

Workflow with Flair

As more and more people begin working from home and many schools are shifting to a virtual learning environment, desk space is becoming a necessity but not every homeowner has an entire room to devote to a home office. Both designers and homeowners have started to rethink what an office could be. From redesigning an alcove of a living room or bedroom to repurposing a spare closet, the idea to create a workspace the entire family can use comes to life with Wellborn Cabinet. This multi-purpose design could function as a home-office for those who tele-commute, a virtual classroom or homework center for children, a crafting area, or a sewing space. Being merely five feet wide, this re-imagined area is intended to be both beautiful and packed with function.

Our designer chose a Millbrook door style in Cherry finished in a Drift stain for the base cabinets as well as the middle wall cabinets complete with matching finished ends. For the upper tall cabinets, a complimentary Bedford Square door style in Maple with our Divinity paint leads your eyes up to the Decorative Crown and Large Cove Light Rail Crown Moulding and finished shelving that cap off the workspace. Below the upper cabinets, our Large Cove Light Rail Moulding gives a nice finish for the bottom of the upper wall cabinets. 87" tall side pilasters in matching Divinity paint are positioned on either end to support the space and show that this desk is an independent yet separately contained area. This tall pilaster is one of many new cabinet sizes and accessories that have been added in the mid-price point Select Series.

No space was wasted as each drawer and cabinet has a purpose. On either side of the center shelving, there are spice racks normally used in the kitchen but serve a great purpose for storing items like paint or office supplies. The Wooden Three-Tiered Spice Rack attached to the inside of the cabinet door below organizes paint. The addition of the Tiered Wooden Spice Storage Shelves to both cabinets' lower shelves allows each item to be visible and easy to reach.

Between these two cabinets, we have added a fold-down door shelf that resembles a modern-day take on an antique secretary desk. Folded up, it is a work of art providing a focal point and a splash of color. Opened, it houses office supplies using cubbies so each supply has a home. The fold-down shelf also functions as an elevated laptop space for the option of working while standing to prevent sitting for extended periods of time. The top of the shelf comes prepped for lighting as well to help see your work area using LED strip-lights fitted into the bottom of the floating shelf directly above the fold-out door. Lighting is also thoughtfully installed in each cabinet and drawer. Additionally, at the very top of the work area, we have placed an under-cabinet lighting fixture. This marries well with the back upper wall where the trending shiplap was used for an upcycled look.

The wooden countertop of the entire desk is stained to match the cabinetry and is finished with an edge moulding. In the center, behind a flip-down drawer front rests our pull-out keyboard tray complete with a slide out space for a mouse. On either side of the keyboard tray, drawers provide ample storage. On one side is a Birch cutlery drawer organizer that can be used for pencils, pens, paint brushes, or other supplies that could be used for office or crafting supplies. On the other side are shallow multi-functional Birch drawer components for keeping everything in place.

Below each top drawer, there are even more functional drawers and cabinets. On the left side, our all-wood Desk File Drawer will help keep your important documents in order. It can easily be modified to file things either vertically or horizontally, depending on the size of your files. To the right, a cabinet door boasts a five inch deep slide out shelf with a dovetail design to provide easy access to your office, art, or craft supplies. It also has a soft-close feature and mounting supports for heavier items.

As you can see, no detail was left unattended. The sides of the lower cabinets are capped with flush matching end panels. Moulding is on both the top and bottom of the wall cabinet for an elegant clean look. Wainscot Cap Moulding on the bottom of each wall cabinet are both beautiful and hide the installed functional lighting. Under the keyboard drawer, the back wall is finished with a matching back panel to make one cohesive look. Base Mouldings at the bottom of the cabinetry provide a built-in finished look.
