MEDIA GUIDE CREDITS

The 2019-20 Wake Forest men's basketball media guide is a publication of the Wake Forest Athletic Communications office. The guide was written by Steve Kirkland. Editorial assistance was provided by Grace Bolin, Jay Garneau, Linda Rieck, Steve Shutt and K.J. Smith. Cover designs by Steve Kirkland.

PHOTOGRAPHY

MEDIA INFORMATION

PRESS CREDENTIALS

Media credentials for Wake Forest home games should be requested by contacting Steve Kirkland in the Wake Forest Athletic Communications Office. Please make your requests at least 48 hours prior to tip-off.

Credential requests are contingent on available space. Priority is given to daily newspapers, radio/TV sports directors and other media who cover the Demon Deacons and their opponents on a regular basis, in addition to national print and electronic media.

Credentials will not be mailed if the credential request is received one week or less prior to the game. Credentials can be shipped overnight if a FedEx or UPS shipping number is provided.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photographers are restricted to either baseline area and are not permitted along the sidelines during game activity. Photographers will be assigned areas on the baseline.

The facility is lighted by 42 LED lamps with a vertical illumination of 102 footcandles and a horizontal illumination of 139 footcandles.

MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA ENTRANCE

The media entrance to the Coliseum is located at the rear of the facility in close proximity to the media parking area. Media members can enter there and follow the hallway to the media workroom. This also serves as the primary exit for media staying to file stories.

The main media parking lot is located off of Deacon Boulevard in the Deacon Tower Lot. The secondary media lot is located off Deacon Boulevard in the BB&T Field Gold Lot. Only media with valid parking passes or who are on the media parking list will be allowed to park in these areas.

There is a media will call desk for credentials located at the media entrance.

MEDIA BAG POLICY

Wake Forest has instituted a clear bag policy for fans at LJVM Coliseum. There are no bag restrictions for credentialed media who enter through the media entrance, but bags will be subject to search.

MEDIA SEATING

Media will be assigned seats at the press row tables along the baselines or in the five rows of seating in Section 113. Please check the media seating assignments posted in the media workroom.

MEDIA SERVICES

Pre-game statistics, game notes and roster cards are provided prior to tip-off. Final stats, play-by-play and postgame quotes will be available in the media workroom.

Statistical monitors will be provided for live TV and the home and visiting team radio crews.

Live stats via StatBroadcast can also be accessed by the media at WakeForestStats.com

Wireless internet access is available in the media workroom and on press row. For user name and password information, check the posted signs in the workroom or ask a member of the Wake Forest Athletic Communications staff.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Head Coaches: Both head coaches will appear in the media room following brief cool-down periods. In most cases, the visiting head coach will appear first, followed by Wake Forest head coach Danny Manning.

Wake Forest Players: Requested players will be available in the media room following both coaches. The Wake Forest locker room is closed to the media.

Opponent Players: Please see the visiting SID. If that team's locker room is closed to the media, interviews are usually held outside in the hallway near the entrance to the visitors' locker room.

NBA SCOUTS

NBA scouts will be provided a media credential and/or a game ticket on a space-available basis. Limited seating for scouts will be available in the press seating in Section 113 for free. Scouts can also purchase tickets, if available, if they wish to sit along the sidelines.

Scouts will be provided parking passes, when space permits. Scouts should pick up their credential/ticket at media will call. If passes have been mailed ahead of time, scouts may enter through the media entrance.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

All interviews with head coach Danny Manning and/or Demon Deacon players should be arranged through Steve Kirkland in the Athletic Communications Office. Interview requests should be made at least 24 hours in advance.

Interviews will be arranged to accommodate players' academic and basketball schedules. Players will not do interviews on gameday, except for postgame interviews. Prior to select practices, Coach Manning and players will be available for interviews before media is permitted to watch the start of practice. Contact Steve Kirkland for the schedule of practices with media availability.

ACC MEDIA SERVICES

TheACC.com: The Atlantic Coast Conference website (theACC.com) is updated with new material daily, including standings, statistics, game previews, notes and videos from the ACC Digital Network.

Coaches Teleconference: The 15 ACC basketball head coaches will be featured on a weekly teleconference each Monday beginning at 10:30 a.m. The teleconferences will begin on Jan. 6, 2020 and conclude on Mar. 2, 2020. Each coach will have 10 minutes to answer questions.

BROADCAST SCHEDULE

Every Wake Forest men's basketball game, home and away, is broadcast live on the Wake Forest Sports Network. Coverage begins 30 minutes before tipoff. In addition to the network of radio affiliates, fans anywhere can listen to the live play-by-play of Wake Forest basketball on the Wake Forest Gameday App (a free download), the TuneIn App or on the official athletics website GoDeacs.com. Select games can also be heard on SiriusXM Satellite Radio.

DANNY MANNING SHOW

Every Thursday (team schedule permitting) from 7-8 p.m., Wake Forest head coach Danny Manning and the Voice of the Deacons, Stan Cotten, host The Danny Manning Show. The one hour-long show originates from the IMG College Studios in Winston-Salem. The show airs locally on 98.1 WBRF-FM and on the Internet at GoDeacs.com and the TuneIn App.

ON THE AIR WITH STAN & "DINGER"

When Coach Danny Manning and the Demon Deacons take the court, one of the most experienced broadcast teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference takes to the air on the Wake Forest Sports Network. Anchoring the statewide network and in its third decade with Learfield IMG College and Demon Deacon basketball is FM powerhouse WBRF with 100,000 watts beaming the radio signal from the highest point of Galax, Va., to Deacon fans in the Triad, Southwest Virginia and portions of upper East Tennessee. In addition to WBRF at 98.1 on the FM dial and other network earth stations, Deacon fans around the world can listen to the live play-by-play of Wake Forest basketball on the Wake Forest Gameday App (a free download), the TuneIn App or on the official athletics website GoDeacs.com. Select games can also be heard on SiriusXM Satellite Radio.

"Voice of the Demon Deacons" Stan Cotten and analyst Mark Freidinger have a combined 51 years covering Wake Forest and the ACC on the radio as they enter the 2018-19 season, their 24th season together in Winston-Salem. They joined forces for the 1996-97 season when Wake Forest Sports Hall of Famers Dave Odom and Tim Duncan were a formidable duo and have been on the mic calling the action ever since.

Award winning sportscaster Stan Cotten is in his 24th season as the "Voice of the Demon Deacons" after coming to Winston-Salem following four seasons at Marshall as the "Voice of the Thundering Herd." Cotten is the current and four-time North Carolina "Sportscaster of the Year" as voted by his peers in the National Sports Media Association.

A Tennessee native and graduate of the University of Tennessee, Cotten began his broadcast career while still a college student as Sports Director of WIVK-FM in Knoxville, the flagship station of the Vol Network. During that same time, Cotten also began his play-by-play career calling football and basketball games at nearby Carson-Newman University in Jefferson City. Before leaving for Marshall in 1992, Cotten was the weeknight sports anchor at Knoxville TV station WTVK/WKXT while still calling the play-by-play at C-N. Cotten was a three-time Associated Press Broadcast Association award winner for his radio/TV work while in his home state.

Cotten will again be alongside Coach Manning for the weekly "Danny Manning Show" which airs on most Thursday nights during the season from 7-8 Eastern Time. Wake fans can also get Cotten's unique perspective on Deacon basketball in his column '100% Cotten' which appears in Gold Rush, the official magazine of Wake Forest athletics.

Analyst Mark Freidinger has been a fixture on the radio covering Demon Deacon basketball since 1990. He enters his 30th season with the IMG team and brings a wealth of basketball experience to the position. A former assistant coach at Wake Forest, "Dinger" was part of more than 100 Demon Deacon victories from 1980-85. He was on the bench in 1984 when Wake Forest maneuvered its way through the NCAA Tournament all the way to the Elite Eight.

Freidinger has been linked to head coach Danny Manning for decades. He coached the Kansas All-American while an assistant coach with the Jayhawks under Larry Brown – all were together at the Final Four in 1986.

"Dinger" was also a head coach for a time in his career leading his alma mater Rollins College for three seasons where he fashioned a 53-32 record. Before leaving to become an assistant at Wake Forest, Freidinger became one of the youngest coaches in college basketball at age 28 heading the Division II program where he played both basketball and baseball.

Rounding out the broadcast team is Wake Forest graduate Phil Brame who will man the Learfield IMG College Studios for a sixth season bringing listeners up to date with scores and reports on games around the ACC and across the country. The versatile Brame has also hosted the Dave Clawson Show during November when the football and basketball broadcast seasons overlap. Brame has also called the play-by-play for Wake Forest in both basketball and baseball as well as both sports for other Learfield IMG College partner schools in the ACC, Big 12 and SEC.

DEACON COACHING STAFF

DANNY MANNING

HEAD COACH | SIXTH SEASON | KANSAS '91

The Mannings: Taylor, Danny, Julie and Evan

One of the most accomplished players in the history of college basketball, Danny Manning is now developing a reputation as one of top coaches in the game. As he enters his sixth season at Wake Forest, a man who once starred in the NCAA Tournament and was a first round NBA draft pick is now mentoring and developing players who are accomplishing those feats.

As a player, Manning's resume is unrivaled. His list of accomplishments are what young players dream of achieving: NCAA Champion, consensus National Player of the Year, All-American, No. 1 overall NBA Draft Pick, NBA All-Star and College Basketball Hall of Famer. After winning a national title as an assistant coach at Kansas, Manning's first seven years as a head coach have included taking two different schools to the NCAA Tournament, winning a conference regular season and tournament title and developing a NBA first round selection.

Manning was tasked to lead Wake Forest basketball in April, 2014 and return the program to national prominence. In 2016-17, the third year of that process, Manning's mark on the Demon Deacons was evident. The team went 19-14 and reached the NCAA First Four, its first postseason appearance in seven seasons. Wake Forest ranked in the top 10 nationally in offensive efficiency, averaged 82.8 points per game and set school records with 268 3-pointers and 77.8 percent from the free throw line.The Deacs were led by All-American John Collins, who was selected by the Atlanta Hawks with the No. 19 overall selection of the NBA Draft. Following the season, Manning received the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award, given annually to a coach who had success on the court and shows moral integrity off of it.

Manning began shaping his vision for the future of Wake Forest basketball during his first season at the helm in 2014-15. A young Demon Deacon squad that had three freshmen among its top five scorers developed throughout the season despite a 13-19 record. Five of their wins came against teams that competed in the postseason, including a victory over eventual NCAA Sweet 16 squad NC State, while three of their losses were by single digits to teams ranked in the top-five nationally. The Demon Deacons went 11-20 during Manning's second season, highlighted by a third-place finish at the Maui Invitational. In 2017-18, the Deacs posted a pair of wins over Sweet 16 teams, downing Syracuse and Florida State and last year posted a win over a nationally-ranked NC State squad.

Manning came to Wake Forest after spending two seasons as the head coach at the University of Tulsa. He was named the 2013-14 Conference USA Coach of the Year after leading the Golden Hurricane to the conference championship and a berth in the round of 64 of the NCAA Tournament, Tulsa's first appearance since 2003. Manning was also a finalist for two national Coach of the Year awards in 2013-14, including the Jim Phelan Award, given to the nation's top coach, and the Ben Jobe Award, given to the nation's top minority coach.

Manning posted a 38-29 (.567) overall record and a 21-11 (.656) record in Conference USA during his two seasons at Tulsa.

Prior to taking the reins at Tulsa, Manning spent nine seasons on the staff at Kansas, his alma mater. After retiring from professional basketball in 2003, he began his coaching career as a member of Bill Self's first staff at Kansas. For four seasons, he served as Director of Student-Athlete Development/Team Manager. In that role, he was the team travel coordinator, oversaw equipment ordering and distribution and organized and assisted in the youth holiday clinic and summer camp program.

Manning was elevated to assistant coach in March 2007 and helped the Jayhawks win the 2008 national title in his first season in his new position. He also helped Kansas advance to the 2012 national title game in his final season in Lawrence.

During his time on staff at Kansas, Manning was a part of one NCAA national title, two Final Fours, five NCAA Elite Eight appearances, eight Big 12 regular season conference titles, five Big 12 tournament championships and 269 career victories. During his five-year tenure as an assistant coach, Kansas went 164-24 (.872) overall.

When he arrived in Winston-Salem, Manning was the first coaching hire in ACC basketball history to come into the job with NCAA championships as a player and as a coach to his name.

In addition to coaching at the collegiate level, Manning has been involved on the international level with USA Basketball. In 2017, he spent the summer as an assistant coach on John Calipari's staff of the U19 National Team. In 2018, he assisted Self with the U18 National Team. He also previously served as a court coach during U18 National Team training camps.

One of the reasons for Manning's success on the sidelines has been his experience playing for and coaching next to some of the legends of the sport. During his playing career, Manning played for eight head coaches now enshrined in Springfield: Larry Brown (Kansas, Los Angeles Clippers), Denny Crum (1987 Pan American Games), Don Nelson (Dallas Mavericks), Lute Olson (1984 USA R. William Jones Cup), Jerry Sloan (Utah Jazz), John Thompson (1988 Olympics), Paul Westphal (Phoenix Suns) and Lenny Wilkens (Atlanta Hawks). As a coach, he has been mentored by Hall of Famers Bill Self at Kansas and John Calipari with the USA U19 National Team.

