served on the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) from 2008-2012, including as Co-chair of the Steering Committee from 2009-2011. He has served as an Editor-in-Chief of both the Public Comment Versions and the 2013 Editions of The Sedona Conference Best Practices Commentary on the Use of Search & Information Retrieval Methods in E-Discovery (2007; 2013), and The Sedona Conference Commentary on Achieving Quality in the E-Discovery

Process (2009; 2013). He has also served as Editor-in-Chief of The Sedona Conference Commentary on Finding the Hidden ROI in Information Assets (2011), and as an Editor on the Drafting team of The Sedona Conference Commentary on Information Governance (2013). Jason currently serves on the 2018-2020 FOIA Advisory Committee to the Archivist of the U.S., and has served as a past Chair of the D.C. Bar Ediscovery & Information Governance Committee. He has taught e-discovery law at American University's Washington School of Law, and at graduate schools at the University of Maryland and the University of British Columbia.

Holly Brady

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Richmond, VA, USA

As a member of Hunton Andrews Kurth's privacy and cybersecurity practice, Holly assists clients in identifying, evaluating and managing global privacy and information security risks and compliance issues. Prior to joining the firm, Holly managed the data privacy program at a Fortune 500 company, where she advised on data privacy compliance and risk management for the company's US and international operations. In this role, Holly was in charge of privacy program design, policy development, training and awareness, and risk assessment. Holly also advised the company's Chief Information Security Officer on matters relating to cybersecurity and technology, including cybersecurity governance and incident response. Holly frequently speaks before industry groups, legal organizations and educational institutions at conferences, seminars and other events. She is an Adjunct Professor of Cybersecurity Law at William & Mary School of Law.

Robert E. Cattanach

Dorsey & Whitney LLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Bob helps clients navigate the complexities of regulatory law in the area of cybersecurity and compliance and provides the perspective and skills of a seasoned trial lawyer to promote and protect their interests. His technical background enables him to understand the complex business challenges associated with today's cyber world and provide the strategic acumen to achieve success. Bob's comprehensive mastery of the policy and technical intricacies of privacy and cyber matters, coupled with his decades of experience as a trial lawyer enable his clients to achieve their business objectives. Ultimately, it is all about a client's understanding of, and appetite for, the challenges of compliance. Bob has an active trial docket in courts around the country, where his innovative strategic thinking, collaborative client approach, and business insights have provided his clients with a long string of successful verdicts and appeals. Under Bob's leadership, Dorsey teams have helped our clients achieve precedent-setting results, especially in the complex area of constitutional challenges to government overreach.

Chris P. Cronin

HALOCK Security Labs, Schaumburg, IL, USA

Chris has practiced information security for more than 20 years in operations, audit, and consulting roles. He developed Duty of Care Risk Analysis ("DoCRA") as a method for evaluating whether cybersecurity risks and safeguards are reasonable, and is principal author of CIS RAM, Center for Internet Security's Risk Assessment Method. Chris' clients represent a full range of industries and sizes, including Fortune 100 companies, universities, hospitals, professional services firms, technical services, and manufacturers. He also serves as expert witness on breach cases, provides litigation support services, and formulates reasonable security plans for recovering breached organizations. Chris serves as Chair of the DoCRA Council, serves several cybersecurity special interest and policy groups, and serves on the Board of Directors for a performing arts nonprofit.

Kamal Ghali

Bondurant Mixson & Elmore, Atlanta, GA, USA

Kamal leads the Cybersecurity & Privacy and White Collar Criminal Defense practices at Bondurant, Mixson & Elmore, LLP, an Atlanta, Georgia-based trial and investigations law firm. He is a former U.S. Department of Justice cybercrime and white-collar crime prosecutor. He previously served as the Deputy Chief of the Cyber and Intellectual Property Crime Section of the U.S. Attorney's Office in Atlanta and as the law enforcement point-of-contact for all cyber events impacting the Northern District of Georgia. As a federal prosecutor, he investigated complex frauds, global cyber threats, state-sponsored cyber intrusions, cases involving over 100 data breaches, and he led high-profile prosecutions of significant international cyber-criminals. He is the recipient of a DOJ Director's Award from Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein for superior performance in co-prosecuting the promoters and developers of SpyEye, a pernicious malware that inflicted nearly a billion dollars in losses around the world. His work focuses on helping clients strategically respond to fast-moving crises including data breaches and trade secret thefts; ongoing government investigations, regulatory enforcement actions, and white-collar criminal prosecutions; and complex civil litigation involving allegations of fraud, data theft, privacy violations, or criminal misconduct.

