

The Success Lens

- This person has goals and dreams and wants to be successful.
- This person has the capacity to see their own answers.
- This person has a desire to contribute to the workplace.
- There is something about this person that I can find inspiring.
- This person deserves to be treated with dignity and respect.