Future Built: Apprenticeship for a Changing Canada

Building Talent
Disrupting Systems
Fueling Resilience

The Canadian Apprenticeship Forum is a national, not-for-profit organization that brings together stakeholders from every region and every corner of the apprenticeship system. We accelerate pan-Canadian strategies through research, collaboration, and dialogue - sharing insights across trades, sectors, and jurisdictions to strengthen apprenticeship as a powerful workforce development model.

Our Board of Directors includes leaders from business, labour, jurisdictional apprenticeship authorities, education, and equity-priority groups. Together, we identify emerging trends, surface challenges, and champion evidence-informed solutions that support access, retention, completion, and employer investment.

Recognized as Canada's Centre of Excellence in Apprenticeship Research and Innovation, CAF-FCA has built a trusted reputation for illuminating the real issues shaping apprenticeship, from perceived barriers and completion challenges to the economic value and ROI of apprenticeship training.

APPRENTICESHIP
CONFERENCE

Across Canada, many programs aim to attract people to the skilled trades, but recruitment alone will not build the workforce we need. Apprentice progression, completion and long-term retention remain persistent challenges for both learners and employers. In a collaborative and well supported environment, apprenticeship is the most effective model for training, developing and retaining Canada's future skilled trades workforce.

National data continues to show improvement in apprenticeship registrations and completions, yet the reasons for non completion remain complex and varied. Understanding the real factors that influence apprentice success, from workplace culture to mentorship to financial and systemic barriers, is essential to strengthening outcomes and ensuring trades professionals can thrive.

NAC 2026 brings together the full apprenticeship community to share insights, evidence and innovation. Employers, trades professionals, educators, administrators, equity priority groups and policy makers will highlight proven strategies that advance progression and completion, support inclusive workplaces and strengthen talent pipelines in all sectors.

CAF FCA will showcase leading research and real world initiatives that demonstrate how completion benefits the learner, industry competitiveness and Canada's economic resilience. Together, we will explore the systems, partnerships and future at the Whistler BC Convention Centre from October 4 to 6 for the 2026 National Apprenticeship Conference. This is your chance to get in front of the people who drive apprenticeship in Canada. Build visibility, strengthen partnerships and put your organization at the center of national conversations that influence policy, investment and innovation.

Join us

Show Your Support

Partners are highly visible throughout the conference. Becoming a conference partner allows you to:

- Reach key stakeholders across the apprenticeship community
- Attract new members, partners and clients
- Build pan Canadian awareness of your organization
- Secure high visibility at a national gathering of apprenticeship leaders
- Promote your project or program to an engaged audience
- Be recognized as a key supporter of Canada's apprenticeship training system
- Demonstrate your commitment to developing and retaining skilled trades talent

Attendee Profile

The conference attracts a wide range of stakeholders from across the apprenticeship community in Canada and internationally. Representatives from education, labour, business, federal and provincial or territorial governments, equity-priority groups and sector organizations attend this unique biennial event. NAC 2026 brings together the people who influence policy, design programs, hire and train apprentices and shape the future of the skilled trades workforce.

Partnership Levels and Benefits

Partners at the National Apprenticeship Conference receive recognition for their support and contribution to apprenticeship systems in Canada. Each partnership level offers unique opportunities before, during and after the conference to feature your organization, reach key decision makers and strengthen your network. Higher levels provide increased visibility and additional benefits designed to elevate your brand.

Exhibit Showcase

Whistler BC Convention Centre

Showcase. Connect. Grow.

The National Apprenticeship Conference is the place to be if you want visibility with the people who shape apprenticeship training in Canada. With more than 500 delegates on site, the exhibit floor is a high value opportunity to put your tools, services and innovations in front of the trainers, employers and decision makers who use them.

Delegates consistently tell us that the exhibit floor is one of the top reasons they attend. They come ready to learn, ready to connect and ready to discover what is new in the sector.

The NAC 2026 program has been intentionally designed to drive traffic directly to exhibitors. High visibility locations, built in networking breaks and strong flow throughout the space create frequent touchpoints with delegates. Exhibitors can expect steady engagement and meaningful conversations that support brand
