

Celebrate World Water Day!

with the Champlain Basin Education Initiative

Friday, March 21, 2014

4:30 - 7:00 p.m.

ECHO Lake Aquarium and Science Center

4:30 light refreshments

5:00 Guest Speaker: Lisa Borre

A Celebration of the World's Amazing Lakes

Lisa Borre is a lake conservationist, freelance writer and avid sailor. She is a regular contributor to National Geographic's Water Currents blog and an active member of the Global Lake Ecological Observatory Network. With her husband, she co-founded LakeNet, a world lakes network.

6:00 Celebration of Student Work

We want you to enter our WATER DAY contest!
Fresh and salt water entries are welcome.

All entries are due March 19th.

Each K-12 class or homeschool group can submit one entry. Projects will celebrate the wonders and benefits of water in the Lake Champlain Basin and worldwide. Categories include:

- CELEBRATE WATER
- SPREAD THE WORD
- CITIZEN SCIENCE AND CIVIC ACTION
- ACT LOCALLY THINK GLOBALLY

Choose from several formats:
Writing, Videography, Photography and/or Art

Will your class walk away with the big award?

For more info click here

