West Coast Conference Tradition

When the West Coast Conference first got its start back in 1952, the founders really had only one goal in mind...to create a convenient way for five Bay Area schools to play basketball. Now, 56 years later, a marvelously cohesive athletics league, which is competitive at the national level in 13 sports, is entering 31 seasons under its present eight-team mix. The current alignment of Gonzaga, LMU, Pepperdine, Portland, Saint Mary's, San Diego, San Francisco and Santa Clara has remained unchanged since 1979, making the WCC the third most stable conference in the nation. Only the Ivy League and Pacific-10 Conference have been together longer.

The league was chartered by five Bay Area institutions (San Francisco, Saint Mary's, Santa Clara, San Jose State and Pacific) as the California Basketball Association, playing its first game on January 2, 1953. After two seasons of play under that name, the conference expanded to include Loyola Marymount and Pepperdine in 1955, and became the "West Coast Athletic Conference" in 1956. The name was shortened in 1989.

The men's basketball circuit is long on history, ranging from the Bill Russell-led San Francisco national champions in 1955 and '56 to high-octane Loyola Marymount which set the current NCAA single season scoring record in 1990. West Coast Conference teams have also forged an excellent tradition in sports beyond the basketball arena, becoming one of the nation's premier conferences in men's and women's soccer and volleyball, while also producing national champions in baseball and tennis.

National Champions

2002 Portland & Santa Clara Women's Soccer

From San Francisco's collegiate basketball dominance of the mid-1950's to the unprecedented championship run of the Portland and Santa Clara women's soccer teams in the 21st century, West Coast Conference institutions have combined to capture 26 NCAA Division I team and individual championships. The WCC has enjoyed some of its greatest national success in recent years as conference programs won a record two national titles (Pepperdine men's tennis, Portland women's soccer) during the 2005-06 school year, while league teams have claimed three of the last eight NCAA women's soccer crowns. In all, the eight WCC institutions have combined to capture 36 team and individual national crowns.

Campuses

The eight WCC member institutions span the western coast of the United States from Canada to Mexico. From the pine forests of Eastern Washington to the Columbia River Basin, from the dynamic San Francisco Bay Area to the sun drenched beaches of Southern California, the West Coast Conference is characterized by the stability of its membership and its unique emphasis on combining exceptional athletics with excellence in academics. The combined result sets the Conference apart on the national scene and draws the individual institutions together in a common mission. The long and rich history of the WCC demonstrates that success in intercollegiate athletics can be built on the foundation of values, character, and academics.

Academic Success & Community Service

The West Coast Conference is dedicated to providing an opportunity for student-athletes to achieve their fullest potential both on the playing field and in the classroom. The Conference reflects the member institutions' recognition of the interrelationship of student-athletes' intellectual, spiritual, emotional, cultural, social, and physical needs.

Student-athletes from WCC institutions have the opportunity to use the values, work ethic and leadership skills learned through athletics to positively influence others in the community. In 2009, the WCC and its member institutions donated over 5,000 pairs of shoes to elementary school students of the Clark Country school district at the 2009 WCC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships in Las Vegas. Personal and social development are just some of the benefits afforded to student-athletes from participating in community service projects, and the outreach effort made by the eight conference institutions continues to grow each year.

2009-10 WCC Preseason Poll

Gonzaga Selected As Favorite In 2009-10 WCC Men's Basketball Preseason Coaches Poll

Gonzaga University was selected as the favorite to capture an unprecedented 10th consecutive West Coast Conference men's basketball regular season title in the 2009-10 WCC Preseason Coaches Poll. The Zags received six first place votes and tallied 48 points to narrowly edge out the University of Portland, which received the remaining two first place votes and collected 44 overall points. Saint Mary's College was picked third with 34 overall points, followed by the University of San Francisco and Santa Clara University, which tied for fourth with 26 points. Rounding out this year's poll is the University of San Diego in sixth place with 21 points, followed by Pepperdine University in seventh place with 13 points, and Loyola Marymount University in eighth place with 12.

