

Aim Higher

The Goal is Excellence!

How to make good progress

- RAG Subjects
- Which topics areas need more work
- Attend Support sessions
- Start on-going dialogue with subject staff
- Extend your working day
- Rationalise external commitments
- Have a clear study plan / timetable

How to make good progress

- Make good use of in and after school study periods
- Real attention to Homework
- Commitment to parallel study in the core subjects
- All coursework at aspirational target

No Excuses

- What I did last year worked

A2 have significantly higher order thinking skills -what worked for AS is not enough

- These are only internal assessments

They are a good indication of how you are revising now we only have two months until Trial exams

No Excuses

- I had other deadlines so could not revise
A2s prepare you for the demands of university and working life. Students need to get organised with their weekly work plan.
- I left revision for the study period before the test
Revision should be well planned and mostly completed at home. Leaving it to the last minute is poor planning.

Our Targets

- Importance of hitting predicted targets by Trial Examinations -January
- UCAS completion
- Get offers / pursue alternatives

Forensic Planning and Application

- Examination Board – questions- mark schemes – exam reports.
- Note taking.
- Organisation of folders.
- Learning circles.
- Weekly study plans

Time Management

- Every minute can count – use them to best effect.
- Adopt the right mentality.

Assessments in the week commencing:

- 2nd November 2015 – results issued 12th November
- Parents' Evening: Weds 25th November
- 7th December: Assessment 3 -results issued 17th December
- 11th January: Trial examinations results issued 10th February
- 29th -31st March second set of trial examinations for any students who are underachieving
- Full report issued 31st March

Questions

The Goal Is Excellence