BREEDER'S Guide 2026

This year's Breeder's Guide cover horse is Oz Ona Hot Streak, the Riata sire that is both an AQHA World Champion Head Horse and an NFR-qualifying heel horse with Lane Mitchell. This is a first—and an accomplishment that earned him this coveted spot.

70 RANCH
PERFORMANCE HORSES
Gainesville, Texas
940-291-2030; 70rph.com

C.J. Lembke's 70 Ranch program in Gainesville, Texas, was launched with an emphasis on speed and disposition to produce outstanding performance horses.

Her band of mares includes four actual NFR-qualifying mares (one by Sun Frost), plus daughters of Peptoboonsmal, Shining Spark and High Brow Cat, along with a Dual Pep daughter out of High Brow Cat's dam that produced $350,000 in progeny earnings.

And for stallions, Lembke has assembled a handful of big-time winners in the arena, including NFR barrel racing qualifiers Feel The Sting (LTE $139,713) and SR Industry Titan ($390,000-plus), as well as the late $2.4 million sire Shawne Bug Leo and two sons of $54 million sire Metallic Cat.

SR Industry Titan stands 15 hands with impeccable conformation and offers a great way to get speed without adding too much height. The stout sorrel broke arena records with Brittany Pozzi-Tonozzi at the reins. Meanwhile, Feel The Sting is a 15-hand, $2.3 million sire by the ultra-fast Dash Ta Fame out of nine-time NFR barrel racing mare MP Meter My Hay ("Stingray")—on which Sherry Cervi earned about $1.1 million. Feel The Sting's quickness and agility were evident when two of his 5-year-olds won first and second in Junior Barrel Racing at the '25 AQHA World Show.

Meanwhile, Metallic Malice is a bay roan cutting and cow horse performer with a quiet demeanor that stands 15 hands and has the incredible mind, size and ability of Metallic Cat. Plus, he's homozygous to guarantee a roan color every time. In February 2025, 4-year-old Malicious Dual by Metallic Malice placed at the ARHFA's Sun Circuit and Royal Crown 4-year-old heeling futurities.

The ranch also offers One Shiney Metallic, an 11-year-old palomino roan by Metallic Cat out of the buckskin mare One Shiney Rey by Dual Rey. His progeny are eligible to compete for Riata, Royal Crown and Gold Buckle futurity dollars.

FEEL THE STING

METALLIC MALICE

And 70 Ranch continues to offer the semen of the late, great Shawne Bug Leo that sired two NFR qualifiers and won a circuit finals rodeo in barrel racing at 22.

Shawne Bug Leo sired progeny that have earned over $2.4 million to date in barrel racing alone. Last fall, his 11-year-old son Cajun Chrome (LTE $132,302) won the Columbia River Circuit Finals reserve barrel racing championship and his 10-year-old son Al Cappone (LTE $76,189) won the Mountain States Circuit Finals reserve championship.

"More than his statistics, Shawne Bug Leo was known for his strength, his good mind and his unmistakably kind eyes that reflected both his soul and his wisdom," posted 70 Ranch following his 2025 death. "Shawne Bug Leo was the kind of horse whose presence filled every space—quiet yet commanding, powerful yet gentle."

BREEDER'S GUIDE | Stallions | 2026

THE LAZY E RANCH

The Lazy E is driving the future of the Western industry with cutting-edge breeding technology, facilities and stallion offerings.

The Lazy E Ranch's roots run deep in the Western horse industry, and its owners, the McKinney Family, continues to make unprecedented investments to push the breeding and performance game forward.

The Lazy E Ranch opened its gates in the fall of 1984 with interests in the performance horse industry and both Quarter Horse and Thoroughbred racing industries. World Champion and Quarter Horse Hall of Fame sire, Zan Parr Jack, called the Lazy E home that first year. Jack became the cornerstone of the Lazy E's commitment to the performance horse industry. With the purchase and addition of World Champion and World Champion sire Special Effort in 1989, the Lazy E was recognized as one of the top Quarter Horse breeding operations in the country.

Some 40 years later, along with Reliance Ranches, Lazy E is expanding the rope horse and barrel horse side with the addition of leading performance stallions like Bucks Hancock Dude, Show Me The Buckles and One Fabulous Time. The program is also home to up-and-coming stallion Watch The Lane, who won the $50,000 Old West Futurity title in 2025 with Rhen Richard and has earned over $105,000 in just one year of competition.

"We want to diversify and do both the race side and the performance side," Monty McNair, Lazy E Ranch manager, said. "We never rest on our past successes but strive every day to improve, innovate and find a better way. Decades of experience, professionalism, state-of-the-art facilities and a superior dedicated staff are the reasons so many have entrusted their equine investments to the Lazy E Ranch."

With four-time World Champion Bareback Rider Bobby Mote managing the ranch's training program and his wife, Kate, and daughter, Laura, riding the barrel horses, the Lazy E and Reliance Ranches are gearing up to marry top-tier breeding with high-caliber training.

"The Lazy E has always been on the cutting edge of technology on the breeding and racing side, and now we're bringing that to the performance market," McNair said.

The Ranch is located on two sites—the breeding facility and the training center. The breeding facility is situated on 300 rolling acres and includes a 65,000 square foot mare barn, 116 stalls, 2 foaling stalls, an indoor arena, 40 individual stalls with adjoining runs, turn out paddocks, and the capability to accommodate 120 mares under lights. The training center sits on 625 acres just down the road from the ranch and houses year-round mares with turnouts and paddocks for layups, weanlings and yearlings. There's also an additional 200+ individual stalls for sale prep horses.

The Ranch breeds approximately 2,000 mares a year, foaling out over 400. The Lazy E is a leading consignor of Quarter Horses with more than 500 passing through the sales prep program each year. With a staff of more than 65, the Lazy E is equipped to support any program.

Excellence is our Tradition.

Any roper looking for extra speed needs to look no further than Cyber Monday.

The 2018 stallion was a Grade 1 winner and earned more than a half-million dollars during his racing career.

Hailing from racing royalty, he is by champion producer Favorite Cartel and out of AQHA Dam of Distinction Remember Me Rose. The pair has produced some of the most successful runners in the industry, including three-time AQHA champion Cyber Attack, Bomb Cyclone and Powerful Favorite—all earners of over $1 million.

"His siblings top the most competitive yearling sales every year," said Monty McNair, Lazy E Ranch Manager. "His full brother Accelerated set a new record for the Los Alamitos Yearling Sale in 2024, bringing an impressive $850,000."

Cyber Monday's first foals made their racing debut in 2025 and earned more than $950,000, making him the second-leading first-year sire.

"We're excited for the future of Cyber Monday's breeding career," said McNair. "His first foals have already proven that he passes on his great disposition and impeccable looks. We're super excited to see what his offspring will do in the arena. He has the conformation, mind and speed to complement the grit and drive of cowbred mares."

The rare homozygous roan stallion Dirty Fling is bred for speed, feel and cow. By Metallic Cat, the all-time leading sire of cow horses, and out of Streak Of Gin, a daughter of A Streak Of Fling, he's a stallion with real cow on the top side and proven run, turn and rate on the bottom. He stamps his foals with bone, shape and a steady mind that fits both rope horse and barrel horse programs.

Proven in the arena with the Relentless Remuda's Trevor Brazile and Miles Baker, Dirty Fling is now under the ownership of Colorado's Zito Quarter Horses, who've committed to crossing him on the industry's top mares to continue to elevate his presence.

His first foal crop of 3-year-olds is already with top trainers Ty Benson, Tate Kirchenschlager and Miles Baker. They are showing clean mechanics, good direction and the kind of willing temperament that puts them on target for the 2027 futurities. They're strong, smart and carrying the mix of cow, run and structure that breeders expect from this cross.

Dirty Fling is now enrolled in Future Fortunes and Select Stallion Stakes, too, opening the door wide for barrel racers who want a stallion with true crossover value. He brings Metallic Cat's cow, A Streak Of Fling's run, and the size and shape you want in modern rope and barrel horses.

If you want foals with speed, sense and longevity, Dirty Fling deserves a spot in your program.

Speed and athleticism are overflowing on the pedigree of $6.5 million sire Epic Leader, the 2008 gray stallion out of the Yates family's NFR mare Firewater Fiesta. She earned nearly $1 million on the barrels but was also a top-notch head horse for Kelly's brother, team roping legend J.D. Yates.

"At the end of the day, she was fast and strong—two things I think are important in a head horse," Yates said. "The first colt out of her was a horse we called Popsicle by Popular Resort Figure, and I rodeoed on him and jackpotted on him. All the Firewater Fiesta colts have been roped on and every one of them has been physical and fast."

Even back in 1989, a gray half-brother to Firewater Fiesta named Flits Friend was Yates' PRCA/AQHA Heel Horse of the Year. As for Epic Leader, two of his big gray barrel-racing sons qualified for the 2025 NFR with staggering lifetime earnings last November of $703,607 for Kassie Mowry's CP He Will Be Epic and $618,700 for Pete Carr's Sir Epic, ridden by Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi.

Epic Leader himself earned $170,000 in limited arena competition. He's enrolled in the bulk of the major incentives including the exclusive Riata, Ruby and Pink Buckles.

The stout blue roan stallion One Fabulous Time proved his own athleticism and versatility as a reined cow horse, capturing multiple NRCHA championships, but his offspring are showing out in the roping pen.

World champion header Kaleb Driggers has ridden the One Fabulous Time daughter Blowin In Time to two reserve championships at the ARHFA World Finals.

"She's a key part of our Kingpin Genetics," said Driggers. "She's extremely athletic. Just loping her around, she feels like a special animal—and it's another world when you head on her."

One Fabulous Time is by One Time Pepto—producer of rope horses earning more than $700,000—and out of the High Brow Cat daughter Cat Mist, a producer of cow horses earning $1.3 million and counting. Crossed with a variety of mares, One Fabulous Time's offspring are excelling in multiple disciplines.

They've proven they inherit One Fabulous Time's versatility, with money earners in roping and barrel racing. Joseph Harrison dominated the 2023 roping futurities aboard Air Force 1, while Downtown Cashbrown has been clocking 1D times in the barrel pen.

Probably A Shiner's versatility is proven in the fact that he's a world-champion switch-ender.

Four years ago, the stud with the unique dapple buckskin coat won the Royal Crown heeling futurity with J.D. Yates at the reins—the same year he won both the AQHA Junior Heading and Junior Heeling at the World Show for $27,184.

The stallion's broodmare sire, With All Probability, nearly did the same thing in 2005, winning the heading and a reserve championship in heeling under Kory Koontz to become that year's Superhorse—also the winningest performance stallion in AQHA history.

Raised by Iowa's Rolling V Performance Horses, the 15.1-hand Probably A Shiner is a third-generation rope horse, but also earned AQHA points in tie-down roping and working cow horse, plus halter. He's by another AQHA World Champion Senior Heel Horse—Smart Nu Shiner, now standing in Brazil.

"He's been so easy to show," said owner Mike Van Egdom. "I owned his mother and his father, and he's had a nice temperament from the day he hit the ground."

Probably A Shiner sired heeling futurity champion Probably Smart N Nu that Daniel Reed rode to win a go-round of last fall's ARHFA World Championships with a score of 234.64.

One of the industry's fastest up-and-coming sires, Shawne Streakin Jet, had earned more than $113,000 in two events as of last fall. The bay roan stallion won the 2021 Royal Crown Breakaway Futurity as a 6-year-old and more recently placed at the Lubbock, Texas, pro rodeo in barrel racing with Ceri Ward at the reins.

It takes a fast athlete to clock a 17.0-second run like he did last fall at the Pink Buckle, and the pair qualified to run at the Central Regional Finals this year in hopes of an American Semi-Finals berth.

The 11-year-old stud takes after his sire, $10 million producer A Streak Of Fling, that was both a roping and barrel horse. "Streaker" was purchased as a colt by former NFR tie-down roper Brian Fulton, who had the stud knot-roping down the wall in eight weeks.

It's safe to say Shawne Streakin Jet will produce horses with both color and talent. His sire, Streaker, also produced Jake Clay's Head Horse of the BFI (Streakin Sun Dew), Garrett Tonozzi's roan two-time WCRA Champion head horse (Streakin Disco), and Oz Ona Hot Streak that won the first Calgary Stampede team roping with Ross Ashford.

Traffic Guy offspring have earned more than $2.4 million, but the stallion himself was also a successful competitor in multiple events.

With NFR barrel racer Tammy Fischer at the reins, he became an elite barrel horse, scoring checks at the San Antonio Rodeo, BFA World Championships and WPRA World Finals. In the meantime, the versatile stallion was started in team roping by Clay Logan and later was ridden in heading for a qualification to The American Semifinals.

His owner, Felicity Martin, has said Traffic Guy's mind is his greatest asset.

"He scores like a rock and has a big move on the corner, plus he can face and be looking back down the rope before you can blink," said Martin.

The stallion's sire, Frenchmans Guy, and the Tryan family's Hall-of-Fame head horse Walt share a Hall-of-Fame grandsire in Docs Jack Frost. Meanwhile, his dam Evening Traffic is a granddaughter of all-time leading racehorse sire First Down Dash.

Last season, Traffic Guy's daughter I'm A Royal N Traffic was an ARHFA World finalist in heading under Bobby Mote. Plus, his older son Caddy Beatin Traffic is a former Mountain States Circuit Heel Horse of the Year that boasts $175,000 in lifetime roping earnings.

Raised by the renowned Western States Ranches of Wes Adams fame, WSR Hesa Dunofa Lena—nicknamed "Rooster"—has earned his place in history as the winningest rope-horse stallion in the world of ProRodeo.

A stout bone and rich dun coat give him presence, but it was his legacy in the arena that made him legendary. Early in his career, he carried two-time world champion heeler Randon Adams as a backup behind the four-time AQHA/PRCA Horse of the Year, Diesel. He then stepped up and helped Adams claim the title at the California Rodeo Salinas in 2012 while heeling for his paternal sibling, WSR Hesa Alive.

When Adams stepped away from full-time rodeo to manage the family business, Rooster became the go-to pinch-hitter for the sport's elite. He gave Dakota Kirchenschlager his first NFR ride, carried Russell Cardoza to a U.S. Open paycheck, provided Cesar de la Cruz a go-round check at the Finals and then Adams returned to the saddle with him to win at Logandale. Two-time world champion heeler Patrick Smith later secured Rooster and continued to campaign him at the top tier of the sport, claiming major rodeo wins and placing at the BFI.

In spring 2024, David & Miranda Zito of Zito Quarter Horses purchased WSR Hesa Dunofa Lena from Smith and relocated him to Lazy E Ranch in Guthrie, Oklahoma—making him available for 2025 breeding bookings. Even as he settled into his breeding duties, Rooster answered the call from heeler Levi Lord and returned as a backup horse to the 2024 NFR in Las Vegas, reminding everyone that his champion heart still beats strong. Meanwhile, his brother, WSR Hesa Alive, got the NFR aggregate title on the head side with Clint Summers at 20 years young.

If you're looking to tap into a bloodline of longevity, grit and high-level results, it's hard to find a safer and smarter play than WSR Hesa Dunofa Lena.

2J EQUINE
Vinita, Oklahoma
918-915-1192; 2jequine.com

Justin and Megan Janda founded 2J Equine in 2014 as a necessity. Their vision was to establish a breeding program that produced horses that were functional and made to last.

"We need horses with good feet and bone that have the athleticism and mindset to do what is needed on the ranch," Megan said.

2J Equine currently consists of eight broodmares and two stallions: Stolin Whiskey, whom they raised, and Its Mr PYC To You, acquired in 2020.

The Jandas prioritize quality over quantity, recognizing that individual preferences vary.

"Fit and feel are different for everyone and I think what we've done well is getting the right fit and feel in capable hands."

Highlights of their program include Copper, owned by Jake Long, competing in the 2025 NFR as well as Rita, owned by Kingpin Genetics, and Mozzie, owned by Dustin Davis.

The Jandas truly cherish the friendships they've developed within the horse industry, and their goal is to be known for quality horses and for embodying the values of hard work and integrity.

"First and foremost, we give the glory to God for all of this," Megan said. "He's blessed us with these horses and the talents and abilities to do what we love."

The Busbys weren't looking for a new stud back in 2023, but found they couldn't pass up the chance to add A Blazin Dude to their lineup. A Blazin Dude is by Busby's great sire Blazin Jetolena, whose progeny earnings have crossed $11 million; his dam, Dasher Dude went to a pair of NFRs, winning go-rounds en route to lifetime earnings of $570,000, and has produced progeny with earnings of $235,000-plus.

Part of a growing legacy of champions, A Blazin Dude also boasts an NFR-qualifying full sister, Blazing With My Dude, who helped Andrea Busby earn a pair of NFR qualifications in 2024 and 2025.

"The stallion game is tough; it's a long process, to say the least," Andrea said. "I'd watched A Blazin Dude, and I just thought, 'Man, what better horse to add to our program?' He's had success, and we've had so much success with his full sister."