Gonzaga enters the season having won nine consecutive WCC regular season titles, marking the longest active conference title winning streak in the nation. The Zags streak is also tied for the fourth longest streak in NCAA Division I history, knotting the Bulldogs with the University of Kentucky, which won nine straight Southeastern Conference crowns from 1944-52. If Gonzaga does indeed capture its 10th WCC regular season title, the Zags would tie Connecticut (1951-1960 - Yankee Conference) and UNLV (1983-92 - Big West Conference) for the second longest streak in NCAA Division I history. UCLA owns the longest streak with 13 consecutive Pacific-10 Conference titles (1967-79).

The Zags will have a different look this season as 11th-year head coach Mark Few welcomes in seven newcomers and 10 players who have never played a minute of collegiate basketball. The Zags will have a few familiar faces to lead them this season, headlined by senior guard Matt Bouldin, a 2009 All-WCC and National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) All-District 9 first-team selection. Bouldin, a 2009-10 John R. Wooden Award Pre-Season Top 50 Watch List member, is one of the most versatile players in the country, averaging 13.6 ppg, 4.1 rpg, and handing out 3.4 apg. Bouldin is joined by junior guard Steven Gray, sophomore point guard Demetri Goodson, redshirt sophomore center Robert Sacre, and senior center Will Foster. Gray, who made 11 starts last season, averaged 9.1 ppg, to go along with 3.2 rpg, and 2.1 apg, while Goodson hit one of the most memorable shots of the 2009 NCAA Tournament to send Gonzaga to the Sweet Sixteen. Sacre, 7-0, and Foster, 7-5, give Gonzaga size up front.

The Pilots return their top 12 players from last year's team, which finished 19-13 overall, third place in the WCC standings and advanced to the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT), marking the first postseason appearance for the program since 1996. Four Pilots earned All-WCC awards last season, tying for the most in school history. Senior point guard T.J. Campbell shared WCC Newcomer of the Year honors with Santa Clara's Kevin Foster. Campbell was joined on the 10-player All-WCC First Team by senior guard Nik Raivio, while junior guard Jared Stohl and senior forward Robin Smeulders were honorable mention selections.

Saint Mary's, coming off a school-record 28 wins, will look toward returning starters Omar Samhan, Wayne Hunter and Mickey McConnell to lead the squad this season. Samhan, who is a fifth-year senior, enjoyed a standout junior season in which he averaged 14.1 ppg and 9.4 rpg, en route to All-WCC first team honors.

The Dons and the Broncos return two of the best players in the league. San Francisco will be led by senior forward Dior Lowhorn, who has paced the conference in scoring in each of the last two seasons, while Santa Clara returns sophomore guard Kevin Foster, who was named the WCC Co-Newcomer of the Year in his rookie season.

San Diego, Pepperdine, and Loyola Marymount round out this year's poll and each team landed a player on the preseason all-conference team. The Toreros welcome senior guard Brandon Johnson, who was granted a medical redshirt last season, while the Waves and the Lions bring back sophomore guards Keion Bell and Jarred Dubois to lead them in 2009-10.

WCC Tournament To Remain In Las Vegas Through 2012

On July 22, 2009, the West Coast Conference and the Orleans Arena announced a three-year contract extension that will keep the WCC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships in Las Vegas through 2012. The extension comes after the West Coast Conference sold out the Orleans Arena for the 2009 WCC Basketball Championships.

"I am very pleased that the West Coast Conference and The Orleans Arena have agreed to extend our partnership for the next three years," said Jamie Zaninovich, Commissioner of the West Coast Conference. "Thanks to the efforts of The Orleans management and staff, our 2009 basketball championship was an overwhelming success and we expect to improve upon the experience for our student-athletes, coaches and fans with this contract extension."

