

WHERE THE RUBBER MEETS THE ROAD!

What a joy to continue to walk through the book of James. We highlighted, in chapter four, the importance of avoiding living out a Christian life without God's Lordship and leadership in our lives. "I am going to do this or that" is not the right approach, but rather we should say, "If the Lord wills, I will do this or that!" We also highlighted if you are married and have children, then much of the Lord's will is right in front of you. What a privilege to become a mother, and then to be a mom to your children. Charles Stanley said, "Although being a mom is a great honor and privilege, really mother is synonymous with servanthood." Lu highlighted E.M.O. The E was encouraging you to embrace motherhood and ENJOY them. Spend time reading books, playing games, dressing up and helping them use their imagination, laughing, etc. The M was for motivating and MENTORING them through singing Bible songs, memorizing child friendly scripture together. Teaching children respect by how they address adults; protecting them by monitoring all their social media and not letting them have it all until an appropriate age. Coaching them through life! The O was for helping them become "OTHERS centered" by taking them, at a young age, to a nursing home. Encourage them to build relationships with senior adults and challenge them to get involved in some service projects or mission trips. I am blessed to have a helpmate that has truly been such a blessing to me and such a partner in ministry. Thank you, Lu, for your wisdom from our Lord!

I hope you had a great Mother's Day! Even if, like my mom is basking in the presence of our Lord, or if you got to reach out to your mom. I pray for others who have their eyes fixed on Jesus, whose womb seems to be closed up - asking "When will I get to be a mother?" God has a plan. Keep abiding in Him and may His grace be sufficient in the meantime. Love my church family! See you this Lord's day as we look at "talking money"!

Love you and striving to fill your bucket!

Memorial Photo Display

This year we will not be doing the "We Remember" memorial video. Instead, we will have "Memorial Walls" for you to display photos of your passed loved one's. Bring a photo or a copy to be placed on the wall. There will be a place to write their name, your name and relationship to them and their life date. If you need a copy made of your photo, stop by the church office during the week to have one printed. Do not leave photos with the secretaries, please wait as they print them. The Memorial Walls will be in place in the foyer May 20 thru June 3.
