The United States Military Academy is accepting applications for an Academy Professor position in the Department of Law. The individual selected will be responsible for supervising activities within the academic program of the Department of Law; participating in institutional governance and other Academy activities; planning and directing undergraduate education in required and elective courses in military law, constitutional law, criminal law, international law, comparative law, national security law, business law, legal method, and jurisprudence; teaching; serving as a department academic counselor; and conducting scholarly research. Additionally, the individual selected will have supervisory responsibilities relating to the Department of Law’s Center for the Rule of Law, Lieber Institute for Law and Warfare, and the Cadet Academic Individual Advanced Development programs. Applicants must possess a J.D. and a Master of Laws (LL.M.). Demonstrated collegiality and excellence in teaching at the college or graduate school level is highly valued. Applicants should have a record of outstanding military service, including recent experience in an operational unit, service in a variety of legal disciplines, leadership in law-related assignments, and show high potential for growth and development within the field of scholarship. Applicants must have a strong commitment to the educational, military, ethical and physical development of cadets as well as to leading cadet activities. Applicants must also have a strong commitment to the development of other faculty members. Applicants must have completed advanced military schooling (Intermediate Level Education—Military Education Level (MEL) 4) by July 1, 2024. Dedication to excellence in teaching, scholarly research, and scholarly publication is an absolute requirement. Officers interested in applying for this position should contact MAJ Kevin Zhang, Department of History, United States Military Academy, West Point, New York 10966. Commercial (845) 938-5825, DSN: 938-5825; Email: kevin.zhang@westpoint.edu. Completed applications must be received no later than 30 September 2023.

The United States Military Academy is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.