River on top once can be brutally depressing I've informed a trio of cheats who have been in cahoots and play the team in the most obvious way. Reboot each other, raise gangs and play as fast as a team that they were clearly in the same room and practiced their tactics. Hours later and they are still playing and flicing unsuspecting players in a double or nothing sit to go. 6 players, 3 in the team. Unfair. Inept practice of protection against deception and inept customer service. The app drops and kicks you at least once in the SnG tournament, then you instantly sat out and by the time you entered back in you were automatically photographed in your hand. You don't even get 15 seconds of thinking time to log back in. I've seen 9 and 2 beat poker on the river so many times it's scary. Also, staying away from blackjack is a massive fix. As in poker I have never seen AI get a blackjack or 21 so many times. Like I said, I'd stay away and maybe play sky poker or one of them.
