What Is Metaphysics?
As Defined by Founder, Dr. Paul Leon Masters

Traditionally, the word Metaphysics comes to us from Ancient Greece, where it was a combination of two words — Meta, meaning over and beyond — and physics. Thus, the combination means over and beyond physics. In the definition found in most dictionaries, metaphysics is referred to as a branch of philosophy that deals with first cause and the nature of being. It is taught as a branch of philosophy in most academic universities under the label of “Speculative Philosophy.”

In today’s world, however, the word metaphysics has become a description of many fields of interest. When one expresses an interest in metaphysics, that interest may be in any one or a combination of the following subjects:

- Philosophy
- Religion
- Parapsychology
- Mysticism
- Yoga
- ESP
- Dreams
- Jungian Psychology
- Transpersonal and Theocentric Psychology
- Astrology
- Meditation
- Self-Help Studies
- Positive Thinking
- Life After Death
- Transcendentalism
- Mysticism
- Reincarnation

The common denominator of these and all similar subjects, of course, deals with an exploration of reality, and in the idealistic sense, how such knowledge may benefit human life on this earth, both individually and collectively. If, then, this is the aim of such interests, it is why most professional metaphysical practitioners regard metaphysics as a spiritual philosophy or way of life. All but a very few practitioners in metaphysics today have a pivotal point of some sort of spiritual philosophy in whatever system or teaching of metaphysics they are engaged. It is important to understand this, especially when reviewing the legal technicalities of being in metaphysics professionally.

If we were to travel from one metaphysical teacher or organization to another, we would find people engaging in different things, all under the label of metaphysics. This could be a wide range, such as yogis, mystics, astrologers, positive thinking teachers, meditation teachers, spiritual healers, graphoanalysts, self-help teachers, counselors, coaches, and so on. The range is wide, but again the basic denominator is the search for truth, purpose and meaning in life, which cannot be isolated from basic spiritual questions. All of these fields, therefore, are regarded as part of metaphysics by the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona, in regard to its doctoral degree and to its other programs and affiliations with its students and graduates.

It is not the position of the universities or its parent body, the International Metaphysical Ministry, to take one phase of study over another, as it is the belief of the universities that there are many paths humans may travel on the way to finding truth. There is an old proverb which states, “No matter what path a human may travel, it is My Path; no matter where they walk, it leads to Me.”
In a more absolute sense, we like to think of metaphysics as dealing with the basic questions of life, such as the relationship of man, mind, and the Universe, which leads to answers to the age-old questions of anyone who has truly paused to reflect on life by asking the most fundamental questions of all – “who am I; what am I; where have I been, and where am I going?”

New Thought: A Metaphysically Oriented Movement

Because of a commonly shared spiritual philosophy held by Unity, Religious Science, and many independents, the term New Thought was adopted to denote a religious movement. The basic premise was that everything is one vast universal mind, the human mind and body included. By fostering the thought of healing in the human mind/body, the God part of the mind could affect a healing. This is a holistic approach, characterized by the synthesis of body, mind, and spirit as well as the integration of the spiritual, philosophical, and metaphysical. This theory has led to the success of such spiritual movements as Unity and Religious Science and has stimulated the birth of many independent teaching centers and churches along metaphysical lines.

Our Universities

The University of Metaphysics, the University of Sedona, and the International Metaphysical Ministry (IMM) regard all of these practitioners and fields as being in relation to its curricula, degrees, and affiliations with its students and graduates. It is not the position of either University or its parent body, the International Metaphysical Ministry, to favor one phase of the study of metaphysics over another. It is our belief that there are many paths humans may travel on the way to finding truth, purpose, and meaning in life.

Universal Intelligence, being the Creator of all things, thus lives and exists in all things, which can be thought of as the existence of an Ultimate Unity. Unity symbolizes love, and love is the spirit of Universal Intelligence, or God.

—Dr. Paul Leon Masters, Founder
Mission

To offer spirituality to those in search of higher spiritual truth beyond that found in conventional, traditional, fundamentalist, or dogmatic religion while encouraging the individual, metaphysical perspectives of students for creating a diversity of new approaches to spiritual practice and ministry. To ensure the continuation, preservation, expansion, and integrity of the Founder’s teachings.

Vision

To provide affordable education in higher advanced Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical forms of spirituality, so graduates from our degree programs are well prepared to teach, counsel, coach, practice spiritual healing or engage in whatever their chosen metaphysical specialty may be.

Purpose

To conduct further research into the nature and source of consciousness for discovering the spiritual mysteries of life and how such knowledge may be practically applied to the improvement of human life, both individually and collectively. This includes the evolution toward the synthesis of science, psychology, transcendentalism, and mysticism so that eventually absolute spiritual truth and absolute scientific psychological truth may compliment and explain each other as one reality.
Beyond human definitions of silence and love, there exists the realm of original Silence, Peace, and Love, where conflict and duality do not exist and where all are in Ultimate Union with the One.

—Dr. Paul Leon Masters, Founder

Dr. Masters conceptualized the following specific principles in the early 1990s:

- To offer spirituality to a world in need of Higher Spiritual Truth beyond that found in conventional, traditional, fundamentalist, or dogmatic religions.

- To create a diversity of new approaches to ministry so that Higher Spirituality may reach the public through various means not confined to traditional church congregations.

- To provide education up to a doctoral degree in advanced Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical forms of Spirituality so that those affiliated professionally with the IMM and its University Division are well prepared to teach, counsel, coach, practice spiritual healing or whatever their chosen ministerial communication.

- To conduct research into the nature and source of consciousness to discover the spiritual mysteries of life and how such knowledge may be practically applied to the improving of human life, both individually and collectively.

- To explore the possibilities of the legitimacy of various forms and practices of spiritual healing and health maintenance that can be complementary to the practice of traditional, allopathic medicine.

- To focus on meditation and other contemplative practices that can lead to the exploration of consciousness for the purpose of proving the existence of a Supreme Creative Intelligence or God and/or the continuation of life beyond the physical.

- To encourage a movement toward the synthesis of science, psychology, transcendentalism, and mysticism so that eventually Absolute Spiritual Truth and Absolute Scientific and Psychological Truth complement and explain each other as one Reality.

Dr. Masters placed great emphasis upon meditation and other contemplative practices that lead to the investigation of higher consciousness for the purpose of authenticating the existence of a Supreme, Creative Intelligence or God, and the continuation of life beyond the physical.

