ABOUT

SJCC+CS changes the lives of young adults, ages 18-27, by offering the opportunity to earn a free high school diploma and gain job skills and work experience. Founded in 1987, the San Jose Conservation Corps and Charter School serves 'at risk' disadvantaged young men and women with a high school education and paid hands-on job skills to empower students to change their lives by opening doors to higher education and career advancement. SJCC+CS provides flexible, comprehensive programs for obtaining a high school diploma rapidly, valuable paid job training, support services, and a compassionate community of staff and students who support each other. Since its inception, SJCC+CS has aided over 20,000 young adults in achieving educational and professional success.
