Geeta Bhagawad was written between 400 pm and 200m. Like the Vedas and the Obanishads, the writing of Gita Bhagawad is uncertain. Bhagawad-Geeta is the eternal message of spiritual wisdom from ancient India. The word Geeta means song and word. Bhagawad means God, often Bhagavad-Geeta is called the song of God. Geeta Bhagawad offers a synthesis of Hindu ideas about the Dharma, the yekta-yektic behkati, and the aspirations of Yogi Muksha. Genna's text covers Behkati, Karma and Raja Yoga (spoken in chapter six), which includes ideas of Samkhaya-yoga philosophy. Geeta is set in the context of a narrative of Prince Pandava Arjuna's dialogue and her guide and Krishna's chariot maker. At the beginning of the D d'Ama Yudha (right war) between Pandavas and Kauravas, Arjuna is full of moral dilemmas and despair of violence and death that will cause war against itself. Krishna-Arjuna's dialogues cover a wide range of spiritual issues, addressing the ethical dilemmas and philosophical issues facing far beyond the Arjuna War.