About Dr. Paul Leon Masters,
Founder

University of Metaphysics
University of Sedona
International Metaphysical Ministry

As far back as he could remember, Paul Leon Masters was drawn to the mysteries of life, the universe, the mind, the soul, and the Presence of a Higher Intelligence—or God—behind creation. In his teens, he decided to pursue his interests by becoming a member of the Rosicrucians and the Mayans (similar to the Rosicrucians, but based in Texas). The more he learned throughout his life, the more he envisioned a synthesis of science, psychology, transcendentalism and mysticism so that eventually, absolute spiritual truth and absolute scientific psychological truth complement and explain each other as one reality.

Seeking the Mystical - The nature of reality—or speculative philosophy—is what most interested Dr. Masters. This comprises the basic premise of Mind and Universe leading to such foundational questions as, who am I; what am I; where am I; and where am I going? What he studied caused him to seek more knowledge about the mystical as well as any form of psychology that had an appreciation of the mystical. He also found that what he had learned, when applied to the lives of others, seemed to help them. This led him to seek a school that had a degree program in tune with the mystical/psychological path he wished to pursue. Traditional universities, particularly in the 1950s, did not offer anything close to what he was seeking.

The Institute of Parapsychology - He was diligent in his search until finding a nontraditional school where he could learn more about mystical teachings, as well as spiritual psychology, and in 1953 he enrolled in that college, a metaphysically-oriented school. He graduated with a doctorate in 1959 and went on to create his own metaphysical research and teaching organization: the Institute of Parapsychology, located in Beverly Hills, California. Eager to further his knowledge, he enrolled in another metaphysical college in 1960 called the New Thought Science Institute of Los Angeles, California, this time focusing on New Thought teachings. He graduated with a second doctorate three years later. Originating around the 1830s, New Thought schools, centers, and institutes began emerging quickly during the 1950s and 1960s, especially in California. Most operate today under the auspices of the International New Thought Alliance. The integration of spiritual, metaphysical, and philosophical teachings within the New Thought movement was widely received and continues its expansion to this day.

Higher Consciousness Research - A true pioneer, in subsequent decades Dr. Masters spent countless hours with thousands of people conducting higher consciousness research—all of which enormously expanded what he originally learned in the 1950s and early 1960s. He founded the National Metaphysics Institute in 1965, conducting research on the spiritual heights and potentials of mind and spirit, which produced even more information from which he could teach others. Ultimately, he hoped to encourage others to research further into the nature and source of consciousness and the ways in which such knowledge could be practically applied to human life.

Contributions to Mystical Psychology - Dr. Masters’ contributions to the field of mystical psychology were those of a trailblazer. Having founded the University of Metaphysics (1976), he then founded the International Metaphysical Ministry (1989) to accommodate the worldwide interest and enrollment in his courses. Fourteen years after that, he founded the University of Sedona (2003). He deservedly earned recognition as the world’s foremost teacher of metaphysical doctors, teachers, counselors, life coaches, wellness practitioners, and ministers, offering self-paced, distance-learning degree programs in Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics. But the most important achievements of all Dr. Paul Masters’ efforts were the support and advancement of higher consciousness research, education, and advanced New Thought Metaphysics.

Universal God Guidance from Within - As far as the wisdom and knowledge he gained, he gave full credit to prolonged contact with the Universal God Guidance from within himself during his experiences in higher consciousness meditation. People throughout the world, from all walks of life, have similarly heard an inner calling to help themselves help others through higher spiritual understanding and awareness. They have been able to fulfill their inner promptings as a result of learning about their true inner guidance as taught in the International Metaphysical Ministry’s Universities of Sedona and Metaphysics.

The International Metaphysical Ministry remains respectful of the individuality and independence of our Metaphysical graduates, ministers, teachers, and practitioners, encouraging independent research, the use of individual talents, modalities, and points of view, with the only requirement being that they stay true to the basic precepts of their Metaphysical education from the Founder.

Creating the World’s Largest Non-Secular and Theological Schools - Both universities offer life-improving, consciousness expanding curriculum that is strictly non-secular and theological in nature, and they have become the world’s largest schools of their kind, spanning over 120 countries and having enrolled over 12,000 students and graduates.

As Dr. Masters always wanted students and graduates to have options to continue learning and keep current with new developments in the field, the universities now offer enrolled students and graduates an opportunity to participate in postgraduate Continuing Education.

In addition, the websites, Newsletters, pearls of Timeless Wisdom, and the Metaphysical Blog continue to offer tools and resources for self-development and uplifting humanity through the archives of inspirational Improve Your Life–Daily Audio Messages, Weekly Inspirational Lectures, and the Mystical Insights teachings.
Reaching out to Transform the World - The University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona continue to grow, with a worldwide student population in the thousands. As he always wanted students and graduates to keep current with new developments, the universities continue to offer enrolled students and graduates an opportunity to participate in postgraduate continuing education.

Devoted to the preservation, continuation, and expansion of Dr. Masters’ legacy is a Board of Directors and professional university staff, each with many years of experience in various aspects of the metaphysical field. Considering the dedication and experience of Dr. Masters and his staff, you will always be able to say with pride, “I received my doctoral degree from the most prominent, well-respected metaphysical universities in the world—the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona.”

History - Organizational and University System Development

1959 - In 1959, Dr. Masters opened the Institute of Parapsychology in the heart of Beverly Hills, California. The aim of the institute was to research expanded, higher states of consciousness as they relate to spiritual reality and human self-betterment. This goal was accomplished through more Eastern forms of advanced meditation together with adaptable forms of self-hypnotic techniques. He attracted a large following of students and soon had to relocate to the Hollywood area where larger space was available. During the same time period, Dr. Masters trained his first few teachers.

1963 - As a follow-up to the research findings amassed in the Institute of Parapsychology, in 1963 Dr. Masters opened a meditation foundation in the Los Angeles area for study and research to focus primarily on the practices and results of meditation. Thousands of research experiences by students were recorded, and the consequential effects on their daily lives and spiritual unfoldment were noted. During this time, Dr. Masters also trained numerous meditation teachers.

1965 - In 1965, information gathered from the previous years of research, in the form of printed study materials, began to spread beyond the Southern California area to all parts of the United States. As a result of people from all parts of the country expressing excitement about learning and also teaching the spiritual truths revealed in the study materials, Dr. Masters founded the National Metaphysics Institute. In so doing, he created specific ministerial ordination programs allowing students to study metaphysics and obtain ministerial status through distance-learning and home study.