The 2009 championship, which was the WCC's first-ever at a neutral site, set conference records for both total championship attendance (33,320) and single session championship attendance (7,845).

Gonzaga's Matt Bouldin Named 2010 John R. Wooden Award Preseason Top 50

Gonzaga University senior guard Matt Bouldin has been named to the 2009-10 preseason candidates for the John R. Wooden Award All-American Team and Player of the Year trophy. Bouldin started 33 of 34 games a year ago, his only non-start coming on Senior Night. He averaged 13.6 ppg, 4.1 rpg, 3.4 apg and shot 49.1 percent from the field, going 156-for-318. The native of Highlands Ranch, Colo., has 1,169 career points to rank 22nd on the all-time Gonzaga list. His 312 career assists 124 career steals both rank eighth on the GU charts. He has started 85 of his 100 career appearances. Bouldin was named to the All-West Coast Conference and National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) All-District 9 first-team. He also shot 42.3 percent from 3-point range, connecting on 55-of-130 from long range. Eleven conferences are represented on the Wooden Award Preseason List. Leading the way is the Big East (11), followed by the ACC (10), Big 10 (8), SEC (7), Big 12 (6), Pac-10 (3), and Atlantic 10, CAA, Horizon, WAC and West Coast with one apiece.

Three WCC Teams Advance To The Postseason For Second Straight Season

For just the sixth time in conference history and the second consecutive season, three West Coast Conference men's basketball teams advanced to the postseason. Gonzaga, the WCC regular season and conference tournament champion, earned the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

The Zags defeated Akron in the first round before edging Western Kentucky in the second round to advance to the Sweet Sixteen in one of the most memorable games of the tournament, before falling to eventual National Champion North Carolina.

Saint Mary's was a No. 2 seed in the NIT and advanced to the quarterfinals with a thrilling win over Stephen Curry and Davidson in the second round.

Portland earned an invitation to the inaugural Collegeinsider.com Tournament, marking the first time since the 1996 season that the Pilots advanced to the postseason.

Zappos.com Named Title Sponsor of the WCC Men's And Women's Basketball Championships

The West Coast Conference (WCC) and its multi-media rights partner, IMG College, announced Zappos.com as the official title sponsor of the WCC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships. The three-year deal, effective through the 2011-12 season, marks the WCC's first-ever title sponsorship.

"We are thrilled to welcome Zappos.com to the West Coast Conference team as the title sponsor for our conference basketball championships," said Jamie Zaninovich, Commissioner, West Coast Conference. "We have found the perfect partner for our most high profile event thanks to the efforts of IMG College. It was clear from our first meeting with Zappos.com management that they shared a common vision for growing our Las Vegas- based basketball championship."

"Zappos.com is excited to be the title sponsor of this great event," said Alfred Lin, Chairman & CFO/COO, Zappos.com. "The WCC and its institutions always put on a highly competitive tournament and the energy and buzz it generates can be felt not only in Las Vegas, but around the country. Zappos and the Conference share a belief that anything is possible with enough passion and determination. It's what drives us a company to continually up our own game from selling shoes to becoming a leading online retailer with a wide variety of products."

In addition to its financial sponsorship, the WCC and Zappos.com will partner with Soles4Souls to challenge each West Coast Conference campus to collect the most shoes from December to the end of the conference basketball season. The gently used shoes will be distributed internationally through Soles4Souls to individuals in need.

New shoes, donated by Soles4Souls and Zappos.com, will be delivered to at-risk youth from the Clark County School District and the After School All-Star program in Las Vegas during the WCC Women's Basketball Championship Final.

WCC Live To Cover Men's Hoops Season

This season, the West Coast Conference introduced a new internet based radio show called "WCC Live" to be hosted by veteran play-by-play announcer, Jeff Lampe. The show will feature interviews with coaches and players from around the league as well as special guests throughout the year. In addition, fans will be able to participate by dialing in to ask questions of the guests by calling 646-378-1311, submitting questions via a live chat feature or by emailing questions to WCCLive@ymail.com. As each episode approaches, we will list the upcoming guests here as well as have an audio player you can use to listen to previous episodes of the show.

