Chrome browser windows 10

This article I have a way to install Google Chrome offline on Windows 10 (compatible with Windows 8.1 or later) that does not require an Internet connection during installation, and how to set Google Chrome as the default web browser to deposit, why install Google Chrome offline.exe usually. Installations in this format require internet installation, but if the computer you want to <a0> <a1></a1> </a0> install Google Chrome does not connect to the Internet, you can use . In this situation, you will need to use offline installation, but it is not possible to do so, because you will need to download the Google Chrome program in advance (stored on a USB flash drive or sharing a network folder). Download the Google Chrome installer offline, the offline version of Google Chrome is a download from the Google website, as well as the online installer version. It can be downloaded on the On the page, click the Accept and Install button, and then click Save and wait until the download is complete. Installing Google Chrome offline has the same steps as installing a regular version using File Explorer, opening the folder where Google Chrome installation files are stored, which can be stored on a flash drive or in shared folders on the web (if installed on the download engine, the file will be located in C:\Users\[username]\Downloads,) and then double-click the Stand tab . .exe (approximately 44 MB) if Windows 10 is a 32-bit version or ChromeStandaloneSetup64.exe (approximately 49 MB) if Windows 10 is a 64-bit version, then follow the on-screen instructions. If you want to set Google Chrome as the default web browser instead of Microsoft Edge, it usually wants you to set a default web browser, click Set as default, then in the Web browser section, click Microsoft Edge, and then select Google Chrome from the Select app page. From the Select app page, you can watch videos of your Google Chrome installation offline from the link below.