At 6-10 and one of the top big men to ever play college basketball, Manning has earned a reputation as one of the best coaches of big men in the country. The latest example of his expertise with post players was John Collins, who in two seasons with the Demon Deacons went from ranked outside the top 100 in his high school class in 2015 to the No. 19 selection in the 2017 NBA Draft.

Manning has coached 15 NBA draft picks, including 10 first-round selections. NBA draft picks during his tenure include big men Wayne Simien, Julian Wright, Darrell Arthur, Darnell Jackson, Sasha Kaun, Cole Aldrich, twins Marcus and Markieff Morris, Jeff Withey and Thomas Robinson at Kansas, in addition to John Collins at Wake Forest.

Manning recruited two McDonald's High School All-Americans, including 2010 NBA first-round draft pick Xavier Henry. He also coached two Academic All-Americans in Cole Aldrich and Tyrel Reed.

A Jayhawk legend, Manning is Kansas' all-time leading scorer and rebounder, finishing his four-year career with 2,951 points and 1,187 rebounds. The 10th all-time leading scorer in NCAA history, Manning was named a consensus first-team All-America selection in 1987 and 1988, the consensus College Player of the Year in 1988 and a three-time Big Eight Conference Player of the Year (1986, 1987, 1988).

Manning was named the 1988 NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player en route to leading the Jayhawks--dubbed "Danny and the Miracles"--to an 83-79 victory over Oklahoma for the 1988 national championship. He was also named the MVP of the NCAA Midwest Regional in 1986 and 1988. Manning's sophomore year in 1986 Kansas finished 35-4 and advanced to the Final Four in Dallas.

Recognized for all of his accomplishments on the court, Manning was inducted into the

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

9th Year

Wake Forest '95

Former Demon Deacon All-American basketball player and ACC legend Randolph Childress is in his ninth season with the Wake Forest athletic department and his eighth season as a member of the basketball staff in 2019-20. He is in his fourth season as associate head coach after spending three seasons as an assistant coach.

Childress began his tenure on the Demon Deacon basketball staff in 2012-13 as the program's Director of Player Development. After one season, he was elevated to an assistant coach, a position he held for three seasons before his promotion to associate head coach prior to the the 2016-17 season.

In Childress' first season as associate head coach, the Demon Deacons posted a 19-14 overall record and made its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2010. The team, featuring All-American and eventual NBA first round pick John Collins, ranked in the top 10 nationally in offensive efficiency. Wake Forest set school records with 268 3-pointers and 77.8 percent from the free throw line as the Deacs averaged 82.8 points per game.

Childress joined the basketball staff full-time after serving in an administrative role within the athletic department for one year. Childress, who retired from professional basketball in 2011, was previously Assistant to the Athletic Director with roles in compliance, fundraising and student-athlete mentorship. He played an off-the-court mentorship role with the basketball student-athletes during the 2011-12 season before joining the basketball staff full-time.

One of the most iconic players in Demon Deacon history, Childress had a standout career at Wake Forest from 1990-95. He earned All-American honors as a junior in 1994 and again as a senior in 1995. In 1995, Childress was named ACC Tournament MVP after leading the Deacons to their first conference title in 33 years.

Childress is the school's all-time leader in 3-point field goals and ranks sixth in ACC history with 329 3-point field goals made. His 2,208 career points rank second in Wake Forest history and his No. 22 jersey hangs in the rafters of the LJVM Coliseum as one of 11 numbers retired by the basketball program.

After a freshman season where he twice earned ACC Rookie of the Week honors, Childress suffered a serious knee injury that sidelined him for the entire 1991-92 season. He came back to earn All-ACC honors in each of his final three seasons on campus, collecting first team honors in 1994 and 1995.

In 1995, he led the Deacons to their first ACC Tournament title since 1962, earning Tournament MVP honors after hitting the game-winning jumper against North Carolina with four seconds remaining in overtime. Childress ended the 1995 ACC Tournament with a combined 107 points scored, breaking the previous Tournament record which had stood for 38 seasons.

Childress was inducted into the Wake Forest Sports Hall of Fame in 2011 and was honored as an ACC Tournament Legend during the 2012 conference tournament in Atlanta.

The Washington, D.C. native played professionally for 16 seasons, including two seasons in the NBA with the Portland Trailblazers and the Detroit Pistons. He was selected in first round of the 1995 NBA Draft by Detroit with the 19th overall selection.

Childress went overseas to continue his basketball career and played two seasons in Turkey and one in France before embarking on an extensive career in Italy that began in 2000. He played for various teams in the Italian league, concluding his career with San Severo in 2010-11.

Childress graduated from Wake Forest in 1995 with a degree in communication. He and his wife, Tabetha, live in Kernersville. He has two sons, Brandon (a current senior on the Demon Deacon basketball team) and Deven. Randolph and Brandon are the highest-scoring father-son duo in ACC history.

REX WALTERS

1st Year

Kansas '93

Rex Walters joined the Wake Forest basketball program in May of 2019 as an Associate Head Coach. Walters joined the program after spending the previous season as the Special Assistant to the Head Coach at Nevada.

Walters has 11 years of head coaching experience, 10 at the Division I level and one in the NBA G-League. He also spent a season as an assistant coach in the NBA. His coaching career followed a 10-year professional playing career, including seven seasons in the NBA with the New Jersey Nets, Philadelphia 76ers and Miami Heat.

Walters spent the majority of his head coaching career at San Francisco, leading the Dons from 2009-16. The 2014 West Coast Conference Coach of the Year, he led USF to a school-record 13 WCC wins that season and an appearance in the NIT. In 2012, Walters led the Dons to their first 20-win season in 30 years, the first of two 20-win seasons in three years.

After serving as an assistant coach at Valparaiso from 2003-05, helping the Crusaders reach the 2004 NCAA Tournament, and as the Associate Head Coach at Florida Atlantic in 2005-06, Walters took over the FAU program when Matt Doherty took the head coaching job at SMU. In his rookie season as a head coach in 2006-07, Walters led the Owls to their second consecutive winning season and in 2007-08 guided the team to a school-record 2,367 points.

Walters' most recent head coaching experience came in 2016-17 with the Grand Rapids Drive, the NBA G-League affiliate of the Detroit Pistons. He led the team to a 26-24 record, the first winning-record for the franchise.

In 2017-18, Walters was an assistant coach on Stan Van Gundy's staff with the Pistons. That season, he helped the Pistons rank in the top 10 in the NBA in four defensive categories (10th in defensive rating, 8th in scoring defense, 8th in forced turnovers and 2nd in fewest free throws allowed).

In 2018-19, Walters served as Special Assistant to the Head Coach on Eric Musselman's staff at Nevada. The Wolf Pack went 29-5 and was ranked in the AP top 10 for most of the season. Walters helped Nevada improve from No. 108 in defensive efficiency the year before he arrived to No. 35 last season, a 73-spot move up in the rankings.

As a player, Walters began his collegiate career at Northwestern, leading the Wildcats in scoring and assists during his sophomore season in 1989-90. He transferred to Kansas and after sitting out the 1990-91 season, he twice earned All-Big 8 honors for the Jayhawks. In 1991-92, Walters averaged 16.0 points per game and was named the Big 8 Newcomer of the Year. As a senior in 1992-93, Walters led the Big 8 with 83 3-pointers and averaged 15.3 points per game as the Jayhawks reached the 1993 Final Four. While at Kansas, Walters was a teammate with Wake Forest assistant coach Steve Woodberry.

Walters was the No. 16 overall selection of the 1993 NBA Draft by the New Jersey Nets and played seven seasons in the league. In his third NBA season, he was traded from the Nets to the 76ers, where he was teammates with Sharone Wright, father of current Demon Deacon guard Sharone Wright, Jr. He played his final three seasons in the league with the Miami Heat before concluding his professional career playing overseas in Spain and with the Kansas City Knights of the ABA.

During his playing career, Walters played for three coaches enshrined in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame: Roy Williams (Kansas), Chuck Daly (New Jersey Nets) and Pat Riley (Miami Heat).

Walters graduated from Kansas in 1993 with a degree in education. He and his wife, Deanna, have five children: Addi, Rex, Jr., Riley, Gunner and Ace. Addi plays basketball at Santa Clara and Rex, Jr. plays basketball at Stetson.

STEVE WOODBERRY

ASSISTANT COACH

Steve Woodberry is in his sixth season as an assistant coach with the Wake Forest basketball program. Woodberry joined the Demon Deacons in April 2014 after working under head coach Danny Manning for two seasons at Tulsa.

During his first four seasons at Wake Forest, Woodberry has helped Manning rebuild the Demon Deacon program, which returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2017. The 2016-17 Deacs, featuring All-American and eventual NBA first round pick John Collins, ranked in the top 10 nationally in offensive efficiency. Wake Forest set school records with 268 3-pointers and 77.8 percent from the free throw line as the Deacs averaged 82.8 points per game.

Prior to arriving in Winston-Salem, Woodberry was instrumental to Tulsa winning the 2013-14 Conference USA regular season and tournament championships--the program's first league title since 2003. Tulsa played in the postseason both years, including earning a No. 13 seed in the 2014 NCAA Tournament.

The Golden Hurricane went 21-13 overall and 13-3 in C-USA in 2013-14, earning a share of the 2013-14 regular season title, its first since winning the WAC in 2002. Tulsa captured the C-USA tournament title over Louisiana Tech, securing its first NCAA Tournament berth in 11 seasons. Tulsa earned a No. 13 seed in the NCAA Tournament and fell 76-59 to No. 4 seed UCLA in the second round.

Prior to his time at Tulsa, Woodberry spent six seasons as an assistant coach at Missouri State where he served under three head coaches (Barry Hinson, Cuonzo Martin and Paul Lusk). Woodberry was a part of five winning seasons at Missouri State, including three 20-win campaigns and three postseason berths. The Bears played in the NIT twice (2007, 2011) and won the postseason CollegeInsider.com Tournament in 2010.

Woodberry enjoyed an illustrious collegiate playing career at the University of Kansas from 1990-94, winning 110 games over his four seasons. He played on four NCAA Tournament teams and made two Final Four appearances under Jayhawks' head coach Roy Williams. Woodberry's KU career also included three Big Eight Conference regular season titles, one conference tournament championship and one Preseason NIT title.

Kansas went 27-8 overall when Woodberry was a freshman in 1990-91, reaching the NCAA title game where the Jayhawks lost to Duke. Kansas went 27-5 in 1991-92 and reached the NCAA second round.

The Jayhawks finished 29-7 during Woodberry's junior season, returning to the Final Four where the Jayhawks lost to North Carolina in the semifinals. He averaged 10.1 points per game that season, earning second team All-Big Eight Conference honors despite not being a regular starter.

Woodberry repeated as a second team All-Big Eight honoree as a senior, being named to the team by the Associated Press and the league's coaches. The league's players voted him first team all-conference. He was KU's MVP and top defensive player in 1993-94, leading the team in scoring (15.5 ppg). The Jayhawks finished 27-8 that season and advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16.

Woodberry finished his career with 1,240 points. His teams went a combined 110-28 (.797) during his four-year career.

After a brief time with the NBA's Indiana Pacers following his graduation from KU, Woodberry began an 11-year professional career overseas. He played in Switzerland in 1995 before moving to Australia where he enjoyed a six-year career. He was the league's Most Valuable Player with the Brisbane Bullets in 1999 and was an all-league selection in 1998 and 1999.

Woodberry then played two seasons in Lithuania, winning a championship in 2001 and being voted the league's Import Player of the Year, before playing in leagues in Greece, Sweden and Finland. He retired as an active player in 2005.

A native of Wichita, Kan., Woodberry played on two state title teams at Wichita South High School and was named the 1990 Kansas Naismith Player of the Year.

Woodberry earned his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Kansas in 1994. Steve and his wife, Bianca, have three children -- sons Shaylen and Sherron and daughter Sanaa'. He also has two other children, Steven and Kaylen.

JUSTIN BAUMAN

DIR. OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

6th Year

Kansas '04

Justin Bauman is in his sixth season on the Wake Forest basketball staff in 2019-20, serving as the Demon Deacons' Director of Basketball Operations. He also served as an interim assistant coach during the 2018-19 season.

During his first five seasons at Wake Forest, Bauman has been a part of a coaching staff that has rebuilt the Demon Deacon program, which returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2017. The 2016-17 Deacs, featuring All-American and eventual NBA first round pick John Collins, ranked in the top 10 nationally in offensive efficiency. Wake Forest set school records with 268 3-pointers and 77.8 percent from the free throw line as the Deacs averaged 82.8 points per game.

Bauman came to Wake Forest in April 2014 following a two-year stint in the same position under Danny Manning at the University of Tulsa. He helped lead the Golden Hurricane to the 2013-14 Conference USA championship, the program's first title since 2003.