Welcome Back

The WCC should be primed for another big season as the conference welcomes back five players who earned All-WCC first team honors last season. In addition, San Diego welcomes back 2008 All-WCC first team member Brandon Johnson, who used a medical redshirt last season. Below is a list of the returning All-WCC first team members and their relevant stats.

Gonzaga Head Coach Mark Few

Gonzaga University head coach Mark Few continues to engineer what has evolved into not only one of the top men's basketball programs on the West Coast but one of the elite programs in the nation.

Since 1992, Few's first year as a full-time assistant coach with the Bulldogs, Gonzaga has compiled a record of 433-140 record for a .756 winning percentage – Best in the West. UCLA (.719) is the only other West Coast school to crack the .700 plateau. In his 10 seasons as a head coach, he has posted a 264-66 record for a stunning .800 winning percentage, making him one of only two active coaches with a winning percentage of 80.0 percent or better. Roy Williams of the University of North Carolina sits atop the list at .814

A 10-year Gonzaga assistant head coach, Few was named head coach on July 26, 1999. Since Few arrived on the Gonzaga staff, the Bulldogs have produced 56 All-West Conference selections, 10 WCC Player of the Year recipients and six Academic All-Americans. Under his direction, Gonzaga has won 10 consecutive WCC regular season titles, eight WCC Tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA Tournament every season.

LMU By The Numbers

25: Max Good, who officially took over the reins of the program on Jan. 12, 2009, is the 25th head coach in LMU history. 4: Coach Good will have the benefit of returning the Lions' top four scorers from last season. 417: Sophomore guard Jarred DuBois scored an LMU freshman record 417 points last season en route to All-WCC freshman team honors. DuBois' fantastic freshman season was highlighted by a 39-point effort in the Lions' win over CS Bakersfield. His 39 points set a new LMU freshman single-game scoring record and were the most by any WCC player last season. 3: Sophomore forward Kevin Young enjoyed a standout first season with the Lions, setting three new LMU freshman records (rebounds - 224; blocks - 34; steals - 51), while ranking third on the team in scoring (9.1 ppg). 16: A mid-season foot injury limited guard Vernon Teel to just 16 games last season. The junior guard was able to return to the Lions' lineup near the end of the season and ended the year as LMU's top scorer with 14.6 ppg and second-leading rebounder with 5.3 rpg. 8.2: Tim Diederichs, who averaged 8.2 ppg as a freshman in 2007-08, should be fully recovered from a shoulder injury which sidelined him last season.

Loyola Marymount Head Coach Max Good

Good, who officially took over the program as the 25th coach in school history on Jan. 12, 2009, is in his second season leading the Lions and is no stranger to running a program. This is his 18th season as a head coach at the NCAA level, coaching eight seasons at Bryant College (2001-08) prior to joining LMU. He also coached at UNLV for one season (2000-01) and eight seasons at Eastern Kentucky University (1981-89). In addition, his impact hasn't been just at the college level as he was the head coach at the New England prep school Maine Central Institute in Pittsfield, Maine, for 10 seasons (1990-00).

Good coached 28 of the Lions' 31 games in the 2008-09 season, filling in for former Head Coach Bill Bayno, who served a leave of absence before resigning due to health issues. Good led the Lions despite a limited roster of just seven healthy scholarship players and a non-conference schedule ranked as high as 47 in the RPI. Good had an NCAA head coaching record of 241-224 prior to this season at LMU and now has a record of 245-248 heading into the 2009-10 season.

Prior to joining the Lions as an assistant, Good led Bryant University (Smithfield, RI) to new levels of success, posting a record of 132-86 in eight seasons. Good came to Bryant after spending the 2000-01 season as the head coach of UNLV. He went on to post a record of 13-9 in his one season with the Runnin' Rebels. He joined the UNLV staff in 1999-00 as an assistant.