A Blazin Dude is proving versatile enough to produce both in the roping and barrel racing pens with enough cow and speed for any job. But it is his kind and willing demeanor that truly completes the package, making A Blazin Dude the type of horse that can easily move from one event to another.

Busby Quarter Horses' Blazin Honor is a versatile performer who is passing his adaptability on to his offspring.

A product of elite lineage, Blazin Honor is a son of Blazin Jetolena, an $11 million-plus sire, and a maternal grandson of Power Train, a $2.5 million track and barrel sire.

The 2008 stallion has proven his winning pedigree in his own right, earning money in the WPRA on the barrels and racking up more than $90,000 in team roping earnings. Blazin Honor has 57 AQHA points in heading, heeling and performance halter as well as an AQHA Performance Register of Merit.

As a sire, Blazin Honor's progeny are excelling in multiple disciplines as he produces horses that can run barrels and rope, whether it be heading, heeling or breakaway roping.

Among his winning progeny are multiple winners in the team roping including Blazin Merada, the 2024 Reserve Champion at the Riata #10.5 Youth with Hoyt Darnall. On the barrel pattern, Blazin Honor's offspring Blazin On By is the 2025 APHA Junior Barrel Racing World Champion.

Crossing well on mares with Stylish Rey, Highbrow Cat and Peptoboonsmal bloodlines, Blazin Honor produces versatile horses that can do it all, showing exceptional trainability and adaptability.

FULTON PERFORMANCE HORSES
Todd County, South Dakota
605-776-4420; info@fultonranch.com;
fultonranch.com

Located in Todd County, South Dakota, Fulton Performance Horses is the realized dream of Lisa and Brian Fulton, a National Finals Rodeo competitor who had a passion for training good horses and wanted to raise versatile horses with good conformation, athleticism and trainability. Today, Lisa and her family, Jake and Laney, Jared and John are carrying on the legacy and the dream that their family has worked at for 30-plus years.

Thanks to his dominance as a sire, their program has become synonymous with the great stallion, A Streak Of Fling, who is fourth on QData's All-Time Money-Earning Barrel Racing Sire list. Proving his progeny can succeed across disciplines, he also lands 21st on their 2025 Top 50 All Events Sire ranking. His get have earned an incredible $13 million, excelling both in rodeo and showing. A Streak of Fling has produced winners at every level in barrels, roping and rodeo.

Highlighting his adaptability, A Streak of Fling's foals are eligible for 22 different incentives including those geared to roping and barrel racing.

"We all love horses that are versatile," Fulton said. "To us, that's a signature part of A Streak Of Fling. We use 'diversity' quite proudly. With A Streak Of Fling's passing in September of 2024 we are also concentrating on the A Streak Of Fling broodmare daughters in our broodmare band. We feel crossing them on a diverse cross of stallions in the industry will keep us going forward with A Streak Of Fling's Legacy."

"That diversity is finally coming out with all this roping," Fulton noted of the growing rope horse futurity industry. "Now we have team ropers coming to us to breed their good mares. And those are the kind you need to bring, the mares you love to ride."

The Fultons have lived their mantra of diversity through a breeding program with proven producing broodmares as well as a lineup of stallions that also includes A Dash Ta Streak and young standout Flingin Jameson, who blends the best of what cow horse, speed horse and rope horses offer.

It's about not only raising top-quality horses but also training with deliberate effort to produce quality, all-around horses for the branded-F. Buyers can occasionally find an older prospect at Fulton's, but there is always a steady supply of younger horses, everything from weanlings to 2-year-olds.

Through their selective breeding process, Fulton Performance Horses continues to produce outstanding rodeo prospects, horses developed with an eye on physical ability and heart and capable of succeeding in any event.

A Streak Of Fling's Frozen Semen is handled by Fulton Performance Horses for the 2026 breeding season with frozen semen/ICSI available in the United States, Australia, Canada and Italy.

ALPHA REPRODUCTION
Canyon, Texas
806-265-7053

Alpha Reproduction has been on a fast-track since it began just four years ago, when owner/operator Trey Hurst translated years of doing IVF in cattle to help a client with a recipient mare.

"It was the same basis as cattle and I was honestly a little tired of that," Hurst said. "We went from 10 recips the first year, then 20 the next."

"Now, we're here and I don't even know how, but it was quick, fast and in a hurry," he laughed.

Alpha offers comprehensive mare management services including breeding, foaling, embryo transfer and ICSI opportunities to support advanced reproductive programs. Their recip mare options allow clients to use lease mares already on hand or haul in their own.

Alpha's team consists of Hurst, his wife Brecklyn and two staffers.

"I feel like we get a lot more done with the right people," he said, adding that Timber Creek Veterinary Hospital, led by Dr. Greg Veneklasn and his team, are on board to ensure the highest level of care as well.

Alpha relocated to 150 acres in Canyon in May 2025.

"We're finishing the first part of the facility now with another barn going up next year," Hurst said. "The sky is the limit."

Bet Hesa Freckledcat was the "Answer" to a prayer for his owners John and Kay Coltharp. After tragically losing their son Caden at just 16 years old, the Coltharps hoped for a red colt out of their all-around mare Angel, MS Freckled Star. Angel delivered Answer, by Bet Hesa Cat, on the same day they had adopted their son years before.

Answer has proven a versatile winner, with earnings in the NRCHA and the roping arena. Along with a performance Register of Merit, Answer has banked over $423,000 lifetime, carrying pro ropers and both of his owners.

"We're older and we love our horses but we want to ride them," Kay explained. "Answer takes very good care of us but he's so versatile a pro can get on him and win too."

Answer is passing on both his physical attributes and his kind demeanor to his offspring. JKC Answers Ruby earned $90,000 in 2025 and full sister, JKC Answers Faith, was right on her heels, both ridden by Kaleb Asay.

"He has all the tools, the athleticism and he's built right, but the best thing about him is his personality," Kay said. "The mind means so much to us in these horses ... they have to be trainable."

Playen Spades has been a star for John and Kay Coltharp's 3C Performance Horses for more than a decade.

An own son of the legendary Playgun, a sire of earners of more than $10 million, Gunner has earned 89.5 points in both heading and heeling, and he has lifetime earnings of $120,000.

Both Coltharps have ridden Gunner to the pay window and he continues to compete with their veterinarian, Dr. Matt Imel with a trip to the 2025 World Series Team Roping Finale in December.

With a great mind to complement his athleticism and cow sense, Gunner is equally adept as a helper horse for pro ropers or carrying low-numbered ropers.

"He's the coolest dude," Kay said. "When the pros had him, he could be tied up amongst the mares and he was a perfect gentleman."

With progeny like JKC Playen Lectric, a multiple arena record setter and futurity winner, and JKC Smart Playen Sis, who finished in the top 10 of the 2024 AQHFA World Champion Heeling Futurity, Gunner is passing his best attributes to the next generation.

"He is a really nice horse and his foals are intelligent," Kay said. "He definitely puts bone and height on them."

BR Golden Leader is a versatile performer whose progeny are carrying on his legacy of winning across multiple disciplines.

A true all-around stallion, Taxi is by Confederate Leader out of a ProRodeo money-earning mare. Continuing to win in the barrels with his owner/breeder Whitney Davison and in the roping pen with Whitney's husband Cole, the gray stallion has more than $58,000 in lifetime earnings. His first foal crop has displayed his remarkable versatility and easy-going attitude, already amassing more than $300,000 in team roping, barrel racing, breakaway and tie-down roping.

At the ARHFA Finals in October, BR Golden Kat Olena claimed the Limited Heading Futurity World Championship and a Reserve title in the Intermediate Heading, while BR Call A Uber took third in Open Heading Futurity. That same weekend, Saylors Packing Fame raced to a top-five finish at the NBHA Finals in barrel racing, running Taxi's babies' haul to $45,000-plus in a single weekend.

"I'm really looking forward to the future with a bunch of his babies hitting the arena," Whitney said.

An excellent outcross in the barrel racing, BR Golden Leader adds speed and quickness to maximize potential no matter the discipline.

One of today's winningest roping sires has never before stood to the public. But now, 10-year-old Cat Man San is available as 2023's high-money-winning stallion in all of team roping with $234,708 (trailing only Clint Summers' legendary gelding Transmission).

"He has the best mind and a huge heart to go with his talent," said Kayelen Helton, who won checks on the stout sorrel in both breakaway roping and heading last year.

By the High Brow Cat/Freckles Playboy stallion Cat Man Do and out of the race-and-cow-bred Waggoner mare Peppy Diversion, Cat Man San was a tie-down roping futurity and AQHA champion the same year he earned $129,153 heeling and $105,555 heading, according to QData.

Also by Cat Man Do are Soda Pop Cat that won last fall's ARHFA World Heeling Finals by a whopping 12 points and 4-year-old Pretty Poco Girl Fja that won a staggering $117,250 at the Riata across the Pro Futurity, 14.5 and 8.5.

Cat Man San had just three performing offspring last year—two of which were 4 years old—but they earned $149,660 to already make him the fourth-ranked roping stallion of all time in terms of average earnings per offspring.

CASINO HEIST

SHEIK JEAN FLY

88 RANCH PERFORMANCE HORSES
Douglas, Wyoming
307-358-5941;
88ranchperformancehorses.com

From its start as a supplier of horses for a stage stop in 1878, 88 Ranch Performance Horses is still committed to breeding top-level horses that can effortlessly transition between heading, heeling, breakaway, barrels, cow horse, or any desired event.

Based in Douglas, Wyoming, 88 Ranch nurtures a lineage that excels in the arena through its stallions, Casino Heist and Sheik Jean Fly HTT.

Still successfully competing while passing on his exceptional speed and remarkable disposition, Sheik offers the ultimate outcross in barrel racing with potential far beyond that discipline.

"We wanted to make an impactful change and move the needle forward on building elite bloodlines," Garret Henry, the fifth generation now running the 88, said. "We needed our horses to be suitable for barrel racing and for roping."

Sheik's progeny are eligible for a slate of incentives, including the Pink Buckle, Solo Stallion Stakes and his own bonus program, the Triple Buckle which offers $100,000 prize money to the first Sheik babies to win any money in all three Buckles (Pink, Ruby and Riata).

Standing at Solo Select Horses in Texas has given Sheik the opportunity to cross on Solo's elite band of roping mares and prove himself outside of barrel racing.

"He's very low to the ground and can really move and fly," Henry noted. "He will definitely be able to produce rope horses."

Sheik's first foal crop will hit the arena in 2027 with huge anticipation from the stallion's large following.

With Sheik representing the future, Casino Heist continues to fill the present with winners for the 88 Ranch. The Frenchmans Guy son has progeny earnings of more than $200,000 in everything from reined cow horse to ranch versatility to every timed event in rodeo.

In 2024, Casino's progeny qualified for multiple ProRodeo circuit finals rodeos from Montana to the Mountain States, to the Wilderness Circuit, claiming both average and year-end titles in team roping, tie down and breakaway.

"Casino continues to make his mark producing standout timed event horses," Henry said.

In addition to Bugzees Heist In 75, the 2023 Reserve Montana Circuit Champion in breakaway, Summer Colada, a futurity winner and ProRodeo winner, Clear Creek Canyon, a ProRodeo barrel racing money earner, and Dunn Good Girl, a winner in reined cow horse and ProRodeo tie down roping, Casino Heist has also sired Sagebrush Cantina and Hair Trigger Ophelia, an up-and-coming steer wrestling team for NFR qualifier Stetson Jorgensen.

With each stallion carefully chosen for their exceptional traits, 88 Ranch continues to sculpt a future in which their horses are athletes ready to go into the arena or the pasture as good, using horses on the ranch, and anything in between.

Built for performance and longevity, Cee My Special Nite is winning across disciplines and dropping his ability and intelligence into his earliest foals.

By $7 million sire Gunners Special Nite, Cee My Special Nite, aka Diablo (aptly named after the high-performance sports car), is out of the NRHA top 25 producing mare, Cee Dun It Do It by Hollywood Dun It.

With over 380 Open AQHA points spanning eight events and a Superior Stallion in Reining, Ranch Riding and Heading, Diablo continues to add to his winnings with qualifications across eight disciplines at the 2025 AQHA World Show, walking away with the Bronze NSBA World Championship in Senior Ranch Trail with trainer Ryan Kail.

Diablo was named Reserve World Champion in Performance Halter Stallions and finished fifth for the prestigious Superhorse title at the 2023 World Show before taking the 2024 AQHA Reserve World Champion in Senior Open Heading with J.D. Yates.

Perhaps his biggest win was the Arizona Sun Circuit leadline championship with Kail's daughter, Kenzley, illustrating Diablo is gentle enough for any-level rider.

Under the continued guidance of Kail and a proven pedigree, there is no limit to the heights this kind, willing, hard-working, athletic, handsome stallion will achieve.

The 2021 Junior Tie Down AQHA World Champion, the 2016 stallion earned the AQHA Senior Tie Down Roping High Point award in 2023 and returned in 2024 for a top-10 finish. His lifetime earnings are now $68,000 with 419 AQHA points and growing.

In addition to his own winning record, Arete has been one of the most used heeler heel horses, instrumental on the heel side for many wins at major rope horse futurities with Kirkenschlager.

Arete is still competing and having success with riders of all levels—a trait that his owners all believe will pass down to his progeny with the first foal crop going under saddle in the spring. With a reining background, the stallion has proven versatile and steady, yet user-friendly.

SHINERS SUDUKO

Billadeau Quarter Horses moves their entire program to Arizona each winter from North Dakota, including, for instance, mares boasting the bloodlines of Dash For Cash, Easy Jet, Freckles Playboy and Peptoboonsmal, plus a pair of stallions by $11 million reined cow horse Hall-of-Famer Shining Spark.

"We really love the Shining Spark horses," Billadeau said. "They are very trainable. They put substance and a good mind in our foals."

The Billadeau family has spent two decades developing Billadeau Quarter Horses as a source for outstanding all-around prospects by crossing cow-bred studs on race-bred mares. They've combined powerful genetics in their palomino stud out of an own daughter of Doc O'Lena, plus their young buckskin stud out of athletic uber-producer Metallic Cat.

Shiners Suduko is a finished heel horse and money-winner on the reining pattern out of Doc's Sulena, by Doc O'Lena out of a Rey Jay daughter. Suduko's babies have already proven themselves in the roping pen, from Shiny Coyote to Shiney Little Rio, on which Wyatt Imus made the short round at the 2025 ARHFA World Heading Pre-Futurity.

That horse's full brother, Shiny Lil Peso, was a 2024 Platinum Medal Heading Futurity reserve champ that Sterling English rode last year to earn $11,370 at the USTRC Finals and $86,000 as the champion header at September's Riata #12.5 Championships, plus $23,000 for placing in the 14.5. Just before December's NFR, Shiny Lil Peso was 2025's second-highest-earning horse in all of team roping.

"He was such a sensible horse," said NFR header Britt Williams, who trains Billadeaus' prospects. "He was good in the box and wanted to go to the cow with no cheat–just a good, honest kind of horse."

This year, Williams will show Shiny Lil Ike in heading futurities (she won a heeling futurity last year as a 4-year-old), and he's excited about his handful of other Shining Suduko futurity horses. Plus, he can't say enough about the best colt he says he's ever ridden–Billadeaus' new 3-year-old stud Diceman.

