FIRST OF 2022: KENTUCKY VS. MARSHALL

When one door closes, another one opens: Following the cancellation of the University of Kentucky swimming and diving team's previously scheduled meet with Texas and Ohio State in Columbus this upcoming weekend, the No. 13 women's squad is now set to host Marshall on Wednesday, Jan. 12. The women-only meet will be the first of the spring semester at the Lancaster Aquatic Center.

The Wildcat women clocked in at No. 13 in the latest College Swimming & Diving Coaches Association of America (CSCAA) poll for the second month in a row. They began the season at No. 12 in the preseason poll.

Marshall will arrive in Lexington having competed in duals against Liberty, Toledo, Florida International, and Ohio so far this season. The team is led by sophomore Paige Banton, who hit the NCAA B standard in the 200 breast at the Herd's midseason invitational. Under head coach Ian Walsh, Marshall finished fifth at the 2021 Conference USA Championships where they collected two gold, one silver, and three bronze medals.

KENTUCKY'S LAST SPLASH

The Wildcats last competed at the Ohio State Invitational on Nov. 18-20 in Columbus. The women's team finished second with 2,198 points behind the Buckeyes (2,258). In total, Kentucky won seven individual events and one relay as well as achieved 50 NCAA B standards.

Among those champions was Riley Gaines, who took the top spot in both the 200 free and 200 fly (1:54.85). The senior co-captain led UK in the pool throughout the first semester, winning a total of nine events and contributing to several victorious UK relays in dual meets against Indiana, Indiana State, Ohio, Auburn, NC State, and Tennessee. She currently ranks fifth in the nation in the 200 free (1:43.81), 13th in the 200 fly (1:54.85), and 15th in the 100 free (48.43).

Kyndal Knight was also a double-event winner in Columbus, taking first on the 1-meter and platform diving events. She competed at the USA Diving Winter National Championships in Bloomington, Indiana, from Dec. 13-18 where she finished fourth on the 3-meter synchro and sixth on the 1-meter. The senior, who was named the SEC Female Co-Diver of the Week on Oct. 19, racked up a total of four dual meet wins during the fall semester.

Also winning events at the midseason invitational were Gillian Davey (400 IM), Caitlin Brooks (100 back), and Sophie Sorenson (200 back). The 800 free relay team of Izzy Gati, Gaines, Sorenson, and Kaitlynn Wheeler also brought home the gold medal.

In addition to Gaines, several other Wildcats own times that rank in the top-20 in the NCAA so far this season. Leading the backstrokers is Sorenson who sits at No. 9 in the 200 back (1:52.18) while Brooks clocks in at 10th in the 200 back (1:53.07) and 17th in the 100 back (51.93). Davey ranks seventh in the 400 IM (4:06.34) followed by Bailey Bonnett (10th, 4:06.96) and Lauren Poole (20th, 4:08.91).

GUESS WHO'S BACK...BACK AGAIN

The Wildcat women return 27 student-athletes for the 2021-22 campaign as they begin their quest to make history once again. Included in those returners is co-captain Bailey Bonnett, who has opted to return to Lexington for her fifth year. The men's squad welcomes back 16 swimmers and divers who are eager to make a statement.

UK is in an excellent position to continue making their presence known in both the SEC and the NCAA. The women's program has returned all eight relay swimmers for the 2021-22 campaign, as well as 18 of the 20 point scorers and 803 of the 874 individual points accumulated a year ago.

The men's team is also in a great spot to continue moving up the rankings, as five of the eight relay swimmers, 11 of the 15 point scorers, and 330 of the 559 individual points scored are suiting up for the blue and white once again.

NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK

While UK boasts ample experience with its returning swimmers and divers, the team also has added plenty of talent with the freshman class. Nineteen newcomers will suit up in the blue and white for the first time this season, including 12 newbies on the women's team and seven for the men.

In total, the freshman class represents 12 different states — Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin — and two countries — the United States and Spain. Additionally, 21 percent of the new faces are Bluegrass State natives.

O CAPTAIN! MY CAPTAIN!

Leading the newcomers and returners alike are the team captains for the 2021-22 season. For the second straight year, the women's squad will again be led by fifth-year Bailey Bonnett and seniors Riley Gaines, Izzy Gati, Kyndal Knight, and Sophie Sorenson. Mason Wilby, a senior, will captain the men's team for yet another year, joining sophomore Sam Duncan and junior Max Hawton in the role.

MAKING HISTORY

Last season saw the Wildcat women clinch their first Southeastern Conference title in program history with 1,124 points, besting the previous record of points scored by 136.5. UK collected 12 medals at the conference meet — three gold, three silver, and six bronze — in addition to breaking five school records. The 800 freestyle relay team of Izzy Gati, Riley Gaines, Kaitlynn Wheeler, and Sophie Sorenson combined to give UK their first SEC relay title since 2007, while Lauren Poole (400 IM) and Gaines (200 free) were individual champions. Ten women also landed on All-SEC teams, including five on the first team.