1968 - Dr. Masters recorded The Voice of Meditation album which sold in large quantities in various metaphysical organizations, particularly the Unity Church, nationwide.

1976 - In 1976, Dr. Masters applied for and gained the legal right to establish the University of Metaphysics and grant non-secular bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral degrees. These degrees, up to doctoral degree specialization, were to be granted to those who had been ordained by the National Metaphysics Institute ministry and were desirous of taking more classes to develop their education. Dr. Masters began to advertise the doctoral program in various regional and national magazines related to Metaphysics. As if by Divine plan, enrollments came from all over the United States, as well as the entire world.

1989 - By 1989, thousands of students from throughout the world had enrolled in the distance-learning doctoral degree programs. To meet the needs of this enormous growth, Dr. Masters incorporated the International Metaphysical Ministry, which exists up to the present day.

1996 - In 1996, Dr. Masters produced 31 new meditations for The Voice of Meditation series. These 31 meditations were to answer the spiritual needs of those who had requested guided meditations oriented to mystical union and transpersonal/transcendent awareness.

2002 - In 2002, Dr. Masters visited Sedona, Arizona—a place he had heard of for years as having a great deal of metaphysical activity. He had met a number of people who told him of spiritual experiences that occurred for them in the energy vortexes in the area. The spiritual energy and the inspiring beauty of Sedona, combined with inner Higher Guidance, caused him to take steps to create and establish a university there.

2003 - In 2003, he founded the University of Sedona, under the same non-secular rights as the University of Metaphysics, except that the University of Sedona awards degrees only at the doctoral level.

2004 - In 2004, in order to centralize the function of the two university programs, the University of Metaphysics was moved in its entirety to Sedona.

2005 to Present - The University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona continue to grow, with a worldwide student population in the thousands. As he always wanted students and graduates to keep current with new developments, the universities continue to offer enrolled students and graduates an opportunity to participate in postgraduate Continuing Education.

Dr. Masters made spiritual tools and resources, including interviews, available worldwide on his websites through his free Improve Your Life—Daily Audio Messages, Weekly Inspirational Lectures, and the Mystical Insights teachings.

Dr. Masters formed a new division of the International Metaphysical Ministry called the Theocentric Life Society, dedicated to teaching others how to live a life of higher consciousness with Universal God Guidance at the center.

2016 - Dr. Masters made his gentle transition on January 10, 2016.

2017 - Moving forward, Dr. Masters’ vision, teachings, and legacy continue to live on and thrive through the dedication and commitment of the IMM team, and through his beloved students and graduates throughout the world. Please visit the In Memoriam page dedicated in Dr. Masters’ honor.

Yet, if the mystical truth be told, everyone already exists in an after-death or astral plane. We exist there all our physical lives, from the time we take our first physical breath—and yes, even before that. We are many lives being lived simultaneously.

—Dr. Paul Leon Masters
Continuing the Legacy of Dr. Paul Leon Masters

Reviews and Testimonials from Students and Graduates

I am eternally grateful for finding exactly what I’ve been searching for all these years in my studies offered by the UoM + UoS. I’ve never felt more connected, compassionate, or as though I’m on the right track since I started learning Practical Mysticism and have actually applied it in my life. It isn’t difficult at all, but rather simple as what is aligned with Spirit should be. It’s definitely ‘work’ to create the inner conditions conducive to expanding the mind, making conscious contact with God, and living a life of success and fulfillment, however it isn’t any harder than going on about daily life without the influence that my education has gifted me. I highly recommend learning what these incredible people have to offer! I cannot get enough of what I’m learning and there is no limit to what one can learn or accomplish with the help of the University of Metaphysics + Sedona.

“I thought the course was so well written and designed. The content was in total alignment with what I live and teach. There were so many practical processes that have enhanced my life. Thank you — I loved the course.”

— D.L., Michigan, USA

“Dr. Masters’ Mystical Insights...online message this week, “Loneliness – Mystically Perceived” is especially encouraging and comforting. Much appreciation to him always, and the staff of UOM/UOS who keep to its spirit and generosity of this institution going strong.”

—I. R., California, USA

“Truly a prestigious University. Thank you so much for your help, support and understanding. I am so looking forward to living up to the University’s ideals.”

— Y. F., France

“I talk about the University all the time, to people who want to study what they want, to enhance their lives and find their soul purpose. Your program of study doesn’t just give you a job; it creates a life worth waking up every morning, knowing you are living on purpose. What you learn is transferable to many areas of your life: personal, family, society/community and professional. Thank you.”

— Facebook Review

“I wish to express my gratitude for your devotion and commitment to uphold the space for certification and recognition to be of service to others. After 50 years of service to so many others, it is clear that you walk your talk—and I wish to say at this time, Thank You! ... I feel honored by having this connection to you in this way, to have completed your doctoral program, and to be recognized in the world in this way—Although I do not intend to have an active ministry at this time.”

— S.A., Australia

“I would like to express my undying gratitude for the program and for the many ways in which it has enhanced my life, cured me of helplessness and depression, and restored my faith in God. Dr. Masters has taught me a great deal, and I continue to learn from him daily through the mini consultations and materials available. Thank you all for the incredibly important work that you do.”

About the International Metaphysical Ministry University System (IMM)

University of Metaphysics and University of Sedona

The University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona are private, postsecondary, distance-learning theological schools operating under the auspices of the International Metaphysical Ministry (IMM). The IMM is a 501(c)3 non-profit tax exempt organization as designated by the Internal Revenue Service of the United States. The curricula of both Universities are strictly non-secular and theological in nature—in the Holistic, New Thought Transcendent branch of Metaphysical Theology.

Beginning in 1959 Dr. Masters established educational and research facilities in New Thought Metaphysical studies. His activities evolved first into the International Metaphysical Ministry, granting students the right to minister. In 1976 he applied for and was granted the legal right to award non-secular degrees up to the Doctoral or Ph.D. level through the University of Metaphysics. In 2003, Dr. Masters applied to have the University of Sedona begin operating under the same legal right as that of the University of Metaphysics, but offering only doctoral degrees.

The University of Metaphysics provides an accelerated undergraduate program that serves both schools. Each university has its own accelerated doctoral degree program. Thus, students enrolling in a doctoral program with the University of Sedona will receive their Bachelor’s Degree, Ministerial Practitioner’s Diploma, Ministerial Ordination Certificate, and Master’s Degree through the University of Metaphysics. Doctoral Degrees are awarded from both the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona.

