Research for Reflective Practice

60 minutes

Presented by Dr Jennie Bales

Adjunct Lecturer, School of Information Studies, Charles Sturt University

Outline of content presented

This webinar introduces the concept of research from a practitioner's perspective and aims to inspire participants to implement their own research project within their field of professional practice.

This presentation will introduce you to research processes and scaffold some of the key components that will help you design, implement and apply a straightforward and manageable research project in the school or library environment.

Outcomes for attendee:

- Understand the key components of the research process
- Awareness of ethical considerations in human research
- Introduction to some research methods and research techniques
- Understand ways to apply research findings to inform and improve practice
- Identify pathways to disseminate research outcomes and build personal teaching credentials

This is a Teacher Identified Professional Learning Course.

This webinar may address the following Australian Professional Standards for Teachers:

6.2.2 – Engage in professional learning and improve practice.

7.4.2 – Engage with professional teaching networks and broader communities.
