A LOOK AT THE BREWERS

The Brewers are coming off of a rare occasion – a loss. Alas, the Brewers fell to the Saints of St. Lawrence 0-1 in Canton, NY last weekend.

The Brewers tally the third best numbers in the Liberty League in both offense and defense – netting 2.286 goals per game while only allowing .79.

Freshman goalkeeper Fiona Walsh boasts the highest save percentage in the Liberty League (.883), the most total saves (83), and is second with five shutouts.

Freshman phenom Ashley Ferry is currently tied for third in the Liberty League with an astounding 7 goals.

The Brewers have been scoring effectively this season with three Brewers in the top ten for goals in the Liberty League.

The Brewers have relied heavily on juniors Emma Lavelle and Sara Seper, who have both logged over 1,000 minutes this season.

Senior midfielder Amanda McFarland was recognized as a member of the Liberty League weekly honor roll after recording three points in a 2-1 win at Clarkson.

A LOOK AT THE HERONS

The Herons are soaring through a nine-game winning streak and most recently defeated Union and RPI last weekend. In those two wins alone, they combined for 5-0 score. All together in the conference play, they have conceded just one goal.

That was back in their league opener against Skidmore, a match in which they won 5-1.

Senior Evie Manning leads the Liberty League with 46 shots and 10 goals on the season.

Freshman Julia Keogh has come in clutch for the Herons with a Liberty League leading four game-winning goals.

Megan Barwick has been dishing out assists this season with six on the year, good for second in the Liberty League.

Senior Evie Manning leads the Liberty League with 46 shots and 10 goals on the season.

William Smith certainly does not give away goals, and has allowed just four goals this season.
