

COMPANY PROFILE

Alpha Omega Recycling

alphaomegarecycling.comABOUT

Alpha Omega Recycling has been in operation for over 30 years and is located in Longview, Texas. We process and recycle metal-bearing by-product produced from industrial manufacturing. We hold all necessary permits, licenses, and technology to handle difficult-to-manage materials and those that require special processing. Our goals are to serve our customers and the environment by recycling metal from waste streams and re-purposing the metals as usable products. We help simplify the process for our customers and make it possible for them to adhere to the highest environmental standards.