The men's team also experienced success at the conference meet in 2021, finishing seventh with 759 points. Their point total surpassed the previous program record of 724 points scored the year prior and was the fifth consecutive year the men's team had bested the school mark. Zane Rosely and Sam Duncan both landed on the All-SEC Freshman Team while Danny Zhang earned a spot on the All-SEC Second Team.

ON THE NATIONAL STAGE

A school-record 14 UK women were invited to the 2021 NCAA Championships en route to besting the previous record of 10 and tying for the third-most swimmers invited. Those 14 Wildcats combined for 35 entries total, which was also a school record. UK finished 11th with 152 points at NAAs, marking their best team finish in school history as well as the most points scored, and also their fourth-straight year in the top-15. Kentucky collected 23 All-America honors — eight First Team and 15 Honorable Mention — for yet another school record, while the 800 free relay earned silver and Lauren Poole took bronze in the 400 IM.

Two swimmers and three divers were invited to compete at the big dance for the men in a combined 10 individual entries, placing 30th with 14 points. Rosely became the first UK male freshman swimmer since 2013 to earn a bid to the national meet while divers Danny Zhang and recent graduate Chase Lane earned All-American Honorable Mention honors. Mason Wilby also claimed the first All-American Honorable Mention of his career by finishing 13th in the 200 fly to break his own school record.

A SUMMER TO REMEMBER

This past summer was one to remember for Kentucky swimming and diving. Four Wildcats in Torie Buerger, Megan Drumm, Bridget Engel, and Jodi Ogle competed in Wave I of the U.S. Olympic Swim Trials in Omaha, Nebraska. Highlights included Ogle placing fifth in the 200m back, Buerger winning the B-final of the 200m back, and Drumm qualifying for the consolation final in the 200m free.

Kyle Barker, Bailey Bonnett, Caitlin Brooks, Gillian Davey, Izzy Gati, Parker Herren, Beth McNeese, Lauren Poole, and Sophie Sorenson raced in Wave II of Olympic Trials, which served as the sole qualifier for the U.S. Olympic Team. Those nine Wildcats qualified in a combined 26 events for the meet, which was also held in Omaha. Sorenson was a two-time semifinalist in both the 100m and 200m back, while Gillian Davey advanced to the 200m breast semifinal.

Three divers in Sam Duncan, Kyndal Knight, and Chase Lane participated at the U.S. Olympic Diving Trials in Indianapolis, Indiana. Lane, a recent graduate, was a finalist on the 10m platform and Knight was a semifinalist on the 1m springboard.

Other noteworthy from the long course season included Max Berg breaking two school records in the 200m free and 200m IM at the French Elite Championships. At Greensboro Speedo Sectionals, the Wildcats collected 10 gold, six silver, and four bronze medals in addition to setting 68 best times. Wilby won the 200m fly in dominant fashion, setting a new UK mark with a time that was the sixth-fastest in the country. Sorenson and Wilby also won the high point trophy for their respective women's and men's meets.

SMARTY CATS

Just as they excel in the pool and on the boards, the Wildcats also experience success in the classroom. Twenty-three women and 12 men found themselves on the 2021 SEC Winter Academic Honor Roll while 16 freshmen landed on the SEC First-Year Academic Honor Roll. An impressive 24 Wildcats were also named CSCAA Scholar All-Americans at the conclusion of the 2020-21 season. Boasting a 3.93 grade point average as a kinesiology major, Izzy Gati was selected to the 2020-21 CoSIDA Academic All-District Women's At-Large Team.

AN ELITE COACHING STAFF

Kentucky is undoubtedly in good hands with the coaching staff as the program prepares for another historic season. Leading the program to new heights is Lars Jorgensen and Ted Hautau, who are the defending SEC Women's Swimming Coach of the Year and SEC Men's Diving Coach of the Year, respectively.

Jorgensen begins his ninth year as the head coach, having guided UK to seven-straight top-25 team finishes at the NCAA Championships. He is also a five-time USA Swimming National Team coach and a USA Team World University Games coach. Hautau enters his 14th season as the head diving coach, completely transforming the program and leading it to national prominence where 11 student-athletes have combined for 38 All-America honors at NCAAs.

In July, Jorgensen announced that assistant coaches Michael Camper and Maclin Simpson would be elevated to associate head coaches. The 2021-22 season marks Camper's fourth year in Lexington while Simpson, a former team captain at UK, first joined the coaching staff in 2019.

Jordan Lieberman has begun his second year as an assistant coach. A four-time NCAA qualifier and former team captain for UK, Bridgette Alexander returns to Lexington as an assistant coach. Jacob Brown has also joined the staff as a volunteer assistant coach.