Since both Universities are totally focused on a Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical curriculum, they each legally exist beyond the scope of the U.S. Higher Education Act of 1965. As there is no official agency governing Metaphysical education in the U.S., the IMM maintains extensive oversight, quality control, and critical evaluation of the Universities’ activities and curricula. The IMM ensures, through examination, thesis, and dissertation review, that both Universities maintain the highest academic standards for Metaphysical education.

The IMM has over five decades of service and experience in the private, postsecondary religious field, with students and graduates not only in the United States and its territories, but also in over 120 other countries. Internationally, IMM has over 7,000 active ministries. The IMM remains respectful of the individuality and independence of our Metaphysical graduates, ministers, teachers, and practitioners, encouraging independent research, the use of individual talents, modalities, and points of view, with the only requirement being that they stay true to the basic precepts of their Metaphysical education from the Founder.

It is the goal of the IMM University System to ensure that our graduates will always be able to take pride in their alma mater and be able to say with integrity and confidence, “I received my degrees from the most respected Metaphysical university in the world.”
About Accreditation

“Since the inception of my work in the Metaphysical field in 1959 to our first graduating class of ministers in 1963, one of my first priorities was to maintain honesty and integrity and bring greater legitimacy to the field of Metaphysical spirituality. My intention was for higher Metaphysical education and Metaphysical spirituality to gain further acceptance in the world as a realistic alternative or addition for people who could not be nourished spiritually by traditional religions. In this way, our students, graduates, ministers, healers, and teachers can give the entire field of Metaphysical spirituality greater legitimacy and public acceptance for its schools, counselors, coaches, and wellness ministers.”—Dr. Paul Leon Masters

Overview

The International Metaphysical Ministry (IMM), a 501(c)3 non-profit tax exempt organization, is the parent body of the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona engaging in private, postsecondary, distance learning religious education. Our degrees are awarded in regard to professional ministerial work done in relation to teachings, directly or indirectly associated with modules appearing within the coursework of our university system and falls under the jurisdiction of private postsecondary education.

Graduates have the legal right to use degree titles awarded in conjunction with the ministerial status conferred with the option to be either an active or non-active minister with the IMM. The curriculum includes a synthesis of holistic, metaphysical, transcendent, esoteric, transpersonal, psychical, psychological, yogic, and mystical lessons blended masterfully together. These lessons can be applied in practical ways to improve individual lives, society, and humanity.

The information presented below is meant to clarify the puzzling question about accreditation. Accreditation is not yet available for institutions that are purely spiritual or religious, that is, with no secular subjects like Calculus, English Literature, Biology, Chemistry, Math and so on. And, by focusing entirely on one subject—the study of Metaphysical spirituality—students can complete a bachelor’s degree program including ordained ministry certification or a complete doctoral degree program in far less time than it would take to complete a secular degree.

Accrediting Detail for Prospective Students

Metaphysics degrees granted by IMM are religious in nature and are earned solely by the study of Metaphysical teachings with an emphasis on spirituality. Because Metaphysical degrees are religious in nature, the U.S. Department of Education, under U.S. Federal Law, can neither praise, credit, discredit, nor accredit Metaphysical institutions.
The founding fathers of the United States of America, in order to guarantee a republic based on religious freedom, created a distinct division between the government and religion. This basic precept is commonly known to most U.S. citizens as The Separation of Church and State, but may not be as well known outside the U.S. Simply stated, this foremost principle of religious freedom maintains that the government will not become involved in matters dealing with religious beliefs, or things of a spiritual nature, and no religion will seek to involve itself in governmental affairs.

Worldly or secular matters are in the domain of the U.S. Government, while the non-secular spiritual realm of individuals and society is off-limits to the Government. Since the International Metaphysical Ministry (IMM), parent religious organization of the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona, is legally recognized by the United States Federal Government as a non-secular, spiritual/metaphysical 501(c)3 non-profit tax exempt organization, the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, D.C. must adhere to the founding precepts of religious freedom and those of the Separation of Church and State. Therefore, it must refrain from all comment, opinion, or intrusion.

Given that the U.S. Department of Education, by law, can neither praise, credit, discredit, nor accredit a non-secular institution of Higher Consciousness/Spiritual Education, we offer the following list of points for individuals to consider when choosing an institution in which to pursue their Higher Consciousness Spiritual Education.

Look for Qualities Other Than Accreditation

Instead of choosing a school based on accreditation—which does not exist in the spiritual Metaphysical field—the choice should be centered upon the longevity of the school’s existence, the years of actual professional experience of the Founder or current president of the school, and the honesty and integrity of its reputation over a long period of time.

Our intention is to fulfill the need for those who are committed to studying metaphysical spirituality so that they may achieve the necessary knowledge and qualifications that warrant their professional recognition in a specialized metaphysical approach to spirituality where accreditation is not necessary.

Professional recognition is earned once a student has demonstrated that they understand the material within our comprehensive course of study. This is accomplished by passing the exams, and submitting their master’s thesis and doctoral dissertation for review and approval by our qualified thesis and dissertation advisors. Only then are our degrees awarded.

I am especially grateful for all the spiritual growth – the insight, support, knowledge and strength – that I am now receiving because of the University’s dedication and teachings.

—M. J. K., California
If a person’s focus is to be active in a Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical Ministry, there is no need that the school be accredited—only that the school’s curriculum adequately prepares its degree graduates with the schooling necessary to function in a professional ministerial capacity in the Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical field.

What is the History of the Institution/Organization?

A Metaphysical degree is only as good as the organization with which it is associated. Degrees from the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona are granted under the auspices of the International Metaphysical Ministry.

Dr. Masters had over half a century of development in research, teaching, and awarding minister certificates and degrees throughout the world. Dr. Masters, the Founder in 1959, was careful to appoint officers to succeed him when he would eventually transition into the Light, so that his International Metaphysical Ministry and religious/spiritual universities could continue on with the work he started.

In the current economic climate—many businesses, including schools, are going out of business or ceasing to operate. Both common sense and intuitive spiritual sense should be applied in making a decision as to which school to choose. Whichever school is considered, the applicant should ask the question, “Will the school I enroll in be there tomorrow so that I may finish my studies—and will they be there after I graduate?”

