A B O U T

Since its founding in 1974 as a private company, Metal Exchange Corporation has evolved into one of the most diverse suppliers, processors, and purchasers of non ferrous metals in the world. Based in St. Louis Missouri, USA, we are actively conducting business in 30 countries with offices and representatives strategically located throughout the world. While active in many non-ferrous metals, raw materials and products What began as a meeting of 5 likeminded and determined individuals around a dining room table in St. Louis, Missouri, has evolved into an enterprise more than 500 strong, reaching around the world. Founded in 1974, Metal Exchange Corporation has grown from a regional aluminum scrap trading company to a global trader and manufacturer of non-ferrous metals. With a unique blend of marketing expertise and deep manufacturing excellence, Metal Exchange Corporation provides its customers an unparalleled array of services across all facets of the non-ferrous metals industry. Be it one truckload of scrap or one hundred containers of billet, Metal Exchange Corporation strives to maximize value for its customers, and approaches every transaction with integrity. We do what we say! Ingrained in the minds of every Metal Exchange Corporation employee is the following Latin phrase and motto of its founder: "Nisi adieris non intellegis" or, "If you don't go, you don't know." This brief statement encompasses the culture of Metal Exchange Corporation. Visit the customer. See their operations. Understand their needs. There is no better way to create the long lasting, trusting, win/win relationships that are the foundation of Metal Exchange Corporation. Leaders in the Business Metal Exchange Corporation has a team of specialists with the expertise to buy, sell, process and trade all forms of non-ferrous metal scrap and serve global scrap markets. We are in the market on a day to day basis, buying and selling non-ferrous metal scrap for our warehouses, our manufacturing operations, for third party consumption, and for import /export. We are consistent and ongoing market makers of all grades of non-ferrous metal scrap from our worldwide network of consumers and suppliers. Whether shipping by
