The Young Activist’s Dictionary of Social Justice
duopress labs, with Ryse Tottingham
Art by Andy Passchier

A Is for Ally, Advocate, Anti-Racist, Ancestors, and Assembly

Using simple explanations and appealing illustrations in a familiar A-to-Z format, The Young Activist’s Dictionary of Social Justice will teach kids the new vocabulary of change.

Vetted by an antibias, anti-racism educator, this essential new resource is packed with easily understandable definitions of timely concepts. Each beautifully designed spread represents a letter and provides concise, age-appropriate definitions for 10 or more terms, with subject matter spanning issues like racial justice, climate change, gender equality, LGBTQ+ rights, income disparity, voter engagement, and immigration. In addition to information, the pages are also full of inspiration: Bite-sized bios accompany key terms, illuminating the stories of justice advocates who got involved with a cause at a young age. Infographics and sidebars bring complementary concepts to life. And with the rich resource section in the back, kids can read more about how to take action on the cause that’s meaningful to them.

Read on, and let’s work together for a more equal world for all.

Featured Activists:

A: Audrey Faye Hendricks ( Arrest)
B: Claudette Colvin ( Boycott)
C: Iqbal Masih ( Child labor)
G: Parkland Survivors ( Gun control)
I: Ruby Bridges ( Integration)
L: Frederick Douglass ( Literacy)
N: John Lewis ( Nonviolence)
O: Clara Lemlich ( Organize)
R: Marley Dias ( Representation)
S: Dolores Huerta ( Strike)
T: Jazz Jennings ( Transition)
W: Autumn Peltier ( Water protector)
Andy Passchier is a nonbinary illustrator from The Netherlands, currently working in the USA. Andy lives with their cats, loves to travel and draw, and enjoys all things spooky Halloween.

Ryse Tottingham (they/them) is an LGBTQ+ advocate and an antibias, anti-racist educator currently living in the Bay Area of California. Ryse creates classroom resources and instructional video series to educate educators and students alike on how to increase their awareness of racial and gender injustices in the classroom as well as the world at large.
Pop Out Around the World
Read, Build, and Play from New York to Beijing duopress labs • Art by Pretend Friends

Read, Learn, Build, and Have Fun with Six Sensational Cities Around the World with This Innovative Book and Play Set.

This sturdy board book features great information on six cities around the world alongside pages with chunky press-out pieces that can be used to build famous landmarks and other city symbols. Readers can learn about New York and build the Brooklyn Bridge and an iconic hot dog cart. In the London pages, they can build a classic double decker red bus and Big Ben, while with Beijing, kids will learn about and build the Great Wall and a wonderful panda bear. Other cities included in the book are Mexico City, Tokyo, and Sydney, where readers can build the Opera House and a kangaroo from the Taronga Zoo.

Made from thick, sturdy board, the pieces press out easily from the pages and are simple to put together (no glue or scissors necessary!). Build-ups include simple and intuitive instructions. All build-ups are safety rated for ages 4 years and up.

Both a book and a play set, Pop Out Around the World is the ultimate screen-free activity for curious tots ready to become world travelers.

Pop Out Space Travel
Read, Build, and Play on a Trip to Space
duopress labs • Art by Sean Sims

Read, Learn, Build, and Have Fun During a Space Mission with This Innovative Book and Play Set.

This sturdy board book is chock full of information about a space mission alongside pages with chunky press-out pieces that kids can use to build their space journey. Kids will read about the different steps on a fun space mission, from training to returning to Earth. Tots will have a blast building the astronaut’s suit and an awesome rocket, as well as making the Space Station and bringing to life the way astronauts live and work in space. They will love constructing their own space vehicle and will surely enjoy building the space capsule that will bring the space crew back to Earth!

#EARTHDAY

Earth Day predates the use of hashtags by several decades, but social media has helped the movement grow with the times.

The first Earth Day was held on April 22, 1970. It was the creation of Wisconsin senator Gaylord Nelson, who recruited activist Denis Hayes to organize campus teach-ins to raise consciousness about the air and water pollution crises in the country. Earth Day’s reach extended beyond college students, inspiring a public who shared concerns about the state of the planet after decades of industrialization and corporate unaccountability. Its 50th anniversary, with 20 million Americans demonstrating on behalf of the planet, was born.

That first Earth Day spawned the establishment of the Environmental Protection Agency. The EPA would be responsible for a host of important legislation that protected Americans, wildlife, and the natural world. Earth Day went global in 1990, gaining new support from governments and citizens around the world. A decade later, issues such as climate change and clean energy would come to the forefront. In 2008, Earth Day was chosen as the date when leaders from 155 nations would sign the revolutionary Paris Agreement.

#BLACKLIVESMATTER

Black Lives Matter began in 2013 as a response to the acquittal of Trayvon Martin’s murderer. Organizers Alicia Garza, Patrisse Cullors, and Opal Tometi wanted to end violence—particularly police violence—against Black Americans.

Black Lives Matter is a collective of organizations and activists fighting against Black oppression and advocating for criminal justice reform. With each new incident of deadly force by police, their movement for justice strengthens, culminating in the George Floyd protests.

On May 25, 2020, Minneapolis police officer Derek Chauvin knelt on the neck of George Floyd, a Black man in his custody, for 8 minutes and 46 seconds. Ignoring Floyd’s pleas for help, until he was dead. Captured bystander video went viral on social media, and Black Lives Matter activists quickly mobilized to protest the injustice. In cities and towns across the country and around the world, people of all races took to the streets to denounce George Floyd’s murder and demand police reform.