The IMM University System with its history of over five decades of development has proven and established that its organization has had the spiritual and material resources and power to sustain many previous recessions in the economy. No other currently operating Metaphysical degree-granting ministry comes close to this record of endurance.

What is the Institution’s Experience and Reputation?

The International Metaphysical Ministry is the largest Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical Ministry in the world, with successful and respected ministers, teachers, counselors, healers, and coaches in over 120 countries. We have graduated far more ordained Metaphysical ministers—over 12,000—than any other Metaphysical denomination or ministry in the world. For the last several years, we have had approximately 7,000 registered active ministries. Dr. Masters, founder of the IMM University System, had over five decades of research and teaching in Metaphysics from A to Z—from alchemy and astrology to Zen and Zoroastrianism.

Dr. Masters has successfully achieved a unique and enormous role in life. He established common ground between various religious orders and beliefs and among different cultures across the globe.

—A.F., Egypt
Our reputation for over five decades has been, and continues to be, the leader of Higher Consciousness Education in the Metaphysical field. We rely on our unblemished reputation of over half a century, and we have always operated in honesty and integrity. In all that time, there has never been one complaint or action filed against any of the University System’s institutions or organizations.

For these reasons, we believe that the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona provide the wisest choices for pursuing your non-secular degree(s) in Higher Consciousness Education.

Legitimacy

The International Metaphysical Ministry, parent body of the University of Metaphysics and the University of Sedona is chartered in the states of Arizona and California as a religious organization offering courses that are spiritual in nature. Falling under the jurisdiction of private postsecondary education, the International Metaphysical Ministry obtained the filing requirements for religious exclusion with exempt status.

The International Metaphysical Ministry has the full legal right to award the diplomas and degrees it offers to its graduates. Our degrees are awarded in regard to professional ministerial work done in relation to teachings, directly or indirectly associated with lessons appearing within the ministry lessons of our university system. Graduates have the full legal right to use doctoral titles awarded in conjunction with the ministerial status conferred.

Legalities for Teaching, Counseling and Healing in Metaphysics

In seeking doctoral recognition in the Metaphysical field, it is very important that you understand the legalities. This will help you to understand why your doctoral degree program is set up the way it is.

First, the field of Metaphysics as it exists today does not fall under the label of Psychology, which is the closest to it of all established professional fields. The explanation for this is that most Metaphysical teachings incorporate, or have as their main theme, the spiritual nature of the human being. Hence, many years back, Metaphysics was established as Spiritual Philosophy and, thus, under existing state laws nationwide, was placed in the legal classification of Religion.

Anyone that you see teaching, counseling or healing in Metaphysics today, if doing so with legal protection, is operating in the field of Religion and has a legal ministerial status. They may choose not to advertise this fact or call attention to it unless challenged to do so, unless, of course, they have chosen to open up a clearly apparent spiritual center or church.

Your own legal right to teach, counsel, or heal in the contemporary field of Metaphysics today is determined by having an ordained ministerial status, not upon a doctoral degree in Metaphysics. The primary purpose of the doctoral degree is to establish a highly professional image of you as a person who is truly educated in Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics, and has taken the time to obtain a doctoral level of knowledge.

For the reasons stated, therefore, you must have a ministerial status to practice legally. As explained later in this catalog, you may obtain such ministerial status through our degree program. The subjects covered in the curriculum of this course are listed further on in this catalog.

Anything that has ever been accomplished by a human being was preceded by a thought, a vision, a dream that seemed to be more than a daydream, and held the promise of a reality to be experienced.

—Dr. Paul Leon Masters
Ministerial status with the International Metaphysical Ministry is, therefore, a prerequisite for studying and earning a Bachelor’s, Master’s, or Doctoral degree from our universities. Also, you may earn a doctoral degree from the University of Metaphysics or University of Sedona if you already possess ministerial standing with another organization; however, you will still need to achieve ministerial status with the International Metaphysical Ministry.

With every stride of technology, both symbolically and literally, there is a new energy in the air. Such energy currents, both in the physical and the psychic atmospheres, affect the physical, emotional, and mental energies of human beings.

Preliminary Comments to Career Opportunities

You will be reading about the more common approaches used by metaphysicians. We present these merely as examples, as we have far more up-to-date knowledge to impart to you. This knowledge has been accumulated over many years through our own experience in conducting many of the opportunities described herein, and from our close contact with other professionals in the metaphysical field. Although some of what is described will appeal to most readers, there is no reason to feel limited exclusively to these career opportunities. As the field grows, it may be that you or someone else may find new ways or means of communicating metaphysical teachings to the public, always making certain, of course, that any change or innovation follows and is in strict accordance with the legalities applicable to metaphysical practices at that time.

There is no reason to feel that you are limited to the following career opportunities. We emphasize this point, as many who have inquired about a metaphysical career, while communicating to us their enthusiasm and desire to enroll in our doctoral degree program, have at the same time expressed their uncertainty as to what they wish to do after graduation.

Many interested people have pointed out that they would like to take our doctoral degree program for the knowledge factor alone. This would be their purpose in enrolling rather than actually planning to go into the professional practice of Metaphysics. If you are one who feels this way, we certainly welcome your enrollment in the same spirit as we do for those who wish to take the doctoral degree program with a professional practice in mind.

Whether your choice to become a doctoral degree candidate with our universities is motivated by the desire to go into a professional metaphysical practice or to enroll solely for the metaphysical knowledge that may be acquired, we would like to point out that many of our students have expressed their gratitude to us for the improvement they have realized in their individual lives as a result of their studies. It certainly is most gratifying for us, at our universities, to receive so many letters of praise from students who feel that the quality of their lives has been improved through their studies. This is especially true when, in many cases, this praise has come from long time students and long-standing professional practitioners alike.

With all this in mind, review the following descriptions of proven areas of opportunities in Metaphysics, which you might consider for yourself upon doctoral graduation from the University of Metaphysics or the University of Sedona.
Careers in Metaphysics

As a doctoral degree candidate, you can bring forth your inner potential for successful living from a practical perspective of love, romance, marriage, income, career, inner confidence, peace of mind, creativity—to a spiritual perspective of awakening and expanding of your mind to include higher consciousness, expanded awareness, increased intuition and sensitivity, and self-realization.