Pepperdine By The Numbers

11: The Waves welcome back 11 letterwinners overall, marking the most returning lettermen in program history. Those 11 players account for 82.5% of last year's scoring, 88.3% of the rebounds, 65.4% of the assists, 95.0% of the blocked shots, and 77.2% of the steals. 0: Of Pepperdine's 12 returning letterwinners, zero are seniors. 5: Pepperdine returns its top five point-scorers from a year ago (four were freshmen and the other was a sophomore). 8: The Waves will be looking for a great deal of growth out of their eight sophomores. Last year as freshmen most of them played a key role, accumulating more than half of the team's total points (57.4%, 1133/1974). 12.9: Headlining the list of returners is sophomore guard Keion Bell, who led the Waves in scoring last season with 12.9 ppg. Bell became the first player since 2002-03 to lead the team in scoring, assists (2.2) and steals (1.5). He was named to the All-WCC freshman team and was Pepperdine's only player to average double-figures in points for the season. 6.1: Sophomore forward Taylor Darby emerged as one of the top young rebounders in the WCC, ranking ninth in the conference with 6.1 rpg.

Pepperdine Head Coach Tom Asbury

The architect of one of the most successful stretches in Pepperdine men's basketball history, Tom Asbury is now in his second stint in charge of the Waves' program. The 2009-10 campaign will mark his eighth season overall as head coach in Malibu and second time around.

Asbury was at Pepperdine for 15 seasons, the first nine as an assistant coach (1980-88) and then the next six as the head coach (1989-94). He then served as head coach at Kansas State from 1995-2000 and was most recently an assistant coach at Alabama from 2004-07. He has a 210-147 (.588) record in 12 seasons as a college head coach.

Asbury went 125-59 (.679) in his six seasons with the Waves, posting four 20-win seasons, including a high of 24 wins in 1991-92, a season in which Pepperdine also went a perfect 14-0 in the WCC. In fact, Pepperdine established a conference record by winning 32 consecutive league games from 1991-93 (38 straight including WCC Tournament games).

The Waves went to the postseason five times in six years with three NCAA Tournament appearances (1991, '92, '94) and two berths in the NIT (1989, '93). Pepperdine won three regular-season WCC titles, finished no worse than second in any of his six seasons and compiled a league record of 66-18 (.786). Pepperdine's only three WCC Tournament championships have come under Asbury.

Portland Head Coach Eric Reveno

Eric Reveno was named head coach of the University of Portland men's basketball program in April 2006, becoming the 20th coach in Pilots history. Reveno comes to Portland after an impressive nine-year stint at Stanford University, where he served as an assistant coach under Mike Montgomery for seven years and was promoted to associate head coach during the 2004-05 season with new head coach Trent Johnson.

Reveno was named the 2009 WCC and District 9 Coach of the Year after leading the Pilots to a 19-13 record and invitation to the inaugural CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT). It marked a 10-win improvement from 2008, was the most wins in a season for Portland, and the program's first postseason appearance since 1996. The Pilots also finished third in the WCC standings (9-5) and tied the school record for league wins. Portland posted its first win over a ranked opponent (84-66 over #18 Saint Mary's) since 1981.

Reveno played in 116 games during his four-year playing career at Stanford (1985-87, 89), including 30 games as a starter during his senior season in 1988-89. A two-time team captain, Reveno averaged 9.4 points and 5.1 rebounds per game as a senior and helped lead the Cardinal to a 26-7 record, a 15-3 mark in the Pac-10, and a No. 12 national ranking.

Saint Mary's Head Coach Randy Bennett

Randy Bennett, the 2008 Co-WCC Coach of the Year, took over as the head men's basketball coach prior to the 2001-02 season and in eight years as the head coach at Saint Mary's College, he's brought the excitement back to the program. In those eight years, he has become the school's all-time wins leader with 155 coaching victories and is the only coach in the 100-years of the program to lead two teams to the NCAA Tournament.

