Wiley Completes Acquisition of Deltak.edu

Hoboken, N.J. – October 25, 2012 – John Wiley & Sons, Inc., (NYSE: JWa, JWb), a global provider of content and workflow solutions in areas of research, professional development, and education announced today that it has completed its acquisition of Deltak.edu, LLC, a privately held provider of online learning services. Under the terms of the agreement, Wiley paid approximately $220 million net of cash acquired, funded by its existing revolving credit loan facility, to acquire the high growth company. The Company announced its intent to acquire Deltak on October 2, 2012.

Deltak, based in Oakbrook, Illinois and founded in 1997, works in close partnership with leading colleges and universities to develop and support fully online degree and certificate programs. It provides technology platforms and services including market research (validating program demand), instructional design, marketing, and student recruitment and retention services to leading national and regional colleges and universities throughout the United States. Today, Deltak supports more than 100 online programs. For the fiscal year ended September 30, 2012, the Company's revenue was $54 million.

A growing number of colleges and universities are looking to enter, expand, and succeed in the online education market. These same institutions often lack the required experience, expertise and dedicated resources to move rapidly and successfully. Institutions choose to partner with Deltak for their proven model, extensive capabilities, deep experience in higher education, and cultural alignment. The partnership with Deltak allows institutions to achieve strategic objectives by launching online programs, increasing enrollments and extending their brand with minimal risk and investment.

About Deltak

Deltak is where academics and innovation converge. As an industry leader in higher education and online learning for more than 15 years, Deltak unites top academic programs with innovative online solutions; assisting academic institutions in expanding the educational experience to students beyond the traditional campus. Deltak offers a comprehensive spectrum of services to each campus: collaboration with faculty in the development of online programs, implementation of integrated admissions processes, industry-leading marketing strategies, personalized student services to positively impact persistence and graduation rates, and alumni services that reinforce the mission of each partner. Together, Deltak and its partners succeed in bringing unique online programs to the increasingly dynamic higher education market. For more information about Deltak, visit www.deltak-innovation.com
