THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY
SEEKS ACADEMY PROFESSOR
SIMON CENTER FOR THE PROFESSIONAL MILITARY ETHIC

The United States Military Academy is accepting applications for the position of Academy Professor and Deputy Director of the Simon Center for the Professional Military Ethic. The William E. Simon Center for the Professional Military Ethic (SCPME) serves as the proponent for West Point’s Character Program, which supports cadets’ development into men and women of integrity whose values are aligned with the Army’s professional ethic. The Deputy Director of the SCPME supports the Director, SCPME, to accomplish all organizational missions described in the Gold Book and is specifically responsible for supervising the Superintendent’s capstone core course - MX400: Officership. Dedication to excellence in teaching and a strong commitment to the intellectual, military, physical, and character development of cadets are essential requirements of the position. We prefer that applicants have teaching experience and hold a Ph.D. or can obtain a Ph.D. within three years of starting advanced civil schooling in Philosophy, Social Psychology, Character Education, Organizational Development, Security Studies, or another discipline related to the SCPME’s mission. Academic experience in interdisciplinary teaching and research is preferred. Officers should have an exemplary military performance record and have completed advanced military schooling (Intermediate Level Education as a minimum). Applicants should have superb communication and interpersonal skills, broad experience as an Army officer and be comfortable engaging with senior leaders. Minimum rank to apply is major.

Officers interested in applying for this position should contact CPT Gabrielle Perez, Search Committee Secretary, United States Military Academy, West Point, New York 10996 by mail; email gabrielle.perez@westpoint.edu; commercial telephone (845) 938-0531; or DSN telephone 688-0531. Completed applications must be received by 7 October 2022.

The United States Military Academy is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minority officers are encouraged to apply.