Serge D. Jorgensen

The Sylint Group, Sarasota, FL, USA

Serge serves as the Chief Technology Officer for the Sylint Group and provides technical input in the areas of information security, data forensics and incident response. He has received patents in engineering and math-related fields while developing secure, low-bandwidth data transmission techniques and methodologies. Serge works closely with the FBI and industry groups in addressing forensic and information security needs to safeguard critical infrastructure processes and components. In this work, he is responsible for developing and implementing secure communication protocols, traffic analysis techniques, malware identification, and remediation efforts. Serge works nationally and internationally to mitigate the effects of malicious attacks against corporate and government enterprises, is a published author, and a vice-chair of the ABA's Electronic Discovery and Digital Evidence committee.

Amy E. Keller

DiCello Levitt & Casey LLC, Chicago, IL, USA

Amy is a partner at the law firm of DiCello Levitt Gutzler LLC, focusing her practice on consumer protection, products liability, and technology class action litigation. As the youngest woman ever appointed to lead a nationwide, multidistrict class action, Amy serves as co-lead counsel in data breach litigation involving Equifax and Marriott. She has built a reputation as an advocate for individuals and small businesses, alike. Amy is recognized as a National Law Journal Plaintiff Trailblazer, one of the Top 40 Under 40 trial lawyers in Illinois by National Trial Lawyers, and a Rising Star by Super Lawyers. She is a two-time chair of the Chicago Bar Association's Class Action Committee, and a board member of the Public Justice Foundation, a not-for-profit legal advocacy organization protecting consumers, employees, civil rights, and the environment.

Jerami D. Kemnitz

Little Mendelson, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Jerami is a seasoned litigator with 22 years of private practice and in-house experience. He advises companies and legal teams in strategic and tactical eDiscovery, data privacy and security solutions, and the creation and implementation of operating models, protocols, policies, and procedures to efficiently balance risk management, compliance, and costs. Jerami previously served as Global Head of eDiscovery for Wells Fargo, managing the preservation, collection, review, and production of all business divisions' electronic data and case management for the litigation and investigations docket. Prior to that, he was founder and chair of Shook, Hardy & Bacon's International Discovery and Data Privacy Team. Jerami is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1); The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6); The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11); and chairs the Diversity Subcommittee on Attraction and the WG6 Middle East Committee.

Clara Y. Kim

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, New York, NY, USA

Clara is an associate in the Litigation Department at Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP. Her practice consists of a range of complex civil litigation matters and white-collar investigations, serving clients in highly regulated industries. Her cybersecurity practice focuses on incident response and she is the lead content creator for the Davis Polk Cyber Portal, an online suite of tools and resources for clients regarding cybersecurity. She is also a regular contributor to the Davis Polk Cyber Blog. She received her B.A. from the University of Chicago and her J.D. from Columbia Law School, where she was a Submissions Editor for the Columbia Business Law Review.

Ryan G. Kriger

Vermont Office of the Attorney General, Montpelier, VT, USA

Ryan is an Assistant Attorney General in the Vermont Office of the Attorney General's Public Protection Division. He handles antitrust and consumer protection issues with a focus on technology and data security. Ryan has investigated several local and national security breaches, led multistate investigations, and frequently testifies before the state legislature on issues involving privacy, competition and consumer protection. He worked extensively on Vermont's Data Broker Regulation laws. Ryan has also worked on telecom issues and patent trolling, among other areas. He is a lecturer on consumer protection law & policy and privacy issues at the University of Vermont and is on the Vermont Governor's Cybersecurity Advisory Team and the Board of Advisors for the University of Vermont's Center for Computer Security and Privacy. Prior to joining the Attorney General's Office, Ryan practiced for several years in New York City, working for both corporate defense firms and class action plaintiffs' firms, where he focused on antitrust complex litigation and commercial litigation, as well as electronic discovery and legal ethics.

Andrew Lucking

LiveRamp, Tuxedo Park, NY

Andrew is commercial counsel at LiveRamp, an identity resolution company that delivers privacy-conscious solutions that permit brands and their partners to deliver innovative products and exceptional experiences. A 2010 Duke Law graduate, Andrew has a litigation background, clerked, and worked in private practice before moving in-house in 2015. Before LiveRamp, Andrew worked as Senior Corporate Counsel at a niche consulting company. He is also currently enrolled in an LLM program at Baylor Law School.

