Instagram IRL Glassmaking Class, $19

UrbanGlass

647 Fulton St., Fort Greene

Instagrammers and amateur photographers can learn about the origins of lens technology and see a flameworking demonstration in this UrbanGlass collaboration with Prospect Heights education group Brooklyn Brainery, where participants will be able to try out “analog versions” of Instagram filters, made from glass in front of them, organizers said. The Feb. 17 class has about 40 spots, according to Brooklyn Brainery; an RSVP is required online.
