All Vanderbilt parents, grandparents and siblings are invited to Family Weekend set for Friday, September 28, through Sunday, September 30. We have many special activities planned for students and their families.

Family Weekend

Register online at vu.edu/familyweekend. Online registration will be available from 10 a.m. CDT, Wednesday, August 1, through 5 p.m. CDT, Friday, September 21.

To register by phone, call the Parent Information Line at (877) 887-2736.

Cost: $40 per person (waived for Vanderbilt students and children 12 and under)

Football game tickets incur an additional charge. We do not want financial hardship to prohibit anyone from attending Family Weekend. If you need assistance, please submit the required form at vu.edu/fwhardship, and we will contact you.

Late fees/cancellations

On-site registration will open at 10 a.m. on September 28 in the Student Life Center Board of Trust Room, 310 25th Avenue South. A $5 per person on-site fee will be charged in addition to the $40 registration fee. If you must cancel your registration, please do so by Friday, September 21, at 5 p.m. CDT.

Football Tickets

Saturday, September 29

Vanderbilt vs. Tennessee State University football game

Note: All students have free seats in the student-only section. If you would like your student(s) to sit with you elsewhere in the stadium, you must purchase additional ticket(s).

Tickets will be $29 each inclusive of all processing fees beginning on August 1. Order your tickets online to be in the Parents and Family blocked sections by going to vu.edu/familyweekend and using the promo code VUFamily2018 online. Tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis and will be emailed to you at a later date. Please make sure to print your tickets at home, as replacement tickets will not be available.

Jean and Alexander Heard Central Library Special Exhibitions
Central Library, second-floor gallery, fourth-floor lobby, Special Collections
The Vanderbilt Libraries work with student fellows, faculty and librarians to curate exhibitions in multiple spaces across campus. Within the Central Library, current exhibitions include Vandy Goes to War, which engages with university life from World War I through World War II, including the interwar period. Exhibition cases cover the creation of a meteorology department, the expansion of the Medical Center, and how women and students were involved in the home front and on the battlefield.

A gallery on the second floor of the library celebrates the 40th anniversary of the Margaret Cuninggim Women’s Center and the role of women in the university. The Special Collections Library features a rich selection of fine metals, primarily silver, from the history of the university and the Vanderbilt family—including Cornelius Vanderbilt’s cigar case, a historic dinner setting, a pitcher, and goblets used when Martin Luther King Jr. spoke on campus, and much more. Also in the Special Collections Library is a small exhibition of student life from the early twentieth century at Peabody College, which became part of Vanderbilt University in 1979.

Helping Your Children Achieve Your Their Career Goals: What Every Parent Should Know
11 a.m.–noon or 1–2 p.m.

Student Life Center, Ballroom C
Hosted by the Career Center and the Parents and Family Programs Office
Career Conversations presents the perfect setting for Vanderbilt students to connect with parents from across the country. Participating parents and students will gather in small groups to learn more about career paths, specific industries, and advice on how to get started. in a job search. Parents will share their professional experience and career advice with students. The informal and casual setting will allow students to ask questions, get advice and gain insight into their own career path and professional development. Light refreshments will be served. Join us!

Note: In order to participate, parents must register at vu.edu/families/careerform. Registration for interested students will take place via the Career Center in the fall.

18 Again!
5–8 p.m.
Commons Center and Lawn
Step back in time and rediscover with your student who you were at 18. What were your goals and what has changed? How did those experiences teach you to be resilient? Share your stories with your student, other Vanderbilt parents, and staff from the Career Center and the Center for Student Wellbeing. Using an interactive game and the Vanderbilt parent art project, “Then and Now,” this creative Family Weekend event helps students understand how educational and career goals evolve and change. Join us for an evening of conversation, fun and discovery!

Fall for the Arts on
The Martha Rivers Ingram Commons at Vanderbilt
5–8 p.m.
Commons Center and Lawn
Join us for an outdoor festival of the arts, including an evening of student performances, interactions with local vendors, and opportunities to explore your own creative abilities with arts and crafts. The celebration boasts a mouth-watering, chef-crafted menu designed to highlight the colorful flavors of fall. Enjoy grilled brats, freshly tossed salads, caramel apples, fire pits to melt marshmallows for your s’mores and more! Our best student writers and poets share their work in the lounge, while talented musicians take the main stage. This event has something for the whole family.