Tulsa went 38-29 overall and 21-11 in C-USA play during Bauman's two seasons on staff. The Golden Hurricane played in the postseason both years, including earning a No. 13 seed in the 2014 NCAA Tournament. Tulsa also participated in the 2013 CBI, finishing that season with a winning record of 17-16 overall.

The Golden Hurricane went 21-13 overall and 13-3 in C-USA in 2013-14, earning a share of the 2013-14 regular season title, its first since winning the WAC in 2002. Tulsa captured the C-USA tournament title over Louisiana Tech, securing its first NCAA Tournament berth in 11 seasons. Tulsa earned a No. 13 seed in the NCAA Tournament and fell 76-59 to No. 4 seed UCLA in the second round.

Previously, Bauman spent four seasons at the University of San Francisco, working under coach Rex Walters, now an assistant coach with the Demon Deacons, where he served two seasons as the director of basketball operations before being promoted to assistant coach for his final two years with the Dons.

In his two seasons as a full-time assistant coach, San Francisco posted a 39-29 overall record. The Dons went 20-14 record in 2011-12, marking the first 20-win season for the program in 30 years, and played in the postseason CBI tournament.

Prior to his tenure at USF, Bauman spent two seasons as the director of basketball operations at Florida Atlantic University, also working for Rex Walters.

An alumnus of the University of Kansas, Bauman spent six years with the Jayhawks basketball program, including three years as a student manager and three seasons as a head manager/student assistant coach.

From 2000 to 2003, Bauman assisted Roy Williams' staff with gameday and practice operations. As head manager under Bill Self from 2003 to 2006, Bauman assisted with on-campus recruiting, practices, scouting reports and team travel. He oversaw the student support staff and all aspects of the team's equipment and apparel needs.

While at Kansas, Bauman was part of four Big XII regular season championships, one postseason Big XII championship, two Final Fours and six-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. During his tenures at Kansas, Florida Atlantic and San Francisco, Bauman has seen 32 players go on to play professional basketball.

Bauman played collegiate basketball for one season at Lincoln (Ill.) College.

A native of Canton, Ill., Bauman graduated from Kansas with a bachelor's degree in sports management and fitness in 2004 and a master's degree in sports studies in 2006.

Bauman and his wife, Stacy, have one daughter, Tatum.

RYAN HORN

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

6th Year

Shepherd '07

Ryan Horn is in his sixth season with the Wake Forest basketball program in 2019-20. Horn serves as the Demon Deacons' Director of Athletic Performance.

Horn's work has been vital to Wake Forest's resurgence as the Deacs returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2017. Among the athletes he has helped develop was 2017 NBA first round pick John Collins.

Horn joined the Demon Deacons in April 2014 after working under head coach Danny Manning at Tulsa where he helped the Golden Hurricane win the 2013-14 Conference USA regular season and tournament championships--the program's first title since 2003.

Horn spent three seasons at Tulsa and most recently directed the athletic performance programs for men's basketball and softball while assisting with football. He also previously worked with the Golden Hurricane women's basketball and women's soccer teams.

Prior to Tulsa, Horn spent five seasons at VCU as the associate head strength and conditioning coach. Horn was directly responsible for designing and implementing strength and conditioning programs for the Rams' men's and women's soccer, field hockey and golf teams while also assisting with men's and women's basketball.

Horn began his professional career as a volunteer intern at Robert Morris and Liberty where he assisted with all aspects of the strength and conditioning program for football and men's and women's basketball.

Horn played football at East Stroudsburg for one season and James Madison for three seasons.

Originally from Inwood, W.Va., Horn graduated from Shepherd University with a bachelor's degree in exercise science in May of 2007 and completed his master's degree through the VCU Center for Sports Leadership in 2008.

Horn is an approved mentor and strength and conditioning coach certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. He is also a certified Sports Performance Coach through USA Weightlifting and a Level 1 Track and Field Coach through USA Track and Field.

Horn and his wife, Ashley, have two children: son, Landon, and daughter, Addison.

ERNIE NESTOR

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

2nd Year | Alderson-Broaddus '68

Ernie Nestor returned to Wake Forest in 2018-19 for his third tenure on the basketball staff when he was named Special Assistant to the Head Coach in October. He previously was an assistant coach with the Demon Deacons from 1980-85 and 1994-01.

Nestor has over 40 years of Division I coaching experience and has worked in every Power 5 conference over his career. He has helped guide four different schools to the NCAA Tournament, and two others to the NIT.

Nestor's career is highlighted by 11 years of head coaching experience at the Division I level. He spent five seasons as the head coach at George Mason from 1989-93, leading the Patriots to two 20-win seasons and the program's first NCAA Tournament in 1989. George Mason twice reached the CAA Tournament final under Nestor, winning the conference title in 1989 and finishing as runner-up in 1991.

Nestor was the head coach at Elon for six seasons from 2004-09. In 2006, he led the Phoenix to its first winning season at the Division I level while capturing the Southern Conference North Division title. Nestor earned SoCon Coach of the Year honors in 2006 for those accomplishments. In 2008, he led Elon to the SoCon Tournament final, falling to an eventual NCAA Elite Eight squad Davidson, featuring Stephen Curry.

Nestor began his career as a high school coach for six years in the 1970s before beginning his four-decade collegiate coaching career at James Madison in 1976-77. It is a career that has led him to serve on the staffs at James Madison, Wake Forest (twice), California, South Carolina, Penn State and Navy. He also spent one season working in the NBA as an advance scout with the New Jersey Nets.

Nestor was an assistant coach at Navy for five seasons from 2013-17 before announcing his retirement following the 2016-17 season. In each of his five seasons with the Midshipmen, the program improved its Patriot League win total from the previous season.

Most recently, Nestor has been involved with the international game. He was an assistant coach for the Kosovo National Team as it qualifed for the 2019 FIBA World Cup competition.

In Nestor's first tenure with the Demon Deacons, as an assistant coach on Carl Tacy's staff from 1980-85, the program played in three NCAA Tournaments, including a run to the 1984 Elite Eight, and made two NIT appearances. He returned to the program as an assistant coach on Dave Odom's staff for eight seasons from 1994-01, helping the Deacs reach five NCAA Tournaments, win two ACC Championships and win the 2000 NIT Championship.

During his 13 years as an assistant coach at Wake Forest, Nestor coached four Demon Deacons whose numbers hang from the rafters of the LJVM Coliseum: Josh Howard, Muggsy Bogues, Tim Duncan and Randolph Childress. An additional eight players he coached at Wake Forest (Kenny Green, Frank Johnson, Jim Johnstone, Rusty LaRue, Guy Morgan, Delaney Rudd, Darius Songaila and Danny Young) went on to play in the NBA.

Following the 2013-14 season, Nestor was received a 'Guardians of the Game' award from the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC). Nestor's Guardians of the Game honor was for education, which is presented each year to a coach who is committed to continuing education and the development of their profession in order to be better mentors, teachers and leaders.

A native of Philippi, W.Va., Nestor earned his bachelor's degree from Alderson-Broaddus in 1968 and his master's degree from West Virginia in 1970. He and his wife, Janet, have two daughters, Stephanie and Jennifer, and four grandchildren, Kodiak, Lucy, Clio and Jude.

EVAN MANNING

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

3rd Year | Kansas '16

Evan Manning is in his third season on the Demon Deacon staff, serving as Director of Player Development for the second season in 2019-20 after spending the 2017-18 season as a program assistant and team manager. He joined the program in June 2017 after playing his collegiate career at Kansas.

Manning assists in various operations of the men's basketball program, including practice preparation, community service projects with student-athletes and coaches, scouting and camps.

Manning was member of the men's basketball team at Kansas from 2013-16, appearing in 42 games for the Jayhawks, including one start against Iowa State on his senior night. A 2015-16 Academic All-Big 12 selection, he scored 26 career points with seven of his nine career field goals coming from behind the arc. During his four seasons, the Jayhawks won four Big XII regular season titles, two Big XII tournament championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances, highlighted by a run to the Elite Eight in 2016.

A native of Lawrence, Kan., and the son of Wake Forest head coach Danny Manning, Evan graduated from Kansas in 2016 with a degree in sport management. He currently resides in Winston-Salem.

ROGER EPPS JR.

BASKETBALL MULTIMEDIA COORDINATOR

3rd Year | Radford '04

Roger Epps, Jr. is in his seventh year as a member of the Wake Forest athletic department and his third season as a member of the men's basketball staff in 2019-20. Epps assumed the role of Basketball Multimedia Coordinator in June 2017 after four years as an assistant director in the athletic multimedia department.

As the Basketball Multimedia Coordinator, Epps operates and maintains the program's video operation, including filming of practice and games, coordinating film exchange and assisting the coaching staff with scouting. He also helps coordinate community service programs and assists with the marketing of the program.

Prior to moving to the basketball program, Epps was an assistant director of multimedia for four years. He assisted in the setup of various multimedia platforms to enhance the gameday experience for all Wake Forest sports, including men's basketball.

Before joining the Wake Forest athletic department, Epps worked at WXII 12 News in Winston-Salem for six years, including two years as a production assistant and four years as Director/Digital Content Producer.

Epps is a native of Martinsville, Va. and graduated from Radford University in 2004 with a bachelor of science in media studies. He currently resides in Winston-Salem with his wife, Michelle and his son, Alijah.

COREY SCHMIDT

VIDEO COORDINATOR/ SCOUTING ASSISTANT

1st Year | Belmont '13

Corey Schmidt joined the Wake Forest basketball staff in August, 2019 as the Coordinator of Technology and Scouting Assistant. Schmidt came to the Demon Deacons after spending the past four seasons at the University of New Orleans.

In his role with the Demon Deacons, Schmidt coordinates the filming of all practices and games. He assists the coaching staff in analytics and video utilizing Second Spectrum, HUDL Sportscode and Fast Model. Schmidt also assists the coaching staff with scouting reports and video creation, helps recruiting efforts by planning visits, and serves as the Director of the Danny Manning Basketball Camps.

Schmidt was the Director of Basketball Operations at New Orleans from 2015-19, as the Privateers went to the postseason in each of the last three seasons. In 2017, UNO won the Southland Conference Tournament and made its first NCAA Tournament appearance in over 20 years. At New Orleans, Schmidt coordinated the team's camps, video exchange, statistical analysis, advanced scouting and on-campus recruiting as well as working with UNO's game operations staff and managing the program's travel on road trips.

Prior to arriving at New Orleans, Schmidt was at Belmont, his alma mater, for six seasons, (2009-15), four as a student manager and two as a graduate assistant. During his time with the Bruins, he helped organize recruiting databases, prepared per-possession statistics for scouting reports, and assisted with video. His efforts helped Belmont post a 150-53 overall record, an 88-18 mark in conference action and five trips to the postseason, including trips to the 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2015 NCAA Tournaments.

A native of Nashville, Tenn., Schmidt completed his bachelor's degree in computer science from Belmont in May 2013 – graduating with honors – and earned his master's in sports administration from the University in May 2015.

LYNNE HEFLIN

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

35th Year

Mary Washington

For the past 34 years, Lynne Heflin has played a vital role in the Wake Forest basketball family as administrative assistant to the head basketball coach. Her knowledge of the program and the university is invaluable. She works closely with head coach Danny Manning in monitoring his daily schedule, as well as the operation of the basketball office.

Perhaps more importantly, Heflin has become extremely popular with the Demon Deacon players of the past 34 seasons. Her interest in their welfare, both at Wake Forest and after they go on to various careers, is second to none.

A graduate of Mary Washington College where she earned a degree in English, Heflin taught on the junior high level for two years. She then accepted a position with the federal government, where she worked in a variety of areas, including the Pentagon.

Heflin and husband Rob have two children -- daughter Kristen who lives with her husband, son and daughter in Burlington, N.C.; and son Scott, who lives with his wife, son and daughter in Durham, N.C.

1st Year | Manhattan '17

Jason Martinez joined the men's basketball program in June 2019 as the Assistant Sport Performance Coach.

Martinez came to the Demon Deacons after completing his time at Lindenwood University as a graduate assistant Athletic Performance Coach, where he was responsible for the all strength and conditioning aspects for women's soccer, field hockey, women's basketball, as well as men's volleyball.

Prior to Lindenwood, Martinez spent time with the Olympic Strength and Conditioning staffs at Clemson University, Penn State University, as well as Manhattan College as a Strength and Conditioning Intern.

Originally from Saratoga Springs, N.Y., Martinez graduated from Manhattan College with a bachelor's degree in Exercise Science in May of 2017 and completed his master's degree in Human Performance from Lindenwood University in May of 2019.

Martinez is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

Martinez resides in Winston-Salem.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS HEAD TEAM PHYSICIAN

8th Year | Knox College '01

Dr. Chris Miles came to Wake Forest in July of 2012 and is the Medical Director of Athletics and Head Team Physician. He oversees the primary care of all Demon Demon student-athletes, while working predominantly with the football and men's basketball programs.

Prior to his current role, Miles was a Sports Medicine fellow at Wake Forest from 2008-09. He has also served volunteer physician at Bradley University.