The 2008-09 season marked a memorable year for Saint Mary's as Bennett guided the team to a record 28 wins with a 28-7 overall record. The Gaels were ranked in the top-25 in both the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll and the Associated Press Polls for numerous weeks and SMC opened the year with an 18-1 record to set the record for the best start in school history. The Gaels also set a school record with a 15 game winning streak.

In the past five seasons, Bennett has led Saint Mary's to a 112-50 record and has averaged 22.4 wins during that span. In addition, he's led SMC to the semifinals of the WCC Tournament in each of his six seasons, which include WCC Tournament final appearances in 2004, 2005, and 2009.

San Diego By The Numbers

5: San Diego should be bolstered by the return of senior guard Brandon Johnson, who was granted a fifth year of eligibility after suffering a season-ending injury when he ruptured his Achilles tendon just eight games into the 2008-09 season. Johnson, one of the top guards on the West Coast, was leading the team in scoring (13.5 ppg), assists (3.6) and steals (1.6) before suffering his injury. 1,385: Johnson enters the season ranked fifth on the Toreros' all-time scoring list with 1,385 career points, and is just 340 points behind leader and former teammate Gyno Pomare (1,725 points). 40: Johnson is just 40 assists shy of surpassing David Fizdale (1992-96) as the Toreros' all-time assists leader. Johnson, who has 425 career assists, could become the only player in WCC history to become his school's career scoring and assists leader. 2: USD welcomes back two players who started at least 20 games last season in De'Jon Jackson and Matt Dorr. Jackson, who started 22 games, averaged 8.9 ppg and 3.0 rpg, while Dorr, who made 20 starts, chipped in 6.5 ppg and 3.7 rpg in his first season with the Toreros. 42: Dorr knocked down a team-best 42 threes last season, shooting .396 from beyond the arc (42-106).

In his first season at the helm of the Torero program, Grier led Torero basketball to heights never reached before. USD became the first San Diego Division I team to win an NCAA Tournament contest when it handed No. 4 seed Connecticut a 70-69 overtime loss on March 21st. Following a hard-fought second round loss to Western Kentucky, USD closed out its season with an overall record of 22-14, including a 15-4 mark following the start of league. The Toreros' posted an 11-3 WCC finish, good for 3rd place, in 2007-08 and followed that by capturing the WCC Tournament title with wins over Pepperdine, Saint Mary's and No. 20 Gonzaga. In addition to its outstanding road win over the Kentucky Wildcats at Rupp Arena in late December 2008, the Toreros combined to knock off three top-20 teams (Saint Mary's, Gonzaga and UConn).

Prior to his arrival at USD, Grier was at Gonzaga University for 16 years, the last eight as top assistant to head coach Mark Few. Overall with Grier as an assistant coach, the Bulldogs combined for an overall record of 381-126; won 11 regular-season WCC championships; won nine WCC Tournament titles (33-7 WCC tournament record); advanced to nine consecutive NCAA Tournaments, and 10 overall, including four Sweet 16 appearances and the 1999 Elite Eight.

Kwame Vaughn
Sophomore
6'3" Guard

Did You Know? Kwame Vaughn turned in a solid first season on the Hilltop, ranking fifth among all WCC freshmen in scoring with 10.8 points per game.

Blake Wallace
Senior
6'6" Forward

Did You Know? Blake Wallace reached double digit scoring in 11 games last season, including 19 points on 6-of-9 shooting against No. 19 Gonzaga.

Dior Lowhorn, SR, F

Did You Know? Dior Lowhorn matched USF legend and Naismith Hall-of-Famer Bill Russell as the fastest USF player to 1,000 career points, accomplishing the milestone at in his 49th game in the Green and Gold.