Christian J. Mahoney

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP, Washington, D.C., USA

As senior attorney, Christian leads the Discovery and Litigation Technology group in the Washington office. He advises clients on defensible data retention, preservation, collection, review and production processes for antitrust, securities enforcement and litigation matters. Christian also trains Cleary attorneys and co-counsel on discovery-related issues with a focus on both information governance and artificial intelligence, including predictive coding, and speaks externally on these issues. In this role, Christian develops policies for clients on retention of data, negotiates discovery procedures and utilization of advanced technology with government regulators and opposing counsel, prepares clients for and defends 30(b)(6) depositions on data preservation and discovery issues, revises client collection processes, and implements sophisticated technology processes, including customized usage of predictive coding, for identification of data for review and production. Prior to joining the firm, Christian worked at Xerox Litigation Services, where he consulted with clients on usage of advanced technology and processes in response to discovery requests.

Wayne MatusSafeGuardGDPR, Purchase, NY, USA*

Wayne has a consistent record of building and leading successful global teams managing litigation, investigations, and data privacy business areas, as well as experience in a wide range of legal, information technology and data issues (including data protection, data privacy, GDPR, data breach and data analytics), digital and traditional investigations, eDiscovery, eCompliance, cyber-security, intellectual property, litigation and information governance. He is the recipient of numerous global and national awards and honors, including Chambers and Partners Band 1 (each of Global and USA Nationwide - eDiscovery, Privacy, Data Security). His experience includes being a Managing Director of UBS AG and a Partner and Practice Group Head (each of eDiscovery and Privacy) at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw & Pittman.

Matthew MeadeEckert Seamans, Pittsburgh, PA, USA*

Matt recently joined Eckert Seamans where he is a member of the Data Security and Privacy Group. Matt works closely with clients to manage and respond to data security breaches involving state law issues and federal law such as HIPAA. He helps clients to proactively identify business risks associated with the use and storage of sensitive information. He regularly conducts cyber training and runs interactive breach exercises. Matt's practice requires in-depth knowledge of security breach notification laws and other U.S. state and federal data security requirements (including laws regarding disposal of records). Matt obtained his B.A. in Political Science from Yale University, and his J.D. from Fordham Law School.

Douglas MealOrrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, Boston, MA, USA*

Doug defends clients targeted by litigation and government investigations stemming from major privacy and cybersecurity incidents. According to Chambers USA 2017, companies select Doug because he is "regarded by market sources as the leading privacy litigator in the USA." As the lead outside lawyer handling claims stemming from the data security breaches suffered by Target, Neiman Marcus, The Home Depot, Hilton Worldwide, Landry's, Arby's, Supervalu, Sally Beauty, Sony, Heartland Payment Systems, TJ Maxx, Hannaford Brothers, Aldo, Genesco, and Wyndham Hotels—some of the most highly publicized data security breaches in recent years—Doug has become the national leader in defending companies that suffer significant cybersecurity breaches involving consumer information against the ensuing claims and regulatory investigations. Doug's recent successes include leading the team that prevailed in the closely-watched LabMD v. FTC, convincing the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit to become the first court ever to overturn a cybersecurity enforcement action by the Federal Trade Commission.

David Moncure

DaVita, Inc., Denver, CO, USA

David is VP / Associate General Counsel Information Lifecycle Governance for DaVita. He oversees all aspects of information governance and eDiscovery globally for DaVita as well as assisting with data security and protection compliance. Prior to joining DaVita, David served as International eDiscovery and Data Privacy Counsel for Shell Oil Company. He advised Shell businesses and functions on international eDiscovery issues, data breach response situations, IT security, and various other data privacy and cybersecurity related issues. He began his practice at Norton Rose Fulbright, where he assisted clients with eDiscovery, information governance, and data privacy issues. David's practice spans work throughout the US, EU, Latin America, Middle East, and APAC. He is a frequent speaker and author of numerous articles on eDiscovery and data protection issues, particularly on cross-border issues. David is Chair of the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11) and also is an active member of Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) and Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6).

Timothy R. Murphy

Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, Philadelphia, PA, USA

Tim Murphy is a Deputy Attorney General in the Bureau of Consumer Protection for the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General. He primarily focuses on privacy, data protection, and cybersecurity issues throughout the Commonwealth and participates on numerous multistate investigations involving nationwide data breaches. In addition, he litigates various consumer protection matters involving the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law. Mr. Murphy earned his Juris Doctor from Villanova University School of Law, Master of Education from Lehigh University, and Bachelor of Science from the University of Pittsburgh. He regularly speaks throughout Pennsylvania regarding consumer protection and privacy topics.