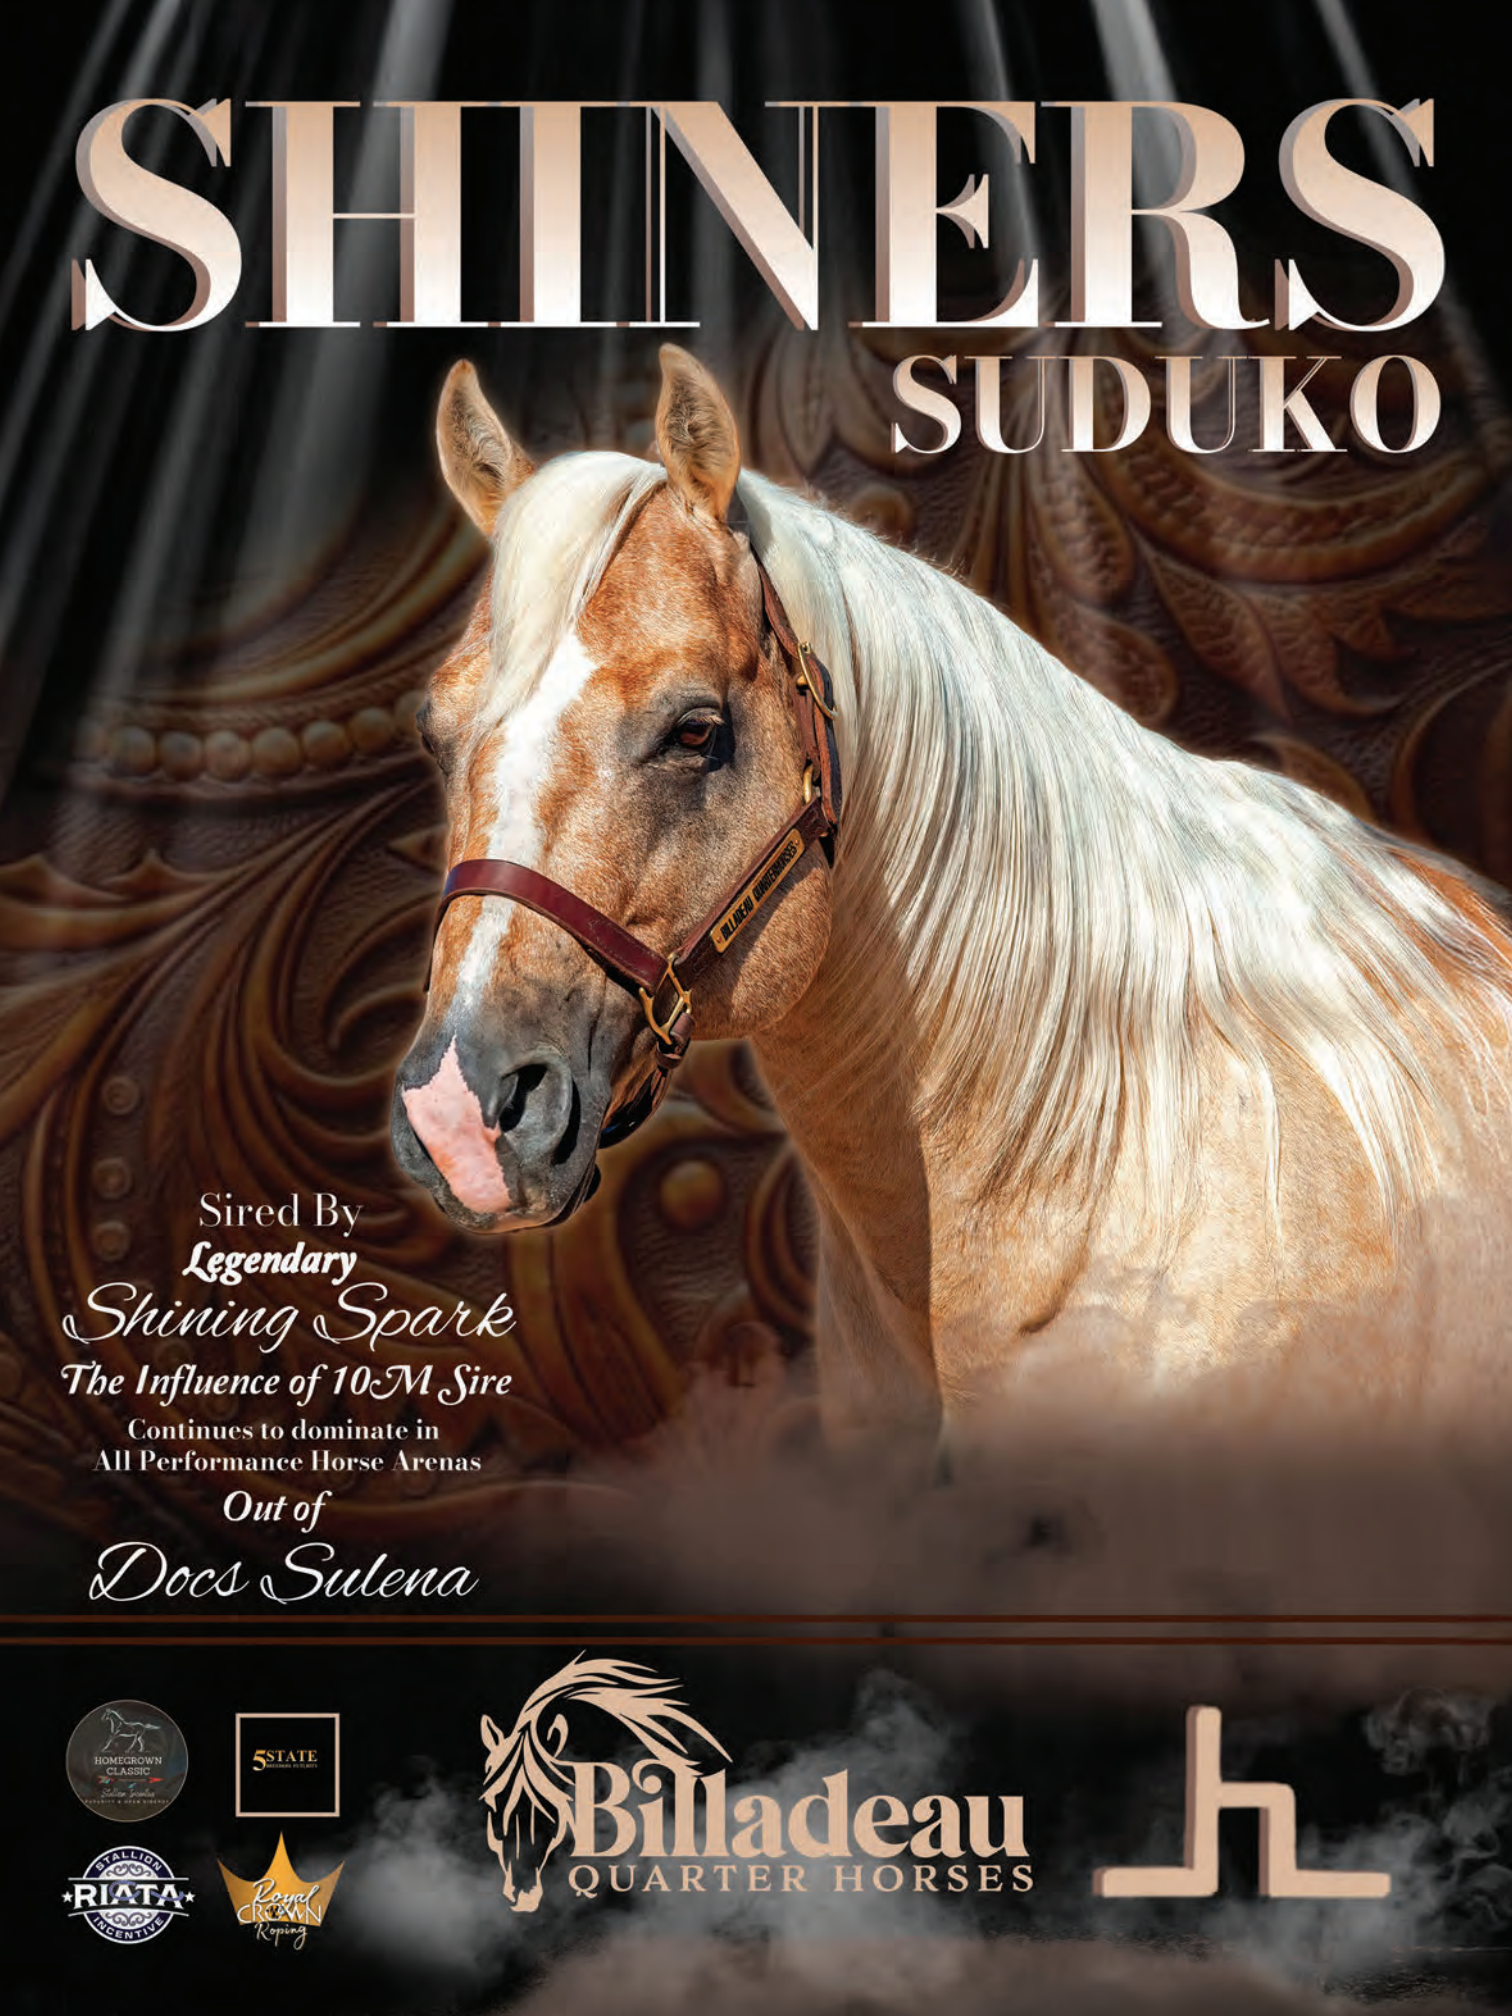

"I feel lucky to get an opportunity to ride a horse like him," said Williams, who turned steers for Bob Harris at the Hall-of-Famer's final NFR in 2010. "He looks like a big-time futurity horse already—he's more mature in body and mind than any 3-year-old I've ever started."

Diceman is out of Carrera Cat–the Metallic Cat daughter that won an AQHA Superior in Heeling for Brad Lund. In 2023, a Carrera Cat yearling filly sold for $180,000 as a yearling at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Sale.

"Ty Smith lined it up for us to get this young stallion, and he's really something special," said Billadeau. "He's one of the prettiest buckskins you've ever seen and the most athletic. From the first steer he ran, he looked like he'd been doing it for years."

Like many other elite ropers, Trey Johnson banked on mare power when looking for a good prospect, crossing his rodeo mare, TJS Voo Doo Fifteen, on the superbly bred MPH Spectacular Cat to produce his own stallion prospect, Docs Metallic Cat.

"I rodeoed on his mom and she was so tough," Johnson said. "He reminds me a lot of her in how hard he tries."

Just coming 6 in 2026, Commander is a veteran of the AQHA World Show and the futurity circuit, working both ends, and Johnson plans to display the stallion's versatility at the breakaway futurities this year.

"He's got a great mind and he wants to please," Johnson said. "You just show him a few times and he'll do his best."

Johnson notes the stallion's great disposition allows him to easily haul with mares and geldings and that he's got both the speed and quickness to handily deliver a roper to his position.

For Johnson, showing Commander has allowed him to expand his outreach of Trey Johnson Ministries to the futurity world while widening his own knowledge and horsemanship.

"It's been a fun journey and I've learned a lot with him," he laughed. "It's been good for the horse and the rider."

A full brother to Four Bonnie Bay—a winner in numerous AQHA events, including heading, heeling and calf roping—Doobie brings a legacy of excellence to the breeding world.

Doobie's foals, the oldest born in 2016, are already making a mark in roping arenas across Texas and Arizona, inheriting his desirable traits: big bone, striking color, and significant speed. While Doobie himself excels as a head horse, he produces versatile progeny suitable for both heading and heeling, with several being capable switchenders.

"He passes everything down—from his looks to his talent," Danny Massingill said, who noted he won close to $20,000 roping on the stallion in 2024 at World Series Team Roping and other events.

"Doobie is as quiet and calm as they come, and all of his babies are that way. They are real easy to start and super easy-going, reflecting his calm disposition and athletic ability, making them suitable for a range of riders, from beginners to advanced ropers."

DT HICKORY STINGER

DT HORSES
Scottsdale, Arizona
480-471-4348; dthorses.com

DT Horses, led by Dean and Leslie Tuftin, entered 2025 with a season that reflects exactly what their program stands for. Hickory Holly Time crossed $4 million in progeny earnings, becoming the leading sire in the American Rope Horse Futurity Association, the Riata Stallion Incentive and the Gold Buckle Futurities. His foals backed that up in the arena, with Jeremy Buhler winning the ARHFA World Show on DT Hickorys Angus, the Gold Buckle Futurities 4 and Under on DT Hickorys Stinger, and the 6 and Under on SLR Swinging Hickory. Buhler also rode SLR Swinging Hickory to the Old West Futurity title for $100,000, another highlight for the mare owned by Stump Lake Ranch. These wins speak to the consistency DT Horses works toward every day.

Hickory Holly Time offspring won $1 million in trackable earnings through the AQHA's QData system in 2025 alone—the first rope horse sire to ever cross that milestone in a single year.

But results alone do not define the program. DT Horses is built on a clear purpose: raise and train horses the right way, invest in people who want to grow, and elevate the standard of what a rope horse program can be.

Everything starts with the horses. DT focuses on proven crosses and disciplined training that builds confidence, feel and longevity. The same care goes into the people inside the program. Dean takes pride in helping young trainers become true horsemen and horsewomen, and in guiding team ropers looking for a horse that will match their goals. The success of the program is rooted in that shared work and shared mindset.

The 2016 PRCA World Champion Buhler fit right into DT Horses with a calm intensity and sharp instincts that mirror the program's values. Dean also added Canadian header Stran Pollitt, completing a crew that works toward one goal: build good horses, stand behind them and let the results take care of themselves.

"We're all on the same page," Tuftin said. "We want to make a good horse first. If that horse fits the futurities, great. If it shines as a 4 or 5, that matters just as much. We are building horses you can enjoy, horses you can trust. Put your hand down and go have fun. That is the point."

To thank the people who believe in the program, Tuftin continues the Hickory Holly Time Incentive at the Riata Championships, adding $50,000 for riders who choose the stallion and invest in what DT Horses is building.

"We want to pay the owners for supporting Hickory Holly Time," Tuftin said. "They are raising these horses with us. The least we can do is give back."

Dean keeps DT Horses open to anyone eager to learn the process, because he believes that strong horsemanship across the industry benefits everyone.

"My mission statement is to build champion horses with solid training techniques while developing the mind of a horse positively," Dean said. "It is not just about winning a futurity. It is about shaping great horses and helping the industry grow. Our doors are open to anyone who wants to learn."

Fiestas Dynasty carries the legendary genetics of FDD Dynasty, a leading AQHA racing sire with progeny earnings over $34 million, and Kelly Yates' NFR mare, Firewater Fiesta. Born from a partnership between Yates and barrel racing's all-time leading breeder Jud Little, Fiesta was bought by the DeLanceys in 2022.

Fiestas Dynasty's parents were both excellent producers and performers: FDD Dynasty earned $1.1 million and has produced winners of more than $34 million, while Firewater Fiesta earned better than $800,000 in barrel racing and has progeny earnings nearly equaling that.

Fiestas Dynasty has earned 83 AQHA points across multiple disciplines, racking up barrel racing earnings with Yates and an AQHA Reserve World Championship in Heading with J.D. Yates.

Among Fiestas' stellar offspring is Mister Doc Dynasty, who has lifetime earnings above $79,000 with Darla Hoover including the 2D Average Championship in the 2025 Pink Buckle Derby, and Fiesta Got Feelins, owned by DeLancey Enterprises, LLC/The Rodeo Ranch, who has qualified to the American Rodeo Semifinals twice as well as the Wild Card Round with lifetime earnings above $33,000.

Fiestas Dynasty is color tested, 8 panel N/N, AQHA/APHA/APHC eligible for breeding, EVA neg and vaccinated. He stands 15.3 hands and 1,350 pounds.

Whether working the ranch in Wyoming or competing in various arenas, Heza Fiery Fling is an exceptional stallion with a world-class pedigree who has won money in multiple disciplines.

By the great A Streak of Fling, Mick has added over $35,000-plus to his sire's $13 million in progeny earnings. His dam, Sheza Firen Bully, carries the bloodlines of Bully Bullion and Fire Water Flit, and has produced an arena record holder, a two-time World Champion barrel and pole stallion, a barrel futurity winner and a finalist at the Pendleton Round-Up, garnering progeny earnings over $100,000.

With barrel racing earnings from open shows to futurities, Heza Fiery Fling has also won in breakaway and on both ends of the team roping. In one year, he earned an AQHA ROM in heeling and made the top 10 at the AQHA World Show in the heading with Tate Kirchenschlager.

At 15.2 hands and around 1,250 pounds, Heza Fiery Fling is color tested, eight panel N/N, EVA neg and vaccinated. He is eligible for both AQHA and APHA breeding.

With his first crop reaching competition age in 2026, this young stallion offers versatility, athleticism, brains, beauty and proven bloodlines, all the ingredients to produce an elite, all-around prospect capable of winning in any discipline.

FLAG RANCH
Purcell, Oklahoma
910-734-7772; flagranchllc.com

As the leading all-time breeder of team roping horses, Flag Ranch counts more than $1.2 million in earnings and counting, according to QData.

That's thanks mostly to Larry and Bobbie Rice's athletic stallion One Time Honor (by One Time Pepto out of a Holland Ease daughter named Honor Ease). Last year alone through November, the stud's roping progeny had earned $233,665.

One standout son has been Ryan Gronlie's 4-year-old One Time Pick (out of a Sixes Pick daughter named Picks Petie), fresh off last fall's reserve heading championship worth $37,015 at the Gold Buckle World Finals in Abilene. He had already finished second for $16,976 at the 2025 ARHFA World Championships, where three other finalists in heading were also Flag Ranch-bred horses—Relentless Kat, Cardi BRelentless and A Relentless Buzz.

"Larry Rice was ahead of his time," said Miles Baker, who also split $37,400 heading at the '24 Riata on a 5-year-old by One Time Honor. "Now we're all trying to breed the same horses he bred and raised 10 years ago."

Other winning 4- and 5-year-old rope horses by One Time Honor last season were Fury Of Honor under Jake Cooper, Hal Time under Steve Orth, Nestle Time under Kaleb Driggers and Relentless Kat under Miles Baker.

The winningest broodmares in team roping are consigned to the 43rd Triangle Winter Sale, Jan. 22-24 in Oklahoma City, as the Flag Ranch disperses the dams of 2025 ARHFA World finalist futurity horses ridden by Miles Baker, Kaleb Driggers and Colby Lovell.