San Francisco Head Coach Rex Walters

In his first season at USF, Walters took over a full blown rebuilding project with just six returning letter-winners and two starters returning. Despite the challenges, Walters directed the Dons to a 5-1 start - the best for the Green and Gold since 1999-00 - and directed USF to its first winning non-conference season since 2004-05.

Coach Walters came to USF from Florida Atlantic University. In his first season at the helm, Walters guided Florida Atlantic to its second consecutive winning season. It was the first time the program posted back-to-back winning campaigns since the team had three straight years of winning basketball from 1989-90 to 1991-92.

In 2006-07, the Owls won 10 Sun Belt Conference games, the third-most for a first-year Sun Belt member. The team also set a program scoring record, averaging 74.9 points per game. Two of Walters' student-athletes were named Second Team All-Sun Belt, the first student-athletes honored with a major postseason distinction under his direction. The Owls were 15-18 and 8-10 in Sun Belt Conference play in 2007-08.

Prior to Florida Atlantic, Walters' first collegiate coaching job came at Valparaiso, a two-year stint as an assistant under Homer Drew. The 2003-04 Hornets were 18-13 overall and advanced to the NCAA Tournament after capturing the Mid-Continent Conference with a record of 11-5.

Santa Clara Head Coach
Kerry Keating

Kerry Keating enters his third season with his youngest team with no seniors and 10 underclassmen. Keating led the Broncos to 16 wins last season and a trip to the WCC Tournament semi-finals. In addition to John Bryant being named the WCC Player of the Year, Kevin Foster was named the WCC Newcomer of the Year. Three Broncos were named to the WCC All-Freshman team with the trio breaking 10 Bronco freshmen records.

Keating came to Santa Clara after serving for four seasons as an assistant coach at UCLA, helping the Bruins to Final Four appearances in 2006 and 2007.

Keating's first Bronco team won 15 games in 2007-08, finishing fourth in the WCC as the eight-team league sent a record three teams to the 2008 NCAA Tournament.

While at UCLA, Keating made a name for himself as one of the top recruiters in the nation as well as one of the most technologically innovative assistant coaches in college basketball. He spent the previous four seasons as an assistant coach under Ben Howland, helping lead the Bruins to back-to-back Final Four appearances in 2006 and 2007. He helped lead the Bruins to three NCAA Tournament appearances and a 91-41 record.

Keating spent two seasons at Tennessee (2001-03) under Buzz Peterson, helping the Volunteers land top-ranked recruiting classes. In 2002-03, Tennessee was 17-12 overall and advanced to the first round of the NIT.

Prior to Tennessee, Keating spent stints at Tulsa, Appalachian State, Vanderbilt, and Seton Hall as an assistant coach.

Three WCC Teams Compete In Postseason Play

Three WCC men's basketball teams advanced to the postseason. Gonzaga, the WCC's automatic qualifier, earned its 10th straight trip to the NCAA Tournament, advancing all the way to the Sweet Sixteen. Saint Mary's, the WCC regular season and WCC Tournament runner-up, advanced to the NIT, reaching the quarterfinals, while Portland, which finished third in the WCC regular season standings, played in the inaugural CollegeInsider.com Tournament.

Gonzaga Captures 2009 WCC Tournament Title

Junior Matt Bouldin scored 14 points for the relentless Zags, who followed up their perfect regular-season conference slate with two wins in the tournament. Downs was named the WCC Tournament MVP after back-to-back standout performances. Downs opened the tournament with 18 points on 7-of-9 shooting in the Bulldogs' 94-59 win over SCU. He followed that up with a double-double, scoring 12 points and grabbing a game-high 12 rebounds in the Zags' win over Saint Mary's in the championship game.

WCC Tournament 24th Annual

WCC Tournament To Stay in Las Vegas Through 2012

The West Coast Conference will return to Las Vegas in 2010 for the Zappos.com WCC Basketball Championships on March 5-8 at the Orleans Arena.