A native of Metamora, Ill., Miles graduated from Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., in 2001 with a degree in biochemistry. He earned his M.D. from the University of Illinois College of Medicine at Peoria in 2005.

Miles and his wife, Dawn, have two sons, Hayden and Josiah. They live in Advance, N.C.

Kate RULEY

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS NUTRITION

3rd Year | Queens '91

Kate Ruley joined the athletic department in January 2017 as the Director of Sports Nutrition.

She has a Bachelor's Degree in Biology and Chemistry from Queens University (1991) as well as a Master's Degree in Nutrition from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (1997). Kate is a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as well as the Sports, Cardiovascular and Wellness and Collegiate and Professional Sports Dietitians Associations. She is Board Certified in Sports Dietetics.

Kate is responsible for planning, developing, implementing and managing all performance nutrition services provided to student-athletes representing all athletic teams. Working closely with Wake Forest student athletes, Kate uses evidence-based strategies to review and revise their individual eating plans to help them achieve their goals and meet their needs for their sport/position, as well as enhance their overall wellbeing. By managing meals, snacks, and fueling stations for the athletics department for home and away competitions, Ruley supplies menus and products to support athlete's training needs and to supplement their daily diet.

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

15th Year | Wheaton • 1968

Dr. Nathan O. Hatch became Wake Forest's 13th president on July 1, 2005.

For more than a decade, his leadership has been characterized by achievements on five fronts: 1) clarifying Wake Forest's mission and strategic plan; 2) assembling a remarkable team of leaders; 3) making significant realignments in business and medicine to better position the University; 4) undertaking bold initiatives, such as launching engineering and biomedical sciences programs in Wake Downtown, reinventing the 21st century liberal arts education with personal and career preparedness as a key focus, making standardized tests optional, and building greater community through a three-year residency requirement; 5) leading Wake Will Lead: The Campaign for Wake Forest, the largest fundraising effort in the University's history.

The strategic plan, approved by the Board of Trustees and embraced by the college community, strengthens Wake Forest's position as the nation's premier "collegiate university." This approach to education integrates an undergraduate liberal arts tradition with the vitality of a research university.

Dr. Hatch completed a master planning process to ensure the physical development of the campus is aligned with the University's strategic goals. That plan also takes on important challenges in making the campus more sustainable. Wake Forest University is in the midst of a 10-year, $625 million construction effort that reflects the institution's commitment to offer the best residential college experience in the country. In the past two years, Wake Forest celebrated the grand openings of the Sutton Center, McCreary Field House and a new building for the health and exercise science department; completed Maya Angelou Hall, a new South Campus residence hall for first-year students; transformed historic Reynolds Gym into the Wake Forest Wellbeing Center and extensively renovated several of the 1950s residence halls surrounding Hearn Plaza.

In January 2017, the first students enrolled in new academic programs in engineering and biomedical sciences anchored Wake Forest University's undergraduate presence, referred to as Wake Downtown, in Wake Forest Innovation Quarter. Dr. Hatch's decision to literally and figuratively bring medical and liberal arts education together under one roof represents one of the most audacious efforts to reimagine undergraduate science education as we know it.

Under Dr. Hatch's leadership, the University completed two major integration projects. Wake Forest's separate undergraduate and graduate business programs have been combined into one School of Business housed in Farrell Hall. He also was instrumental in merging Wake Forest University Health Sciences and North Carolina Baptist Hospital – each with revenues of some one billion dollars – into a single entity with common management under Dr. Julie Freischlag.

With the idea that leadership starts at home, Dr. Hatch has assembled a remarkable team of academic and administrative leaders. Throughout his academic career, he has been drawn to challenges that involve people and building organizations. "A university is a very complicated organization in modern society," he notes, "and it is critical to have outstanding leaders in all spheres, from academic programs to athletics, from investments to student development."

Regarded as a national leader in rethinking the college to career experience, Wake Forest has been at the forefront of transforming the traditional, outdated concept of "career services" into a holistic, four-year approach to personal and career development.

Wake Forest University is among 100 of the nation's most respected colleges and universities who have pledged to substantially expand the number of talented low- and moderate-income students at America's undergraduate institutions with the highest graduation rates.
This growing alliance, called the American Talent Initiative, brings together a diverse set of public and private institutions united in this common goal.

In a world that is increasingly linked via technology, Dr. Hatch emphasizes the art of face-to-face connection. In implementing a three-year residency requirement, he is building greater community by ensuring there are opportunities to collaborate, engage in conversation and solve problems together.

In one of Dr. Hatch's boldest moves to date, he publicly launched Wake Will Lead: The Campaign for Wake Forest, the largest fundraising effort in the University's history which provides student, faculty and facility support. As of July 2018, gifts from more than 70,000 generous donors moved Wake Forest closer to its $1 billion Reynolda Campus fundraising goal.

Dr. Hatch is an active leader in American higher education and in local and community affairs. He served on the board of the American Council on Education, and chair of the Division I Board of Directors of the NCAA when the organization restructured its governance in 2014. He is a past chair of the board of directors of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities. On July 1, 2017, he was installed as the chair of the North Carolina Independent College and Universities. In 2014, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences elected Dr. Hatch among its newest members. He has also been very active in community development in Winston-Salem. A board member of the United Way of Forsyth County, he also served as Chairman of the 2010 United Way Campaign. In 2018, Dr. Hatch received the NACE Career Services Excellence Award and was named the Boy Scouts of America Distinguished Citizen by the Old Hickory Council.

Often described as affable, approachable and a lively conversationalist, Dr. Hatch has established a strong rapport with students; he has hosted reading groups with students at the President's House and he can occasionally be found taking a coffee break with them at Starbucks in the Z. Smith Reynolds library or having lunch in the Pit. He made an early positive impression when he arrived at his student-sponsored Inaugural Ball on the back of a motorcycle driven by the Demon Deacon.

He and his wife, Julie, a former public school teacher, have three children: Gregg, a 1997 graduate of Notre Dame, is a real estate professional in Seattle, WA; David, a 2000 Notre Dame graduate, received an MBA degree from Duke University in 2007 and works in finance in Charlotte, NC; and Beth, a 2007 graduate of Notre Dame, who earned her Master of Divinity at Duke Divinity School in Durham, N.C. in 2015. The Hatches also have eight grandchildren.

Dr. Hatch grew up in Columbia, S.C., where his father was a Presbyterian minister. A graduate of Wheaton College in Illinois, he received his master's and doctoral degrees from Washington University in St. Louis and held post-doctoral fellowships at Harvard and Johns Hopkins universities. He joined the faculty at Notre Dame in 1975. He was named provost, the university's second highest-ranking position, in 1996; a Presbyterian, he was the first Protestant to ever serve in that position at Notre Dame.

He is regularly cited as one of the most influential scholars in the study of the history of religion in America. He received national acclaim for his 1989 book, The Democratization of American Christianity, in which he examines how the rise of religious groups in the early 19th century helped shape American culture and foster democracy. The book was chosen in a survey of 2,000 historians and sociologists as one of the two most important books in the study of American religion. He is also the author or editor of seven other books on American history.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

1st Year | Wake Forest • 1993

John Currie was introduced as the sixth athletic director in Wake Forest University history by President Dr. Nathan O. Hatch March 4, 2019. Currie officially began his duties on May 1, succeeding his longtime mentor, Wake Forest Athletic Director Emeritus, Ron Wellman. Currie is just the third individual to have held the position since 1964 following the 28-year tenure of Dr. Gene Hooks (1964-92) and Wellman's 27-years (1992-2019).

"I am delighted to welcome John Currie and his wife, Mary Lawrence, back home to their alma mater, Wake Forest," said Dr. Hatch. "I've long followed John's career. He comes highly recommended by a long list of academic leaders, commissioners, coaches, former student-athletes and staff throughout higher education and college athletics. As a Wake Forest grad, North Carolina native and accomplished athletic director, John is the perfect fit to follow in the footsteps of his mentor, Ron Wellman."

Currie has hit the ground running in his first few months, with special emphasis on building relationships across the campus and the city of Winston-Salem. The Demon Deacons have stepped up efforts to tell the story of the accomplishments of Wake Forest student-athletes with full day media tours and fan events in Charlotte, Raleigh and New York. Grassroots outreach efforts include the "I'm a Fan" initiative to build awareness and attendance for Wake Forest's upcoming football schedule, which features Big Four rivals North Carolina, NC State and Duke, all at home in the same season for the first time since 1921.

"The success that Wake Forest experienced last year, with four top five NCAA finishes, a third straight bowl victory and finishing 36th in the nation in the Directors' Cup, will be a good springboard as we strive to continually improve. The impending opening of the Sutton Sports Performance Center and the Shah Basketball Complex will provide a great foundation for success in 2019-20."

A 26-year veteran of the ACC, Big 12 and SEC, Currie has spent his career developing inclusive leadership teams, hiring winning coaches, producing record fundraising results, constructing state of the art facilities and building lasting relationships with student-athletes, faculty, alumni and fans.

He has been honored as the Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year (2013), Bobby Dodd Athletic Director Award Recipient (2013) and a Sports Business Journal's Forty Under 40 winner (2011). Currie represented the Big 12 as a member of the NCAA Division I Administrative Cabinet from 2011-2015 and is a Life Member of the Fiesta Bowl Board of Directors. He holds an adjunct faculty position at Columbia University where he annually teaches a master's-level class in college athletics administration.

Currie's career began when Wellman, in his first year as athletic director, recruited the 1993 graduate to an internship in the Deacon Club. Currie worked six years total at Wake Forest in the 1990's, serving Deacon Club members and helping with capital fundraising projects like Bridger Field House and the Miller Center, while also launching a planned giving program.

He then spent ten years at Tennessee leading the Vols to record heights in fundraising and sales, including securing a $50 million anonymous gift for athletics, engineering and veterinary medicine. He directed a $36 million project renovating Thompson-Boling Arena and constructing Pratt Pavilion basketball practice facility, while helping drive the development of the historic Neyland Stadium Master Plan.

At age 38, Currie was introduced on May 18, 2009 as Kansas State's 15th director of athletics. His eight-year run was the fourth-longest of any Wildcat athletic director and featured a combination of academic, athletic, and fundraising excellence perhaps unprecedented in K-State history. Academically, all Wildcat programs boasted successful multi-year APR scores with five teams, including football, posting the Big 12's highest mark in 2016-17.

In 2012-2013, K-State became just the fourth school in the BCS era to win league titles in football, men's basketball and baseball in the same year. The Wildcats won 11 NCAA individual titles in track and field and earned 17 NCAA Tournament berths in basketball, volleyball and baseball. Football went to seven straight bowl games and featured a 33-game streak of sold out home games.

All five of his head coaching hires in Manhattan achieved success, most notably men's basketball coach Bruce Weber, who has coached the Wildcats to two Big 12 championships, five NCAA bids, and an Elite Eight to become K-State's third all-time winningest coach while posting a 100 percent Graduation Success Rate (GSR).

During his tenure in Manhattan, Kan., Currie initiated, designed, and completed $210 million in comprehensive facility improvements. In 2016, Kansas State's Bill Snyder Family Stadium was one of five finalists for the Sports Business Journal Facility of the Year.

Currie spearheaded the effort to secure a $60 million cash gift in 2014, the largest private gift in K-State history with $40 million allocated to academics and $20 million for athletics. K-State received $230 million in cash contributions for athletics during his tenure.

In 2017 Currie was recruited back to the University of Tennessee as vice-chancellor and director of athletics. He hired new baseball and tennis coaches, built a diverse and nationally acclaimed senior leadership team, honored UT's women's athletics heritage by restoring the Lady Vol brand and earned unanimous board approval for an initial $180 million phase of improvements to Neyland Stadium. Following his departure from Knoxville, Currie served as a consultant at the University of Texas.

Currie's wife Mary Lawrence, holds both B.S. and M.S. degrees in accounting from Wake Forest. The couple recently celebrated 21 years of marriage and are the proud parents of three children: Jack, Gigi, Mary-Dell and a King Charles Cavalier named Charlie.

UNIVERSITY/ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

Dr. PETER BRUBAKER

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE
4th Year
East Stroudsburg '84

Peter Brubaker, professor of Health and Exercise Science, was named Faculty Athletics Representative of Wake Forest University in August, 2016. He was appointed to provide a faculty viewpoint in the administration of intercollegiate athletic programs.

As the Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR), Brubaker acts on behalf of the president and reports to him, representing athletics to faculty and faculty to athletics to ensure the appropriate balance between academics and intercollegiate athletics. Major areas of responsibility include academic oversight, student-athlete welfare, compliance and representing Wake Forest at meetings of the NCAA and ACC which mandate the position.

Brubaker, who is in his 27th year on the Wake Forest faculty, also serves as the HES department's graduate program director. He is well-regarded for his research and clinical experience in the area of exercise physiology and cardiovascular disease prevention/rehabilitation.

Brubaker is a 1984 graduate of East Stroudsburg and received his masters from Wake Forest in 1986 and his Ph.D. from Temple in 1991.

