Every day, people in our communities struggle with issues that may seem impossible to solve. Limited access to health services. Lack of education. Financial instability. These are tough problems that threaten the future of individuals and communities. But there is hope. There’s United Way.

With a presence in nearly 1,800 communities around the world, United Way is fighting for everyone—everywhere. We’re providing struggling children with reading mentors. We’re connecting homeless people with the services they need to get back on their feet. We’re providing job-skills training to shift the odds for unemployed youth. And we’re advocating for, and implementing, healthcare policies aimed at curbing epidemics.

We are more than the fundraisers. We are the problem solvers, the hand raisers. We are the game changers. We surround a community’s most critical problems—and we fight. With our partners—including 60,000+ companies across the globe—we’re offering hope and help where it’s needed the most. In the last year alone, United Way impacted 61 million people, including:

- 387,289 children who received literacy support, leading to greater success at school
- 1 million+ individuals who accessed affordable housing and services to improve their lives
- 3 million+ people who participated in physical activity and/or nutrition programs

We are strengthening communities from the inside out, but there’s still so much more to do. Around the world and in our own backyard, we’re fighting to build a better tomorrow today.

96% of students in Cincinnati enrolled in after-school programs that were promoted to the next grade level.

United Way fights for the health, education and financial stability of every person in every community. We have one life. To live better, we must LIVE UNITED.
