MEDIA/OTHER

Commentator, MSNBC, Melissa Harris Perry Show. Over 200 segments, including,

- “Psychological effects after terror attacks” Director at the Center for Medicine, Health and Society at Vanderbilt Dr. Jonathan Metzl explains how a person can have great psychological effects after a terrorist attack due to fear and trauma. <http://www.msnbc.com/msnbc-news/watch/psychological-effects-after-terror-attacks-571510339985>
- “Deadly shooting at Colorado Planned Parenthood” NBC's Leann Gregg, David S. Cohen from Drexel University, Rep. Hakeem Jeffries, D-N.Y., MSNBC's Irin Carmon and Dr. Jonathan Metzl from the Center for Medicine, Health and Society at Vanderbilt University, discuss the deadly attack that took place Friday at a Colorado Planned Parenthood. <http://www.msnbc.com/melissa-harris-perry/watch/deadly-shooting-at-colorado-planned-parenthood-575650883924>
- “Was attack on Planned Parenthood terrorism?” Police have not yet determined what motivated the gunman who held a Colorado Planned Parenthood under siege, but the possibility of the clinic being a target was enough for the building to have a "security room", according to the New York Times. Terrorism intelligence consultant Malcolm Nance joins to discuss. <http://www.msnbc.com/melissa-harris-perry/watch/was-attack-on-planned-parenthood-terrorism--575653955547>
- “Why did it take 400 days to charge Van Dyke?” It took prosecutors 400 days to charge Chicago police officer Jason Van Dyke with first-degree murder in the death of 17-year-old Laquan McDonald, a shooting which was captured on video. Charlene Carruthers of the Black Youth Project's BYP 100 and Omar Wasow from Princeton University join to discuss. <http://www.msnbc.com/melissa-harris-perry/watch/why-did-it-take-400-days-to-charge-van-dyke--575658051829>
- “What the Bland case says about stereotypes” The arrest and death of Sandra Bland has raised questions about the perception of black women in America. Danielle Moodie-Mills and Dr. Jonathan Metzl join to discuss. <http://www.msnbc.com/melissa-harris-perry/watch/what-the-bland-case-says-about-stereotypes-493489731995>
