The 2009 WCC Baseball Season At A Glance

* The West Coast Conference ended the season ranked in the top half of the NCAA RPI rankings, coming in at No. 11, finishing ahead of the Western Athletic (WAC) and Big Ten conferences ... Gonzaga University received the WCC's only bid to the NCAA Tournament by virtue of winning the WCC Baseball Championship Series against Loyola Marymount. The regular season and championship series title were the first in program history as the Zags finished ranked 22nd in the country according to Baseball America ... Half of the WCC schools finished with even or winning records against nationally ranked non-conference opponents, led by LMU, who finished with a 6-2 record ... Saint Mary's Troy Channing finished a historical year by becoming just the third player in conference history to win the Triple Crown. Channing led all freshmen in the country in home runs and RBI per game on his way to earning numerous accolades including being named to NCBWA and Baseball America All-America teams, the Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America team and being named a finalist for the Dick Howser Trophy as well as the WCC Freshman of the Year ... The WCC had 24 players chosen in the MLB First Year Player Draft, the second most in league history, led by LMU's Angelo Songco, who was picked in the 4th round (127th overall) ... Songco was also a semi-finalist for the Golden Spikes Award ... The WCC had numerous players on preseason watch lists, including four pitchers on the Stopper of the Year list and eight players on the Wallace Award Watch list ... Four players were also placed on the 2009 CoSida Academic All District VII Team, the most of any conference in the district ... San Diego's James Meador won the Player of the Year award after leading the league in hits and batting average during WCC play.

Gonzaga won the program's first ever regular season and championship series title in 2009.

WCC in the College World Series

The WCC has been represented four times at the College World Series since the event began in 1947. Santa Clara was the first league squad to play for the NCAA title in Omaha, as the Broncos rebounded from a loss in their first game to reel off four straight wins and reach the 1962 championship game. Santa Clara, who was led by the CWS Most Outstanding Player in pitcher Bob Garibaldi, played three extra inning contests in the College World Series including a 15-inning loss to Michigan in the title game. Pepperdine made its first College World Series appearance in 1979, finishing in third place by winning three straight games before falling in the semifinals. The WCC enjoyed some of its greatest baseball success in the late 1980's and early 1990's, and LMU began the period with its first College World Series appearance in 1986. Led by several future Major Leaguers, the Lions achieved a No. 1 national ranking on April 22 of that season and went on to represent the WCC at Rosenblatt Stadium. Pepperdine capped off the era with the conference's first-ever national championship in baseball, claiming the College World Series title in 1992. The Waves reeled off four straight victories in Omaha, including a 3-2 triumph over Cal State Fullerton in the championship game.

WCC Championship Series

In its first decade, the WCC Championship Series has provided fans with exciting moments that have highlighted the best of West Coast Conference baseball. Since its inception, six players that participated in Championship Series events have gone on to reach the Major Leagues, while eight players have earned the distinction of being selected in the first round of the annual Major League Baseball Draft. In all, 16 WCC baseball teams have advanced to the NCAA Tournament since the conference instituted a two-division alignment in 1999. The league returned to a single division format prior to the 2006 season, but retained the Championship Series, pitting the top two teams in the conference standings against one another.

WCC in the Major Leagues/MLB Draft

Twenty-four WCC players were selected in the 2009 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in June, led by LMU Lions Angelo Songco (Dodgers) and Ryan Wheeler (Diamondbacks), who were taken in the fourth (127th overall) and fifth rounds (156th overall) respectively. The total marked the second highest number of WCC players chosen, behind the 27 selected in 2007. In all, seven of the eight schools had at least one player chosen with Gonzaga leading the way with five players, followed closely behind by LMU, Saint Mary's, and San Diego who had four each.

WCC/Rawlings 40th Anniversary Team

In honor of the West Coast Conference celebrating its 40th season of sponsoring the sport of baseball, the conference office announced the selection of the WCC/Rawlings 40th Anniversary Baseball Team prior to the 2007 campaign. The ceremonial team consists of 40 of the top players that have graced West Coast Conference baseball diamonds over the past four decades. Only individuals from the league's current membership were eligible for selection, with primary focus placed on each player's collegiate accomplishments. The WCC/Rawlings 40th Anniversary Baseball Team was selected by a 30-member voting panel comprised of WCC administrators, league institutions, national collegiate baseball writers, and local media members.

The WCC/Rawlings 40th Anniversary Baseball Team features an impressive collection of past collegiate standouts from the conference's eight member institutions. Included on the list of honorees are 24 players that received WCC Player or Pitcher of the Year recognition during their collegiate careers, 27 All-Americans, 11 Freshman All-Americans, and two Academic All-Americans. Highlighting the compilation are 23 players that have played baseball at the Major League level, including Pepperdine alum and 1986 National League Cy Young Award winner Mike Scott, as well as former Gonzaga standout and 2004 National League Rookie of the Year Jason Bay. WCC/Rawlings 40th Anniversary Baseball Team athletes have combined to make seven Major League Baseball All-Star Game appearances, and seven players that participated in MLB games during the 2006 season are included on the list.

Baseball was originally established as a WCC sport in 1968, and five conference institutions (LMU, Pepperdine, Saint Mary's, San Francisco, and Santa Clara) were charter members of the league along with three associates. The conference temporarily split from 1977-84, as WCC teams competed in the Northern California Baseball Association (NCBA) and the Southern California Baseball Association (SCBA) before resuming WCC play in 1985 along with San Diego and Nevada. The Wolf Pack left the conference in 1991, creating a six-team loop until 1996 when long time conference members Gonzaga and Portland joined the circuit for baseball, bringing the league to its full compliment of teams. West Coast Conference teams have combined to earn 61 selections to the NCAA Tournament, with teams making four appearances at the College World Series. Pepperdine earned the league's first-ever national championship in baseball, claiming the College World Series crown in 1992.