James J. Pizzirusso

Hausfeld, Washington, D.C., USA

James is a founding partner in Hausfeld's Washington, DC office. His practice centers on representing plaintiffs in class actions cases involving consumer protection and cybersecurity/privacy (chair of practice group), antitrust, environmental torts, and sports and entertainment law. In addition to practicing law, James has served as a visiting professor at George Washington University Law School. In his consumer and cybersecurity practice, James has served in court appointed leadership capacities in dozens of major class actions recovering hundreds of millions of dollars for his clients. In the antitrust sector, James generally handles direct purchaser class actions alleging price fixing and collusion in various agricultural and food sectors. He presently serves as Co-Chair of the American Bar Association's Antitrust Section's Food and Agriculture Committee. Super Lawyers has recognized James as a Top Rated Class Action & Mass Torts Attorney and Who's Who Legal: Competition named him as one of the country's leading antitrust practitioners. In 2017, the National Law Journal recognized James as a "Cybersecurity Trailblazer" for his work on behalf of consumer and financial institutions impacted by data breaches.

Ruth Elizabeth Promislow

Bennett Jones LLP, Toronto, ON, Canada

Ruth is a partner at Bennett Jones in Toronto. She has extensive experience with cybersecurity matters including cyber preparedness, incident response and related litigation. Ruth works with clients to develop comprehensive and effective incident response plans. Following a cyber attack, Ruth works with clients in connection with forensic investigations, reporting to regulators, notification to customers and related litigation. Ruth regularly appears before the courts of a number of provinces in Canada, including the Ontario Court of Appeal, the British Columbia Court of Appeal and the Federal Court of Appeal. Ruth regularly speaks at Canadian and international conferences on issues relating to cybersecurity and commercial crime.

Molly Reynolds

Torys LLP, Toronto, ON, Canada

Molly's practice focuses on digital innovation, cyber-security, data protection and ethics, and privacy litigation. She regularly advises clients on privacy law compliance in their businesses and in the context of commercial transactions, as well as on data security best practices, breach response, regulatory investigations, and privacy class action defence. She represents clients in administrative proceedings under access to information, anti-spam, and privacy legislation, as well as in the context of civil litigation. Her dual call allows her to provide advice on personal information handling and marketing regimes that reflect and comply with Canadian and American privacy legislation. Molly is a member of Torys' Payments and Cards, Privacy, and Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice groups.

Neil A. Riemann

Penry|Riemann PLLC, Raleigh, NC, USA

Neil is a member of Penry|Riemann PLLC in Raleigh and a Certified Information Privacy Professional (US). He provides advice and counsel on privacy and cybersecurity issues as well as other aspects of technology law. He also maintains an active commercial litigation practice. In addition to representing clients, he chairs the North Carolina Bar Association's Technology Committee, serves on its Litigation Section Council, and regularly contributes to projects of The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11). Prior to establishing Penry|Riemann, Neil worked at large firms in Raleigh and Washington, DC.

Alfred Saikali

Shook Hardy & Bacon, Miami, FL, USA

Al is a partner in Shook, Hardy & Bacon's Miami office. He is a founder and co-chair of the firm's Data Security and Data Privacy Practice group. Al specializes in U.S. and international data privacy and security compliance and plays a key role in assisting companies minimize their risks associated with the collection, use, storage, and disposal of sensitive information. He also directs data breach response efforts, advises companies of applicable laws, leads their internal investigations, communicates with law enforcement and regulators, and helps to minimize negative effects in the event of a breach. Al maintains the blog, Data Security Law Journal, which focuses on data security and data privacy law. He is a Certified Information Privacy Professional and is often cited by the media about issues relating to data security, data privacy, technology, and commercial litigation.

David C. Shonka

Redgrave LLP, Chantilly, VA, USA

David is a partner at Redgrave LLP and leads the Firm's privacy and data security practice. Prior to joining Redgrave LLP, David served three terms as the Acting General Counsel at the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and ten years as the agency's Principal Deputy General Counsel. In both roles, he oversaw the Office's Litigation, Legal Counsel, and Opinions and Analysis Groups, as well as FOIA, Employment Law, and Energy Counsel Staff. Before becoming the Principal Deputy General Counsel, David was the agency's Assistant General Counsel for Litigation. Before joining the FTC, David was an associate at a Washington, DC law firm and a litigator in the Civil Division of the United States Department of Justice. During his tenure at the FTC, David became a recognized expert (and frequently spoke on and wrote about) government investigations, international discovery, privacy, and data security. David is a Senior Fellow of the Administrative Conference of the United States, providing informed and objective assessments about best practices throughout the government. David is currently a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11), serves on the Steering Committee for International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6), and is a former member of the Steering Committee for Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1). He has previously chaired the FTC's eDiscovery Steering Committee. David is recipient of the Presidential Rank Award of Meritorious Executive (2015).