Many of these mares also produced winners by former Flag Ranch stallions such as One Fabulous Time, Bobby Starlight and First Prize Diver. Those include Kaleb Driggers' 5-year-old mare Blowin In Time. He said this daughter of One Fabulous Time can run, with really good footwork, while keeping superb collection through the turn.

Highlighting the sale roster is 11-year-old Playin For Fury, by Furyofthewind. Her daughter Una Furiosa—just 4 last year—won the Old West Intermediate Heading Pre-Futurity for $25,000 and hauled in $102,500 at October's Solo Select Futurity to finish as the winningest futurity mare of 2025 with earnings of $151,790. Playin For Fury also produced Fury In The Starlight that placed in the Gold Buckle Spring Futurity's 4-Year-Old Heeling. Another Bobby Starlight daughter for sale is Starlight Edition, the dam of the Snaffle Bit Futurity's 2024 Intermediate Open Derby champion reined cow horse Starlight Time with earnings of $82,271.

Another Flag Ranch mare for sale is Picks Petie, the dam of futurity champ Picks Fury and, of course, One Time Pick that amassed nearly $75,000 as a 4-year-old under Billie Jack Saebens. Also selling is Blowing With The Wind, the 14-year-old mare that produced Kaleb Driggers'

BLOWIN IN TIME

ONE TIME HONOR

fantastic 5-year-old mare Blowin In Time that earned $39,844 at heading futurities in 2025. Keep in mind that a Flag-Ranch-raised Furyofthewind son named Chic's Magic Corona won the 2022 ARHFA World Championship under Rhen Richard, and in 2023, Relentless Remuda's leading 4-year-old futurity horse, Bama Fury was also out of a Flag Ranch Furyofthewind daughter.

"What really separates their program is the way they find the right cross of size, athletic ability, run and cow," said Tate Kirchenschlager, who has ridden several rope horses out of Flag Ranch mares.

The consigned broodmares also include two Smooth As A Cat daughters. Thirteen-year-old All Time Smooth Cat produced Relentless Honor, on which Miles Baker earned $58,898 at heading futurities. And 15-year-old RN SmoothNestleQuix's winning get include standout head horse First Prize Nestle and 4-year-old Nestle Time that earned $41,781 at futurities last season at both ends, including a win at Royal Crown Guthrie.

Of course, the broodmare band also features 13-year-old Carter's Time that produced Carter's Won Time Out, the 8-year-old that earned $120,682 at futurities and is Kolton Schmidt's defending Ponoka Stampede champion. And Makebelieve Mistress, the 17-year-old mare that produced A Relentless Buzz, Brazile's earner of $33,787 as a 4-year-old last season.

Rarely offered to the public, Flag Ranch broodmares are a mix of perfect traits required by high-level ropers thanks to proven genetics.

As a 4-year-old, Frosted Quinton earned nearly $30,000 at just three futurities through November. The striking bay is among rare company boasting iconic Driftwood bloodlines on both sides.

Sporting the Joe Murray brand, "Q" won the third round of the inaugural Solo Select Heading Futurity under Kaleb Driggers, after his trainer Andy Holcomb piloted him to a reserve championship at Royal Crown Rapid City and a fourth-place finish at the Old West Futurity.

Frosted Quinton's paternal grandsire was a buckskin full brother to the late Mel Potter's stallion PC Frenchmans Hayday ("Dinero") by Sun Frost. And his dam is an own daughter of White Lighting Ike.

"This is the fourth horse out of that mare that my dad and I have owned and loved," said Adam Teixiera. "They're good-minded and built correctly from the ground up, plus they're something anybody can ride. I could head on Q's half-brother at a pro rodeo and my 13-year-old daughter could head on him the next day at the junior rodeo."

Although the stud's oldest babies won't show until 2030, the sky's the limit if they are as blessed athletically and as smart as Frosted Quinton.

FOUR SIXES RANCH
Guthrie, Texas
806-596-4424; 6666ranch.com

With a rich ranching history spanning more than a century, the Four Sixes Ranch has earned its place as one of America's most iconic and influential operations. Known worldwide for its cattle legacy, the ranch has developed one of the nation's most advanced equine breeding programs and veterinary facilities over the past 60 years.

Recipient of the AQHA Best Remuda Award, the Four Sixes has produced generations of outstanding ranch and performance horses from its elite broodmare band. As an AQHA All-Time Leading Breeder of Performance Horses, the ranch remains committed to raising exceptional American Quarter Horses that excel in cutting, reined cow horse, reining, roping and ranch work.

"The ranch has been here 154 years and for more than 40 of those, we have offered breeding services to the public," said Dr. Nathan Canaday, horse division manager and resident veterinarian. "Many people still assume we only handle our own stallions and mares, but we are a full-service commercial breeding facility and operate a comprehensive veterinary clinic, the only one of its kind in the region."

The ranch's equine division includes a fully integrated breeding and horse management program supported by experienced veterinarians and staff. Services include on-site breeding, shipped semen, embryo services, foaling and veterinary care tailored to equine reproduction and performance. As a Select Breeders Services (SBS)-affiliated facility, the Four Sixes supports clients across the country and internationally through a full range of reproductive services.

In 2025, the Four Sixes Ranch is proud to announce the addition of its newest facility, the Granbury Stallion Station, a premier stallion showcase and customer-focused center designed to provide greater accessibility for mare owners and supporters of Four Sixes stallions. The flagship Guthrie location will remain the full-service breeding and veterinary facility it has always been.

To further support owners of Four Sixes-bred performance horses, the ranch is also launching the 6666 Incentive which will offer substantial payout opportunities at major events to foals of select ranch stallions. Upon payment of a matching fee, foals will be automatically enrolled for life. The incentive provides lifetime eligibility and is designed to reward the investment of both mare and stallion owners.

Blending progressive technology with the heritage of a working ranch remains central to the Four Sixes philosophy.

"We use the latest equipment, yet our cowboys still gather our broodmare herd horseback," Canaday said. "Our goal is to raise horses with the athleticism, heart and versatility to work on the ranch and excel in the arena."

From the broodmare pastures to the Annual Return to the Remuda Sale, the Four Sixes Ranch remains dedicated to preserving its legacy while shaping the future of the American Quarter Horse.

Hazardouz Material, "Skeeter," started out as a prospect Tres Osos planned to train and sell. He turned into the horse they could not let go.

A son of Metallic Cat out of Scooters Daisy Dukes, Skeeter caught Dave Mize's eye after they had looked more than 100 prospects.

"He was the one that could stop and move his front feet," Mize remembered.

Skeeter had some early misfortune but hit his stride as a 5-year-old. From there, he just went to winning with Erin Taormino, who has always been Hazardouz Material's biggest fan.

In 2025, Taormino won the title of World's Greatest Horseman aboard Hazardouz Material, putting her and the horse in the NRCHA history books.

Hazardouz Material is a phenomenal stopper, a genuine herd horse and a classic example of a good-minded Metallic Cat son. Between him and his half-brother Scooter Cat, there is about $1 million in earnings on their dam's produce record, and Skeeter is still adding to that total.

In their own breeding program, Tres Osos is targeting "hot and spicy" mares that add snap and run. Their goal is simple: "Make winners," Mize said.

Whether it is a cow horse that can mark big in all three events or a rope horse that can go win at the World Series Finale, Hazardouz Material is being bred to make athletes that can handle real pressure and still look good doing it.

Travelin Jonez is the kind of horse that changes the trajectory of a program.

The 2008 stallion first made his mark in the show pen, where the horse's sheer speed, huge stops and cow sense put trainer Chris Dawson on the map.

"He is scary fast," Tres Osos Performance Horses' Dave Mize said. "You can breed two world champions together and not get that, but TJ has it as an individual, and he passes it on."

That speed has translated straight into the roping pen. Travelin Jonez's offspring are proving to be versatile, with winners in the cow horse and rope horse arenas and money earners across the country.

The magic with Travelin Jonez is in the outcross. He offers size and run in a cow horse world that often leans on small, straight cutting lines. Ropers like Dakota Kirchenschlager and Clyde Bolejack are already taking notice, and the few in the roping have already earned some $600,000 in just the last 18 months.

As a sire, his colts tend to be straightforward, trainable and good-minded. His daughters are a little hotter and grittier, and that has turned into real mare power. One TJ daughter has already produced a Snaffle Bit Futurity winner, with more promising producers coming up, including the long dreamed-of cross on Sister Shiny Spark that is now a 2-year-old.

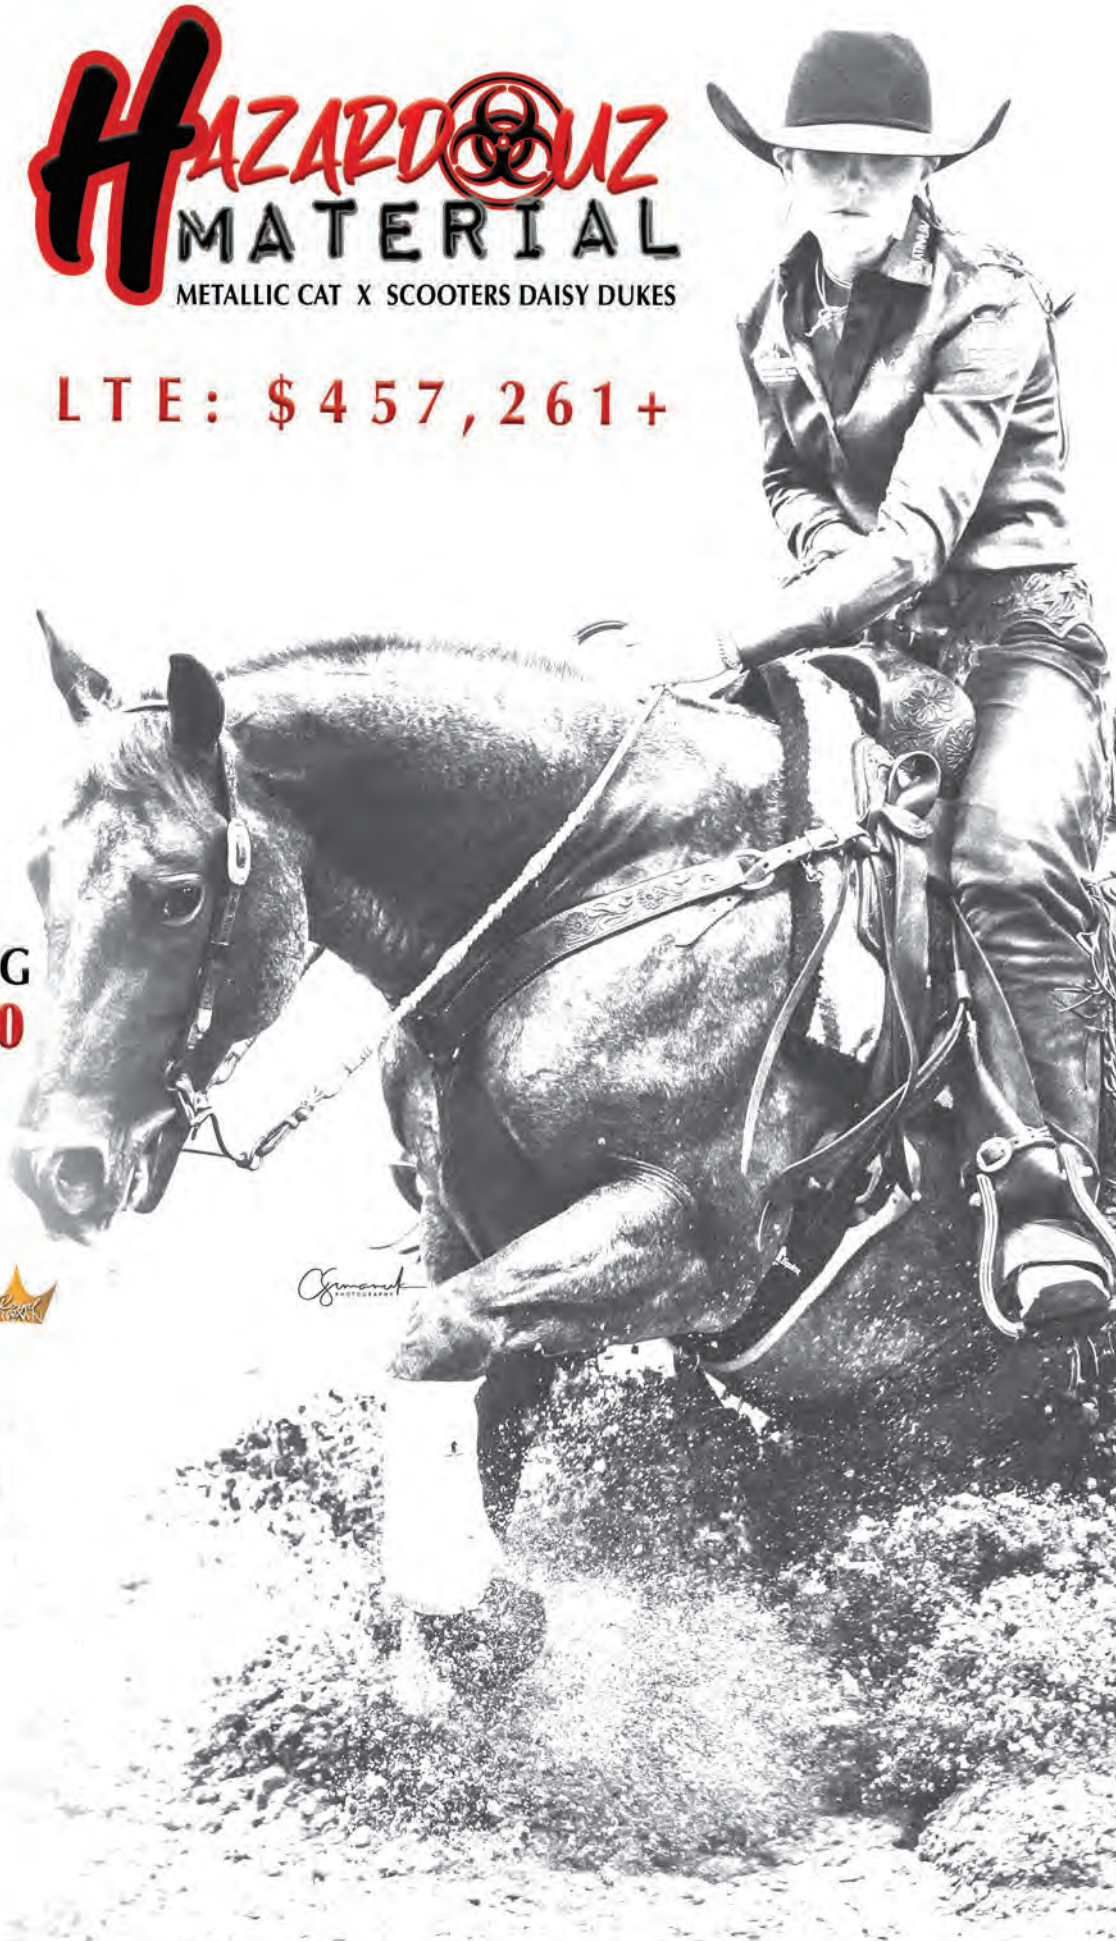

"We are breeders," Mize said. "We want to make great mares, and TJ's daughters are doing that."

From major cow horse finals to high-pressure team roping setups, Travelin Jonez sires horses that can run, rate and finish, then go on to anchor a broodmare band. He is a stallion built for longevity in the arena and in the stud barn.

Already a $5.5 million sire, Hashtags was a top-10 rope-horse sire last season based based on his 4-year-olds alone, which earned $225,266.

As a competitor, the stallion was known for his intensity and grit in the cutting pen, where he won the NCHA World Championship and NCHA Super Stakes Open Championship. His offspring continue to elevate Hashtags' profile cutting cattle, including Too Hot To Tagg, the 2024 NCHA Open Futurity Champion and 2024 NCHA Open Reserve Horse of the Year, and Jazlyn, the 2024 NCHA Open Horse of the Year.

But his get also demonstrate the speed, try and reliability that elite timed-event horses require. Hashtags sired SR Beefcake, on whom 11-time NFR tie-down roper Marty Yates earned more than $110,000 last regular season. Horses like Midnight Tag (fifth in Junior Heeling at the 2025 AQHA World Show) and Hash Kitty and Emojii (both finalists at the ARHFA World Championships with Billie Jack Saebens) continue proving Hashtags' value as a rope-horse sire. Additionally, Hashtag One Blu Cat earned over $95,000 at the Riata Championships across multiple divisions with Cash Duty, Lucas Thompson and Robert Lippe.

From major cutting titles to six-figure rope earnings with a single foal crop, Hashtags is proving himself in every arena —and he's only gaining momentum.

Ridden by Todd Bergen, he was the 2012 NRCHA Open Futurity Reserve Champion, 2012 NRCHA Open Futurity Herd Work Co-Champion, 2014 NRCHA Open Stallion Stakes Champion and 2014 NRCHA Open Derby Reserve Champion. A sire of more than $159,000 in offspring earnings to date, he throws his incredible people-pleasing disposition along with bone, balance and innate cow sense. We look forward to our first crop of This One Time foals in 2026.

