

National Association of Certified Valuators and Analysts® (NACVA®) Receives Re-Accreditation of its Certified Valuation Analyst® (CVA®) credential from the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA)

SALT LAKE CITY, UT, May 22, 2018—The National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA) re-accredited the National Association of Certified Valuators and Analysts' Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA) credential for a five-year period, expiring in 2022, during its recent meeting.

Founded in 1991, NACVA is a professional certification organization acting in the public interest by establishing and enforcing education, examination, experience, and ethics requirements for certification. Currently, over 5,500 individuals are certified to use the CVA designation. NACVA first received NCCA accreditation in 2008.

NACVA received renewal of NCCA accreditation of its CVA credential by submitting an application demonstrating the program's compliance with the NCCA's Standards for the Accreditation of Certification Programs. NCCA is the accrediting body of the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (ICE) (formerly the National Organization for Competency Assurance). Since 1977, the NCCA has been accrediting certifying programs based on the highest quality standards in professional certification to ensure the programs adhere to modern standards of practice in the certification industry. To view the standards, visit: <http://www.credentialingexcellence.org/ncca/ncca.htm>.

There are 254 NCCA accredited programs that certify individuals in a wide range of professions and occupations, including: nurses, financial professionals, respiratory therapists, counselors, emergency technicians, crane operators, and more. Of ICE's more than 330 organizational members, over 100 of them have accredited programs.

ICE's mission is to advance credentialing through education, standards, research, and advocacy to ensure competence across professions and occupations. NCCA was founded as a commission whose mission is to help ensure the health, welfare, and safety of the public through the accreditation of a variety of certification programs that assess professional competence. NCCA uses a peer review process to: establish accreditation standards, evaluate compliance with these standards, recognize organizations/programs which demonstrate compliance, and serve as a resource on quality certification.

ICE and NCCA are located at 2025 M Street, N.W., Suite 800, Washington, DC 20036-3309; telephone (202) 367-1165; facsimile (202) 367-2165.