The West Coast Conference made a successful debut in Las Vegas last year when it sold out the Orleans Arena for the 2009 WCC Basketball Championships. The 2009 championship, which was the WCC's first-ever at a neutral site, set conference records for both total championship attendance (33,320) and single session championship attendance (7,845).

In conjunction with the success, the WCC made two major announcements relating to the basketball championships in the off-season. The WCC first signed a three-year extension with the Orleans Arena to keep the event in Las Vegas through 2012.

The West Coast Conference (WCC) and its multi-media rights partner, IMG College, later announced Zappos.com as the official title sponsor of the WCC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships. The three-year deal, effective through the 2011-12 season, marks the WCC's first-ever title sponsorship.

The Orleans Arena will be the site of the WCC Men's and Women's Basketball Championships through 2012.

WCC Commissioner Jamie Zaninovich

Jamie Zaninovich was named just the second full time Commissioner of the West Coast Conference on March 9, 2008. Zaninovich, who was selected to lead the conference by the league's eight school presidents, previously served as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Relations at Princeton University.

In his first season at the West Coast Conference, Zaninovich oversaw the record-setting 2009 WCC Basketball Championships at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas. The event, which was the WCC's first-ever neutral site basketball championship, set tournament records for total attendance, single game attendance, and revenue. Zaninovich was also instrumental in creating two successful off the floor events in Las Vegas --- the WCC Hall of Honor and the Zappos.com/WCC Shoe Drive. After the event concluded, Zaninovich negotiated a three-year contract extension to keep the WCC Basketball Championships at the Orleans Arena through 2012-13 and also worked with IMG College to secure Zappos.com as the event's title sponsor through the 2012 campaign.

On the External Relations side, Zaninovich also negotiated a long-term sponsorship rights agreement with IMG College and oversaw the creation of new media initiatives that were highlighted by unprecedented internet, radio and television coverage of the conference basketball championships.

The 2008-09 school year also saw television advances in the form of a conference partnership with Cox and Comcast that spanned Northern California, Southern California and the Pacific Northwest and a landmark deal with ESPN Australia and ESPN Pacific Rim. A total of 23 WCC men's basketball games were broadcast in Australia and New Zealand featuring all eight teams and the conference championships.

Zaninovich, who is also a member of the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics, helped oversee the creation of a new WCC Governance Structure and the restructuring of the WCC Executive Council to include greater involvement from all eight conference Presidents.

At Princeton, Zaninovich was responsible for all revenue-generating and external relations activities for the university's 38-team varsity athletic department. He managed an 11-person staff in the offices of Athletic Relations, Marketing and Athletic Communications, which worked together to build the profile of Princeton athletics both locally and nationally. As a member of the senior staff in the Princeton athletic department, Zaninovich assisted with policy issues and coaching searches.

Among his most notable accomplishments at Princeton was negotiating a national television agreement with ESPN, the only such agreement in the Ivy League. He also created a prevalent brand identity for Princeton Athletics and negotiated the first and largest all-school apparel and equipment agreement in the Ivy League. While at Princeton, Zaninovich oversaw a Development operation, which generated nearly $3 million in annual giving. He also supervised a corporate sponsorship program, which generated nearly a million dollars annually in discretionary income and trade value for Princeton's athletic department.

He was also a key member responsible for the planning of a $30 million renovation of Maples Pavilion, the home of Stanford's basketball and volleyball programs.

From 1996-1999, he served as Stanford's Marketing and Operations Director for Men's Basketball. His efforts in that position saw significant annual increases in fundraising, season ticket sales and overall ticket revenue. Zaninovich's rapid ascent through Stanford's administration came after earning his bachelor's degree in political science and communications in 1993. After spending two years working as a producer for Sports Byline USA, a nationally syndicated sports radio network, Zaninovich spent one year as a financial analyst before returning to Stanford.

A native of Eugene, Ore., Zaninovich also worked in marketing and business development for Quokkasports/NBCOlympics.com, helping produce the official website of the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia and formulating online and offline marketing initiatives for the event.
