» An Innovative Premise: Every animal has a specific characteristic or “power” that kids can learn from and identify with.

» Kids Love Animals: Learning that all animals have strengths that humans can learn from fosters a connection between the reader’s own personality and that of a specific animal.

» Inspires a Connection with the Natural World: As kids learn the power of the animals featured in the book, they are encouraged to go outside and delve into the natural world by exploring animal behaviors.

» An Interactive, Kid-Friendly Format: With tons of hands-on activities and interactive prompts, kids will be able to practice sloth yoga; follow the alpha wolf; use whistles, clicks, or squeaks to design a dolphin name; make a polar bear hut; and much more.

» Extra Content: The book includes a punch-out card for each of the animals featured in the pages that can be used to remember what animal(s) readers like best, to decorate their room or a notebook, or as a starter for an art project or activity.

Are you a chatterbox? You might have a lot in common with dolphins. Maybe you are adventurous, like penguins. Or you love to eat and play together with your “pack” of friends, like wolves do.

All animals have powers that humans can learn from and that often show us a way we can grow. Giraffes may be the world’s tallest animals, but they are very gentle; polar bears are strong but they also love to cozy up in a warm place. This creative and beautifully illustrated book will help children, ages 3 and up, discover their favorite animal and encourage them to practice fun activities inspired by the animal’s behavior. Kids can find peace with sloth yoga, waddle-race while mimicking a penguin, and design a garland to pay tribute to their animal pack. Featuring 12 animals, the book also includes a punch-out card for each animal that can be used to remember what animal(s) readers like best, to decorate their room or a notebook, or as a starter for an art project or activity.

TIGER

Independence

Bengal tigers are strong and powerful. They are solitary creatures known for their independence. Native to India, the Bengal tiger is a lord of wild achievements. The tips of their toes are marked bytdtting by scratching tree trunks with long, sharp claws. At night, the tiger seeks its prey. The tiger's black eyes can tell its head from its tail. As prey chases prey, the tiger wants to escape. Then, with a quick blow, the cat pounces. The Bengal tiger returns to its hunting trail to pursue. This may or may not be the same as the first. How do you plan to be independent? What can you do on your own?

Awesome acrobats, dolphin spin, flip, dive, and jump. But their most special power is friendship!

What's your favorite dolphin? They're all unique! A dolphin's best friend is another dolphin. Are you a dolphin lover? You might have a lot in common with the dolphin. This sea creature shares eating, sleeping, and playing habits. Dolphins build strong friendships by sharing their unique talents. They share joy, heart, and soul as well.

DOLPHIN

Peace

Who's that blurry creature sleeping in the jungle? It's the gentle sloth. This peaceful, humble animal knows a thing or two about peaceful living.

SLOTH

A sloth's slow-paced daily life seems slow. They stretch slow. They can sleep slow, too. A sloth can sleep for a month or so when it stays on a tree in the Amazon. Expensive vacations, sloths can sleep up to 120 hours straight.

How Slow Can You Go?

Get ready for a party slumber! This game is simple. Try to be your very best sloth impression. With a one-two, count to ten. You're not the only one to laugh these. Create the peaceful creature for warning, eating, and sleeping in the Amazon. Who's the most sloth-like?

In this colorful board book, every page is bursting with interesting animals and tons of things to discover!

Readers will love meeting Felix the mouse and his bright red airplane, who not only acts as their tour guide but also loves to hide himself in every scene. Tots will spend endless time playing seek-and-find with the sneaky Felix. For the nonreader, Felix has taken photographs of some of his favorite animals and has shared them on every page so kids can match the “photographs” with the animals on the maps, and older readers will enjoy learning about each continent and reading the names of 270 animals, easily labeled on every page.

Structured around continents, this is the perfect first animal atlas for children, taking readers on a trip around the world to visit Europe, Africa, Asia, North America, South America, and Australia while discovering tons of extraordinary animals, from elephants, flamingos, and cows to lesser-known species like moles, tarsiers, and axolotls.
Hi! I'm Felix. I’ll be your tour guide on this trip. See if you can find me on the pages!

The good-old sticker rewards chart meets social media in this sticker rewards book for toddlers.