TODD HAIRSTON

SR. ASSOCIATE AD COMPLIANCE
15th Year
Wake Forest '96

Todd Hairston joined the Deacon staff in 2005 as the assistant director of compliance. After one year in that role, he was promoted to assistant athletic director for compliance, and then was named associate athletic director in 2008. He has served as a senior associate AD since 2016.

He is responsible for the interpretation and enforcement of all NCAA rules and legislation in the Wake Forest Athletic Department. He is also the sport administrator for men's basketball, track & field/cross country and women's tennis.

Hairston, a 1996 graduate of Wake Forest, has held a variety of roles in intercollegiate athletics since his graduation. After earning his degree in health and exercise science, he served as a laboratory research technician at the Wake Forest University School of Medicine. After a stint as a student athletic trainer at Tennessee State, he went to Meharry Medical College in Nashville where he earned a Master of Science in public health in 1999. His first compliance role came at Florida State in 2000 and after a year with the Seminoles, he became the assistant AD for compliance at Maryland Eastern Shore in 2001. Hairston was named the director of compliance at George Mason in 2003 and was with the Patriots for two years before coming to Wake Forest in 2005.

A native of Walnut Cove, N.C., Hairston earned his Ph.D. at Florida State in 2004. He also serves as an adjunct professor in the Wake Forest School of Law. Hairston and his wife, Kristen, are the parents of two children - Joseph and Ava. They live in Winston-Salem.

TRIPLE-DOUBLES

The only official triple-double in Wake Forest history was by Tim Duncan (14 points, 15 rebounds, 10 blocked shots) vs. Maryland Jan. 13, 1996 in Winston-Salem.

Before assists became recognized as an official statistic, Len Chappell recorded a rare triple-double with 12 points, 13 rebounds and 12 assists vs. Penn State (in Charlotte) on Dec. 10, 1960.

The only official triple-double by a Wake Forest opponent was by Xavier's Tu Holloway (14 points, 14 assists, 10 rebounds) on Dec. 18, 2010, in Cincinnati.

DEMON DEACON HOME COURTS

GORE GYMNASIUM (1935-1956)
Wake Forest traces its modern basketball history to Gore Gymnasium on the original campus in Wake Forest, N.C. Opened prior to the 1935-36 season, the facility had a seating capacity of only 2,200, but it was generally a highly partisan crowd made up of Wake Forest students and faculty. Only 600 tickets per game were sold to the general public, giving the Deacons an overwhelming homecourt advantage. Portable bleachers were erected for each home game in the gym, which also included the administrative offices for the athletics director and basketball coaching staff.

MEMORIAL COLISEUM (1956-89)
Wake Forest moved its entire home basketball schedule to the Memorial Coliseum in Winston-Salem for the 1956-57 season, although the team did play two games in the facility one year earlier. The historic building was not popular with Deacon followers in its final years, but no one could argue with the success Wake Forest teams had here. The Demon Deacons won 250 games in Memorial Coliseum and lost only 94 for an impressive 72.7 winning percentage. The Coliseum, which has been leveled and replaced by a parking lot adjacent to LJVM Coliseum, had a capacity of 8,200.

GREENSBORO COLISEUM (1959-89)
During the 1980s, Wake Forest also played many of its ACC contests and major non-conference dates in the Greensboro Coliseum. The Deacons first moved their seven ACC games to Greensboro for the 1981-82 season; but they had played in the facility nearly every year since it opened in 1959. They continued to make regular appearances there until the opening of the LJVM Coliseum. Wake Forest's first-ever game in the facility was on Jan. 9, 1960, when it dropped a 62-59 decision to North Carolina. An expanded and refurbished Greensboro Coliseum continued to be good to Wake Forest as evidenced by its back-to-back ACC titles in 1995 and 1996.

LJVM COLISEUM (1989-PRESENT)
Wake Forest basketball has called the Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum home for over 25 years. The arena seats 14,665 fans and has hosted four NCAA Tournament events (1993, 1997, 2000, 2007).

The Demon Deacon men's and women's teams have combined to win over 400 games at the venue since its opening prior to the 1989-90 season. A number of notable Deacons have roamed the Joel over the years, including NBA stars Tim Duncan and Chris Paul. The LJVM Coliseum has also been the collegiate home of future NBA players Al-Farouq Aminu, Randolph Childress, John Collins, Josh Howard, James Johnson, Rodney Rogers, Ishmael Smith, Darius Songaila and Jeff Teague. Hanging from the rafters of the Joel Coliseum are a number of championship banners, as well as 11 retired jersey numbers from the Wake Forest men's basketball program.

The facility is named after Lawrence Joel, the only Winston-Salem native awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. Also honored are nearly 500 Forsyth County veterans who gave their lives for their country in World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam, Grenada and the Persian Gulf. Wake Forest purchased the venue, which sits on the corner of University Parkway and Deacon Boulevard, and the surrounding 33 acres from the City of Winston-Salem in August of 2013 and began renovations on the building shortly thereafter.

1961 ACC CHAMPIONS

The Atlantic Coast Conference was in its eighth year and Wake Forest was still searching for its first league championship. The efforts of Murray Greason, the all-time winningest coach in Demon Deacon basketball history, were not enough in the 1950s.

Greason turned the coaching reins over to his assistant Bones McKinney prior to the 1957-58 season and McKinney guided the Deacs to a Dixie Classic title two years later. Yet in the championship contest of that season's ACC Tournament (1960), Wake Forest fell to Duke, 63-59.

Many of the leading characters from the 1960 club returned the next year, though, and expectations were high for a return to the tourney's final day.

Wake Forest enjoyed another good regular season, compiling a 15-10 record against an extremely difficult schedule. The Deacons finished second in the '61 ACC race with an 11-3 mark, one game behind North Carolina, which won 12 of its 14 league outings.

The Tar Heels would not be a factor in the Tournament, though. They were serving an NCAA probation and did not participate. That left seven member schools and gave Wake Forest the number-one seed, which in that year was especially beneficial since it included a first-round bye and guaranteed the Deacons a free ticket to the semifinals.

In the semifinal round, Wake met Maryland, an opponent it had defeated by 12 and nine points during the regular season. The third meeting would be no different; in fact, the Deacs would dominate the Terrapins and win going away, 98-76, behind the outstanding play of Len Chappell.

Chappell scored 34 points, hitting 10-of-16 field goal attempts and 14-of-17 free throws, and grabbed a game-high 16 rebounds. Dave Wiedeman contributed 20 points and nine rebounds.

The championship game figured to be much more challenging. Wake Forest would have to beat its 1960 nemesis Duke in order to claim the crown and the two teams had split their two meetings earlier in the year.

But this time the Deacons were not to be denied. They broke open an early 13-13 tie with six straight points and led by nine, 42-33, at halftime. The lead would grow to as many as 20 in the second half and Wake eventually recorded its first ACC championship by a 96-81 margin over the Blue Devils.

"Everybody was in the flow, and in the second half we got away from them pretty good," McKinney recalled later. "We just felt like we knew we were going to win that game."

Actually the most distressing time of the entire championship experience in 1961 came at halftime of the title contest. A fired-up group of Deacons burst out of their locker room in NC State's Reynolds Coliseum only to see team co-captain Alley Hart knocked into a glass water cooler located near the dressing room door. The cooler broke and a piece of glass cut Hart's hand.

Hart obviously was not his usual effective self, scoring only six points. Chappell, though, displayed his ACC Player of the Year form for the second straight day, scoring 33 points and collecting 14 rebounds to lead all players in both categories.

Billy Packer, Hart's running mate in the Deacon backcourt, scored 16 points, while bruising forward Bill Hull achieved a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds.

Back on the Wake Forest campus in Winston-Salem, the student body celebrated with a vigor worthy of the accomplishment. One ambitious celebrant even scaled the front of Wait Chapel and covered the word "Wait" with a sign of his own, "Len."

Chappell was named the Tournament's Most Valuable Player and was joined on the all-tournament first team by Packer. Wiedeman was named to the all-tourney second team.

1962 ACC CHAMPIONS

Winning the first one in 1961 was hard enough, but repeating as ACC champions? The idea certainly was not out of the question. After all, the Demon Deacons had eight lettermen returning, led by All-American Len Chappell, as well as backcourt ace Billy Packer and sparkplug Dave Wiedeman.

Add the towering Bob Woollard and sophomore standout Frank Christie and veteran coach Bones McKinney had a team that most felt could challenge not only for ACC honors, but perhaps even the national championship as well.

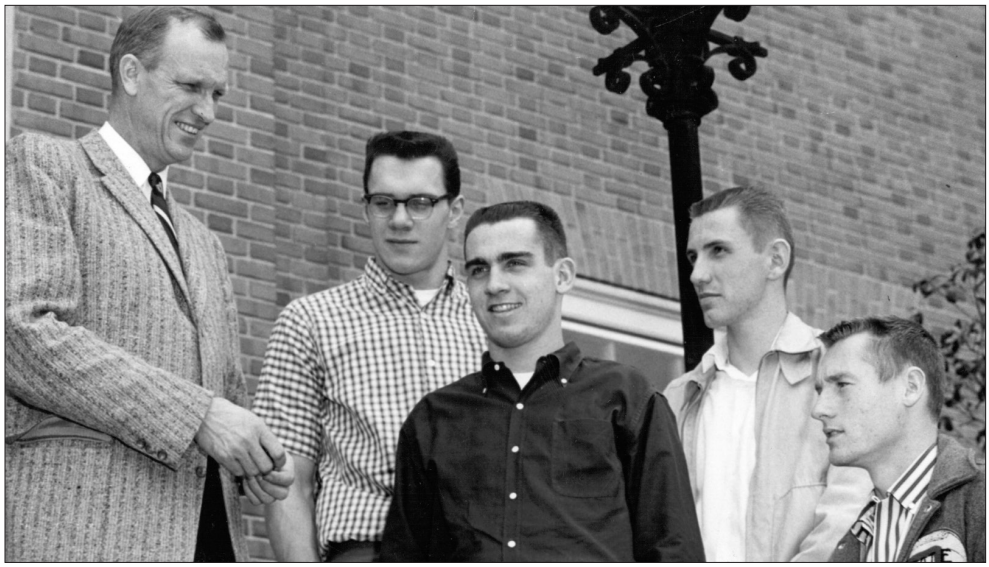

And in the '61-62 preseason poll, there indeed was Wake Forest, voted as the third-ranked team in the country. Only Ohio State (No. 1) and Cincinnati (No. 2) were picked higher.

But preseason projections don't make a successful team, and the Deacs struggled early that year. A disappointing 22-point loss to Ohio State in Winston-Salem in December began a string of four losses in five games. At one point in January, the Wake Forest record was an unimpressive 9-8. That mark included two losses to Duke, which was the prime contender to replace the Deacons as league champ.

However, McKinney kept working with his veteran club and it roared into the 1962 ACC Tournament on a six-game winning streak, a late-season surge that improved the Deacons' conference record to 12-2 and earned them the No. 1 seed.

Wake cruised by opening round opponent Virginia, 81-58, behind 18 points from both Packer and Chappell. The next night the Deacons trailed South Carolina at halftime by two (43-41), but rallied behind the brilliant play of their All-American to register an 88-75 triumph. Chappell tallied 38 points in that contest, leading a group of four different Deacs in double figures.

Wake Forest's surprising foe in the title game, though, was Clemson, which had upset Duke in the semifinals, 77-72. Coach Press Maravich had his Tigers utilizing a combination man-to-man and zone defense called the "Junto," and it worked for a while even against the favored Deacons.

The defending champions trailed, 19-17, but then hit 11 of their last 13 field goal attempts of the first half to roll to a 43-28 lead at intermission. Upset-minded Clemson would draw no closer than 12 during the second half as the Atlantic Coast Conference trophy once again went back to Winston-Salem with the Deacons. Final score -- Wake 77, Clemson 66.

Chappell, the Tournament MVP for the second consecutive year, once again was the scoring leader with 31 points, while Packer added 21. Both were named to the all-tournament first team, while Wiedeman was awarded second-team honors for the second season in a row.

"We were the best team," Packer says in looking back at that period in his career. "We really had the best team for three years running, including 1960 and 1961. We were just supposed to win."

Chappell agrees with him, but recalls that the Deacons of 1962 really did not fully appreciate what they had accomplished by capturing back-to-back titles.

"We knew it was our job to win that ACC Tournament," Chappell says. "It was just a matter of course, but at that time the ACC didn't have the long history that it now has. We really didn't know what we had achieved."

The Demon Deacons of 1962, of course, went on to win three straight games in the NCAA Tournament, including overtime decisions over Yale and St. Joseph's. Their third postseason victory over Villanova took them into the Final Four where they met that same Ohio State team that had beaten them at the beginning of the 1961-62 season.

The Buckeyes did it again, but Wake Forest bounced back to down UCLA for third place in the national tourney and finish the year where it was picked in that preseason poll months before.

1995 ACC CHAMPIONS

The sellout crowd of 23,311 was standing in anticipation as the teams broke their respective huddles for the final 21.7 seconds of the 1995 ACC Tournament championship game.

Wake Forest and North Carolina had already battled to a deadlock through 44 minutes and were tied 80-80 in overtime. And while the issue was still in doubt, there was no secret as to who was going to take the deciding shot -- Randolph Childress.

