The best way to get to the parking ramp from the surrounding sidewalks is by the Elevator and Stairwell Tower entrance on the NE corner of the facility. There is a push button activated powered swinging door. There are no power doors on the top level of the tower. The Stairwell Tower at the SW corner of the facility does not have an elevator. The driveway entrance and exit along Front Street NW has a very steep slope leading up to the lowest level of the public side of the ramp and cannot be considered an accessible route.

There are designated accessible parking spaces with adjacent access aisles on all levels of the public side of the ramp. The spaces are indicated with signs mounted low in front of the space and may be difficult to see.

The parking ramp is lit by overhead lighting. The parking striping is well maintained. The parking spaces are standard perpendicular spaces. There are no EV charging stations present. Traffic around the ramp is bi-directional, where there is traffic moving up in one direction and moving down in the other along the same slope.

In addition, there are three accessible parking spaces directly in front of the Museum's covered entrance. They are marked as such.