Divided into three sections, the book offers something for every busy toddler and their parents and teachers. The large-size stickers in the I Did It Myself section are perfect for being displayed on kids’ shirts or chests and then photographed and shared on social media, with messages like I brushed my teeth, I fed my pet, and many more. Smaller-size stickers in the Awesome Achievements section celebrate general kid accomplishments with words of encouragement, such as Excellent Work! and Way to Go!, as well as popular icons like smiling faces, emoticons, stars, etc. This section also includes popular stickers with encouraging phrases in an array of languages, from Spanish and Chinese, to Italian and Korean. These stickers are designed to be used by kids and their educators on anything from worksheets and notebooks to tricycles and scooters. And of course we all love a sticker chart, so the last section of the book includes a collection of stickers specially designed for a fold-out chart (included) that can be displayed in a child’s room, the family room, the kitchen, etc.

Discover some fun facts about these Big Dreamers

Muhammad Ali
Muhammad Ali was an American boxer. He was the world heavyweight boxing champion for three years. He was famous for saying, “Float like a butterfly, sting like a bee.” He also spoke out against war and stood up for the rights of African Americans.

Marie Curie
Marie Curie was a scientist from Poland. As a young woman, she moved to France to study at the Sorbonne, a famous university. She discovered radioactivity, a powerful and dangerous form of energy. She won two Nobel Prizes; she was the first woman to win the prize.

Leonardo da Vinci
Leonardo da Vinci was an Italian artist, inventor, and architect. He lived during the Renaissance. He is best known for his famous painting, the Mona Lisa. He was one of the most famous portrait painters. Having worked until the end of his life, he is considered to be one of the greatest minds of his time.

Mahatma Gandhi
Mahatma Gandhi was an Indian activist. He led his country to independence from British rule. In India, he believed in nonviolent protest to achieve change. Gandhi was called “Mahatma,” which means “Great Soul.”

Jane Goodall
Jane Goodall is a British zoologist. When she was 26, she moved to Africa to study chimpanzees. She made many surprising discoveries. She has spent most of her life trying to save chimpanzees from extinction. She also wants people to learn about the importance of living in harmony with our planet.

Frida Kahlo
Frida Kahlo was a famous painter from Mexico. She is best known for the many self-portraits that she painted. Much of her work was inspired by nature. Frida is often an inspiration for artists today. She is an icon for women’s creativity and strength.

Nelson Mandela
Nelson Mandela was the first black president of South Africa. As a young man, he fought for racial rights for blacks. He spent 27 years in prison for his political activities. During this time, his wife was released. He became the president of South Africa.

Rosa Parks
Rosa Parks was an African American civil rights activist from Alabama. One day in 1955, she was riding the bus home from work. The bus driver asked her to give up her seat to a white man who could not fill the seats. She refused and was arrested. Her action was a spark for the US civil rights movement.
Stop Asking “How Was Your Day?”
444 Better Questions to Help You Connect with Your Child
Daniel J. Crawford

We’ve all been there: The kids come home from school tired and distracted, and we try to connect with them by asking the same questions day after day. Well, this book will help you find the right questions to connect with your child today and every day.

“How was school?” “What did you learn today?” “Did you have fun?” If we are lucky, we might get a little more than “Fine” or “It was good” in return. Maybe we’re asking the wrong questions. The good news is that this book will help you find the right questions to connect with your child every day. “Stop Asking How Was Your Day?” is an invaluable tool that can be used again and again. Easy to flip through while waiting in the pickup lane outside school or before sitting down to dinner, this book provides diverse and open-ended questions for parents of schoolchildren of all ages and walks of life. Some questions are fun, some are thoughtful, and some are silly. Ultimately, this book is about communication.

As we all know, communication is a two-way street, and Stop Asking “How Was Your Day?” alternates the queries with “Lead by Example” sections that prompt parents to share something from their own experiences to help them connect with their children.
Have any of your classmates ever asked a question that your teacher couldn’t answer?

If we switched places for a week, how would I do in your classes? How would you do at my job?

If you were a phone, how much battery power would you have right now?

If you could turn your school into a mini-golf course, what obstacles would you create and how would you design it?

Why are the letters of the alphabet in ABC order?

What brightens up your day at school?

How often do you feel sad at school?

How many beach balls do you think you could fit into your school?
Not a Trend; a Reality: Craft distilling in the United States is no longer a niche industry. It’s a multibillion-dollar juggernaut with nearly 2,000 operating distilleries across the country. Total sales and revenue, market share, investment, and employment are all rapidly on the rise and are forecasted to continue in the years ahead.

A New Retail Force: From 2017 to 2018, craft distilleries saw a 23.7% growth in retail cases sold, to 7.2 million, and a 29.9% rise in sales, to $3.7 billion.

