CHICAGO UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

No More Running Away.

ARREST OF FUGITIVES.

They Must Stay at Home.

Chicago is at last under martial law and the canoes of cowards and sneak is henceforth to be stopped. Every man henceforth must stand by his post, he will be ill for it. For twenty-four hours our city has been supremacy of gall, genuine, able-bodied men shanking off for Canada like whipped curs by railroad and lake, with no provocation or stopping them. The prompt and stern action of the War Department, however, has somewhat checked the exodus, and all those who think individualism who have been packing their trunks and gathering together their stray funds for a few weeks residence in a foreign country and its desolation, might as well unpack and re-invest the money here for they have got to stay at home by the mandate of those whom it will be well to obey. The Government speaks now and says its strong hand upon every man and says "Stop! I want you!" and it will be the most excellent thing to stop moreover, for the Government is not to be trilled with. Undoubtedly many timid individuals will have to undergo a more terrible scare when the draft comes. Many sudden invasions of us may stand in danger of getting galvanized. Many loving and strongly domesticated individuals will have to forego the pleasures of seeing their grandfathers and grandmothers, who are in Detroit, Buffalo and Lockport. But then it can't be helped. We feel for them in their extremity, but can no longer abandon the species for them. They might as well take the dose gracefully, if it is bitter. They have the professional sympathy, and will indulge it for some protection of the community which is always extended to the naturally timid.

The first application of martial law has been made by Superintendent Bradley last evening, who made a despatch on the eastern bound train and told the hour of starting and an arrest of fugitives, who were bound mainly for Detroit. They were all taken to the police office and examined. The following is a list of them with the amount of money found upon them, etc. These marked with an asterisk were discharged all right:

Patrick Mahoney $4.45
Patrick Dolan 3.00
Patrick Dolan 1.50
Frank Mitchell 0.45
Anne C. Moore 0.18
James Moriarty 0.25
James Moriarty 0.25
Thomas Halon 0.25
E. S. Warren 0.25
Edward Horsey 0.25
A. W. Barry 0.25
William Kinney 0.25
Earnest Norrill 0.25
William Long 0.25
William Mackay 0.25
E. S. Warren 0.25
Edward Horsey 0.25
Henry D. Harrison 0.25
James Conroy 0.25

From the above, it will be seen that the individuals have provided themselves with just funds enough to last until after the draft. Those who are not started in the above list are as follows in confinement: C. P. Bradley is seeing Provost Marshal until one shall be appointed. Hereafter no one can leave the city for the East without a pass. All of the roads and outlets will be strictly watched, and parties are already stationed at points outside the city where connections could in any wise be made.

The authority under which Superintendent Bradley acts may be found in a telegraphic dispatch upon our first page from the War Department, a presage of which we cordially recommend to all who had intended leaving here. They had better not set down by their friends and chew the ends of sweet content. The expected regulations to be adopted are we are not authorized to give, owing to the lateness at which the dispatch was received, but we shall, un- doubtedly be enabled to publish them in our next issue for the benefit of our readers.