Cowasocki Cat was chosen for the incredible cross of Highbrow Cat on Little Peppy mares.

Unshown due to injury, he has gone on to sire money earners in roping, cutting, working cow horse, barrel racing and ranch versatility. His dam, Miss Echo Wood, was an NCHA money earner of $57,185 and the dam of more than $1.3 million in NCHA offspring earnings. His five full siblings have earned a total of $813,924. We have some tremendous 2024 prospects available by Cowasocki Cat.

Rope horses with the distinctive HR brand (for Harrison Ranch) are making waves in the roping pen, thanks to HR Smart Rey.

The stallion went to the AQHA World Show six times at both ends with several top-10 finishes. He racked up a world championship in Level 2 Amateur Heading, reserve world championships in Level 2 Senior Tie Down Roping and Level 2 Amateur Heading and a Bronze in Amateur Heading.

His offspring are also winners—from Smart Josie Rey to Smart Scottish Guy, who at 5 years old last season won the 15.5 for $4,110 under Derrick Jantzen at Royal Crown Guthrie, as well as the 9.5 Big Money under Tyler Wagnon at Guthrie's World Cup.

Meanwhile, HR Barney Rey won the 9.5 Over-50 at the World Cup to bring his lifetime roping earnings to more than $93,000, and HR Oscar Rey won the 2022 AQHA world championship in Amateur Select Heading and was a finalist again at the 2025 World Show.

"We've crossed this stud on several bloodlines, and every single one of the foals is good-minded with plenty of size and bone to do their job," said Kathy Harrison. "The offspring all have that 'chill factor' and are always quiet, calm and ready to take on what's next."

It's telling that Johnnys Lil Cash last year won both the Platinum Medal Intermediate Heading and Heeling championships.

The M Bar W's versatile stallion was first a 2023 NRCHA World finalist in Open Hackamore before earning an AQHA Superior at both ends in team roping. Last year, "Cash" won the L2 AQHA World Championship in Senior Heeling and was a finalist in Open Heading at the 2023 ARHFA World Championships.

"When you walk into the arena on that horse, he stands out in a crowd," said Dustin Rogers. "He's got cow sense, a lot of run and has a huge stop. He's also blessed with a good mind. I can tie him around geldings and haul him with other studs. He's a quiet horse."

His sire, $3 million stallion Lil Joe Cash, also sired Lil Bit O Cash that Trevor Brazile heeled on in the finals of the 2025 ARHFA World Championships. Cash passes down his good looks, good mind and athletic ability from either box.

"In the heeling, he can stop so hard and take a jerk and never move—he finishes so good," said Rogers. "As a head horse, he's got a cool move in the corner, is always good in the box and consistently performs."

KH Rope Horses, of Berryville, Arkansas, made a big adjustment to their training operation with the purchase of their own stallion in 2022, a decision prompted by the rising price of horses in the booming rope horse industry.

"We've been training and selling rope horses for seven or eight years and when prices on nice prospects kept climbing, we decided we needed to buy a good stud that would breed some colts we like to ride ourselves," owner Kirk Hostetler said.

That stud is Josey Walez, aka "Outlaw," a 2019 stallion sired by the great Hashtags out of Winenshineme, a producing daughter of the AQHA Hall of Fame stud Shining Spark. Competing in the ARHFA, Royal Crown and Riata events, Outlaw has won $25,000-plus under the guidance of Daniel Reed and Tanner Nall.

With his solid conformation, including good foot and bone coupled with a superb disposition, Outlaw is helping the KH reach their goal of raising quality, sound, good-looking rope horses.

"We got the first bunch of his colts under saddle now and they are definitely showing his athleticism and brains," Hostetler said. "They've been good and we think his offspring will have the ability to excel in many different disciplines."

Las Tunas Performance Horses is one of the most distinguished equine operations in northern Mexico, blending ranching tradition with the highest standards of athletic horse development.

Nestled in the mountains of Cuauhtémoc, Chihuahua, the ranch has built a reputation for producing exceptional American Quarter Horses known for their versatility, cow sense and competitive spirit.

Recognized internationally, Las Tunas earned the AQHA's International Best Remuda Award, a testament to its excellence in genetic selection, herd management and the consistent production of horses suited for ranch work and high-level roping competition.

Every horse is raised in an authentic working-cattle environment, shaped by real daily tasks before stepping into the arena. This approach creates athletes that are not only physically prepared but mentally sharp, confident and reliable.

Beyond horses, Las Tunas is a driving force in the regional ranching community. The operation combines modern breeding practices with a deep respect for heritage and responsible livestock management as it contributes to the economic growth of the region.

As the official ranch of the WSTR, Las Tunas looks forward to strengthening the sport, empowering new generations of ropers and elevating the presence of Mexican-bred Quarter horses on the international stage.

RIDE THE RIM PERFORMANCE HORSES
Klamath Falls & Terrebonne, Oregon
541-740-8142;
Facebook: Ride the Rim Performance Horses

A venture born from the partnership and enthusiasm of two horse lovers, Ride the Rim Performance Horses' lineup of top stallions features some of the industry's best bloodlines, all managed by equine reproduction veterinarian Meredith Pierce, DVM, and Lori Lester.

"This started as my side passion, with one stallion—One Nation—and then Lori was like, 'I want a stallion!'" Pierce explained. "So we bred a mare and had Lesters Live Wire. And we went from there. This started out as kind of fun, and now it's an obsession."

Today, Ride the Rim offers a diverse selection of outstanding stallions, offering crosses designed to produce winners for every type of mare.

Lesters Live Wire (stud fee: $1,250) combines the best of Quarter Horse and Thoroughbred racing bloodlines, effortlessly blending size and speed. Sired by the First Down Dash son, Rare News, the 17-hand sorrel stallion carries his dam, Ochoco Kitten's size and augments any mare with his best traits.

A proven producer, Lesters Live Wire's first foals are already 1D barrel racing winners including High On A Wire but also have the versatility for ranch work, roping and showing. Lesters Live Wire has produced exceptional colts with a kind disposition, good mind and athleticism to spare.

Lesters Live Wire will stand at Juniper Ridge Ranch in Terrebonne, Oregon, in 2026 and his foals are eligible for several incentives including the Ruby Buckle.

With NFR-producing bloodlines on both the top and bottom of his pedigree, it's no surprise that Bench Warrant (stud fee: $1,600) holds three arena records and lifetime earnings in excess of $70,000. By Judge Cash and out of the Frenchmans Guy daughter RR Frenchmans Smoke, Bench Warrant is a go-to barrel horse for Lester, with an American Semi-Finals berth amongst his achievements.

LESTERS LIVE WIRE

Something Epic (stud fee: $1,500, fresh, cooled and frozen semen) is a full sibling to NFR qualifier Kassie Mowry's massive superstar Epic Guy and followed in his famous brother's hoof prints with a $130,000-plus in lifetime earnings with João and Julia Leão, setting arena records along the way.

Sired by Epic Leader, Something Epic is out of the Frenchmans Guy mare Frenchilicious. The 2020 sorrel stallion is back in the Northwest for the 2026 breeding season.

Ride the Rim's newest stallion prospect is Dos Equiis (stud fee: $1,300, frozen only), a son of the great Tres Seis out of the Fire Water Flit daughter, Talldrinkoffirewater. This outstanding athlete is showing his intelligence and kindness in training with Leão and is on track for the 2027 futurities.

A winner at every level, Metallic Payday exemplifies the same level of excellence as his owner, PRCA world champion and record-setter Kaleb Driggers. Metallic Payday highlights Driggers' breeding program with more than $160,000 won at all levels of competition while also passing his exceptionalism on to his offspring.

A son of the legendary Metallic Cat, Metallic Payday has won from his first futurities to the highest levels of ProRodeo with accolades that include a Reserve World Championship at the 2023 ARHFA, a top-four finish at the Bob Feist Invitational and a qualification to the PRCA's Governor's Cup.

"Every stage we have put him on he has succeeded, and his colts are as good as or better than him," Driggers said. "He throws a lot of size and substance; people are always bragging on the mass of his colts."

With Metallic Payday's first crop just coming of age, his influence is already impressive. His first foal to compete, KND Metallic Samuel, has amassed better than $40,000 after winning two of five futurities entered in 2025.

At just 8 years old, Metallic Payday will only grow his own earnings while his progeny display the same kind, willing attitude and grit that have made him a winner.

"Rebel" is one of the cutting and cow horse industry's most in-demand sires, so not many team ropers have been able to get their hands on them—yet. But some of the best have, including NFR Average Champion Cody Snow, ARHFA World Champion and Leading Rider Joseph Harrison and three-time NFR Heeler and ARHFA World Champion Dakota Kirchenschlager.

"Our Rebels have blown us away," Koch said. "The amount of physicality and talent, backed with discipline, focus and capability to exceed expectations every single day is amazing. They have truly been a blessing to X Performance Horses, and Metallic Rebel has moved his way to one of my most favorite sires."

"They're a cowboy's dream and a corriente's nightmare," McGuire added.

CR TUFF DUAL

LUCKY THE WONDER HORSE

No accolade is more prestigious for a team roping horse than a win at the Bob Feist Invitational. And the defending BFI champion head horse perfectly exemplifies the Myers program of combining cow horse and racing blood.

Last fall, Kaleb Driggers, 35, was smart to borrow the Myers-bred Cowboy Sangria, on which he won his second-straight BFI. The sorrel is by Cowboys Cartel out of Smooth Red Wine by A Smooth Guy—Myers' late sire boasting progeny earnings of $5 million.

The Myers family began producing standout roping and barrel racing horses in 1987 when they picked up Frenchmans Guy as a weanling. Nearly 40 years later, Dakota Kirchenschlager won the silver at the Platinum Medal Futurity and placed fifth at the Riata Pro Futurity on 5-year-old Guyz Magic by Frenchmans Guy. Last fall, Bill Myers earned a $6,900 check on him in the Riata 9.5 Championships.

The Hall-of-Fame stallion's genetics—along with that of the late A Smooth Guy—are still available to the public thanks to ICSI technology, available through Royal Vista Ranches in Wayne, Oklahoma.

Defending world champion header Tyler Wade, too, rode in the box at the 2025 BFI on SBD Sugar Me Sweet, out of the Frenchmans Guy daughter Frenchmans Red Rose. The horse helped Wade get to his eighth NFR for a chance at a third-straight gold buckle.

"In our horses, you get that speed but don't lose that good common sense and cow," Myers said. "They leave the box flat and can fly. Plus, they're cowy and know how to rate, so they're real easy to train as rope horses. Mentally, they can handle the pressure."

Last fall, Jacob Lewis won the Riata 10.5 Championship on Hez Got Cowboy Cash by Cowboys Cartel out of a Frenchmans Guy daughter to rake in $80,000 a man—two years after he won the same roping on the same horse for a $47,080 check. Plus, Preston Burr earned $21,450 on Heza Cowboy Guys while, a year earlier, Logan Loiselle split $60,340 at the Riata on Cowboy's Guns N Cash. And in 2024, 16-year-old Hogan Kelley won the Riata 10.5 Junior on Wicked Smooth Guy, out of a daughter of A Smooth Guy, to bank $19,600.

Myers horses are showing out in tie-down roping, too, with Nebraska's J.T. Adamson winning back-to-back Badlands Circuit Finals Rodeos aboard his A Smooth Guy daughter while the defending year-end Badlands champ, Myles Kenzy, rode A Smooth Guy son.

And ropers have been paying even more attention to progeny of Myers' Mr Sassy Frenchman, out of a fast Mr Jess Perry daughter. In 2024, his daughter Yes I'm Sassy earned $158,182 at roping futurities including big wins under world champion headers Kaleb Driggers and Colby Lovell.

"She's good in the box, she runs right to the cow, finishes good, is strong to the horn, really doesn't make any mistakes," Lovell said. "She's dependable."

Last year, Yes I'm Sassy also carried

Reed Boos to fifth in Intermediate Heeling at Royal Crown Guthrie and third in the Riata 14.5, which paid $29,850 a man and brought her lifetime earnings near $200,000. A month later, Ty Spickelmier was AQHA's Level II World Champion in Senior Heading aboard the 6-year-old buckskin Colour Me Sassy, worth $6,598.

Plus, the program offers outstanding offspring by Myers' outcross stallion Lucky Wonder Horse, the 2015 buckskin stallion by No. 1 all-time leading racehorse sire First Down Dash and out of NFR barrel racing mare Rosa's Cantina CC, by Corona Cartel. Last fall, Corben Culley placed in the Riata Pro Futurity heading on Wonder Berry to split $31,264.

And the newest Myers stallion, 7-year-old CR Tuff Dual, is a promising roping sire with yearlings as his oldest offspring this year. He's by $13 million cow horse sire Woody Be Tuff, and out of a daughter of Dual Pep.

"His mother is a $1 million producer and his second dam is a $2 million producer," said Myers. "He's a little bigger with more stride than you see on a lot of cow-bred horses, and is a super good-minded horse."

MR SASSY FRENCHMAN

At the latest Myers' prospect sale in October, Frenchmans Guy broodmares averaged $31,625, while offspring of Lucky Wonder Horse sold for an average $45,260 and Mr Sassy Frenchman get averaged $33,250. PRCA Resistol Rookie Header of the Year Tyler Tryan—whose dad is the all-time money winner at the BFI—got the high bid on a yearling Frenchmans Guy grandson. After all, both Guy and the Tryans' Hall-of-Fame head horse Walt were paternal grandsons of Doc's Jack Frost.

By the time he was 6, Gucci Equine's bay roan stallion Nu One Time Blues ("Boujee") had already placed in the top 10 of the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity, won the 4-and-Under Heeling at the ARHFA World Championships, and placed his trainer, Joseph Harrison, second at the BFI for $42,500—also nabbing accolades as 2025 Heel Horse of the BFI.

"He's by One Time Pepto, which comes with a lot of foot speed and feel in one's belly," said Harrison. "Boujee is fast-footed with a good feel, and he's aware of everything."

In his roping career, Boujee won five different futurities and placed second at five others to bring his lifetime roping earnings to $373,064 as of last November. That makes him the winningest team roping stallion of all time, according to QData.

"He can really run, so he always hits the turn in the right place, and he reads the cow so good," said the six-time NFR heeler. "He can be running wide open and slow down instantly."

Boujee is really stamping his foals out of Gucci Equine mares, Harrison said, and they carry themselves much like their sire. Because he's a homozygous roan, they'll get his color, too.

CHEX OUT MY FINEY

Horses sired by One Fine Vintage have earned nearly three-quarters of a million dollars in roping alone. Standing at 15.1 hands, "Vinnie" is the cornerstone of Robertson Ranches' breeding program, with versatility and athleticism that earned him AQHA Open Superiors in Working Cow Horse, Heading and Heeling.

"That horse just gives you confidence," said Corey Cushing after winning the 2016 AQHA Senior Working Cow Horse World Championship on Vinnie. "There's nothing that horse can't do great. He's a natural athlete."

Vinnie's offspring are stamped the same way, starting with the 2016 daughter Fine Vintage Cash that became the all-time earnings leading roping futurity mare with $112,361. She was snatched up by Kaleb Driggers, who lent her to Marcus Theriot to heel on at the 2024 Cinch Timed Event Championships.

Her trainer, Andy Holcomb, also won the 2022 ARHFA 4-Year-Old Championship on One Vintage Merada (LTE $125,665) and was reserve champ at Royal Crown Buckeye in 2024 on Oops Im Fine. She and three other 5-year-olds by Vinnie earned $133,756 last season, and Logan Medlin made the finals of the Heeling Pre-Futurity on 4-year-old Chex Out My Vintage. But the biggest 2025 win came courtesy of Fine Time, ridden by heeler Jason Long to second in the Riata 10.5 to split $92,700.

The record-breaking 236 score that won last November's AQHA Senior Heeling was aboard Pablo's Time—an 11-year-old son of One Time Pepto—and so was his finish under Trey Yates in Senior Heading to rake in $29,412. A month earlier, Clay Smith had won the Riata Pro Heading Futurity reserve championship on a 5-year-old daughter named One Time Peppy Rey to bank $32,000.

It's safe to say this powerhouse sire is "rank," considering he was already known for siring Nu One Time Blues—the Snaffle Bit finalist that earned $351,128 at heeling futurities—plus roping futurity standouts Steviesprideandpearl and Pepinstep. And his cutting progeny have earned more than $19 million, including NCHA Futurity champs One Time Royalty (LTE $447,543) and One Rockin Pepto (LTE $243,317).

The red roan stud is by legendary NCHA Futurity champ Peptoboonsmal and out of One Time Soon, a $1.3 million cutting producer by Smart Little Lena. "One Time" had the fluid movement, extraordinary conformation and profound presence that made Matthews Cutting Horses a world-class breeding program.

