Dear Friends,

In light of the terrible act of violence that has struck the LGBT community in Orlando, we are working closely with the NYPD and our private security teams to review safety measures and ensure guest safety during pride month. We have already added additional security personnel, metal detection and mandated bag checks at all our events as well as several other security measures that will likely go unnoticed to guests. We do, however, ask that all guests travel light, leaving backpacks and carry-on items home, so we can quickly process everybody through these additional security measures.

We are doing everything possible to ensure your safety and want to remind the public that NYC Pride has always had what most consider the best security protocols in the country.

Questions regarding security concerns can be directed to 212.481.6203 or info@vossevents.com.

Sincerely,

Brandon Voss