After all, his performance to that point is something people still refer to with great admiration today. He scored a career-high 40 points against Duke in the opening round, and then added 30 more in the Deacons' semifinal win over Virginia. He was at 35 when the ball was inbounded for Wake Forest's final possession.

Even though North Carolina did its best to keep him from getting the ball, Childress got open and sliced down the lane for a floating 12-foot jumper that swished through the basket and sent the Demon Deacon faithful into a frenzy. Those two points broke Lennie Rosenbluth's 38-year old tournament record of 106 points by one and gave Wake Forest its first ACC crown since 1962.

North Carolina had four seconds left and made the most of it. Jerry Stackhouse launched a three-pointer and Pearce Landry had a desperation tip at the buzzer, but neither dropped. That set off a postgame celebration which ended with Childress being named the most valuable player and Wake Forest gaining a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Former Deacon and current television analyst Billy Packer called it one of the greatest individual performances he had ever seen in an ACC Tournament. Packer wasn't alone in those sentiments as scores of observers shook their heads in near disbelief of what Childress had achieved.

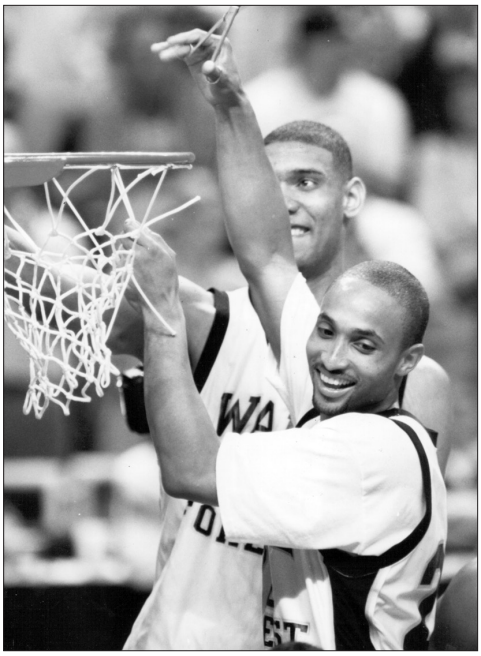

It started in the opening round when the top-seeded Deacons fell behind Duke 31-13 in the first 12 minutes. After a Wake Forest timeout, Childress began to assert himself and exploded for 20 of his 27 first half points over the next eight minutes without missing a shot.

He made 10 consecutive field goal attempts to close out the half, which included five three pointers, and gave the Deacons an improbable one-point lead at the intermission.

He sent the Blue Devils running for cover in the second half as Wake Forest extended its lead and settled for an 87-70 victory. Childress finished with 40 points on 13-of-18 shooting, tying him with North Carolina's Charlie Scott for the fifth-highest single-game point total in tournament history.

Virginia proved equally tough in the semifinal as Wake Forest started slowly for the second straight day and trailed the Cavaliers 36-28 at halftime. Childress and Tim Duncan stepped up in the final 20 minutes, however, combining for 35 of Wake Forest's 49 points to secure a 77-68 victory.

Childress finished the game with 30 points, which included six more three pointers, while Duncan tallied 20 points, 14 rebounds and six blocked shots. Ricky Peral had his best game of the tournament, connecting on 5-of-9 field goal attempts for 13 points.

The championship game against North Carolina provided more of the same Childress heroics. He had 15 of Wake Forest's 33 first-half points, and despite trailing by five at the break, the Deacs showed no signs of slowing down.

When Childress netted a pair of free throws with 1:03 to play, it gave the Deacons a 73-69 lead, but Stackhouse made one-of-two free throws and then a stunning three-point jumper with 4.5 seconds left to send the game into overtime.

All that did, though, was give Childress an even bigger stage to perform his magic.

1996 ACC CHAMPIONS

Fans in the Greensboro Coliseum must have felt a touch of deja vu as they sat in their seats during the final minute of the 1996 ACC Tournament championship game between second-seeded Wake Forest and top-seeded Georgia Tech.

After holding a seemingly insurmountable 11-point lead with two minutes and 23 seconds remaining, the Demon Deacons watched Georgia Tech mount a furious rally. Just like the year before when North Carolina came back from a four-point deficit in the final minute to force overtime, the Yellow Jackets were looking to do the same thing.

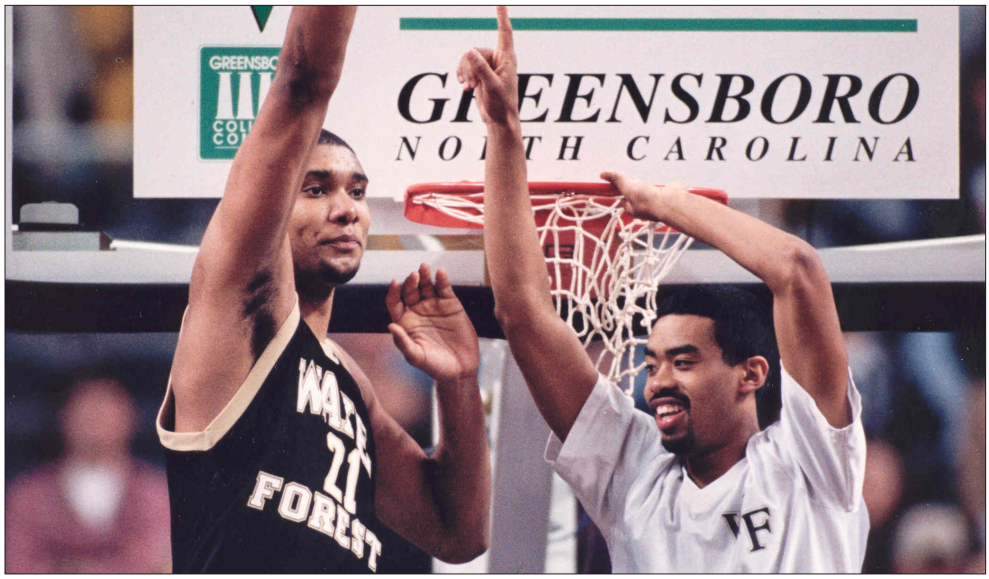

Wake Forest's lead was down to 75-74 with 18 seconds remaining when Stephon Marbury came down court with a chance to put Georgia Tech in the lead. With under five seconds to play he drove to the right baseline, but found Rusty LaRue on his hip and Tim Duncan running at him. His off-balance jumper hit the top corner of the backboard and caromed to Steven Goolsby, who cradled it with two seconds to play.

Even though Goolsby missed a pair of free throws, Drew Barry's desperation heave from midcourt failed to drop, allowing Wake Forest to celebrate its second straight conference championship and become the first school in 14 years to win consecutive titles.

For most of the afternoon it appeared as though the Deacons were going to coast to victory. They dashed out of the gate to a 14-3 lead and increased it to 19-5 after only six minutes of action. The Yellow Jackets made a run of their own and closed to within five points at 29-24 with just over five minutes to play, but Wake Forest exploded for 10 straight points to close out the half with a 39-24 advantage.

The Demon Deacon lead grew to 18, but the tide turned when Tony Rutland, who had 15 points on the day, injured his knee while driving to the basket with 14 minutes to play. As a result, the reliable LaRue stepped in and filled the point-guard slot for the first time in his career and kept the offense in sync.

Even though Georgia Tech whittled away at Wake Forest's lead, LaRue and Tim Duncan combined for 15 points over a seven-minute stretch to keep the advantage in double digits at 71-60. The Yellow Jacket pressure finally forced a couple of turnovers, which combined with missed Deacon free throws, allowed Tech to creep even closer and create an exciting finish.

And whereas the 1995 Tournament belonged to Randolph Childress, this one was all Tim Duncan's. The junior All-American set a tournament record for most rebounds with 56, which included a championship game record 22 against Georgia Tech. Duncan was a unanimous selection for the Everett Case Award as the ACC Tournament MVP and was later recognized as the 1996 ACC Player of the Year.

Besides being a force on the boards, he led the Deacons with 27 points, six assists, and four blocked shots in the title game. After Rutland's 15 points, LaRue followed with 14 and Ricky Peral with 10.

Wake Forest's ACC Tournament run started against Virginia. The Deacons broke open a 37-36 game by going on a 22-7 run over a nine-minute stretch en route to a 70-60 victory and avenged a regular-season loss from one week earlier. Duncan led the way with 19 points and 15 rebounds, while Rutland and Peral chipped in 13 points apiece.

Most figured Wake Forest would face North Carolina in the semifinals, but Clemson upset the Tar Heels in the opening round and looked to make it two straight by upending the Demon Deacons. That bid fell short, however, as Duncan had another outstanding night with 22 points, 19 rebounds, and four assists in a 68-60 win.

Wake Forest was in control most of the night, leading by 11 at halftime thanks to 13 points from Rutland. The Tigers got as close as four with one minute and 51 seconds to play, but Rutland knocked down a three-pointer to ice the win.

Rutland finished the game with 20 points while Goolsby provided a spark off the bench with 11.

Wake Forest's hot shooting continued in the title game as it blistered the nets at a championship game record 63 percent clip, making 29-of-46 field goal attempts. The Demon Deacons were even better from behind the arc as they connected on 9-of-14 three-point tries (64.3 percent).

The championship was the fourth in Wake Forest history, and it represented the second time the Deacons had won back-to-back titles.

NCAA TOURNAMENT HISTORY

Ohio State 64 WF 52
Quarterfinal • Philadelphia, Pa. (The Palestra)

1939 - QUARTERFINALS

Wake Forest was one of eight teams invited to the very first NCAA Tournament in 1939. The Southern Conference champion Deacons were paired with Ohio State in the first round in Philadelphia.

Ohio State overcame a 29-23 halftime deficit to beat the Deacons, 64-52 in front of a crowd of 3,500 at The Palestra. The 116 combined points was then a Palestra single-game record.

With the score tied 39-39, Wake's top offensive threat, Jim Waller, fouled out. The Buckeyes went on to outscore the Deacons 25-13 the rest of the way.

Holy Cross 79 WF 71
Regional Semifinal • Raleigh, N.C. (Reynolds Coliseum)

WF 91 LVC 71
Consolation • Raleigh, N.C. (Reynolds Coliseum)

1953 - REGIONAL SEMIFINALS

After receiving a first-round bye, Wake Forest fell to Holy Cross, 79-71, in the 1953 East Regional semifinals in Raleigh.

The Deacons lost despite huge games from sophomore Dickie Hemric (29 points, 17 rebounds) and Jack Williams (19 points, 14 rebounds). The next night (March 14, 1953) Wake Forest beat Lebanon Valley, 91-71, in a consolation game.

Coming off their first ACC Championship, the Deacons traveled to Madison Square Garden for the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

Wake Forest overcame a 10-point halftime deficit and scored 61 second-half points to beat St. John's, 97-74. Junior Len Chappell scored 31 points and grabbed 20 rebounds and Alley Hart added 28 points, 12 boards and nine assists to lead the Deacons.

The win sent Wake to Charlotte for the East Regional, where Chappell's 24 points and 15 rebounds led the Deacons to a 78-73 win over St. Bonaventure.

St. Joseph's, however, ended the Wake Forest season, 96-86, despite 32 points and 16 rebounds by Chappell. Wake found itself down by 20 points in the first half and could never recover.

Wake Forest's run to its first Final Four in 1962 almost ended in the first round. The Deacons needed overtime to beat Ivy League champion Yale, 92-82, in Philadelphia. Chappell, who fouled out before the extra period, had 25 points and 18 rebounds and Dave Wiedeman added 22 points for the ACC champions.

In the East Regional semifinals in College Park, Md., Wake Forest gained a measure of revenge on St. Joseph's. Billy Packer scored four points in the final 18 seconds of regulation, sending the game into overtime. Wake went on to win, 96-85 behind Chappell's 34 points and 18 rebounds.

In the East Regional finals, Wake Forest overcame a two-point halftime deficit to beat Villanova, 79-69. Chappell had 22 points and 21 rebounds and Bob Woollard added 19 points and 18 boards, leading WFU to its first Final Four appearance in Louisville.

In the national semifinals, a crowd of 18,274 watched Ohio State knock off Wake Forest, 84-68. The Buckeyes were paced by John Havlicek's 25 points. Chappell had 27 points to lead Wake Forest.

Chappell scored 26 points and Packer chipped in 22 points to lead Wake past UCLA, 82-80, in the Final Four consolation game.

The Deacons sailed past Southern Illinois in the Midwest Regional semifinals, 86-81. Brown (25 points), Griffin (22 points) and Jerry Schellenberg (22 points) paced Wake Forest.

Marquette, the eventual NCAA champion, spoiled Wake's run, 82-68. The Deacs blew a four-point halftime lead and were paced by Schellenberg's 19 points.

The second round pitted the Deacons against No. 2 seed Memphis State and All-American, Keith Lee. After leading by four at intermission, the Deacons managed just 17 second-half points and fell to the Tigers, 56-55. Danny Young's last-second, potential game-winning shot fell just short of the rim.

