

BUS6003 Business Law

Unit Description

This unit examines the legal, business, and ethical environment in which local and international contemporary businesses operate. It focuses on ethical principles that require an examination of the human consequences to corporate decision-making and on the increasing importance of social corporate responsibility for business.

Credit Points	8 credit points
Duration	12 weeks (10 teaching weeks and 2 revision and assessment weeks)

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, students will be able to:

1. Analyse the structure and operation of the Australian legal system.
2. Interpret key legal principles relating to contracts, torts, and consumer law, and apply them to real-world business scenarios.
3. Evaluate the legal and ethical implications of business decisions, demonstrating an understanding of compliance responsibilities and professional conduct.
4. Compare and contrast different business structures and legal entities in terms of their advantages, limitations, and legal obligations.
5. Develop reasoned solutions to legal problems using logical argumentation, relevant legal precedent, and critical assessment of case materials.