HTF Metalworks. Our knowledge and expertise is in locating hard to find metals that you have had difficulty sourcing. Our professional sales staff has the experience, technical skills and research capabilities necessary to meet your specific manufacturing requirements. We have access to both foreign and domestic mills as we constantly strive to expand and develop new sources. Our product line includes both standard and non-standard gauges in a variety of widths. At HTF Metalworks, we have an uncompromising commitment to provide our customers with quality material at affordable prices. Understanding customers needs and establishing long term relationships is our goal. HTF Metalworks offers a wide variety of products to all sectors of the metals industry and supplies specialty items to the aerospace, lighting and electrical industries. Understanding that communication is a key factor in any business relationship, we listen carefully and work closely with our customers to meet their purchasing requirements. Being based in the Midwest provides a logistic advantage for our customers. HTF Metalworks is located in Illinois, just north of Chicago, with easy access to all major highways. Knowing how important time is in today's competitive marketplace, being centrally located enhances our ability to deliver your order on time. We welcome the opportunity to work with you and invite you to contact us at your convenience.