"He moved like they taught me how a Thoroughbred should move," the late Jeffrey Matthews told Quarter Horse News in 2020. "They've got to have strength behind, and they can't be too heavy in front—just like a racehorse."

Born and raised at Rockin' Oz Ranch and Performance Horses in Rose, Nebraska, Oz Ona Hot Streak continues to make history with his extraordinary talent.

By A Streak of Fling, the 2015 gray stallion is out of the One Hot Jose daughter, Oz One Hot Momma and began collecting accolades at just 4 years old when he captured the 2019 AQHA World Championship in Junior Heading while also finishing inside the top 10 in the Junior Heeling.

Transitioning seamlessly to ProRodeo, Oz won the Rocky Mountain Cup in 2022 before his breakout year in 2025 with Lane Mitchell. Oz was voted the Reserve AQHA/PRCA Heel Horse of the Year by the PRCA's top 25 ropers after helping Mitchell to $143,031 and his first National Finals Rodeo qualification.

With $415,000-plus in lifetime earnings and counting, Oz Ona Hot Streak now stands poised on the brink of history as the first AQHA World Champion stallion to compete at ProRodeo's Super Bowl in the team roping.

While displaying adaptability from showing to professional rodeo, Oz Ona Hot Streak's perfect blend of intelligence and athleticism is also translating to his progeny with two foals from his first crop qualifying for the AQHA World Show in heading and heeling at just 4 years old.

2025 FOALS

PITZER RANCH
Ericson, Nebraska
308-653-2134; pitzerranch.net

Some of the best horses in professional rodeo carry Pitzer Ranch bloodlines, from Guy Allen's Steer Horses of the Year Jack Bart Tender and Two D Ole Man to Ote Berry's two-time Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year FF Zans Baron Jack to Chad Masters' gold-buckle head horse Ima Two Eyed Con. Joining the list is Clint Summers' defending and two-time Head Horse of the Year Mr Joes Shadow Bar.

The ranch founded by Jim Brinkman's grandfather Howard Pitzer has been raising using horses since the 1940s. It was his Hall-of-Fame stallion Two Eyed Jack that put the operation on the map. Five generations later, the extended family has bred and kept back the best of the "Jack lines" to cross on the best of today's bloodlines. Thus, Pitzer Ranch stallions have already sired colts with Riata earnings topping $317,000.

Metallic Casanova represented the Pitzer Ranch at the cow horse portion of the Run for a Million in 2025. He was voted AQHA Fan Favorite and added another $6,000 to his LTE, putting him just over $210,000. His first foals were available to the public in 2025.

Two more "Jack-bred" stallions are perpetuating the old bloodline traits that have been so highly sought after. Dukes

2025 HPI CHAMPION HIGH BROW TRIPPER

N Divas and Favorable Intentions are both Riata sires that were bred, raised and shown by Pitzer Ranch. Studs like this retain the all-around ability and physical toughness Pitzer Ranch horses are known for.

At the ranch, more than 400 Pitzer Ranch broodmares provide the unique opportunity to breed to a wide variety of stallions for a number of disciplines. Whether it's roping, barrel racing or the cow events, the broodmare band carries enough genetic diversity to offer several choices when it comes time for the biannual sales.

This year's Pitzer Ranch Spring Sale will be held April 25, focusing heavily on the broke, ranch and rope horses. The 2026 Fall Production Sale lands on Sept. 4-5 and will offer stallions, broodmares and hundreds of weanlings that are eligible to compete for lucrative roping incentives.

Plus, held just prior to the fall sale is the HP Ranch Horse Invitational, going into its 16th year and having paid out more than $1 million since its inception in 2011. Only 4- to 6-year-old horses sired by an exclusive list of Brinkman-approved studs are invited. Each must complete a ranch trail course and compete in cow sorting, barrel racing, heading and heeling. Last year's champion, High Brow Tripper, was sired by Mia Browbeater—the same stallion that sired 2025 ARHFA 4-year-old heading finalist Catalena Joe.

The ranch's mission is to breed good-looking, sound, good-minded, all-around performance horses. And its location in the vast Nebraska Sandhills means Pitzer horses have a strong foundation in ranch country.

From his first foal crop, Apache Promise is Promise Of The Sun's leading money earner with lifetime earnings of $151,656.

The talented mare already owned a record as the first head horse to win a futurity and a go-round at the National Finals Rodeo and added to her earnings with three-straight go-round wins at the 2025 Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo with Clay Smith.

Smith also shows James' A Magical Promise, who finished sixth at the AR-HFA Fort Worth, earning in excess of $10,000.

"Promise Of The Sun is already a proven sire with a limited number of foals to date," James said. "He consistently sires foals with good bone, size and a good dose of the right kind of speed."

There's good reason behind the buzz about Reliance Ranches' Big Lew from his breeding and race record to his progeny.

Big Lew is by AQHA Hall of Fame sire Corona Cartel, the AQHA's third all-time leading sire of money earners, and he had had eight wins including the Grade 1 Los Alamitos Super Derby en route to $638,878 in earnings. He retired sound after three years.

"He was an amazing individual, just the picture of a horse that could do it all," according to Bobby Mote, Reliance Ranches' trainer.

Sons and daughters of Big Lew have earned over $2.4 million from just five crops to reach racing age thus far. Proving his versatility as a sire, many also have second careers in the performance arena with early offspring winning in team roping, barrel racing and pole bending.

His progeny consistently demonstrate the trainability, calm demeanor and intelligence Big Lew is known for passing on, and trainers rave about the speed with which his foals learn and their retention, signs of horses capable of succeeding in any discipline.

Standing 15 hands, Big Lew can add brains to perform and speed to augment the cow breeding of many roping programs.

Bucks Hancock Dude's reputation as a sire and performer is as impressive as the dappled buckskin himself. Joining Reliance Ranches from Namgis Quarter Horses, Dude is a key piece of Reliance's strategy to grow their performance breeding program by adding a solid cross on their race-bred mares.

The 2008 AQHA All Around Performance Stallion was shown in halter, tie-down roping and heeling, earning accolades in each discipline and 553 AQHA points. The 2007 AQHA Reserve World Champion in Junior Tie-Down Roping, he also won the NRHFA Futurity the very same year.

As a sire, Dude's progeny continue to accumulate AQHA World Show appearances across several roping disciplines and barrel racing. With total progeny earnings of $1.7 million and climbing, Dude's most famous foal is Namgis D 33, aka Chongo, who has earned $933,008 while helping Emily Beisel make seven NFRs.

"He is a proven performer and producer. He is the original all-around rope horse who can go from tie down to halter and excel at both," said Lazy E Ranch Manager Monty McNair. "His progeny are highly decorated in the performance arena and will continue to dominate the competition regardless of discipline."

With sound minds to go along with electric speed, the progeny of Coronado Cartel are a perfect fit for the ambitious plans of Reliance Ranches. Already a top breeder of racing Quarter Horses, Reliance is heavily invested in its Second Career Program and in bringing the awesome traits of Corona Cartel into the performance horse world.

Like his Hall of Fame sire, the stunning Coronado Cartel stood out in his racing career, collecting $416,178 in 12 starts on the track before moving to the breeding shed. His racing progeny are already in the bank for $8.2 million with 213 race winners.

As his first sons and daughters begin to reach the arena, it's evident that Coronado Cartel is passing on not only his magnificent athleticism but also an early maturing, sound mind that is needed to stand out in the arena.

Coronado Cartel's performance progeny have racked up $210,188, a chunk of that attributed to SR Roman Cartel who shined at the 2023 Pink Buckle Barrel Race.

Jess Fire Me's dam, Jess Sass Me, is a stakes winner with a speed index of 107 and more than $110,000 in earnings. As a producer, she has been nominated twice for Broodmare of the Year and has been named an AQHA Dam of Distinction with progeny earnings of $2.7 million.

On the top side, Jess Fire Me's sire, Walk Thru Fire, earned $94,280, has produced 91 stakes winners and several world champions who have earned $41 million. Among them is Jess Fire Me's full sister, Champion 2-Year-Old Filly Jess Walking Thru.

Jess Fire Me retired from the track with $242,422 in lifetime earnings and a Register of Merit. His oldest foals are coming 2-year-olds in 2026, many of them campaigning on the track before entering Reliance's Second Career program.

"He is going to complement any mare you cross him with," said Monty McNair, Lazy E Ranch Manager. "He has an exceptional mind, perfect conformation and an unbeatable pedigree. As Show Me The Buckles enters his fourth year standing at Lazy E Ranch under Reliance Ranches, his influence on the rope horse industry continues to accelerate. The 2008 palomino stallion, a former NRHA Open Futurity Co-Reserve Champion, has established himself as a leading sire whose get are consistently rising to the top of the futurity and derby ranks.

Buckles' offspring have now earned $564,876, led by standouts making their mark in the Relentless Remuda program. RR Buckles Clubhouse, a 2019 gelding shown by Trevor Brazile and Miles Baker, closed his futurity career with $254,801 in earnings and major wins at the Equinety Platinum Medal Futurity, TX Best Heading Derby and the Gold Buckle Futurities World Finals. Tuckin Away Buckles has earned $103,827 under Brazile and Baker, while A Big Vintage Buckle has added $49,322 to the stallion's total. His progeny continue to produce strong results across heading, heeling, breakaway and tie down, with additional foals performing in reining and ranch events.

The next wave is coming quickly. With more Buckles offspring entering the Relentless Remuda pipeline every year, the program expects a steady run of futurity and derby-caliber performers carrying the stallion's name into the future.

"While cutting bloodlines have more hesitation to the cow, this stud's genetics put him on the offense, and we've seen it in action," Brazile said. "He's the kind of aggressive to the cow that ropers want—whether it's in the breakaway, tie down, heading or heeling."

Show Me The Buckles continues to stand as one of the most versatile sires in the industry, producing horses with the build, power and cow sense to excel across today's fastest growing rope horse disciplines.

The latest gem in Reliance Ranches' treasure trove of stallions is Watch The Lane. Carrying the best performance genetics in the industry, the 2021 bay stallion has already made a mark as a performer with lifetime earnings topping $105,000 in his first competitive season.

"Out of the Sun Frost–bred Earlette, Watch The Lane has a unique pedigree carrying the elite traits of the proven sire The Goodbye Lane, paired with the time-tested durability and grit of the Sun Frost family," said Reliance Ranches Trainer, Bobby Mote.

Known widely in barrel racing circles, The Goodbye Lane has progeny earnings in excess of $16.6 million and foals like Watch The Lane are adding roping earnings to that pile.

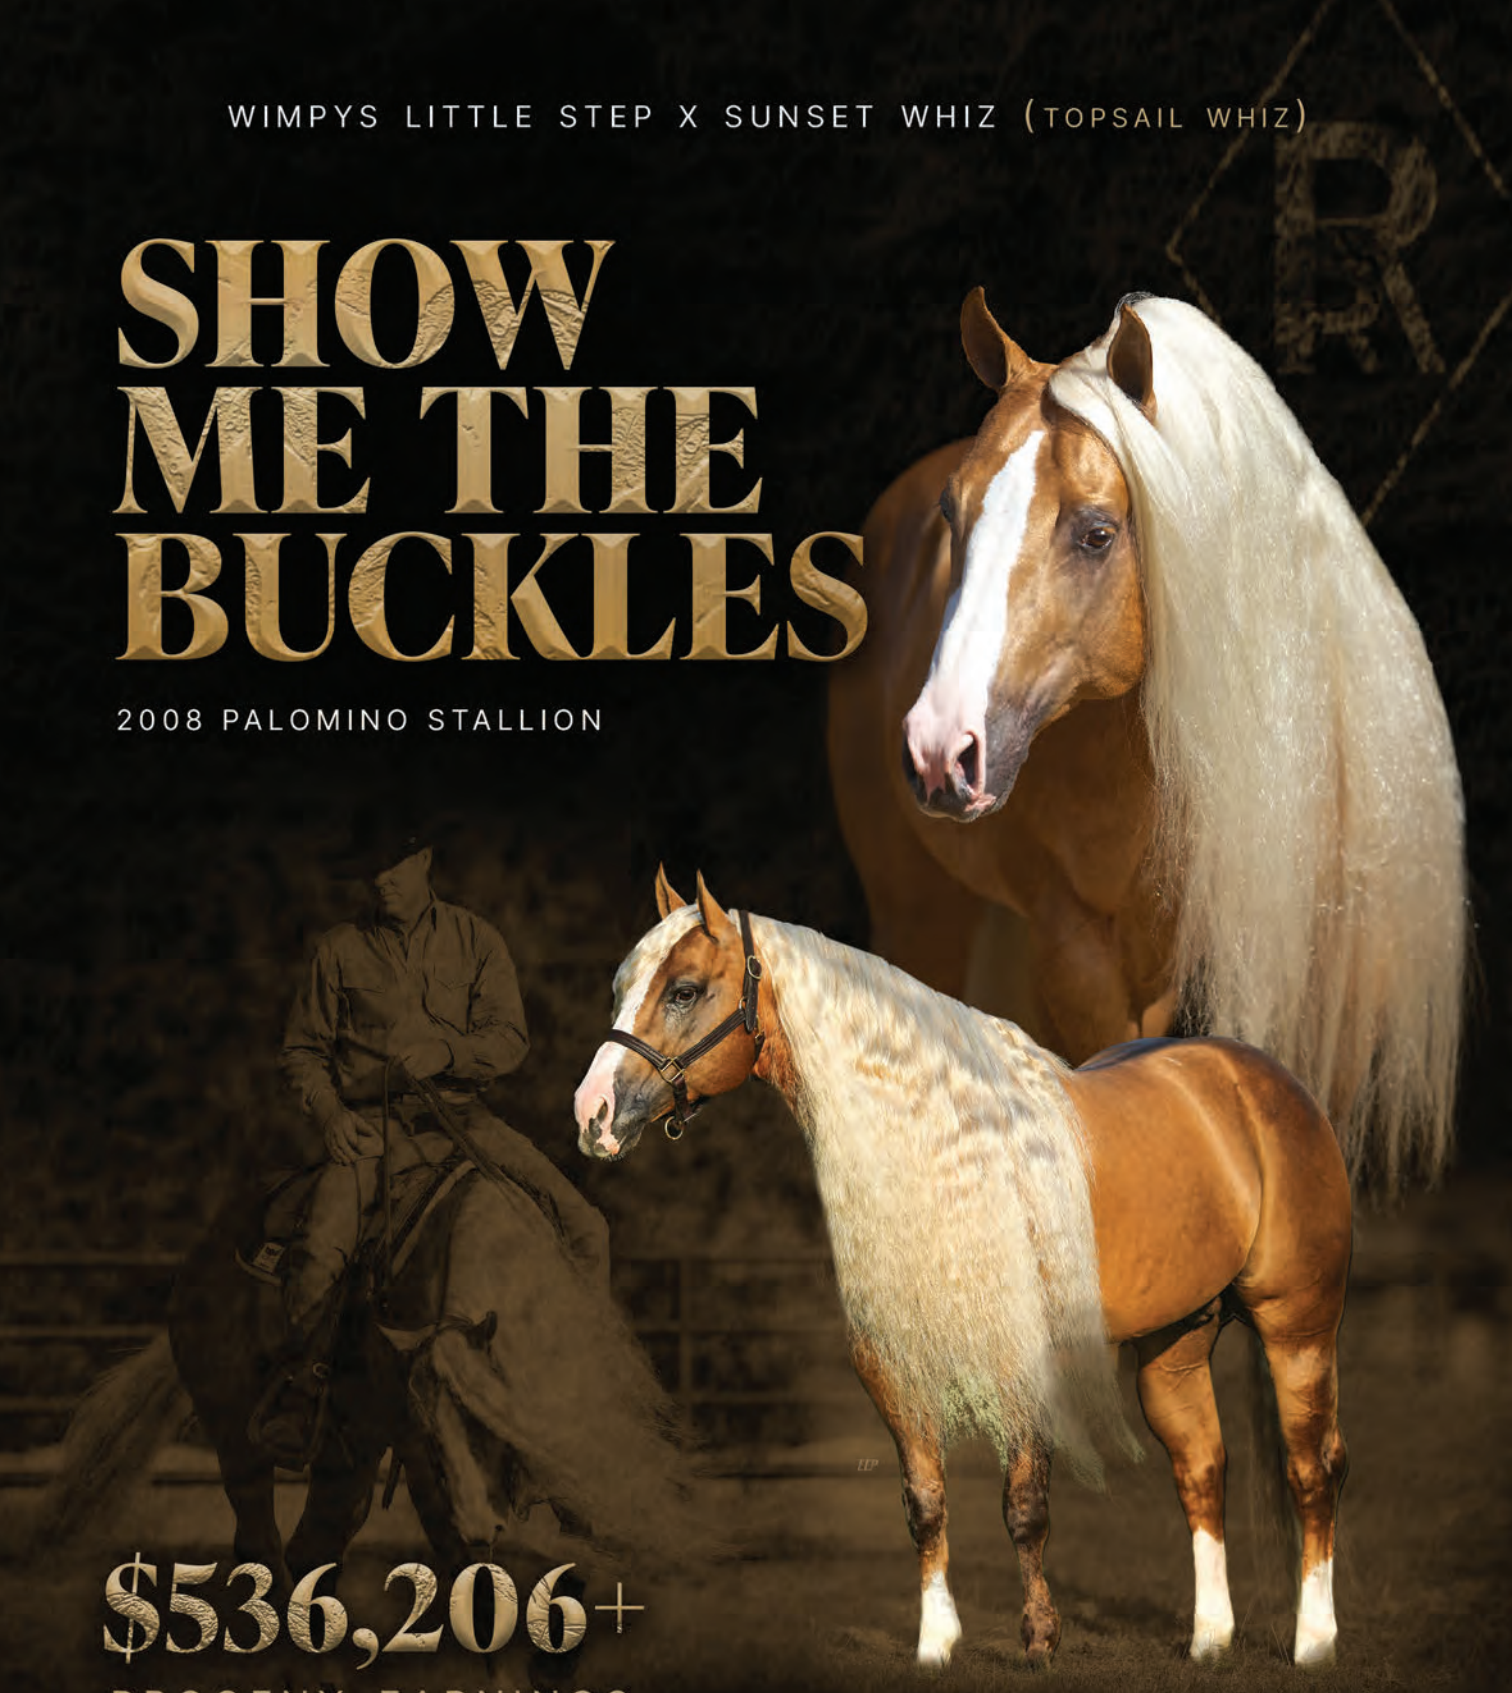

Watch The Lane claimed a huge victory in the Old West Pre-Futurity Heading in June 2025. At just 4 years old, the gritty stallion has carried every level of roper to the pay window at some of roping's most prestigious events, including the Arizona Sun Circuit and Royal Crown Futurities, and a Reserve Championship at the Gold Buckle Futurity in the 4 & Under Heading.

