

Search Overview

You have several options to find the best-fit resources with your students including free evidence-based educational strategies by Mindprint educational experts and a broad selection of teacher-reviewed board games, educational apps, workbooks and websites that can supplement instruction and increase engagement. (Note that while we NEVER sell products on our site; paid products can be purchased directly from Amazon or iTunes).

Drop Down Menus Search by any combination of academic skills, cognitive skills, or interests. Want something unique or unusual? Select Mindprint's Notables.

Left Side Bar Filter or limit your results to specific types of products, strategies, or age range.

Sort Results The default will prioritize results by relevance. If you prefer, you can search by price, rating, or how new the product is to Mindprint's ever-growing collection of resources.

Free Search Looking for something specific? Type it in here.

Sign up for a Free Account to find strategies and products you like most and save them to My Favorites to create your own customized list for the classroom or for use with individual students. Free Accounts allow you to share your favorite strategies and lists with other teachers, tutors, students and parents. Suspect attention weakness with one of your students? You can access Mindprint's free, scientifically valid Attention Screener here as well.