We include Metaphysical Degree programs for almost all metaphysical specialty practices, such as Counseling, Life Coaching, Metaphysical Wellness Practitioner, Metaphysical Teacher, Metaphysical Chaplaincy, Parapsychology, Metaphysical Hypnosis, Metaphysical Psychology, and Metaphysical Ministry. Please note that if enrolling students are involved in Metaphysical specialties not covered in the Doctoral Degrees that we offer, they may apply for consideration for an alternative Doctoral Degree award.

With this in mind, review the following descriptions of proven areas of opportunities in Metaphysics, which you might consider for yourself upon doctoral graduation from the University of Metaphysics or the University of Sedona. The choice of how you wish to conduct your professional work is entirely up to you. Here are some common career examples of how professionals in Metaphysics utilize their skills.

Retreat or Workshop Facilitator - Facilitating retreats and workshops is a creative way to bring small or large groups into engaging spiritual practices for personal growth and self-discovery. Often held in nature, such settings allow people to unplug from the hectic pace of everyday life and reawaken to what is really important to them.

Yoga and Meditation - Yoga and transcendental meditation help people become detached from distractions, promoting states of heightened, relaxed awareness. By experiencing inner peace, clients can release stress and harmonize body, mind, and spirit.

The preceding career examples are a small sample of the opportunities that exist for you when you enroll in our degree program. You are free to create your practice by utilizing your own skill set with any of the above career opportunities or a combination of them in multiple ways. To learn about what our graduates are doing with their degrees, please visit our Graduates in Action page on our website.

You will find that many of our graduates have started their own practices in a variety of ways. Below are some of the opportunities through which you may offer your skills to those seeking your specific services.
Private Practice - This option speaks for itself. You can rent a small space or set up an area in your home in which to accomplish your work.

Metaphysical Teaching or Counseling Center - If you would like an educational atmosphere in which to conduct your work, you may consider renting a suite of offices in an office building that offers larger rooms and a professional look to your clients.

Metaphysical Church - Some metaphysicians feel more relaxed in regard to their work when operating in a traditional spiritual atmosphere. For example, they could convert a home into a church setting. This is especially suitable for those who wish to deal with the Metaphysical interpretation of the Bible or other religious scripture, or with spiritual healing. Some rent theatres or halls in which to conduct their Sunday or weekday services.

Partnering with Others - It is not uncommon for metaphysicians of similar interests to enter into a partnership agreement and work together in a common facility such as a healing center. This allows for multiple spiritual modalities to be conducted under one roof, offering alternatives and options to clients.

What a Higher Metaphysical Education Can Do For You and Others

You are immediately established as a true professional in the field of Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics. Your degree serves you well, should you write a book, give public lectures, and so on, because you will be received as a doctor of your subject. In many instances, along these lines or others that you might wish to pursue, your doctoral status alone could make the difference between failure and success.

Your degree gives you dignity in practicing Metaphysical counseling, since people going to see a counselor tend to think of it as seeing someone who has achieved doctoral status.

Prosperity is a state of mind in which one experiences happiness and peace within and about oneself. Prosperity is not only financial; it also includes love, health, and happiness. Experiencing one of these elements without the others is not true prosperity.

—Dr. Paul Leon Masters
Explanation of Your Doctoral Degree Status

The field of Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics, as it is practiced today, comes under the legal classification of Religion, the reason being that most people in the field deal with the spiritual nature of human beings. It follows then that the status of one’s doctoral degree in Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics is also considered to be of a religious or spiritual nature.

Metaphysics, as it is commonly taught in spiritual Philosophy courses at academic universities under Speculative Philosophy, is seen as the search for objective truth about existence and first cause. For this study, the rules of reasoned discourse and argument are engaged to arrive at answers. Clearly, this is not the method of teaching commonly used by practitioners and ministers of Metaphysics as we teach it here.

Because of this difference, your doctoral degree in Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics, while completely legal in every way, is not considered an academic degree but a doctoral degree in a specialized area (Metaphysics) of Religion. Credit and recognition for Metaphysical study alone—which is what we offer—is therefore placed in as positive perspective as it can and should be.

Consciousness Researched, Results-Tested Curriculum

Whether you are a seasoned professional in the field of metaphysics and related subjects or are just starting out to have a career in metaphysically oriented counseling, life coaching, holistic wellness, teaching, or church-centered ministry, we are here to help you succeed further than you have in the past – or get you started – in holistic, New Thought, transpersonal, mystical, and related careers.

When you enroll in our University System, you will be enrolling in the largest, most established metaphysical organization in the world with the most students and graduates in over 120 countries worldwide. You have the assurance and peace of mind that we have earned the trust and respect of the metaphysical field for over five decades.

Our curriculum synthesizes psychology, the holistic, transcendent, transpersonal, and mystical, blended beautifully together through decades of consciousness research and tested result applications to improve people’s lives.

Beginning in 1959, Dr. Masters wanted to find out what spiritual reality really was. To him, the key was the exploration of consciousness, which held the secrets to the past, understanding of the present, and the potential innately latent in the unconscious, for what an individual or society collectively could become and achieve.

Starting with a small group of twenty students in 1959, he began a research into the exploration of consciousness by teaching and exploring advanced meditation techniques. The descriptions of what people experienced clairvoyantly (seeing within their minds) were noted on research reports.

A space was provided on the reports for the research participants to illustrate what they had seen in the experience. Together with this, a series of questions was asked to ascertain what brought about the experience, along with the interpretation the research participant gleaned from it.

Similar experiences and corresponding agreeing interpretations were analyzed to conclude whether there was a repeating experience and similar interpretations, which would indicate that a subjective or spiritual truth had been revealed through the meditation practices.

Such repeating experiences and like interpretations were then followed to assess the immediate – and most importantly – long term impact on the person’s life.

Follow-ups to the experiences focused on the effects on:

- Physical, mental and spiritual health
- Relationships
- Success and achievement
- Unlocking creativity
- Finding and living one’s soul’s purpose in life

Was this merely the expanding of one’s personal ego identity, or as a result of greater universal presence, or consciousness, or God at the center or nucleus of the human consciousness? Was human consciousness a quirk of nature, or was nature self-conscious on a universal scale, creating and recreating itself inclusive of human existence or as symbolized in words from the Bible, “The Spirit made flesh?”
Day after day, year after year, stretching into decades, Dr. Masters worked with thousands of research participants first hand, researching their experiences and following up with the impact on their lives in not just weeks and months, but with some over a period of years. Dr. Masters didn’t just read a study about consciousness research – he actually conducted it, firsthand and long-term.