With the conformation, athleticism and mind of a champion, Watch The Lane will be one to watch in the future, both in the arena and through his progeny.

Now 9 years old, Reys Of Pep remains one of the winningest stallions in roping futurity history with nearly $130,000 earned at both ends.

"Pepper" was first started and shown by Brad Lund at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity, then carried Colby Lovell to the ARHFA's Reserve Heeling World Title in 2022. The horse won the 2023 RFA Heeling Derby with Lovell, the 2023 ARHFA Cowtown Classic Heading Futurity with Lovell and the TX Best Heading Futurity with Kaleb Driggers. He was named ARHFA Head Horse of the Year in 2023. Then, in 2024 he came out of the breeding barn to win the Old West Futurity's Non-Pro Heading Championship with Halie Richey.

"He can do anything—he's outstanding on each end—truly one of the best I've ever rode," Lovell said. "He's good-minded enough to take the heat of battle any time you ask. My little girl can warm him up, and I don't give it a second thought."

He's also broke enough to switch boxes with no bridle change. Pepper's oldest colts are just turning 4, but NFR header Jake Cooper is super excited to have recently bred Pepper to 6-year-old Fury Of Honor that won plenty of checks, herself, at heading futurities.

Rising Sun's Dreamy JJ is proving that old-school breeding wins contemporary checks. The 2011 buckskin is by Pitzer Ranch's Joe Jack Red and out of the Two Eyed Red Buck mare Dreamy Two Eyes. In his first year entering ropings, Dreamy JJ was the AQHA High-Point Open Heeling Stallion.

The stud's quiet mind and athleticism have allowed him to accumulate hundreds of AQHA points in heading, heeling, tie down and halter. Dreamy JJ earned Superiors in Heeling twice and Heading three times. Luke Atchison took the stud to his first jackpot as a 3-year-old and he later won a reserve championship at the ARHFA's Oil Can Classic. In 2023, JJ was the AQHA Reserve World Champion in L2 Senior Heading and is still winning, having earned $11,843 turning steers at Royal Crown Guthrie last summer.

Plus, two of his offspring out of the same Smart Little Lena/Doc's Hickory mare have earned more than $112,000. Dominating at both 12 and 13 jackpots and Royal Crown and ARHFA futurities were 6-year-old Kandy JJ and his full sister, 5-year-old JJ's Hollywood Star.

"That mare has enough fire that you never feel behind," said Atchison. "There's no quit in her. And she has really quick feet."

Last fall, CD Diamond crossed the million-dollar mark in rope-horse progeny earnings to rank fifth all-time among rope-horse sires. It's a big milestone for San Juan Ranch, which was also named the Gold Buckle Roping Futurities' Leading Breeder for 2025.

The program that took just 10 years to become an NRCHA Million-Dollar Breeder has a sister company, UltraCruz, that produces supplements that keep the San Juan horses in optimal health.

CD Diamond is by CD Olena—a Doc O'Lena son out of a Peppy San Badger daughter with a bit of Otoe added for speed. And he's out of a mare that's double-bred Diamonds Sparkle (the dam of Shining Spark) with roping-royal lines Zan Parr Bar and Two Eyed Jack on the bottom. In the first 10 months of 2025, sons and daughters of CD Diamond earned $258,227, split nearly equally in heading and heeling.

He and his son SJR Diamond Mist, out of Cat Mist, are both NRCHA Open Futurity champions and Horse of the Year winners, while SJR Talkin Diamonds by Smooth Talkin Style was the 2024 reined cow horse champion at The American Performance Horseman.

The bloodline has an incredible penchant for winning at both ends. SJR Diamond Billy earned $75,000 at futurities before becoming NFR header Cody Snow's No. 1 rodeo horse. And last fall, the 8-year-old buckskin carried Fermin Gilbert to the Limited Heading championship at the Gold Buckle World Finals. His lifetime earnings as of November topped $360,000.

And last September, Tauna Alcorn's mare SJR Diamond Metalica placed in both the Riata Cowgirl Steer Stopping and Riata 12.5 for a cool $29,376. Having competed at the Snaffle Bit Futurity as a 3-year-old and barrel futurities as a 5-year-old, the mare was only 7 when Alcorn won both the 2024 Riata 10.5 and Rita 12.5 on her to take a staggering $140,800 home to New Mexico.

Also last season, John Paul Lucero placed in the Riata 14.5 for $24,900 on Sticky Diamond, Clay Logan won the reserve limited futurity world championship heeling on SJR Diamond Hoochie, and Kennlee Tate won the Cowgirl Steer Stopping and $10,752 on SJR-DiamondGoldDigger. A month later at the ARHFA World Championships, Billie Jack Saebens made the heeling finals on 5-year-old SJR Diamond Eve, then placed her eighth in Junior Heeling at the AQHA World Show. Other futurity standouts last season were SJR Mists Apache, SJR Diamond Playit, SJR Diamond Carson, SJR Diamond Chanel and SJR Diamonds Starman.

The San Juan Ranch, nestled in the heart of horse country in Weatherford, Texas, is clearly still committed to breeding elite performance horses that excel not only in cutting, reining and working cow horse events, but definitely in team roping.

Shining Spark's remarkable influence began with an elite pedigree—the powerful combination of Genuine Doc and AQHA Hall of Famer Diamonds Sparkle. From birth, he showed qualities that would define his legacy: an exceptional mind, near-perfect conformation and a balanced, athletic way of moving. Those traits made him not only a standout individual, but the foundation for a sire line that would reshape the Western Performance Horse industry for decades.

His own abilities extended far beyond the breeding barn. Carol Rose, his breeder, had a passion for team roping: Shining Spark was everything a great rope horse should be, whether heading or steer stopping. Though unable to show at the World's Greatest Horseman with Bobby Lewis due to illness, Shining Spark possessed natural cow sense, willingness and clarity of mind, which set him apart long before his offspring ever entered the arena.

As a sire, Shining Spark's progeny consistently display the hallmarks of his greatness—athleticism, trainability, cow sense, speed and heart, while excelling in reining, cow horse, roping and all-around events.

Today, a new generation of Shining Sparks are winning on the world's biggest stages, carrying forward the brilliance, mind and power of a stallion who forever changed the Western performance world.

Some stallions win. A rare few transform the direction of an entire industry. Smart Chic Olena did both.

The late, great stud remains the only horse in history to win AQHA world championships in both cutting and reining. Chic's power, intelligence and deep cow sense gave him a presence riders still talk about decades later. He earned his way into the AQHA, NRHA and NRCHA Halls of Fame, cementing a legacy most stallions will never touch.

Chic was by $42 million cutting sire Smart Little Lena, and his dam Gay Sugar Chic boasts the speed of Thoroughbred ancestors like Three Bars and Chicaro. Trevor and Tiffini Bond became stewards of history when they ensured Smart Chic Olena's speed and intelligence would remain accessible via his genes long after his death.

Because of Infinite Reproduction & Genetics (IRG), Chic's lineage is thriving at major roping futurities, in Riata incentives and throughout modern breeding decisions where bone, size and speed matter more than ever.

The results speak for themselves. A 3-year-old Chic son set a Billings Livestock record at $147,000 in 2024. Collen All Chics helped Cody Marx split $112,060 at the 2023 Riata #9.5. And with more than $14.7 million in progeny earnings, Chic's influence continues to stretch across reining, cutting, cow horse and roping.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Our mission is to give back to the breeders who trust and believe in our stallions.

Through the Solo Select Incentives Program, incentive payouts are shared between two deserving groups — with 60% allocated to those qualifying for the sire payout and 40% to those eligible through the contract payout.

SIRE PAYOUT

Ride one offspring of an enrolled Solo Select stallion to be eligible for 60% of the pot.

CONTRACT PAYOUT

One 2026 breeding contract to an enrolled Solo Select Stallion lets you compete for 40% of the pot. Any horse—by any stallion—is eligible for the Contract Incentive if the registered owner or rider holds a paid Solo Select breeding contract for that same year to an eligible stallion in the respective program.

SOLO SELECT: A Start-To-Finish Investment Partner For Team Ropers
Gainesville, Texas
903-436-6615; soloselecthorses.com

Solo Select Horses, founded by Melanie Smith, has built its brand on a simple promise: deliver the very best to horse investors. Since 2018, the Texas-based company has grown into a powerhouse in Western performance horse breeding and sales. With deep industry experience and a staff built around high-level care and communication, Solo Select gives team ropers a start-to-finish system for building rope-horse genetics that hold and grow value.

Comprehensive mare management and care

Solo Select's reproduction program is led by reproductive specialists, including 30-year industry veterans Matt Witman and Don Ham as stallion managers, board-certified theriogenologist Dr. Kianna M. Spencer and a team of veterinarians that specialize in equine reproduction. The team manages the full reproductive cycle, offering mare-cycle management, embryo flushing, intracytoplasmic sperm injection (ICSI), embryo vitrification, foaling services and recipient-mare leasing. Owners receive group-message updates during every step of the process.

Solo Select also offers year-round mare care. Mares kept at the facility are eligible for the Select Genes program, which can cash-flow mares with no out-of-pocket investment. The staff monitors broodmares around the clock, manages stall or pasture environments and handles everything from contracts to incentive nominations. Long-term clients receive private consulting sessions with Melanie and Ty Smith to support breeding and marketing decisions. All mares, embryos and foals produced at Solo Select are eligible to sell through The Solo Select Online Sale.

Advanced breeding with ICSI and a massive recipient herd

ICSI is ideal for mares with fertility challenges, mares on show schedules or clients wanting frozen embryos. Solo Select handles aspiration, embryo creation, implantation and foaling. Weekly haul-in aspirations let show mares stay in competition. Approximately 50% to 80% of embryos created via ICSI result in pregnancies, depending on embryo and recipient quality.

Solo Select maintains one of the world's largest recipient-mare herds with more than 2,500 head and accepts embryos from facilities nationwide. These mares receive year-round care to maximize embryo viability.

Stallion services and diagnostics

Solo Select's stallion station provides full-service management under Witman and Ham's direction, including collection, evaluation, cooled and frozen semen processing, storage, distribution and reproductive-disorder treatment. The operation is USDA-approved for semen export and houses an on-site diagnostics lab capable of USDA-approved Coggins testing, rapid PCR for strangles and salmonella and advanced reproductive screenings.

Sale fitting, online auctions and incentives

Once foals hit the ground, Solo Select's sale-fitting program prepares them for the ring. Ty Smith leads the performance-horse fitting program, while Dustin Price directs race-horse fitting. Solo Select's marketing and fitting programs have produced major sale results, including Blackkout at $875,000 and Crosby Ray Von at $1.7 million. Those efforts feed into The Solo Select Online Sale, which has generated more than $100 million in transactions.

Solo Select further strengthens its value with the Solo Select Incentive. In 2025, the rope-horse futurity paid $581,580, with $100,000 going to both the heading and heeling champions. For 2026, the incentive expands across rope horse, cutting, reined cow horse and recipient-mare divisions.

Consulting and industry expertise

Solo Select offers one-hour consulting sessions with Melanie or Ty Smith for investors who want clarity and direction. Sessions cover breeding strategy, bloodlines, marketing stallions or ranches, preparing horses for sale, launching equine businesses and evaluating mares and stallions.

BREEDER'S GUIDE | Stallions | 2026

SOLO SELECT INCENTIVE

The Solo Select Incentive proved its power in 2025 with a record $581,580 paid out across its first-ever team roping, calf roping and breakaway futurities. Both the heading and heeling champions earned $100,000 checks, setting a standard for futurity payouts in the rope-horse world and shifting the market for eligible prospects.

That momentum carries into 2026. With stallions now able to nominate into roping, cutting and reined cow horse incentive pots, the program is built to reward every type of rider and breeder who invests in a 2026 paid breeding. The structure is simple: buy a breeding to a nominated stallion, ride a 4-year-old eligible for the futurity and run at some of the strongest payouts in the industry.

Whether you are raising prospects, buying young horses or planning a 2026 futurity run, here are the answers to the most common questions about how the Solo Select Incentive works for ropers—along with key details on the cutting, reined cow horse and recipient-mare bonuses that help fuel the program's growth.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Solo Select Incentive for 2026?

The 2026 Solo Select Incentive is a million-dollar program built to reward horses sired by Solo Select stallions nominated to one or more incentive pots. For ropers, that includes heading, heeling, calf roping and breakaway. The program also funds large incentive pots in cutting and reined cow horse, which increases stallion participation and strengthens the market for all eligible foals.

How does eligibility work for the 2026 roping futurities?

To run at the 2026 Solo Select Incentive Futurity in heading, heeling, calf roping or breakaway, you must have a paid-in-full 2026 breeding to a stallion nominated to the roping incentive. One paid breeding equals one entry. If you plan to rope on more than one end or in more than one discipline, each entry needs its own breeding contract.

Do rebreeds or previous embryo contracts count?

No. Only paid 2026 breeding contracts qualify. Rebreeds or contracts from past years do not meet the 2026 requirement.

Does an ICSI embryo qualify?

Yes. An ICSI embryo qualifies if the ICSI breeding contract is for 2026, paid in full, and the embryo is implanted. Frozen embryos created before the program's cutoff date do not qualify.

Why buy a 2026 breeding if I don't have a futurity-age horse yet?

Because eligibility raises the value of the horses you produce or buy. A paid 2026 breeding makes a prospect eligible for major futurity money, which gives you an edge whether you plan to show, sell or shop for young horses.

Who can ride my horse at the futurity?

Any rider may show your horse as long as there is a qualifying 2026 paid breeding contract on file under either the owner or the rider.

Is the 2026 futurity limited to 4-year-olds?

Yes. Like leading futurities in cutting and reined cow horse, the Solo Select Incentive Futurity remains a single-age event for 4-year-olds.

How do the cutting and reined cow-horse incentives factor in?

Stallions can be nominated to multiple incentive pots. That means the same breeding can produce a prospect eligible in roping, cutting or reined cow horse depending on the stallion's nominations. This broadens opportunity and adds long-term value to offspring.

What is the 2026 Recipient Mare Incentive?

The 2026 Recipient Mare Incentive pays bonuses to finalists whose horses were carried by Solo Select recipient mares. This rewards customers leasing recipient mares through Solo Select's reproduction program and adds another financial benefit on top of standard incentive earnings.

The Animal—a son of Cat Ichi out of Little Miss Abra by Abrakadabracre—earned his place in the history books as the NCHA Futurity Reserve Champion and Summer Spectacular Open Derby Champion with Lee Francois.

Now, with his oldest foals turning 6 in 2026, he's proving to be one of the most versatile young sires in the game.

His colts are making money in heading, heeling and breakaway futurities, ridden by legends and rising stars alike—Fred Whitfield, Tyler Worley, Lari Dee Guy and Hope Thompson.

"My Animal baby is so good-minded," Thompson said. "They want to work, and they want to please—perfect for ropers."

Worley said, "I can break in 40 steers on him and jackpot that night. He's that solid."

The Animal is now breeding mares owned by World Champions Tyler Wade, Wesley Thorp and Thompson, building a book that matches his momentum. His offspring are eligible for over $10 million in incentive money, including Solo Roping, Cow Horse and Cutting, alongside the Riata, Royal Crown, Pink Buckle, Ruby Buckle and more.

