Personally identifiable information NewPath Learning retains, among other things, personally identifying information, but may include others: your name, e-mail address, school name, street address, position, phone number, credit card information, and any other information voluntarily provided in your profile. We strongly recommend that you do not use a social security number or other important ID for this website or other website. We (and/or our agents or affiliates) may collect online and use personally identifiable information from our adult visitors: process and execute orders for products or services to improve this Site, and our company's marketing and advertising purposes related to contests, lotteries, games, surveys, forums, subscription registrations, content submissions, classroom activities, our requests for offers and visitor requests for information; and customize the content on our website for our visitors' current and future needs. In addition, this personally identifiable information may be used to provide our visitors with information about materials and activities that may be relevant to them, including newpath learning and its affiliate products or services. The information will be stored in our company because we protect the confidential information. You may choose not to provide some information, but then you may not be able to take advantage of many of our features. If there is a media notification that you no longer want to receive from us, please let us know by sending us your name, address, email address and phone number at: Opt-Out Request, NewPath Learning, 760C Canning Parkway, Victor, NY 14564 or by sending us your name, address, email address and phone number customerservice@newpathlearning.com. If you write to ask us to stop receiving a specific media report, please indicate the name of the media report. In addition, each email we send provides a link that you can click to opt out of receiving future sender emails. Public advertisers Should be reminded that any personally identifiable information that a user voluntarily posts or shares on a public website (such as an ad on Facebook or a chat room) may be collected and used by others. We cannot prevent such uses. Sharing information and disclosure Except as specifically stated in this Statement, our policy does not share personally identifiable information collected through this website with third parties, but we may share this personally identifiable information with any NewPath Learning affiliates and other companies and organizations that perform work for us under contract or sell products or services that complement our products and services. We may also disclose personally identifiable information (a) in response to a subpoena, court order or legal proceedings to the extent permitted and required by law; (b) to protect the safety of the user or the safety of others, in accordance with applicable laws; (c) selling, transferring, or otherwise transferring to some or all of NewPath's learning or NewPath Learning assets; or (d) to ensure the fulfillment of the Conditions of Use of websites. We are commercially reasonable to ensure that we do not otherwise share, disclose or sell users' personal information to third parties, unless the user agrees to it in advance. NewPath Learning can use a third-party service to collect, view pages, pages viewed, and time spent on a particular site for anonymous visitor information, such as IP addresses, browser types (such as Internet Explorer, Firefox, Chrome, and other browsers). NewPath Learning collects this information a) for statistical analysis of web page traffic patterns; (b) administer our Website and servers; (c) enable some third parties with this right to audit our services; and (d) to make marketing decisions for internal purposes. Non-personally identifiable information and cookie technologies Learning collects non-personally identifiable information using software called 'unidentifying' and through voluntary statements made by our visitors to us and/or at our request. Based on non-personally identifiable information, we provide information about our visitor browsers (such as Chrome, Firefox, Internet Explorer, and other browsers), operating systems (such as Windows or Macintosh), Internet service providers, and other similar information that we monitor in aggregated form. The non-personally identifiable information we monitor is anonymous and will never be identical to us or will take us back to any of our visitors. Cookie technology helps us find out how many people visit us and where visitors visit our website. Cookies are small bits of information we send to your computer. Among other things, this non-personally identifiable information allows us to know which areas are favourites, which areas need some improvement, or what technologies and online services our visitors use to continually improve the online experience of our visitors. NewPath Learning reserves the right to monitor your use of the Site to determine whether you comply with our terms and conditions, and at your sole discretion to terminate access to the Site. USING IP addresses We collect IP addresses to obtain aggregated information about NewPathWorksheets.com. An IP address is the number assigned to your computer by a Web server when you are on the Web. When you are on our website, we have a back server that registers your computer's IP address. We only use information that we learn from aggregate IP address tracking, such as how many users have entered a specific area of our website, rather than tracking a specific IP address to identify an individual user. However, we may use such information to identify the user if we believe that there are or may be safety and/or security concerns, or to comply with legal requirements and/or ensure that our Terms of Use are met. Security NewPath Learning ensures that all personally and non-identifying information it receives online is protected from unauthorized access. This information is stored in a secure and secure system isolated from direct connection to the Internet. This means no eyes, but our ever-seeing information that our visitors send us if we specify otherwise. We will provide personal information as required by law, for example, so that we can enforce a court order or subpoena or assist in criminal investigations. We may also provide personal information when we believe it is advisable to protect the safety and security of our websites and visitors to our websites. Why are we so safe? NewPath Learning uses secure server software on the Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) line to protect your credit card information. It encrypts all your personal and credit information to prevent this information from being read when it travels to our booking system and once is received, it is stored in a place that is not available online. Please note that in case of unauthorized use of a credit card, you must notify your credit card provider according to its reporting rules and procedures. Links to other Sites Visitors can find links from NewPathWorksheets.com to the self-owned, controlled and/or managed World Wide Web or web sites whose content we have identified that may be of interest to our visitors. The information practices of third-party websites are not covered by this Privacy Statement or any other policy or under this Site. Before using any linked website, make sure you know the terms of use and privacy policy. In most cases, but not always, relationships are collaborative projects or mutual relationships with organizations associated with these sites.