The results of applications to improving people’s lives have been time tested through over half a century. The University Curriculum has brought forth subjective spiritual reality into the realm of human physical existence, producing tangible empirical results in improving the quality of so many lives worldwide.

When you enroll and study this one-of-a-kind curriculum, you become part of and participate in a greater universal reality for the betterment of yourself and others who approach you as a professional in Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysics.

What makes our curriculum different is that our purpose is to help people – not just short term, but long term – for the remainder of their lives on earth, as well as their soul’s journey beyond this lifetime. That’s why you’ll find subjects that deal with awakening people to the Universal Source, Presence or God guidance within themselves.

Our curriculum is a timeless teaching that connects people to their real soul, inner-self, God Presence. If this is your goal in life, you have been God guided to us, and us to you. We welcome your enrollment in the Spirit of love and wisdom, seeking to serve you, as you would seek to serve others.

Once a relationship to one’s own divinity within is established, an individual may then access the higher consciousness within. Accessing your own inner higher spiritual consciousness opens your conscious mind to greater awareness, intuitive spiritual guidance, creativity and God’s wisdom.

Doctoral Degree Requirements

The doctoral program is completed through either the University of Metaphysics or the University of Sedona, depending on your selected specialty. There is no prescribed coursework for the doctoral program; instead, the student selects a topic, researches and evaluates the relevant major sources, and submits a dissertation of at least 10,000 words.

When writing the dissertation, students have access to and guidance from the Doctoral Dissertation Handbook and approved dissertation samples presented on the Online Center, as well as a Dissertation Advisor.

Below are the several possible degree specializations for the doctoral student.

Doctoral Degree Specialties Awarded by the University of Metaphysics

When enrolling, choose your doctoral degree specialty in accordance with what you believe you would like to do in the Transpersonal, Transcendent, Theocentric, Holistic, New Thought Metaphysical field:

Doctor of Metaphysical Science, Msc.D. There are numerous career opportunities in the all-encompassing field of metaphysics such as teaching, counseling, life-coaching, healing, ministry, astrology, professional speaking, to name a few. This program is designed for students wishing to write books, teach, or minister in any metaphysical capacity in which they are called.

Doctor of Metaphysical Counseling, Mc.D. Metaphysical counseling offers insights to explain those aspects of a person which exist beyond the senses' ability to perceive, such as influences of culture, family, friends, the media, and religion. With a spiritual understanding of the world in which you live, you can begin to make adjustments in your life, for greater fulfillment and more freedom. Metaphysical counselors facilitate spiritual awakening and connection to “God, Source, All that Is, the Divine, Higher Power,” or whatever you choose to call the spiritual connection.

Doctor of Divinity, D.D. The Doctor of Divinity degree is usually chosen by someone who has already established a ministry or church or is planning to do so. A degree in divinity can be directed toward a particular religion or be metaphysical in nature. Those interested in direct research or writing about a particular aspect of ministry, such as New Testament and early Christian studies, ethics, religion, gender, and culture from a metaphysical perspective would do well with this degree.

Doctor of Divinity, D.D. specializing in:

Pastoral Counseling. Pastoral counseling is a branch of counseling in which ordained ministers, rabbis, priests and other non-ordained lay persons provide counseling services. Pastoral counselors integrate modern psychological and metaphysical thought and method with traditional religious training.
Therefore, counselors are able to address psychospiritual issues in addition to offering the traditional spectrum of counseling services. Pastoral counselors can work from within a particular religious denomination or across several religious denominations. The focus of the counseling relationship is God or Spirit centered.

Spiritual Healing. The channeling of healing energy from its spiritual source to someone who needs it is called spiritual healing. The healing energy comes through the healer from a higher source and not directly from the healer.

Doctor of Ministry, D.Min., specializing in:

New Thought Ministry - This ministry emphasizes the practical implementation of the power of thought and feeling in helping spiritual enlightenment, wholeness, health, and prosperity to emerge. This degree is usually chosen by someone already working in a ministry or church open to metaphysics, or someone planning to start a New Thought ministry of their own.

Holistic Counseling Ministry - A holistic counseling ministry involves working with the body, mind, and spirit in a spiritual or religious setting. This degree is usually chosen by someone who is already working in a religious setting or someone planning to start a ministry.

Pastoral Counseling - Pastoral counseling is a branch of counseling in which ordained ministers, rabbis, priests and other non-ordained lay persons provide counseling services. Counselors integrate modern psychological thought and method with traditional religious training. Therefore, counselors are able to address psychospiritual issues in addition to offering the traditional spectrum of counseling services. Pastoral counselors can work from within a particular religious denomination or across several religious denominations. The focus of the counseling relationship is God or Spirit centered. This degree is usually chosen by someone who is already working in a religious ministry.

Holistic Ministry - Holistic ministry serves the whole person, seeing everyone through God’s eyes. This church ministry involves every dimension of human need. This degree is usually chosen by someone who is already working in a religious ministry, or would like to start one.

Doctoral Degree Specialties Awarded by the University of Sedona

Doctor of Metaphysical Science, Msc.D. There are numerous career opportunities in the all-encompassing field of metaphysics, including teaching, counseling, life-coaching, healing, ministry, astrology, professional speaking, to name a few. This program is designed for students wishing to write books, teach, or minister in any metaphysical capacity in which they are called.

Doctor of Metaphysical Counseling, Mc.D. Metaphysical counseling offers insights to explain those aspects of a person which exist beyond the senses’ ability to perceive, such as influences of culture, family, friends, the media, and religion. With a spiritual understanding of the world in which you live, you can begin to make adjustments in your life, for greater fulfillment. Metaphysical counselors also facilitate spiritual awakening and connection to “God, Source, All that Is, the Divine, Higher Power,” or whatever you choose to call the spiritual connection.

Doctor of Divinity, D.D. The Doctor of Divinity degree is usually chosen by someone who already has already established a ministry or church or is planning to do so. A degree in divinity can be directed toward a particular religion or be metaphysical in nature. Those interested in direct research or writing about a particular aspect of ministry, such as New Testament and early Christian studies, ethics, religion, gender and culture from a metaphysical perspective would do well with this degree.

Doctor of Divinity, D.D., specializing in:

Bible Interpretation, D.D. The study of the Bible is the soul of theology. If this degree is chosen, the student will be looking at word definition, usage, context, historical background, logic, precedent, and inference relating to biblical interpretations. This degree is chosen by those wishing to specialize in researching, teaching, and writing about biblical symbolism to uncover spiritual truths for spiritual reawakening and life improvement from a metaphysical or mystical perspective.