Following a first-round bye, Wake Forest opened Midwest Regional play with a 69-59 win over Kansas in Lincoln, Neb. Kenny Green scored 20 points and Teachey pulled down 15 rebounds to lead Wake Forest.

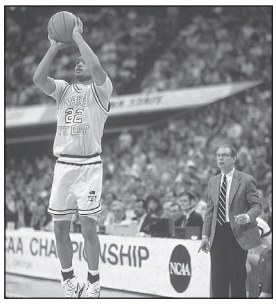

In the next round, Wake Forest posted one of the biggest wins in school history. In front of a record St. Louis Arena crowd of 20,143, Wake stunned fourth-ranked DePaul, 73-71 in overtime, concluding the career of Blue Demon head coach Ray Meyer. The Deacs rallied from an eight-point deficit in the final three minutes of regulation to send the game into OT. Young's late basket in overtime gave Wake Forest the win.

One step away from the Final Four, the Demon Deacons ran into a buzzsaw in fifth-ranked Houston. The eventual NCAA runner-up Cougars eliminated Wake Forest, 68-63.

The Deacons returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in seven years and did so in impressive fashion, joining the field as the fifth seed in the Southeast region.

Freshman Randolph Childress led Wake Forest to an opening-round, 71-65, victory over Louisiana Tech with 18 points on 6-of-11 shooting. The Deacons led by only three (66-63) with 1:14 remaining, but iced the game at the free-throw line.

Wake Forest played equally well against Alabama in the second round, but fell victim to some hot shooting from the perimeter. The Tide connected on 9-of-18 three-point attempts to pull off a 96-88 victory. Alabama's proficiency from behind the arc offset a brilliant 59 percent shooting performance by the Deacons, who were led by Chris King's 29 points.

As the ninth seed in the West region, Wake Forest was matched against Louisville and watched helplessly as the Cardinals seemingly made every shot in an 81-58 victory. The Cardinals went on a 13-3 second-half run and finished the game shooting 56 percent from the floor.

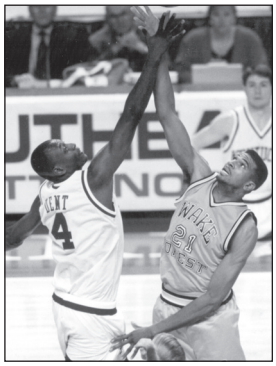

Sophomore Rodney Rogers was the bright spot for Wake Forest as he netted 21 points on 9-of-13 shooting.

Wake Forest, the fifth seed, outscrapped College of Charleston in the final minutes for a 68-58 win as Marc Blucas made two key three-point shots to put the Deacons in front to stay. An unheralded freshman named Tim Duncan led Wake with 16 points and 13 rebounds.

The Deacons were in good shape in their second-round game against Kansas, leading 49-48 with 10 minutes to play, but the Jayhawks scored 11 straight points to take control and win the game 69-58. Duncan once again led Wake Forest with 16 points and 15 rebounds.

The Deacons shot a season-high 61 percent from the field in beating North Carolina A&T 79-47 in the opening round. Then, the Deacs outlasted a pesky Saint Louis team by five points to reach the Sweet 16 for the second time in three years. Tim Duncan led the Demon Deacons with back-to-back 20-point games, scoring 21 and 25, respectively, in the first and second round.

Randolph Childress led Wake Forest into the regional semifinal against Oklahoma State and scored a team-high 22 points while Duncan grabbed 22 rebounds, but the Cowboys, who would go on to the Final Four, came away with a hard-fought 71-66 win.

Wake Forest opened its seventh straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament with high expectations as this was the final NCAA run during the Tim Duncan era. Unfortunately, the run for a title ended early.

The Deacs headed West as the No. 3 seed in the region. Their first opponent was 14th-seeded Saint Mary's. The game featured Duncan, the National Player of the Year, and the Gaels' 7-3, 345 pound "Big Continent," Brad Millard. Millard and the Gaels held the Deacs on even terms for much of the first half, but the Deacons went on to earn a 68-46 win. Duncan recorded 22 points and 22 rebounds with five blocks, the fourth time during his career he eclipsed both the 20 point/20 rebound mark.

Despite pouring in 27 points in the final eight and a half minutes of the game, Wake Forest could not overcome a 13-point deficit and lost to No. 6 seed Stanford, 72-66, in the second round. In Tim Duncan's final game as a Deacon, he poured in 18 points and pulled down 20 rebounds.

Wake was sent across the nation to Sacramento for the Midwest Regional and two games against West Coast teams. The Deacons played without injured guard Steve Lepore, and all-star forward Josh Howard was not at full speed because of an ankle injury.

Still, Wake Forest managed an impressive first-round victory over Pepperdine, 83-74. Senior Craig Dawson scored 19 points, including five three-point field goals.

Wake Forest nearly pulled off the second-round upset of 11th-ranked Oregon before falling, 92-87. The Deacons led for most of the game until Dawson left the contest in the second half with a dislocated shoulder. Oregon knotted the score at 78-78 with 5:58 remaining and never looked back. A pair of freshmen -- Eric Williams (20 points) and Justin Gray (8 assists) -- helped the Deacons hold on for a nail-biting 76-73 win over No. 15 seed East Tennessee State in the first round. Taron Downey's late three-point field goal and Josh Howard's free throws with 21 seconds left helped seal the win.

One win away from advancing to the Sweet 16, Wake Forest appeared drained from its remarkable run to the ACC regular season title when it faced upstart Auburn in the second round.

Midway through the second half, Auburn's Marquis Daniels fueled a 13-3 Tiger run, giving them a 59-56 lead with 9:22 to go. Wake Forest never recovered and went on to lose to Auburn, 68-62.

The Deacons turned in one of their worst shooting nights of the season. Wake Forest shot 36.7 percent, including just 27 percent in the second half. Freshman Justin Gray was a bright spot for the Deacons as he scored a career-high 26 points including five three-point field goals. Howard concluded his career with 14 points.

Two nights later in Raleigh, Wake Forest again avoided the upset with an 84-80 win over pesky Manhattan. Paul was the star again, scoring 29 points, grabbing eight rebounds and dishing out three assists. The win over the Jaspers sent the Deacons to the Sweet 16 and a date with 5th-ranked St. Joseph's in East Rutherford.

Despite 23 points from Justin Gray and 19 more points by Eric Williams, the Deacons couldn't get past the hot-shooting Hawks, falling 84-80. St. Joseph's, behind All-American Jameer Nelson, made 12-of-24 three-point field goal attempts.

Wake Forest, which had risen to No. 1 in the national polls earlier in the season for the first time in history, regrouped after the disappointment of not getting a No. 1 seed. The Deacons earned a No. 2 seed and were sent to Cleveland, Ohio for the opening two rounds.

Chris Paul returned from a one-game suspension and the Deacons shook off a sloppy first half for a 70-54 win over Chattanooga in the first round on March 17. Paul scored 20 points -- 13 in the second half -- and added six rebounds and five assists to pace Wake Forest. Paul made several big plays in a game-closing 32-16 run.

The second-round game against West Virginia was an "instant classic," but it didn't turn out the way Deacon faithful had hoped.

West Virginia's Mike Gansey scored a career-high 29 points, including 19 in the two overtimes, and the Mountaineers sent Wake Forest to a stunning second-round loss, 111-105.

Gansey made a free throw that tied it at 77 with 21 seconds left in regulation. The frenetic pace stretched into overtime, with neither team ahead by more than a couple of baskets. It was tied at 93 when Wake Forest center Eric Williams blocked Johannes Herber's driving layup with two seconds left in the first overtime.

Paul scored 10 points in the first overtime, then fouled out with 3:24 to go in the second. Gansey had 10 in the first overtime and nine more in the second. Wake Forest's Trent Strickland missed a 3-pointer with 29 seconds left in the second overtime, and Herber's fastbreak layup sealed it with 13 seconds to go.

However, the No. 4-seeded Deacons were blindsided by No. 13-seeded Cleveland State in the first round in Miami.

The game would be the last at Wake Forest for sophomores James Johnson and Jeff Teague, who both declared early for the NBA Draft after the season.

Pitted against No. 8-seeded Texas, who was ranked No. 1 earlier in the year, Wake needed some late game heroics to post an 81-80 defeat of the Longhorns for its first Tournament victory since 2005.

The Deacons battled back from eight points down in overtime and won the game when Ishmael Smith hit a 17-foot jumper just before time expired. Despite leading by as many as 12 in the second half, Wake Forest needed a number of clutch plays to pull off the first-round victory. Ari Stewart's three-pointer with 15 seconds left cut a four-point deficit to one, and Texas' Gary Johnson missed two ensuing free throws to set the stage for Smith's game-winner.

Smith fell three assists shy of a triple-double with 19 points, 12 rebounds and seven assists. All-American Al-Farouq Aminu turned in 20 points and 14 rebounds.

The Deacons' fifth overtime win of the season gave the team a date with No. 1 seed Kentucky, who was led by freshmen phenoms John Wall and DeMarcus Cousins. Wake Forest played UK tight early on, but Aminu picked up three fouls in the game's first 10 minutes. With the Deacons' star out of the game, the Wildcats pushed their lead to 16 by the break.

Despite playing just 21 minutes, Aminu had 16 points and eight rebounds in his final game as a Deacon.

DICKIE HEMRIC

One of the most dominating players in Wake Forest and Atlantic Coast Conference history, Dickie Hemric led the Deacons from 1952-55. He remains the all-time leading scorer and rebounder at Wake Forest. He won back-to-back conference Player of the Year awards in the ACC's first two years of existence.

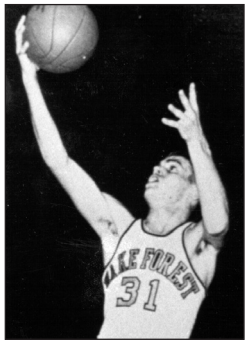

In addition, he is one of an elite class of players in NCAA history to score more than 2,000 points (2,587) and grab more than 1,000 rebounds (1,802). That career rebound total is the fifth-highest in NCAA history and his four-year totals for free throws (905) and free throw attempts (1,359) are still national records.

After concluding his career at Wake Forest, he was drafted by the Boston Celtics where he played for two seasons. His jersey No. 24 was the first to be retired by Wake Forest, and he was inducted into the WFU Hall of Fame in 1974.

JACKIE MURDOCK

Jackie Murdock was an outstanding floor leader on Demon Deacon teams of the mid-50s and one of only two players to ever lead the ACC in free throw percentage and field goal accuracy in the same season (1956).

He was named All-America and All-ACC in 1957 after earning second-team all-league recognition the preceding campaign. Accuracy from the stripe was his trademark as evidenced by the 39 straight he made one season. That record stood for two decades until Skip Brown bettered it in 1976.

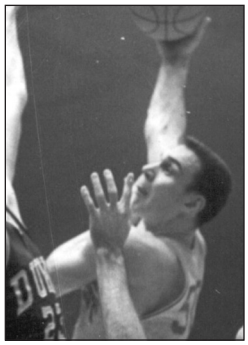

Following his playing days, he returned to Wake and served as an assistant coach under Bones McKinney. He also filled the role as head coach for a single season in 1966.

He was inducted into the WFU Hall of Fame in 1982 and was honored with the basketball team lounge being named in his honor in 1990.

LEN CHAPPELL

The first consensus All-American in Wake Forest basketball history, Len Chappell achieved that honor in 1962 when he led the Deacons to their first and only Final Four.

He was named to the NCAA all-tournament team that season after helping the Deacons to a third-place national finish. That honor followed a second straight selection as ACC Player of the Year in which he became the only player in ACC history to average more than 30 points per game for a season (30.1) in 1962.

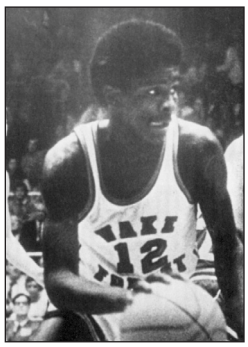

A three-time first-team all-conference performer, Chappell ranks third on the all-time Wake Forest scoring list, despite playing only three seasons, and is the school's third-leading all-time rebounder as well.

He went on to play for 10 years in the NBA before returning to Wake Forest for the retirement of his No. 50 jersey and Hall of Fame induction in 1980.

CHARLIE DAVIS

His 24.9 points per game average is the best in Deacon history and he stands seventh overall with nearly 2,000 points over three seasons (1,970). He was selected to the All-ACC first-team three consecutive years and was voted the league's Player of the Year as a senior in 1971. One of his many scoring records that still stands is his 51-point outburst against American University in old Memorial Coliseum in 1969. He also holds the Wake Forest and ACC career free throw percentage record of 87.3 percent.

Davis played with Cleveland and Portland during his NBA career and recently served as athletic director at North Carolina A&T. In addition to having his jersey retired, he was inducted into the Wake Forest Hall of Fame in 1984.

SKIP BROWN

An exciting four-year starter, Skip Brown was one of the nation's premier shooting guards during his career.

He totaled more than 2,000 points in a Demon Deacon uniform, ranking fifth on the school's all-time list with 2,034. His 846 field goals made, however, ranks first among all Demon Deacons, as does his 43 consecutive free throws made.

