From The Pastor...

A Final Word

As you all know by now, the last Sunday in July will be my final Sunday as the pastor at North Catawba Baptist Church. With the end of my pastorate here I will start pastoring a new church in Burke County. Over the last 5 months God has systematically confirmed for me through His actions and His answers to my prayers that this new direction is what His will is for me and my family. It is hard to put into words exactly what North Catawba has come to mean to our family. Your kindness and welcoming attitude have been what made us feel at home here, but it will also be what makes it hard to say goodbye. As a church, you have taken our family in and made us one of your own. I've told folks repeatedly how North Catawba feels like home to us because it is so similar to the church we were originally called out of some 12 years ago. Leaving feels more like leaving family than leaving a church family.

We know that God has great things instore for North Catawba Baptist Church. Know that we are praying for North Catawba in the coming months and we hope you will be praying for us as we transition into a new ministry and new church family. North Catawba will always hold a special place in our hearts because of the wonderful people we have been able to minister to and minister with. Thank you for all you've done for us and done with us as we've ministered at North Catawba.