For the first time since its inception, Black Lives Matter received support from a majority of Americans. In the past, the movement had spurred court outcomes such as #ARLivesMatter, #BlackLivesMatter, and even #MilitarizedMatter. Currently, the average number of tweets tagged with the hashtag #BlackLivesMatter averages 3.7 million per day.

#STOPHESTIGMA

Although nearly one in five Americans live with a mental illness, according to the National Institute of Mental Health, stigma and discrimination are still widespread enough that many people who need help are too ashamed or afraid to seek it. Many organizations and mental health advocates have launched campaigns featuring the hashtag #StopTheStigma.

The principle behind #StopTheStigma is that eliminating shame associated with mental health will allow individuals or organizations to create awareness, education, and treatment campaigns conveying warning signs, steps to take, and perhaps most important, the fact that mental illness is relatively common.

#StopTheStigma was frequently used during the COVID-19 pandemic to fight isolation, when people living with mental illnesses were especially vulnerable and people who may not have been aware of mental health issues were suddenly faced with numerous challenges such as illness, deaths, loneliness, and isolation. Perhaps the universality of the situation encouraged more people to end the stigma associated with mental illness.

One Card, One Small Step Toward Positive Change.

Even though we’re told to “Put on your own oxygen mask before assisting others,” it can feel overwhelming to prioritize your own self-care. How to even begin? According to recent research on the psychology of micro-actions, real change begins with a single small step. Starting small allows you to keep a promise to yourself, reinforcing your own self-worth while taking incremental action toward big change.

Perfect for a nightstand or desk, A Good Deck: Take Care of Yourself is full of accessible, positive suggestions for self care–themed simple steps divided in 6 categories: MIND/BODY, YOUR SPACE, NATURE, COMMUNITY, WORK, and PLAY with micro-actions such as:

• Write yourself a thank-you note for something you did last week and put it on your desk or bathroom mirror.

• Step outside today for the sole purpose of feeling the sun on your face.

• Fill three water bottles with ice water and leave them in strategic places around the house, close to where you like to spend time. Hydration is now within reach!

• Spend five minutes on a task that’s been difficult to start. If you get stuck in the first minute, try to outline the task and revisit the basics of what needs to be done.

• Wipe down a surface of your home that might need a little extra attention.
If you are feeling overwhelmed by clutter, pick up a basket and walk around your space. Place anything in there that needs...

Hello, Animals: SmartContrast Montessori Cards™

Studies show that babies see high-contrast shapes and patterns from the very first days of life. Focusing on contrasting images has a positive impact on developing brains, and since infants learn shapes and colors gradually, our art cards are designed for three levels of development so parents can use them at their baby’s own pace.

Adult Impulse

Say What?
In this compilation of memorable things that should never have been said, readers will find quotes from dictators, drug lords, and murderers, but much more shocking are the entries by Nobel Prize winners, religious leaders, and beloved icons. The author has collected hundreds of extraordinary quotes, and everyone is fair game, even Mother Teresa: “I think it is very beautiful for the poor to accept their lot, to share it with the passion of the Christ. I think the world is being much helped by the suffering of the poor people.” Say what?

“Never Cook Bacon Naked”
Cooking can be a daunting, frustrating, and hopeless pursuit . . . and when you are in a pickle, it’s time for a little pep talk from some of the biggest cooking and non-cooking experts—people like Julia Child, Thomas Keller, Alice Waters, Truman Capote, Maya Angelou, and many others who, at one time or another, have also scorched their lunch. But remember, as the cookbook author Alana Chernila likes to say, “Homemade food is the opposite of perfection.”

NY Dogs
“At a wonderful book [ . . .] a well-deserved love letter to the dogs of New York City.”—Andrea Arden, Animal Planet’s Pet Expert and author of Barron’s Dog Training Bible

New York is the City of Dreams, and this book is a celebration of the Big Apple’s funniest, friendliest, funniest sidewalk stompers . . . and the humans who pick up their poo. A stylish volume that offers a humorous window to the uniqueness of dogs living in America’s largest city.

Hot Guys ABZ
ABC books are for babies, but this one is full of hot babes. James Franco, Johnny Depp, Channing Tatum, Chris Evans, Kanye West, Orlando Bloom, and of course a great “Z” for Zac Efron, among many other striking celebs, are all featured in this unique take on the classic ABC book. This humorous parody—splashed with quirky text and hunky illustrations—is the perfect gift for young millennials and everyone who is ready for a laugh.

50 Reasons to Hate Golf and Why You Should Never Stop Playing
“Fred Frisen does a great job of identifying golf’s intriguing dichotomy. Read this hilarious book and you’ll see why all of us golfers are bat sh*t crazy!”—Charlie Rymer, Golf Channel

Golf is a game that teases, thrills, torments, and teaches, and this book is a hilarious look at this addictive, wonderful, strange, beautiful, exasperating, mystifying sport and the culture surrounding it that people have been obsessed with for more than 500 years.
Whiskey Rebels

Whiskey Rebels is a collection of first-person accounts of the brilliant, brave, and slightly crazy innovators responsible for changing the whiskey landscape forever—people like Ralph Erenzo, “the Sam Adams of Whiskey” and the recipient of the first distilling license in New York State in 80 years who went on to create Hudson Baby Bourbon, and Nicole Austin, a prominent female producer and vocal activist who has brought an indy spirit to the renowned American whiskey region of Tennessee through George Dickel Tennessee Whiskey.

The Modern Gentleman

“Fortunately for the aspiring modern gent, we found this great book that fills in the blanks on your gentleman card. From spirits and wine and tools for your home bar to the more epicurean things like steak, oysters and what makes a proper charcuterie, think of this as a textbook for a life lived well . . . This is a comprehensive culture upgrade every man can benefit from.” —Spy.com
