OUR MISSION

The Salvation Army, an international movement, is an evangelical part of the universal Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible. Its ministry is motivated by the love of God. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and to meet human needs in His name without discrimination.

Friends,

In the opening verses of Philippians, the apostle Paul expresses to his readers, “I thank my God every time I remember you” (Philippians 1:3 [NIV]). As another year comes to a close, The Salvation Army shares those same sentiments.

We are certainly thankful to God every time that we think of you. You so willingly come alongside The Salvation Army—especially during a very difficult time in our world—and help to provide care and support directly to those in our community who are most in need. Through you, people feel the love of God.

As we think about the challenges of the upcoming year, we are reminded of a prayer from Paul that comes just a few verses later in Philippians: “May you always be filled with the fruit of your salvation... for this will bring much glory and praise to God.” (Philippians 1:11 [NLT]). A prayer like this applies to all of us, doesn’t it?

May we continue to be filled with a sense of compassion and generosity as we continue to show love to our friends and neighbors.

May God bless you!

JANICE

Janice and her husband have two young children. Their family lives in a frustrating margin: they do not make enough money to buy the food they need, yet their household income is too high to qualify for assistance.

“We work hard, but we make too much for food stamps, but not enough to pay for food for our family,” said Janice who works as a bus driver. “If it was not for The Salvation Army’s food pantry, I do not know how we would feed our children.” Janice visits her local Salvation Army food pantry for pantry items like pasta, canned vegetables, rice, beans, and other items she can use to make meals for her family. She also receives perishable items like meat, fresh fruit and vegetables, and dairy items. When it is available, she also receives soap, toothpaste, and other toiletry items.

“I know how to stretch a dollar. I can make a good meal from very little. But, if there is nothing in the pantry or refrigerator, I can’t feed my family,” explained Janice. “When you have to pay for rent, lights, and gas, you have to make your budget stretch. The food we get from The Salvation Army feeds our family so we can pay our bills.” The community and local grocery stores donate some of the food to The Salvation Army. The rest of the food is purchased from the local food bank.

“Our goal is to make sure that every person in our community has access to nutritious food and enough of it,” said The Salvation Army’s case manager. “We want to make sure we have enough food for anyone who needs it.”

Things are looking up for Janice and her family. Her husband went to training to become an electrician. She just got a raise. In the meanwhile, they know The Salvation Army is there to help them during the tough times.

“We are grateful for the food – a box will feed us for a week,” she said. “They are here to help the community. I just love The Salvation Army!”