With soundness, sense and earnings to back it all up—The Animal is just getting started.

Some Kinda Stevie will be shown at roping futurities this year, and Bubba and Madison Garcia are excited to see his first foals hit the ground this spring.

The 6-year-old stallion was attractive to the Garcias because they'd ridden others in his dam's family and loved them. Some Kinda Sweety is by $3.5 million cutting sire Sweet Lil Pepto (with bonus Sugar Bars speed on the bottom side). And she's out of Some Kinda Memories—an own daughter of Smart Little Lena out of an own daughter of Freckles Playboy.

And he's by NCHA Open Futurity champion Stevie Rey Von—the third-ranked producer of winning rope horses in 2025. His roping progeny earned $383,406 last year and include Trevor Brazile's Pride And Joyy—winner of $431,551 at roping futurities—and Tripp Townsend's Elon Von, on which Bubba Garcia earned almost $28,000 last year.

"Some Kinda Stevie was started in cutting and made an easy transition to a reined cow horse headed to the Snaffle Bit Futurity," said Madison. "And he just as easily transitioned into becoming a standout head horse for me. I barely got a barrier to be third-high callback in the 2025 Riata 12.5 Championship on him."

Starlight Oak 017 may have taken an unconventional path to roping futurity success—moving from ranch work with owner Tyler Schaffner to showing just a month after roping his first steer—but the talented 2017 son of Starlights Gypsy quickly caught up to his competition.

"He just kind of used him as a ranch horse," Tate Kirchenschlager said. "Then the futurity deal was here and he thought, well, we better get to roping on him. He didn't have a fair shake at being a futurity horse."

Despite the late start, Pocket has quickly racked up big wins, including the 2023 Intermediate Heeling title at the Royal Crown Rock Springs with Schaffner and the 2024 AQHA World Championship in Senior Heading with Kirchenschlager. With lifetime earnings topping $109,000, Pocket recently took the 2025 AQHA Reserve World Championship in Senior Heading.

A full sibling to roping superstars American Greed and Parker County Oak, Starlight Oak 017 has also shined as a help horse for major events like the ARHFA Championships while continuing his day job on the ranch.

With an outstanding work ethic, disposition and ability, Starlight Oak 017 is already passing his best to his offspring in his two foal crops.

JR Marshall knew he would like Steviesprideandpearl before he ever swung a leg over the son of NCHA champion Stevie Rey Von.

"I rode his mom [One Time Pepto daughter One Time Pearl], his sister, an aunt," Marshall noted. "I've been on the whole family and none of them were broncy, just real straight forward and easy."

With a genetic predisposition to be good-natured, Stevie is a deliberate, calm horse for whom everything comes easy according to Marshall and co-owners, Jay and Jamie Anthony, who first glimpsed his athletic ability while tagging calves at the Anthony's ranch.

"I had never roped on him but that's when I realized how fast he was, the way he was going the cattle," Marshall said.

Marshall was in the midst of a move while bringing the young horse along and said that the outstanding stallion trained by doing: day working, shipping cattle and working in a feedlot.

"I just used him and he made himself," Marshall said. "That whole line, they are straight-legged, good-footed, fast and want to stop."

Though he didn't start his roping career until age five, Stevie won the Limited Heading Championship at the 2025 Royal Crown Buckeye in his first year showing.

With Boon's first large crop just coming of age, his progeny are showing tremendous potential, possessing his perfect balance of athleticism and trainability. Whether for a beginner rider or a professional, these horses are proving to be a dream to train and compete on.

"The Stylin With Pepto colts that I have seen are making really nice rope horses," NFR qualifier Cesar de la Cruz said. "Not only are they cowy and athletic, something I look for is a horse that scores great. Stylin With Pepto puts the look and the brains to make a quality rope horse for any level."

With a limited number of registered foals to date, the opportunity to breed with Stylin With Pepto remains an exclusive prospect for those wanting to produce capable and level-headed horses that excel in any arena.

"Metal" won the 2023 Royal Crown Open Heeling Futurity in Buckeye, Arizona, and was the reserve champion at the Roping Futurities of America High Stakes Heeling Slot, plus he placed third in the RFA Open Heading Futurity. The stud also has points at both ends in the AQHA, and is now Gold Buckle-eligible.

"We got him as a 2-year-old at the NCHA Futurity Sale," said Kirchenschlager. "He can run, he can stop, and he's a phenomenal horse. I'm blessed to ride him."

Standing 15.1 hands and weighing 1,200 pounds, Metal has the substance for both ends and the temperament, too. His owner, Neal Wanless, also headed on the stallion at Royal Crown events. Plus, he was Kirchenschlager's go-to help horse at both ends for two years.

The oldest babies are 3 now, and prove to have a very willing mind and the size the rope-horse industry continues to seek. Four years ago, the progeny of Metallic Cat and Dual Rey each topped $50 million in earnings.

The Notorious B I G has the stunning looks to go with his massive wins heeling steers.

The 2018 stallion was the 2022 AQHA 4-Year-Old Open Heeling reserve champ and came back in '23 to place third. He was also a top-five finisher at the AQHA World Show in Junior Heeling. Billie Jack Saebens piloted him to more than $110,000 in heeling alone.

"He's freakishly good-minded and people are seeing that in his babies now, as well," said owner Shane Boston. "He's structurally appealing to a market that's moving toward more bone and size and, of course, there's that pedigree."

Bigs is out of DT Sugar Chex Whiz, a leading rope-horse producer and the 2019 AQHA/PRCA Horse of the Year that was ridden to the National Finals Rodeo by Saebens. And Bigs is by CD Lights, a million-dollar producer in the NCHA and NRCHA.

A 3-year-old filly from his first foal crop hit pay dirt last February at Royal Crown Rapid City. Then, in November, Born This Wayy took Taylor Thompson to a top-10 finish in Limited 4-And-Under Heading at the Gold Buckle World Finals. She and the other oldest foals by Biggs are only 4 this year.

THEOREM RANCH

theoremranch.com

Set against Montana's wide-open country, Theorem Ranch is a Western performance horse program built on purpose, precision and potential.

Owners Jason and Kisha Itkin are focused on stewardship, not spotlight. Their goal is to build a program that honors the traditions of the stock horse and strengthens the future of the Western performance industry, with horses that can compete across disciplines and stand up to real work.

The Itkins' connection to horses is personal. For them, the ranch is not a logo or a trend. It is where family, daily chores and long rides meet the business of producing athletes. They are students of the game and quick to credit the trainers, breeders and horsemen who have carried these sports for decades. Theorem Ranch is built around teamwork, consistency and respect for the people behind the scenes who make great horses possible.

In August 2025, the Itkins made headlines with the acquisition of Stevie Rey Von, the $22.6 million sire whose influence spans cutting, cow horse and the roping world. For team ropers, Stevie Rey Von has already proven he can sire athletes with cow, handle and the try that shows up when the clock is running. Theorem Ranch's mission with Stevie Rey Von is straightforward: protect the legacy, keep the program consistent, and help expand his impact in the arenas and breeding programs where he is already winning. Continuity matters, and the Itkins are committed to proven horsemen and proven systems.

Theorem Ranch is also investing in the next wave. PepinStep, a young stallion by One Time Pepto, is being developed with a long view in mind. The Itkins see PepinStep as a modern, versatile prospect for breeders who want cow, mind and trainability that can translate from a ranch setting to the performance pen. They have also added SEVS Judgement Day, an elite performer by Judge Cash, to add depth and momentum to a program built for the next decade, not the next season.

What ties these horses together is not just a pedigree or a headline. Theorem Ranch is building around traits that matter to real horsemen: athleticism, cow sense, mind, durability and a willingness to work. For ropers, that means horses that read a cow, stay hooked, stay honest and keep trying no matter what. It also means making decisions with the end user in mind, whether that is a pro, a contender building a string, or a family raising a kid who wants to learn the right way.

More than a breeding operation, Theorem Ranch is a long-term commitment to grow the Western performance horse world from the inside out. The Itkins are here to invest in horses, support the people who develop them and help build a bigger future for the sports we all love for ropers and breeders.

Pepinstep—known around Theorem Ranch as Flash—is a powerful, keen-minded stallion with deep cow horse roots and proven ability in and out of the arena. Bred by the respected Flag Ranch and started by elite cow horse trainer Matt Koch, Pepinstep carries both the physical tools and mental edge to pass on to the next generation of great horses.

Koch picked him up as a yearling from the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity Sale and developed him from the ground up—branding, riding outside and putting him to work with the kind of everyday cowboying that builds real-world, reliable horses. Flash stood out early for his calm mind, athletic build and natural cow sense—traits that pointed him straight toward the roping pen.

Enter World Champion Colby Lovell, who took the horse straight to the rope horse futurities to become his next great rope horse stallion. Flash made his mark at the 2023 Riata, where Colby Lovell rode him to an emotional and commanding win in the #14.5 Championships, solidifying his place as one of the most exciting young rope horse stallions in the game.

Now standing at Theorem Ranch, Flash brings more than just genetics to the table—he brings a proven record, a willing heart and the kind of versatility that builds champions. With his size, structure, mind and grit, he's built to sire horses that can go to work, stay level-headed and win.

When Theorem Ranch acquired Stevie Rey Von in 2025, the move established him as the program's flagship sire and a cornerstone of its long-term vision. Jason and Kisha Itkin sought a stallion with proven influence across disciplines, a pedigree with true depth and offspring already succeeding at the highest levels of Western performance. Stevie Rey Von checked every box.

Foaled in 2012, Stevie Rey Von is by Metallic Cat and out of Miss Ella Rey, a daughter of Dual Rey—two names synonymous with cow sense, athletic power and consistency. He carried that legacy into the show pen from the start. His breakout came with the 2015 NCHA Open Futurity Championship, making him the only living stallion to win the Futurity, be sired by a Futurity champion and later sire a Futurity champion. He followed with the 2016 AQHA Junior Cutting World Championship and the 2018 NCHA Super Stakes Open Classic, where his 231 in the finals set both an arena and Triple Crown record.

Today, Stevie Rey Von's impact is measured in both dollars and versatility. As of late 2025, he is a $22 million sire whose foals excel in cutting, reined cow horse and increasingly in rope-horse events. His leading earner, Pride And Joyy, shown by Miles Baker and Trevor Brazile, exemplifies those qualities. In 2025, Stevies Pride N Joy added to his résumé with the AQHA Junior Tie-Down Roping World Championship.

With Theorem Ranch shaping his future, Stevie Rey Von stands poised to extend his influence as one of the Western performance industry's defining sires.

SEVS Judgement Day is perhaps the most exclusive opportunity in all of team roping, with the added bonus of eligibility to the richest incentives in barrel racing, too.

The gray stallion first saw success with Hillary Hilzendeger in the barrels and Cody Hilzendeger in the heading. When life changed for his then-owners in the fall of 2023, SEVS Judgement Day sold to 2020 PRCA World Champion Header Colby Lovell at the Barrel Futurities of America Sale.

"I thought he was a real-deal head horse from the first steer I ran on him," Lovell said. "He can go anywhere, and I think he can be one of the best head horses at the highest level."

Lovell took him to the Clay Logan Open, where he turned plenty of heads, and since then, Lovell has seasoned the horse at the highest levels of rodeo and jackpot competition. The horse placed at the 2024 Bob Feist Invitational, made the CPRA finals the last two years and has accumulated over $60,000 in earnings in limited outings.

When the team at Theorem Ranch went looking for a stallion to complement their great sire Stevie Rey Von, SEVS Judgement Day was the obvious choice. He'll continue in competition with Lovell under the Theorem brand while standing to the public in 2026.

Tripp Townsend had 200,000 reasons to love 2025—those are how many dollars he and his stallion racked up jackpotting. TRR Lucky Brazos, just coming 10, was the winningest team roping horse in the country prior to December's NFR.

He and Townsend not only placed third in the 9.5 last April at Wrangler BFI Week for $40,000 a man, but also won two rounds and the average of July's Non Pro Heeling at the Old West Futurity for $24,416, and then won September's Riata 10.5 Championship for a cool $80,000 a man.

Hiptown's oldest foals will be 3 this year, but are proving to be quiet, trainable and capable of a big stop like their sire. They're headed to roping futurities, if not the Snaffle Bit Futurity which Hiptown himself won (the Limited Open) in 2019. He had already banked six figures as a reined cow horse and ranch horse before his huge 2025 on the heel end.

A son of Pepcid, by leading cutting sire Peptoboonsmal, Hiptown is out of a Playgun daughter. Townsend had owned Hiptown's full brother that won two AQHA world championships and the 2020 Youth World's Greatest Horseman.

"They're just good every time," he said. "They are all good in the box, they run, they rate, they are just easy to catch on."

"Dual Glo" was the 2015 AQHA World Champion Junior Heading Horse and High-Point Junior Heading Horse, plus High-Point Heeling and Open Ranch Riding Stallion. That was in addition to his reserve championships in both the Southwest Reined Cow Horse and National Reined Cow Horse Associations. Plus, he's sired several world and reserve world champions in the AQHA and ARHFA.

Several world-class mares have been bred to Dual Glo by some of the best hands in the country, including NFR barrel racer Trula Churchill, NFSR steer roper Doug Clark and WPRA champion heeler Annette Stahl. Pro heeler L.J. Yeahquo bred his good rodeo mare Rita's Bad Acre (LTE $400,000-plus) to Dual Glo, and the Barton family bred him to their mare Brazos Jo Song that won the 2024 AQHYA Breakaway championship. Plus, NFR calf roper Marcos Costa is expecting a 2026 baby by Dual Glo out of his 5-year-old mare SteviesPrideAndJoy—the 2025 AQHA world champion in Junior Tie-Down Roping.

HANDSOME JACK GLO BY CSR DUAL GLO OUT OF EJB MARIE LAVEAU, AQHA SENIOR TIE DOWN WORLD CHAMPION.

SEVENS SMOKIN JEWEL BY SEVENS SMOKIN GLO OUT OF SEVENS BRAZOS JEWEL, A TWO EYED BRAZOS DAUGHTER.

son, out of Sevens Tootsie Time—a daughter of 1995 NRHA Open Futurity Reserve Champion He's Dun His Time. The 9-year-old buckskin stallion clinched back-to-back ARHFA world championships in heeling, as well as the AQHA world championship in Junior Heading in 2023, when he also was Reserve Superhorse at that year's World Show.

Sevens Tootsie Time also produced the top two high-selling weanlings at the 2025 Wier Ranch Sale—a bay filly named Sevens Dakota Glo and a buckskin filly named Sevens Selah Glo that went to CFR heeler Tel Flewelling. In the meantime, 3-year-old Sevens Baby Glo went to a Florida high-school breakaway roper who already won the state championship once riding another 777 daughter of Dual Glo.

He's just getting started, but Hank looks to be stamping his babies as expected.

"Hank's babies thus far look really good; he's throwing a lot of black and buckskin," said Marshall Wier. "They're big-hipped and deep-hearted and real pretty-headed babies; such a gentle- and soft-minded bunch of foals—more so than any of the crops we've had the past few years."

Hank's full brother Sevens Hank 2 helped Miles Baker win the Heading Futurity at Royal Crown Rapid City last February and then won the ARHFA's Oil Can Classic in May.

"He never elevates or comes up or runs through your hand—he stays flat and runs hard," said Baker. "He won a handful of go-rounds at futurities in 2024 and then was out six months getting a bone chip in his ankle removed. I cracked him back out at Ardmore and he got the highest score of the day during the short round, because he backed in there and stood cold-blooded with the pressure on and the music loud after he'd already run three steers."

Also last season, Tate Kirchenschlager won the ARHFA's Sun Circuit Pre-Futurity Heading aboard 4-year-old Sevens Aspen Glo, by Dual Glo out of the 777 mare Madrid. She is also the dam of Wier Ranch's palomino stallion Sevens Spanish Gold ("Austin"), by Dual Spark. Madrid is a proven producer out of the legendary AQHA world-champion team roping mare Jack E Eleven, by Gallo Del Cielo.

Austin won the 2021 Intermediate Heading World Championship in the ARHFA and was a finalist in Senior Heading at the 2023 AQHA World Show. He's been bred to some nice mares, including one owned by the family of NFR header Kevin Stewart that's by Dash Ta Fame and out of Nagano Moon that produced First Moonflash (speed index 122).

Wier's 2004 palomino stallion Two Eyed Brazos has held his place of importance over the years, too, because of the size and good mind, which he's passed on repeatedly. "Brazos" has produced outstanding rope horses that continue to bring home big checks from the Riata Championships and the jackpots.

Probably the greatest contribution of the Pitzer Ranch-bred stallion is through his daughters, which are being bred to Dual Glo with great results. In their pursuit of raising great champions, the Wier family always credits the people in their circle.

"We've been blessed with talented horsemen, and that's enabled us to bring these winning lines to the public," said Marshall. "From the guys who start these colts and take them to the ranch for day work to the media who cover their big wins to the ropers who win the checks, we've got really great people."
