Hey Jake, I see IQ 3403533 came back to you, although I'm not sure what exactly the information in there is saying. Is there a PR that needs to be created now for this? Also, it looks like they only responded on one of the three exports you included in the IQ.

This pertains to documenting project 3491454

I think that is the wrong project number for the IQ, but i did get it back, but I had to send a follow up email to the programming team's manager based on some of the info in the IQ.

I would like to copy the number indicated in second message on the screen...

When I move my mouse cursor over it, the More Options display and I have no way to copy that text.
