CAD / Revit Technician

JOB REFERENCE	FUS-0133
LOCATION	Liverpool
EMPLOYMENT	Permanent
HOURS	Full-time
WORKING ARRANGEMENT	Hybrid

THE CLIENT

FUSION is recruiting a CAD / Revit Technician for an established engineering consultancy in Liverpool. The business works across commercial, education, healthcare, residential and leisure projects, including multi-million pound schemes.

The consultancy invests heavily in digital design and works in a 3D and BIM environment. The vacancy forms part of a current programme of recruitment across its engineering team.

THE ROLE

The client is actively looking for a technician with hands-on CAD and Revit capability to support the production of engineering design information.

The precise discipline focus has not been restricted to civil or structural engineering, so the role is being kept deliberately broad for technicians whose CAD and Revit experience is relevant to an engineering consultancy environment.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Produce and update engineering drawings and models using CAD and Revit.
- Support the preparation of coordinated design information within a 3D and BIM workflow.
- Work with project engineers to keep drawing and model information accurate and current.
- Contribute technical drawing and modelling support across a varied project workload.

PROJECT DELIVERY

- Work within the consultancy's established 3D and BIM design environment.
- Support projects across commercial, education, healthcare, residential and leisure sectors.
- Maintain clear, organised design information as projects progress.

REQUIRED EXPERIENCE

- Practical experience working as a CAD and/or Revit Technician in an engineering or comparable design environment.
- Hands-on capability using Revit and CAD to produce technical design information.
- Experience working with 3D design information and BIM-based project workflows.

WORKING ARRANGEMENTS AND BENEFITS

- Flexible hybrid working arrangements.
- Training and mentoring to support career development.
- Paid professional institution membership fees.
