319 Division Ave S, Grand Rapids, MI 49503

Parking.

Khloe Mae Bridal offers metered on-street parking along Division Avenue. The area is illuminated by streetlamp lighting, and nearby businesses contribute additional ambient lighting. Parking may be limited during busy hours or events, so planning ahead is recommended.

Entrances.

There is one main entrance to Khloe Mae Bridal, located directly on Division Avenue. The entry features a single heavy manual door with a push/pull handlebar-style knob. The threshold includes a small bump but is otherwise flush with the sidewalk. While technically accessible, the door may be difficult for some guests to independently due to its weight.

Inside / Getting Around.

Khloe Mae Bridal is a single-level boutique with a segmented floor plan. Upon entering, guests find themselves in a section that features changing rooms with long mirrors, racks of prom or special event dresses and a service desk with no lowered section. A separate, designated room houses the wedding dress selection, along with its own curtained changing areas and additional full-length mirrors. Both sections include varied couch-style seating for comfort. Navigation throughout the space is generally manageable, although furniture placement and smaller pathways may limit maneuverability slightly in high-traffic times or for users with mobility devices.

Lighting.

The store benefits from a mix of overhead light fixtures, emitting both soft white and warm yellow tones as well as natural daylight from street-facing windows. The lighting is generally bright and consistent throughout, enhancing visibility while trying on garments.

Restrooms.

A single-user, gender-neutral restroom is located in the back of the store. Access to this restroom is somewhat indirect; guests must go through the wedding dress section, enter a white door, and pass through an additional manual door to reach it. While grab bars are present, the space has limited turning radius due to movable objects inside that could partially block mobility. The sink is manual, and signage isn't available visitors may need to ask staff for directions.

Additional Notes.

The environment at Khloe Mae Bridal is calm and softly lit, with low-volume background music enhancing a relaxed atmosphere. It was quiet during the observed visit but may grow louder during peak hours. One staff member shared that she is certified to assist individuals using mobility devices in and out of dresses and expressed a willingness to train additional staff in accessibility support upon request. They also take walk-ins as well as appointments.
