Pastor Appreciation

October is Pastor Appreciation Month. Every year across North America, churches give special attention to appreciating their pastors in tangible ways. Studies have shown that one of the most significant factors for clergy well-being is the support pastors feel from their congregations. A partnership between you and your pastor is highly significant for their effectiveness and well-being. This leads to direct benefits for both your church and your pastor. Why not plan now to do something special for your pastor this October?