Drew Sorrell

Lowndes, Drosdick, Doster, Kantor & Reed, P.A., Orlando, FL, USA

Drew is a litigation partner and chair of the firm's multi-discipline Privacy & eDiscovery Group. He generally focuses his practice on complex commercial issues, with experience in business, intellectual property/technology/Internet, employment and tort/insurance issues. Previously, Drew practiced in New York City with a large international firm. Prior to that, he served as a law clerk to Senior United States District Judge John H. Moore, II in Jacksonville, Florida. Currently serving as chair of the Orange County Bar Association's 300+ member Business Law Committee, Drew is also a member of the Association's Intellectual Property Law and Labor and Employment Law committees. He previously served as co-chair of the Orange County Bar Association's Technology Committee. Drew is also a member of the American Bar Association's eDiscovery and Digital Evidence Committee, the Florida Bar's employment law committee and is a Barrister Member of the George C. Young American Inns of Court. He is a past president of the Orlando Chapter of the Federal Bar Association and former editor for The Federal Lawyer magazine. A frequent speaker and writer on the topics of eDiscovery (contemporary litigation issues), technology/Internet law and business ethics, Drew is vice-chair of the Florida Bar Grievance Committee Group "D" and chairs the Middle District of Florida, Orlando Division grievance committee. He earned his law degree, with honors, from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., where he was a published member of the Law Review. Drew is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1).

Jami Mills Vibbert

Venable LLP, New York, NY, USA

Jami is a data security and data risk management attorney in the New York office of Venable LLP. In her practice, she conducts comprehensive data security risk assessments and gap analyses, develops and implements data risk solutions and breach prevention and incident response programs, and assists on related litigation. Prior to joining Venable, Jami spent the majority of her career at Norton Rose Fulbright advising with respect to enterprise data risk management and handling complex litigation. Jami clerked for the Honorable Lance M. Africk in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana. She received a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania and graduated magna cum laude from Tulane University Law School, where she was Editor in Chief of the Law Review.

Jonathan M. Wilan

Baker McKenzie, Washington, D.C., USA

Jonathan is a partner in the Cyber-investigations and Ediscovery practice group of Baker & McKenzie LLP, Washington, DC., where he advises on complex data focused investigation matters, as well as matters involving cross-border data transfers. In addition, Jonathan works with corporate clients to respond to the challenges of electronic discovery and preservation under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and in response to governmental investigations. Jonathan is a frequent speaker and author on complex issues related to digital investigations, information management and electronic discovery. He has appeared on panels at the Sedona Conference Institute, the Duke Law Center for Judicial Studies Protected-Privacy Data Conference, LegalTech, the Masters Conference on Electronic Discovery, Virginia CLE, IQPC Oil & Gas E-Discovery Conference, The DC Bar Ediscovery Committee, Corporate Counsel Magazine's Annual General Counsel's Conferences and an ABA ALI Panel on a range of topics including cross-border discovery, the Federal Rules amendments, cloud computing, computer-assisted document review, bring your own device policies, and discovery of social media.

Kenneth J. Withers

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ

Ken is the Deputy Executive Director of The Sedona Conference. Since 1989, he has published several widely-distributed papers on electronic discovery, hosted a popular website on electronic discovery and electronic records management issues, and given presentations at more than 300 conferences and workshops for legal, records management, and industry audiences. His most recent publications are Ephemeral Data and the Duty to Preserve Discoverable Electronically Stored Information in the University of Baltimore Law Review (2008); Living Daily with Weekley Homes in the Texas State Bar Advocate (Summer 2010); and Risk Aversion, Risk Management, and the Overpreservation Problem in Electronic Discovery in the South Carolina Law Review (2013). From 1999 through 2005, he was a Senior Education Attorney at the Federal Judicial Center in Washington D.C., where he developed Internet-based distance learning programs for the federal judiciary concentrating on issues of technology and the administration of justice. Ken also contributed to several well-known FJC publications, including the Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth Edition (2004), Effective Use of Courtroom Technology (2001), and the Civil Litigation Management Manual (2001).

Mengyi Xu

Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, New York, NY, USA

Mengyi is a litigation associate at Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP. Her practice consists of a range of white-collar investigations, regulatory compliance and complex civil litigation matters. Her cybersecurity and data privacy practice focus on compliance design, incident response, and regulatory notification. Mengyi is one of the lead contributors to the Davis Polk Cyber Portal, an online suite of cybersecurity and data privacy tools and resources for clients. She is also a regular author on the Davis Polk Cyber Blog, a forum that curates cutting-edge commentaries on cybersecurity-related topics. Mengyi received her A.B. from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and her J.D. from Stanford Law School, where she was the editor-in-chief of the Stanford Law & Policy Review.