In addition to being an outstanding shooter, he was also a playmaker who dished out 579 career assists, second-highest at Wake Forest behind only Muggsy Bogues.

An All-Atlantic Coast Conference first-team selection as both a sophomore (1975) and senior (1977), Brown was also elected to the second team in 1976.

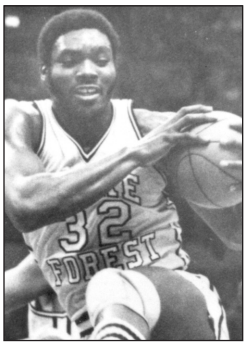

He led the Demon Deacons in scoring, field goal percentage, free throw percentage, steals and assists at least once during his career.

ROD GRIFFIN

The term power forward never fit a player better than Rod Griffin, who helped Wake Forest to the NCAA regional finals for the first time in 15 years during the 1977 season.

He was named ACC Player of the Year that season as a junior, then, was a first-team all-league pick again the following year when he obtained a rare double-double as he led the ACC in both scoring and rebounding in 1978. He is one of only two Deacs ever to accomplish that feat (Len Chappell was the other).

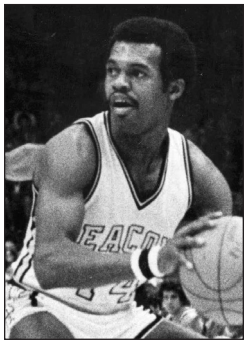

During that magical 1977 season, he topped the conference in field goal percentage with a 62.1 mark -- a Wake Forest record that still stands. He was drafted by the NBA's Denver Nuggets but enjoyed a successful professional career in Europe.

His jersey No. 32 is one of 10 that has been retired in the history of Wake Forest basketball.

FRANK JOHNSON

Frank Johnson rates as not only one of Wake Forest's top all-time players, but one of its most popular as well. Nicknamed "the Smiling Deacon" for his on-the-court personality and natural flair, he was able to achieve a number of impressive milestones.

He currently ranks 12th in career points (1,749), third in steals (204) and seventh in assists (460). All of that was achieved in 120 games and 116 starts, the second-highest total in school history behind only Tim Duncan.

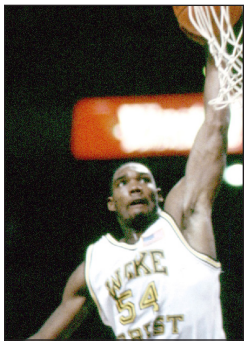

After gaining second team All-ACC honors as a sophomore and junior, he was chosen to the first-unit as a senior (1981). A first-round draft pick by the Washington Bullets later that year, he retired in 1994 after helping the Phoenix Suns win the Western Conference title and reach the NBA Finals.

He was inducted into the Wake Forest Hall of Fame in 1998.

RODNEY ROGERS

Perhaps no Deacon ever combined the qualities of power and speed as this hulking superstar who led Wake Forest to three straight NCAA appearances during his career.

Rodney Rogers started as a freshman (1991) and was named ACC Rookie of the Year, receiving 103 of 104 votes, and was a second team All-ACC pick that year. As a sophomore, he joined four seniors on the all-conference first-team, then was the only unanimous all-league selection in 1993 when he topped the ACC in scoring (21.2 ppg).

In 1993, he became the first Deacon to be chosen ACC Player of the Year since Rod Griffin. He ranks 15th all-time at Wake Forest in scoring, 16th in rebounding and fourth in field goal percentage.

Selected by the Denver Nuggets in the first round of the 1993 NBA Draft, he played 12 seasons in the league for seven teams including the Nuggets, Clippers, Suns, Celtics, Nets and Hornets. He was inducted into the WFU Sports Hall of Fame in September 2004.

RANDOLPH CHILDRESS

The 1994-95 Wake Forest basketball season will go down as one of the most exciting in school history, and Randolph Childress will be remembered as the main reason why.

His sterling performance in the ACC Tournament, which included the game-winning jumper in overtime to beat North Carolina in the title game, will forever be etched in the memory of all Deacon fans.

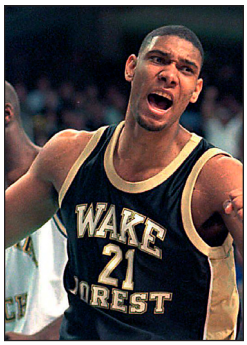

That last basket with only four seconds remaining was also significant because it broke the tournament record for total points. Childress ended with 107 points for three games, one better than Lennie Rosenbluth's mark, which had stood for 38 years.

His 2,208 career points rank second behind only Dickie Hemric's total of 2,587. In addition, Childress is the school's all-time leader in 3-point field goals and ranks sixth in ACC history with 329 3-point field goals made. He was inducted into the WFU Sports Hall of Fame in October 2011.

TIM DUNCAN

Tim Duncan is one of the most decorated players to wear the Old Gold & Black. He led Wake Forest to four straight 20-win seasons and is the winningest player in school history.

The San Antonio Spurs made him the No. 1 overall pick in the 1997 NBA Draft. In his first season he was named the NBA's Rookie of the Year, in addition to earning a spot on the All-NBA First Team. Five times he has led the Spurs to the World Championship while being named the NBA Finals MVP three times. Duncan also played in the 2004 Olympics.

In 1997, he earned first-team All-America honors for the second straight season and was the consensus National Player of the Year. During the year, he became the 10th player in NCAA history to reach the 2,000 points/1,500 rebounds plateau. His skills did not end at scoring and rebounding as he owns 481 career blocks to rank second in the NCAA annals. He recorded a block in 127 of his 128 career games and was also one of the Deacs' best passers, leading the team with 98 assists in 1997.

Duncan was inducted into the Wake Forest Sports Hall of Fame on September 27, 2008.

JOSH HOWARD

One of the most athletic and versatile players in Wake Forest history, Josh Howard was a consensus first team All-American in 2003.

Howard was named ACC Player of the Year in 2003 and was the first unanimous selection since NC State's David Thompson in 1975. He was named to several All-American teams including the Associated Press team, and he was named national player of the year by four different sources.

Howard left Wake Forest as one of just four players in the history of the ACC to accumulate 1,000 points, 500 rebounds, 200 assists, 200 steals and 100 blocked shots. Howard and Duke's Shane Battier are the only players to produce those numbers and also make 100 career three-point field goals.

After helping Wake win the 2000 NIT title, Howard led the Deacons to three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. In 2003, Wake won the ACC regular season title outright for the first time in 41 years. He was selected in the first round of the 2003 NBA Draft by the Dallas Mavericks and became a starter for the Mavericks in 2004-05.

CHRIS PAUL

In just two seasons - 2004 and 2005 - Paul led Wake Forest to new heights and established himself as one of college basketball's top players.

Paul, who grew up 10 miles from the Wake Forest campus in Lewisville (N.C.), was the ACC Rookie of the Year in 2004 after leading the Deacons to a 21-10 mark and a spot in the Sweet 16 round of the NCAA Tournament.

In 2005, Paul and the Demon Deacons won a school record 27 games and rose to No. 1 in the national polls for the first time in school history.

Paul's career free throw percentage (.838) ranks fifth in Wake Forest history. His career three-point percentage (.469) is the second-highest in Wake history. Paul also ranks ninth in school history with 395 career assists and seventh in career steals with 160.

Paul declared for the NBA Draft after his sophomore season - the first Deacon to do so since Rodney Rogers in 1993 - and was the No. 4 overall pick by the New Orleans Hornets. He was the 2006 NBA Rookie of the Year. In 2008, he finished second in voting for league MVP and won an Olympic gold medal.

JEFF TEAGUE

Jeff Teague came to Wake Forest with little fanfare but left with a ton of notoriety. After a solid freshman season in 2008-09, Teague burst onto the national scene as a sophomore and was a consensus second team All-America pick.

As a freshman, Teague was one of the top rookies in the ACC. He was named to the ACC All-Freshman Team as he averaged 13.9 points and 1.8 steals per game.

Teague became a household name the following year after dropping 30 points in a win at BYU and 34 points in Wake Forest's defeat of eventual national champion North Carolina in back-to-back January games. Teague averaged 18.8 points on the year, scoring in double figures in every game.

Teague's breakout season propelled the Deacons to a school-best 16-0 start and a No. 1 national ranking midway through the year.

Teague declared for the NBA Draft after his sophomore season, along with classmate James Johnson, and was the No. 19 overall pick by the Atlanta Hawks.

AL-FAROUQ AMINU

Al-Farouq Aminu entered Wake Forest as one of the most highly-touted recruits in program history. The 6-9 forward out of Norcross, Ga. did nothing to diminish that reputation in his two seasons as a Demon Deacon.

Aminu helped Wake Forest to consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including the school's first Tournament win in five seasons in 2010.

Aminu was one of the top freshmen in the country in 2008-09, finishing runner-up in ACC Rookie of the Year balloting. A Freshman All-American, Aminu averaged 12.9 points and 8.2 rebounds on a Wake Forest team that was ranked in the top 10 in the country for much of the season.

As a sophomore in 2009-10, Aminu proved to be a double-double machine averaging 15.8 points and 10.7 rebounds per game. The only ACC player to average a double-double, Aminu was the first Deacon since Tim Duncan to lead the ACC in rebounding.

Aminu declared for the NBA Draft after his sophomore season and was the No. 8 overall pick by the LA Clippers. He played one season in LA before being traded to New Orleans.

Aminu played for Nigeria in the 2012 London Olympics.

JOHN COLLINS

John Collins transformed from a recruit outside the top 150 of his high school class to an All-American as a sophomore during his two seasons at Wake Forest.

After a freshman season where he came off the bench to average 7.3 points and 3.9 rebounds, Collins had a breakout 2016-17 season to earn ACC Most Improved Player honors. The native of West Palm Beach, Fla., averaged 19.2 points and 9.8 rebounds per game during his sophomore season, posting 17 double-doubles while leading the Demon Deacons to their first NCAA appearance since 2010. His 20.3 scoring average in ACC play led the league. Collins led the league in field goal percentage in both conference games (63.9%) and overall (62.2%). His streak of 12 consecutive 20-point games was the longest in ACC play since NC State's T.J. Warren in 2014 and the longest by a Demon Deacon in over four decades.

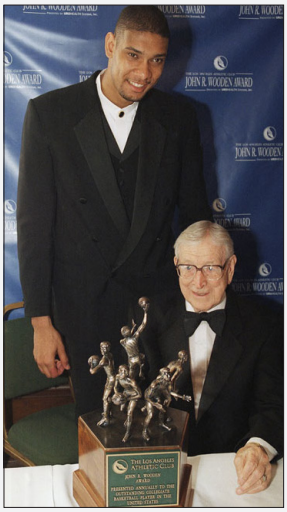

Collins was selected by the Atlanta Hawks with the No. 19 overall selection in the 2017 NBA Draft.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

Kansas City, Mo.

BILLY PACKER
Class of 2008

Billy Packer, who starred for the Demon Deacons from 1960-62, was inducted to the hall as a contributor of the game, having served as a television analyst for over three decades. From 1975 to 2008, he covered every NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournament, including serving as a broadcaster for 34 consecutive Final Fours. He was CBS' lead college basketball analyst for 28 seasons and won a Sports Emmy Award in 1993 for Outstanding Sports Personality/Analyst. He was a member of the 2008 Hall of Fame class that also included current Demon Deacon head coach Danny Manning.

TIM DUNCAN

Tim Duncan was selected to the hall's 2017 class, becoming Wake Forest's first player enshrined. A three-time All-American, he earned first-team All-America honors for the second straight season in 1997 as he was the consensus National Player of the Year. During the year, he became the 10th player in NCAA history to reach the 2,000 points/1,500 rebounds plateau. His skills did not end at scoring and rebounding as he owns 481 career blocks to rank second in the NCAA annals. He recorded a block in 127 of his 128 career games and was also one of the Deacs' best passers, leading the team with 98 assists in 1997.

DEMON DEACON DRAFT NOTES

• 14 Demon Deacons have been first-round selections, most recently John Collins who was selected No. 19 overall by the Hawks in 2017.

• In 2009, James Johnson and Jeff Teague both went in the first round of the NBA Draft. Johnson, who went 16th to the Chicago Bulls, and Teague, who went 19th to the Atlanta Hawks, became the first pair of Deacons to be taken in the first round of the same NBA Draft.

• The NBA team which has selected the most Wake Forest players is the Washington Bullets (now the Wizards). The Washington franchise has drafted four Deacons: Muggsy Bogues, Kenny Green, Frank Johnson and Jerry Schellenberg.

• Three Deacons - Tim Duncan, the first overall pick in 1997, Paul, the fourth pick in 2005, and Len Chappell, the fifth pick in 1962 - have been taken in the top five.

• Wake Forest had a record three players drafted in 1982 - Guy Morgan (2nd round), Jim Johnstone (3rd) and Mike Helms (7th).

• Six times in draft history have two Deacons been selected in the same year -- 1977, 1971, 1985, 1978, 1984, 2009.