The Next Craft Movement: Unlike beer, American whiskey remains very much in growth mode. “We remain in a new golden era of American whiskey, with no imminent end in sight.” —Beverage Dynamics

A Whiskey Book with a Historical Twist: First-person accounts from the top American independent distillers offer a fascinating telling of the history of a spirit revolution.

A Great Gift: Beautifully packaged, Whiskey Rebels is a great present for any whiskey or spirit lover, entrepreneur, or history buff.

In 2003, the United States had about 60 craft whiskey distillers; today there are over 2,000 active craft distillers in the country. This book will introduce the entrepreneurs and the companies behind this movement.

Whiskey Rebels is a collection of first-person accounts of the brilliant, brave, and slightly crazy innovators responsible for changing the whiskey landscape forever—people like Storm King Distilling entrepreneur John Torgersen, who lobbied the US government to change the laws that spearheaded the craft movement; Ralph Erenzo, the “Sam Adams of Whiskey” and recipient of the first distilling license in New York State in 80 years who went on to create Hudson Baby Bourbon; Nicole Austin, a prominent female producer and vocal activist who brought an indie spirit to the renowned American whiskey region of Tennessee through George Dickel Tennessee Whisky; and Bill Owens, who founded the American Distilling Institute in 2003.

Spirits pro and award-winning author John McCarthy (The Modern Gentleman) has conducted hundreds of hours of interviews to gather these fascinating first-person accounts and give readers an amusing and thorough insight into the world of craft distillers. Under his expert guidance, readers will also learn the requirements to be considered a craft whiskey distiller, the effect of the craft beer movement on modern craft distilling, why craft distillers hate the word “craft,” and many other pieces of insider information.

Say What?
In this compilation of memorable things that should never have been said, readers will find quotes from dictators, drug lords, and murderers, but much more shocking are the entries by Nobel Prize winners, religious leaders, and beloved icons. The author has collected hundreds of extraordinary quotes, and everyone is fair game, even Mother Teresa: “I think it is very beautiful for the poor to accept their lot, to share it with the passion of the Christ. I think the world is being much helped by the suffering of the poor people.” Say what?

“Never Cook Bacon Naked”
Cooking can be a daunting, frustrating, and hopeless pursuit . . . and when you are in a pickle, it’s time for a little pep talk from some of the biggest cooking and non-cooking experts—people like Julia Child, Thomas Keller, Alice Waters, Truman Capote, Maya Angelou, and many others who, at one time or another, have also scorched their lunch. But remember, as the cookbook author Alana Chernila likes to say, “Homemade food is the opposite of perfection.”

50 Reasons to Hate Golf and Why You Should Never Stop Playing
“Fred Fruisen does a great job of identifying golf’s intriguing dichotomy. Read this hilarious book and you’ll see why all of us golfers are bat sh*t crazy!” —Charlie Rymer, Golf Channel

NY Dogs

New York is the City of Dreams, and this book is a celebration of the Big Apple’s funniest, friendliest, funniest sidewalk stompers . . . and the humans who pick up their poo. A stylish volume that offers a humorous window to the uniqueness of dogs living in America’s largest city.

Hot Guys ABZ
ABC books are for babies, but this one is full of hot babes. James Franco, Johnny Depp, Channing Tatum, Chris Evans, Kanye West, Orlando Bloom, and of course a great “Z” for Zac Efron, among many other striking celebs, are all featured in this unique take on the classic ABC book. This humorous parody—splashed with quirky text and hunky illustrations—is the perfect gift for young millennials and everyone who is ready for a laugh.
Whiskey Rebels

Whiskey Rebels is a collection of first-person accounts of the brilliant, brave, and slightly crazy innovators responsible for changing the whiskey landscape forever—people like Storm King Distilling entrepreneur John Torgersen, who lobbied the US government to change the laws that spearheaded the craft movement; Ralph Erenzo, the “Sam Adams of Whiskey” and recipient of the first distilling license in New York State in 80 years who went on to create Hudson Baby Bourbon; Nicole Austin, a prominent female producer and vocal activist who brought an indie spirit to the renowned American whiskey region of Tennessee through George Dickel Tennessee Whisky; and Bill Owens, who founded the American Distilling Institute in 2003.

The Modern Gentleman

“Fortunately for the aspiring modern gent, we found this great book that fills in the blanks on your gentleman card. From spirits and wine and tools for your home bar to the more epicurean things like steak, oysters and what makes a proper charcuterie, think of this as a textbook for a life lived well . . . This is a comprehensive culture upgrade every man can benefit from.” —Spy.com