Spiritual Healing. The channeling of healing energy from its spiritual source to someone who needs it is called spiritual healing. The healing energy comes through the healer from a higher source and not directly from the healer.

Doctor of Theology, D.Th. The Doctor of Theology degree is usually chosen by someone who already has an established ministry or church. The minister will be doing a theological study within a particular religious tradition such as the Hebrew Bible, New or Old Testament, from a metaphysical perspective.

Doctor of Metaphysical Hypnosis, Mhyp.D. Metaphysical hypnosis is a natural, yet spiritual, form of suggestive therapy. The serious potential and application of hypnosis is only now being fully considered, as we begin to know more about the brain and the functions of the mind. If this specialty is chosen, teaching self-hypnotic techniques as a means of reprogramming positive spiritual truth and a method of release into higher meditation consciousness will be the goal. A CD of hypnotic induction for self-hypnotic conditioning must be submitted with the Doctoral Dissertation.
Important Note: The awarding of this degree does not give one the legal right to practice hypnotherapy. This degree offers ministerial ordination that specializes in doing pastoral educational counseling or teaching in the spiritual uses of self-hypnotic practices.

Doctor of Metaphysical Psychology, Mpsy.D. Metaphysical psychology means the particular way that an individual interprets reality by integrating intuitive, God-directed awareness into their physical life. This degree is chosen by someone wishing to specialize in educational counseling, life-coaching, teaching, writing, and ministry by applying higher metaphysical spiritual truth to improve life, love, success, and happiness.

Important Note: The awarding of this degree does not give one the right to practice as a psychologist. This degree signifies a person with ministerial standing having studied the psychology of metaphysically oriented pastoral counseling. See Pastoral Counseling above.

Doctor of Holistic Ministry, Mh.D. Holistic ministry serves the whole person, seeing everyone through God’s eyes. This church ministry involves every dimension of human need. This degree is usually chosen by someone who is already working in a religious ministry, or plans to.

Doctor of Philosophy, D. Phil.
The Doctor of Philosophy degree is designed to equip students for creative scholarship, independent research and effective teaching and philosophical ministry. The program prepares students for teaching, for specialized church ministry, scholarly writing, lectures, courses, and seminars probing life’s realities to better understand how to improve human life.

Doctor of Philosophy, Ph.D. specializing in:

- Holistic Life Coaching: Holistic life coaching is based on a whole person concept of working with the body, mind, and spirit, or God. This is usually a one-on-one process. A holistic life coach will discuss what is happening in the environment and the experience of clients, underlying and limiting beliefs, and develop a spiritual practice that works for the client – within their own religion or faith. Generally speaking, a coach will work with someone on a subject or topic related goal, establishing the best route to the achievement of that goal. Another scenario is in helping the client clarify or establish clear goals with emphasis on God’s Inner Presence for achievement.

- Holistic Life Counseling: Holistic life counseling is based on working with the whole person; body, mind, and spirit. Counseling approaches and techniques are used to help clients uncover what past experiences are currently impacting their lives. This includes the spiritual release of past negativity and the inner transforming power of universal God Presence.

- Transpersonal Counseling: Transpersonal counselors use various depth psychologies and techniques to help clients such as analytical psychology based on Carl Jung’s work, archetypal psychology of James Hillman, spiritual psychology of Robert Sardello; psychosynthesis, founded by Roberto Assagioli, and the theories of Abraham Maslow, Stanislav Grof, and others. Transpersonal counseling is an eclectic field that studies the transpersonal, self-transcendent or spiritual aspects of human experience. Transpersonal counseling is concerned with the study of humanity’s highest potential, attempting to describe and to integrate spiritual experience within modern psychological theory.

- Comparative Religion: Comparative religion is a field of religious studies that analyzes the similarities and differences of themes, myths, rituals, and concepts among the world’s religions. It is an ideal specialization for students wishing to specialize in researching, teaching, and writing about the comparison of various religious teachings to the basic teachings of the IMM – where metaphysics has evolved into a religious faith among many people.
Pastoral Counseling Psychology: In choosing the pastoral counseling psychology degree, the student will be discussing the work of caring for, understanding, and exploring how human beings function as individuals, in families, in small groups, and in the greater community. The student will be exploring what psychological, behavioral, social science research have to say regarding pastoral concerns (local, institutional, societal, political, international, and so on).

Important Note: The awarding of this degree does not give one the right to practice as a psychologist. This degree signifies a person with ministerial standing having studied the psychology of pastoral counseling.

Metaphysical Counseling: Metaphysical counselors help clients to discover the root cause of their beliefs and to develop strategies to change those beliefs. Metaphysical counseling is a holistic approach using metaphysical tools for healing such as dream interpretation, spirituality assessment and awareness, meditation, prayer, affirmative thinking, and other similar methods.

Metaphysical Parapsychology: Metaphysical parapsychology is a discipline that seeks to investigate the existence and causes of psychic abilities, near death experiences, life after death, and other similar studies using scientific methods. Metaphysical parapsychology uses psychic mystical research as a means to greater spiritual truth and discoveries.

Mystical Research: Mystical research pursues communion with, identity with, or conscious awareness of an ultimate reality, divinity, spiritual truth, or God through direct experience, mystical intuition, instinct, or insight. Research in this field usually centers on a practice or practices intended to nurture those experiences or awareness. Mystical research can encompass such topics as Kabala, Sufism, Vedanta, Hinduism, Christian mysticism, Gnosticism, and others. A guided, mystically oriented meditation CD must be submitted with the dissertation.

The Spiritual side of all your experiences in this lifetime is what is ultimately important and significant, as all else passes with the dusts of time.

What is Metaphysics

Metaphysics acknowledges and respects the beauty in ALL of God’s Creation.

Metaphysics is religion without dogma.

Metaphysics does not explore religious beliefs and laws created by man, but rather, it explores the immutable laws of nature, set by The Creator, God/Universal Presence, in the creation of the Universe.

Metaphysics is a branch of philosophy that studies the ultimate nature of existence, reality, and experience without being bound to any one theological doctrine or dogma.

Metaphysics includes all religions but transcends them all.

Metaphysics is the study of ultimate cause in the Universe.

Metaphysics is the only science capable of inquiring beyond physical and human science.
