ABOUT

A family owned and operated waste management company providing services throughout southern Vermont for over 30 years. In the 1980's Ted and Tim Hubbard inherited a waste management company almost one million dollars in debt. Failing to make ends meet, the two brothers took the challenge head on with one quest – to save the family name. Longtime Rutland, VT natives (the family dates to the 1800's). They have been a source of community, reliability and you guessed it – waste removal for their fellow residents.
